Sore Eyes
The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak, and the lids inflamed and sore, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrofula, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.
Scrofula, which produced a painful inflammation in my eyes, caused me much suffering for a number of years. By the advice of a physician I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using this medicine a short time I was completely
Cured
My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am as well and strong as ever.—Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.
For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers.—C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H.
From childhood, and until within a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak and Sore Eyes. I have used for these complaints, with beneficial results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier.—Mrs. C. Phillips, Glover, Vt.
I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three ulcers formed on the ball, depriving me of sight, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies, to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, three bottles of this medicine, have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, and there is no sign of inflammation, sore, or ulcer in my eye.—Kendal T. Bowen, Sugar Tree Ridge, Ohio.
By Taking
My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored, and she can now look steadily at a brilliant light without pain. Her cure is complete.—W. E. Sutherland, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky.

REV. T. DEWITT TALMAGE.

A Sermon Preached at Martha's Vineyard on Rope-Holding.

The City of Damascus—The Hunting of Paul—Great Events Depending on Little Things.

MARTHA'S VINEYARD, Mass., July 3.—Many hundreds of Brooklyn people and their friends have made a pilgrimage to this place. It is one point in an excursion of six days, taking in Newport, Nantucket and this island. The Rev. T DeWitt Talmage, D D, preached here this morning in the great camp-meeting tabernacle. Thousands of people were present from all parts of New England. The music was conducted by a band.

Dr. Talmage's text was:—"Through a window in a basket I was let down by the wall." (II. Cor., xi., 33) He said:—

Sermons on Paul in gaol, Paul on Mars Hill, Paul in the shipwreck, Paul before the Sanhedrim, Paul before Felix are plentiful, but in my text we have Paul in a basket.

Damascus is a city of white and glistening architecture, sometimes called "The eye of the East," sometimes called "A pearl surrounded by emblems," at one time distinguished for swords of the best material called Damascus blades and upholstery of richest fabric called damask. A horseman by the name of Saul, riding towards the city, had been thrown from the saddle. The horse had dropped under a flash from the sky, which at the same time was so bright that it blinded the rider for many days, and, I think, so permanently injured his eyesight that this defeat of vision became he afterwards speaks of. He started for Damascus to butcher Christians, but after that hard fall from his horse he was a changed man and preached Christ in Damascus till the city was shaken to its foundation.

The mayor gives authority for his arrest, and the popular cry is: "Kill him! Kill him!" The city is surrounded by a high wall, and the gates are watched by the police lest the Cicilian preacher escape. Many of the houses are built on the wall, and their balconies projected clear over and hovered above the gardens outside.

Providentially there was a good stout basket in the house. Paul's friends fasten a rope to the basket. Paul steps into it. The basket is lifted to the edge of the balcony on the wall, and then while Paul holds on to the rope with both hands his friends lower away, carefully and cautiously, slowly but surely, further down and further down until the basket strikes the earth and the apostle steps out and afoot, and alone starts on that famous missionary tour, the story of which has astonished earth and heaven. Appropriate entry in Paul's diary of travels:—"Through a window in a basket was I let down by the wall."

Observe first on what a slender tenure great results hang. The ropemaker who twisted that cord fastened to that lowering basket never knew how much would depend upon the strength of it. How if it had been broken and the Apostle's life had been dashed out? What would have become of the Christian church? All that magnificent missionary work in Pamphilia, Cappadocia, Galatia, Macedonia, would never have been accomplished. All his writings that make up so indispensible and enchanting a part of the New Testament would never have been written. The story of resurrection would never have been so

GLORIOUSLY TOLD AS HE TOLD IT.

That example of heroic and triumphant endurance at Philippi, in the Mediterranean Euroclydon, under flagellation and at his beheading would not have kindled the courage of ten thousand martyrdoms. But that rope holding that basket, how much depended on it! So, again and again great results have hung on what seemed slender circumstances.

Did ever ship of many thousand tons crossing the sea have such important passenger as had once a boat of leaves from taffrail to stern only three to four feet, the vessel made water-proof by a coat of bitumen, and floating on the Nile with the infant lawgiver of the Jews on board? What if some crocodile should crunch it? What if some of the cattle wading in for a drink should sink it? Vessels of war sometimes carry 40 guns looking through the port-holes, ready to open battle. But that tiny craft on the Nile seems to be armed with all the guns of thunder that bombarded Sinai at the law-giving. On how fragile craft sailed how much of historical importance!

The parsonage at Epworth, England, is on fire in the night, and the father rushed through the hallway for the rescue of his children. Seven children are out and safe on the ground, but one remains in the consuming building. That one wakes, and finding his bed on fire and the building crumbling, comes to the window, and two peasants make a ladder of their bodies, one peasant standing on the shoulder of the other, and down the human ladder the boy descends, John Wesley. If you would know how much depended on that ladder of peasants ask the millions of Methodists on both sides of the ses. Ask their mission stations all round the world. Ask their hundreds of thousands already ascended to join their founder, who would have perished but for the living stairs of peasants shoulders.

An English ship stopped at Pitcairn Island, and right in the midst of surrounding cannibalism and squalor, the passengers discovered a Christian colony of churches and schools and beautiful homes and highest style of religion and civilsation. For fifty years no mission ary and no Christian influence had land ed there. Why this oasis of light amid a desert of heathendom? Sixty years before a ship had met disaster, and one of the sailors, unable to save anything else, went to his trunk and took out a bible which his mother had placed there and swam ashore, the Bible held in his teeth. The book was read on all sides, until the rough and vicious population were evangelized, and a church was started and an enlightened commonwealth established, and the world's history has than that which tells of the transformation of a nation by one book. It did not seem of much importance whether the sailor continued to hold the book in his teeth or let it fall in the breakers, but upon what small circumstance depended what mighty results! Practical inference: There are no insignificances in our lives. The minutest thing is part of a magnitude. Infinity is made up of the infinitesimals. Great things are aggregation of small things. Bethlehem manger pulling on a star in the eastern sky. One book in a drenched sailor's mouth the evangelisation of a multitude. One boat papyrus on the Nile freighted with events for all ages. The fate of Christendom in a basket let down from a window on the wall. What you do, do well. The casual, the accidental, that which merely happened so, and parts of a great plan, and the rope that lets the fugitive apostle from the Damascus wall is the cable that holds to its mooring the ship of the Church in the north-east storm of the centuries.

Again, notice unrecognised and unrecorded services. Who spun that rope? Who tied it to the basket? Who steadied the illustrious preacher as he stepped into it? Who relaxed not a muscle of the armor dismissed an anxious look from his face until the basket touched the ground and discharged its magnificent cargo? Not one of their names has come to us, but there was no work done that day in Damascus or in all the earth compared with the importance of their work.

They held the rope, and in doing so did more for the Christian church than any thousand of us can ever accomplish. But God knows and has made eternal record of their undertaking. And they know. How exultant they must have felt when they read his letters to the Romans, to the Corinthians, to the Galatians, Ephesians, to the Phillippians, to the Colossians, to the Tessalonians, to Timothy, to Titus, to Philemon, to the Hebrews, and when they heard how he walked out of prison with the earthquake and took command of the Alexandrian cornship when the sailors were nearly scared to death, and preached a sermon that nearly shook Felix off his judgment seat.

There are said to be about sixty-nine thousand ministers of religion in this country. About fifty thousand, I warrant came from early homes which had to struggle for the necessaries of life. The sons of rich bankers and merchants generally become bankers and merchants. The most of those who become ministers are the sons of those who had terrific struggles to get their every day bread. The collegiate and theological education of that son took every luxury from the parental table for eight years.

The years go by, and the son has been ordained and is preaching the glorious Gospel, and a great revival comes, and souls by scores and hundreds accept the Gospel from the lips of that young preacher, and father and mother, quite old now, are visiting the son at the village parsonage, and at the close of a Sabbath of a mighty blessing, father and mother retire to their room, the son lighting the way and asking them if he can do anything to make them more comfortable, saying if they want anything in the night just to knock on the wall. And then, all alone, father and mother talk over the and say: "Well it was worth all we went through to educate that boy. It was a hard pull, but we held on till the work was done. The world may not know it, but, mother, we held the rope, didn't we?" And the voice, tremulous with joyful emotion, responds: "Yes, father we held the rope, I feel my work is done. Now, Lord, lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, for mine eyes have seen thy salvation." "Pshaw!" says the father, "I never felt so much like living in my life as now. I want to see what that fellow is going on to do, he has begun so well."

O men and women here assembled, you brag sometimes how you have fought your way in the world, but I think there have been helping influences that you have never fully acknowledged. Has there not been some influence in your early or present home that the world cannot see? Does there not reach to you from among the New England hills, or from Western prairie, or from Southern plantation, or from English or Scottish or Irish home, a cord of influence that has kept you right when you would have gone astray, and which, after you had made a crooked track, recalled you?

But there must come a time when we shall find out who these Damescenes were who lowered Paul in the basket, and greet them and all those who have rendered to God and the world

UNRECOGNIZED AND UNRECORDED SERVICES.

That is going to be one of the glad excitements of heaven, the hunting up and picking out of those who did great good on earth and got no credit for it.

Let us pass on round the circle of thrones. Who art thou, mighty one of heaven? "I was for thirty years a Christian invalid, and suffered all the while, occasionally writing a note of sympathy for those worse off than I, and was general confident of all those who had trouble, and once in a while I was strong enough to make a garment for that poor family in the back lane." Pass on to another throne. Who art thou, mighty one of heaven? "I was the mother who raised a whole family of children for God, and they are out in the world Christian merchants, Christian mechanics, Christian wives, and I have had full reward of all my toil." Let us pass on in the circle of thrones. "I had a Sabbath school class, and they were always on my heart, and they all entered the Kingdom of God, and I am waiting for their arrival."

But who are thou,

THE MIGHTY ONE OF HEAVEN,

on this other throne? "In time of bitter persecution I owned a house in Damascus, a house on the wall. A man who preached Christ was hounded from street to street and I hid him from the assassins, and when I found them breaking in my house and I could no longer keep him safely, I advised him to flee for his life, and a basket was let down over the wall with the maltreated man in it, and I was one who helped hold the rope." And I said, "Is that all! And he answered, "That is all." And while I was lost in amazement, I heard a strong voice that sounded as though it might have belonged to one of the martyrs, and it said, "Not many, mighty, not many noble are called, but God hath chosen the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty, and base things of the world and things which are despised hath God chosen, yea, and things which are not to bring to naught things which are, that no flesh should glory in His presence." And I looked to see from whence the voice came, and lo! it was the very one who said:—"Through a window in a basket was I let down by the wall."

Henceforth think of

NOTHING AS INSIGNIFICANT.

A little thing may decide you all. A Cunarder put out from England for New York. It was well equipped, but in putting up a stove in the pilot box a nail was driven too near the compass. You know how that nail would affect the compass. The ship's officer deceived by that distracted compass, put the ship two hundred miles off her right course, and suddenly the man on the lookout cried:—"Land ho!" and the ship was halted within a few yards of her demolition on Nantucket Shoals. A sixpenny nail came near wrecking a Cunarder. Small ropes hold mighty destinies.

Nothing unimportant in your life or mine. Three noughts placed on the right side of the figure one make a thousand, and six noughts on the right side of the figure one, a million, and our nothingness placed on the right side may be augmentation illimitable. All the ages of time and eternity affected by the basket let down from a Damascus balcony.

THE FISHERIES DISPUTE.

The Boston Herald of Tuesday strongly advocated an immediate settlement of the fisheries dispute. The Herald is apprehensive lest through some indiscreet action on the part of American fishermen or through overzealousness on the part of our authorities some complication might arise which would lead to the President issuing a proclamation prohibiting the introduction of Canadian products of all kinds into the United States; and that Canada would in return at once prohibit the introduction into her territory of all American products; and this the Herald admits would work injury to both countries. "We should have a complete cessation of a large trade that is now highly profitable to those engaged in it on both sides of the border." "The fish portion of this trade, it says, is an item of relative insignificance. In the year ending June 30, 1886, our imports from Canada were valued at more than $30,000,000; of these, fish formed but $2,500,000, and of this $2,500,000 more than half represented the value of fresh fish, which is not taxed, and which is not supposed to interfere materially with American interests. That is to say, only about one-twenty-fifth of our trade with Canada consisted of fish which enters into competition with American productions." And still further: "It would be exceedingly vexatious to have our entire commerce with Canada controlled by an interest of such microscopic dimensions; that is, when the entire commerce is taken into account. We imported last year from Canada eggs to the value of fully $500,000 more than the value of imported salt and preserved fish. Yet, if any one talked of breaking up our trade with Canada simply because of the competition of Canadian eggs in our home markets, he would be met with a roar of laughter in consequence of the absurdity of his suggestion. But why should a yet smaller interest than the egg interest assume to regulate our entire commercial relations with the Dominion. Why, because of some misunderstandings which our fishermen have with the Canadian authorities, should our country be kept on the verge of a commercial war? We cannot afford to continue in this condition, for it is safe to say that already the embarrassments which it has occasioned to general trade have cost the people of this country more than could, by any possibility, be lost by American fishermen during ten years of unrestricted free trade in fish." The Herald, therefore, calls for a settlement of this vexed question as speedily as possible. "We must, it says, make a compromise; we must agree to admit Canadian fish duty free into our markets, and in return we must insist upon receiving on the coast of Canada all of the rights, privileges and conveniences that are enjoyed by Canadian fishermen. This will be an adjustment of the matter in which both parties will be sharers."

If the American people are as anxious as the Herald for a settlement on the terms suggested, they are, and have been for some time, in a position to effect such settlement as a temporary remedy. Salisbury proposed just such terms to the United States government, and had certain classes of the Americans not been so grasping they would have been enjoying to-day the privileges the Herald now so strongly advocates. Canadians, however, will object to a permanent settlement of the dispute on the terms offered as a temporary solution by the British government, and if the Herald expects to secure a lasting settlement on such terms it will be disappointed. Our people are willing to make a reasonable compromise to bring about a settlement, but so long as they have a voice in the matter they will not submit to such a surrender of their rights as the adoption of the terms advocated by the Herald would involve. The admission of our fish duty free into the American market, is neither a material advantage to the Canadians, nor is it a compromise on the part of the Americans. It would rather be a service to the American fish trade to admit our fish duty free. It is well known in Boston that for some time past certain of the fish merchants have been very active in their advocacy of the of the free admission of our fish into the American markets, and they claim very great advantages for such a change of policy, and there is no doubt these advantages would accrue to them. Such an arrangement therefore, as a permanent solution, our people cannot be expected to accede to.

To the Canadian people there will appear but two reasonable plans by which a permanent settlement can be arrived at, viz: commercial union with the United States; or the free admission into the American markets of certain Canadian products to the value of our fishing rights. The majority will doubtless, if not now, in the near future, prefer commercial union as the most proper and most reasonable method of settlement. It will remove for all time the possibility of vexatious disputes between the two countries, and will otherwise be productive of good. We need not here discuss the benefits that would result from such a union. The second plan will have many advocates, more particularly if we should fail in effecting a commercial union. It does appear that either method might be adopted by the United States in settlement of the dispute. Canada, we feel sure, will assent to at least the last proposition—that for the use of our fisheries we receive rights and privileges of equal value from the United States. If, then, the Americans are desirous of a reasonable adjustment of this vexatious dispute there seems but little difficulty in the way of bringing it about.

A GLADSTONIAN GAIN.

A bye-election recently held in one of the counties of England has demonstrated the fact that among the most conservative of the tories, public opinion with regard to the Irish question is undergoing a change. At the general election the conservative candidate carried the constituency by a majority of about three hundred. At the recent election the Gladstonian candidate was elected by a majority of 750 votes, the total number of votes cast being nearly 850 more than at the general election. We cannot wonder then that Gladstone continues confident that his home rule measure will yet be carried triumphantly through the House, and that the people of Ireland will ere long enjoy equal rights and privileges with those of favored England. The liberal victory is not at all relished by the tories, and not a few of them foresee in it disaster. Lord Randolph Churchill, says a contemporary, is making the best of an admittedly bad job by using this defeat as a spur for the conservative and liberal-unionist parties.

SMALL-POX.

It is to be hoped that some precautions will at once be taken to prevent the breaking out of small-pox in this province. As we stated a few days ago, small-pox has broken out among the men working on the Short line railway in Maine, and it is now known that many of the workmen who belong to this province are returning home, from fear of the disease. Several of these live in this county. It is known too, that an agent of the Short line has been in the city for the past few days endeavoring to engage men to take the place of those who are returning.

It is the business of the provincial board of health to look after this matter. We hope then that the secretary of the board will give the matter his immediate attention. If proper precautions are now taken, this loathsome disease can be prevented from getting a foothold in the province. Now that the board is organized there should be no reason why the matter should not receive immediate attention.

The Reporter a month ago opposed commercial union because of its alleged belief that the manufacturers and farmers of this country were gloriously prospering under the present policy, and that all true Canadians were satisfied with the present trade relations. To-day it is forced to admit that times are really hard. It still, however, opposes commercial union, and apparently fails to see in it a remedy for our present ills. What will the Reporter suggest then as a remedy for the hard times? It has been a strong advocate of the policy which has brought about the depression in these provinces. Will it continue its advocacy of that policy?

The county council's recent action in instructing the secretary treasurer to proceed in equity against the Fredericton Branch Railway Company for the purpose of obtaining information as to the character of the transfer of the road, and as to the liability of the company to return to the county the $30,000 bonus, will have the approval of the great majority of the ratepayers. Our people should know all the facts regarding this transfer. It has been impossible so far to obtain them from Mr. Temple or the officers of the company; they have carefully withheld every particle of information bearing on the subject. The council has at last taken the proper course.

A Defeat for the British Government.

LONDON, July 5.—After an animated discussion over the conduct of the police in arresting a respectable young woman named Cass, as an improper character, the government was defeated by 153 to 148. Criticism of the members were directed less against the police and authorities than against Mr Matthews, home secretary, who was accused of shielding officials. A number of Liberal unionists voted with the majority. It is expected that the defeat of the government will lead to the resignation of Mr Matthews.

A Remarkable Cure of Deafness.

Parkman, Me.

Messrs. I. S. Johnson & Co.,—Gentlemen,—I am going to tell you about my case in part. Some thirty years ago, I used to be troubled with cough, and threw up muscus junks of hard matter. People said it was catarrah. I took Dr. Marshall's snuff. It would make me sneeze, and give relief for a short time; but the trouble got worse. Some fifteen years ago it got so bad that I had to breathe out of my mouth. Ten years ago it caused partial deafness, which increased, and for the last six or eight years I have been stone deaf in my right ear, and very hard of hearing in my left ear. I have taken doses of physic, powders, and pills, from various physicians, and applied blisters, with only temporary relief. But of late I am getting permanent benefit—for I have been taking Johnson's Anodyne Liniment for the last five months. In a short time after I commenced taking it and applying it to the ear according to the directions, there appeared to be a large round substance in my right ear got loosed from its fastening, and would move round as my head was in different positions. It continued to grow smaller; and, about forty days since it was all dissolved and gone, and I can hear as well as I ever could. Your liniment was the cause of my recovering my hearing; and it has done more for me than anything else. I will make oath to the truth of these statements at any time. Dr. Stevens of this place advised me to write and tell you what the liniment had done for me; and I concluded to write, for it might do somebody some good. Yours gratefully,

E. M. HANES.

THE P. E. I. HORROR.

Further Particulars about the Murder of the Girl Tuplin.

The Arrest of Young Millman and Bryenton.

The Examination—The Evidence as Submitted Yesterday.

SUMMERSIDE, P E I, July 5.—There is great excitement here over the murder of the girl Tuplin, the facts of which so far as were known, were published on Tuesday last. The crime is most shocking. At the post mortem examination it was discovered that the girl had been shot in the head and neck before being thrown into the river. It was a heart-rending spectacle to see the corpse of the young girl with the ponderous stone tied to her waist and the horrible wounds in the head, being dragged ashore. The stone weighs over 100 pounds. It is now thought that more than one person is implicated. Two arrests have been made—Millman, the young man first suspected, and one Bryenton. The mother of the unfortunate girl gives the following version of the affair. A brother of Miss Tuplin died Sunday of consumption. That night Bryenton and his wife visited the family. Bryenton went up stairs leaving his wife below. He whispered to Miss Tupin that his wife wanted her down stairs. The girl dressed and went down. Mrs Bryenton told her that Millman wanted her outside. They had a hasty conversation, after which the girl returned. She told one of her married sisters that Millman was going to make final arrangements for their marriage Tuesday night. He had said that two men were waiting for him up the road; and that he was in a hurry. She cautioned her sister to say nothing of it to her parents. Tuesday afternoon her brother was buried. After the funeral she returned, put on a cotton dress, and did some work till about nine, when she slipped out to meet her betrayer. That was the last seen of her alive. As night wore on her friends became uneasy, and started in search, with the result already known. The corpse was found Monday, about 20 feet from a deep boiling spring in the centre of the river, where it was probably intended to drop the body. In the darkness the place was missed. Had she fallen there her body would probably never have been discovered.

Millman returned Monday night from Charlottetown where he engaged counsel. He jumped off the train outside of Kensington and took the back road home. At the station a large crowd had gathered to secure him but were thus eluded. He was verycool and collected. This morning he was arrested in bed. Many advocated lynching him so sure were they of his guilt. He and Bryenton had been noticed frequently together in close conversation of late.

SUMMERSIDE, P E I., July 6.—The preliminary trial commenced to-day in a barn near the scene of the tragedy, before three justices of the peace. Over 300 persons from the adjoining country were present. Four witnesses were examined. One Coans, who accompanied Millman part of the way to Tuplin's, on Sunday night week, and waited on the road for him, said that Millman told him that the girl did not blame him for the child and that she said she would not live to swear it on anyone. He had seen Millman with a revolver some months ago but the spring was broken.

Patrick Power, aged 17, swore that Millman came to his father, one afternoon before the recovery of the body and tried to induce him to swear that he was in his company Tuesday night when the girl disappeared. He also wanted him to tell Mr Tuplin this in order to scare him; the boy refused, however, to swear to the lie.

Alice Connolly swore that deceased had confided to her that Millman was the father of her unborn child.

Wilda Summers, the married sister of the deceased, swore that she saw deceased at her home Sunday night when she told her, in confidence, that Millman had promised to meet her next night and arrange for their marriage. He asked her why she had not let him know of her trouble before, and said he would not like to be the means of bringing any young girl to destruction. He charged her not to tell anyone of their meeting and told her to see him there Tuesday night—the night on which she was murdered. He also said that his mother would go out of her mind again if she heard of the affair. His mother had been insane several times.

The examination was then adjourned till to-morrow morning, to be held at Clifton. The accused has been buried. Strange to say no blood stains have been found anywhere.

The horrible crime is unprecedented here. Millman looks very unconscious, and, while being removed from court, smoked his pipe. He is a church member.

STRONG WORDS FOR TEMPERANCE.

Mr. Powderly Condemns the Liquor Traffic—He Prefers Rotten Eggs to "Liquid Damnation."

PHILADELPHIA, July 6.—In the Journal of United Labor issued on Saturday, over his own name Master Workman T V Powderly will, in speaking of the liquor traffic, says: "Among the letters that came to me to-day I find one which takes me to task for my words on the temperance question, spoken ten or twelve days ago in Boston and Lynn. My friend makes the candid admission in starting out that in the main I am right, that even the rumseller will not deny the justice of my position. Having said as much he should have stopped. Even then he told me nothing new. I know that I am right. I know that in refusing to even touch a drop of strong drink I was and am right. In refusing to treat another, to that which I do not believe to be good for myself to drink, I know I am right. In refusing to associate with men who get drunk, I know I am right. In not allowing a rumseller to gain admittance into the order of the knights of labor, I know I am right. In advising our assemblies not to rent halls or meeting-rooms over drinking places, I know I am right. I have done this from the day my voice was first heard in the council halls of our order. My position on the question of temperance is right. I am determined to maintain and will not alter it one jot or tittle. If "in the main," I am right, why should I alter my course? Ten years ago I was hissed because I advised men to let strong drink alone. They threatened to rotten egg me. I have continued to advise men to be temperate, and though I have had no experience that would qualify me to render an opinion on the efficacy of a rotten egg as an ally of the rum drinker, yet I would prefer to have my exterior decorated from summit to base with the rankest kind of rotten eggs rather than allow one drop of liquid villiany to pass my lips, or to have the end of my nose illuminated by the blossom that follows a planting of the seed of hatred, envy, malice and damnation, all of which are represented in a solitary glass of gin."

A Lovely Complexion.

"What a lovely complexion," we often hear persons say. "I wonder what she does for it?" In every case the purity and real loveliness of the complexion depends upon the blood. Those who have sallow, blotchy faces may make their skin smooth and healthy by taking enough of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" to drive out the humors lurking in the system.

DIOCESE OF FREDERICTON.

Eighteenth Annual Session of the Diocesan Synod.

Meetings of the Church Society and Reports of the Mission Fields.

Home Mission Board--Monies Appropriated to the Several Missions--General Business.

The diocesan church society continued its business on Tuesday afternoon.

H. W. Frith read the report of the home mission board. It showed that Rev. Scovil Neales had been appointed to Queensbury and Southampton mission. The board did not consider it safe to estimate the amount available for missionary stipends at over $14,750. By schedule, $17,974 was granted and this would leave a deficiency of $3,224, but as seven of the missions are vacant, the grant to which is $2,670, the deficiency would be only $554. The report was adopted.

The greater part of the afternoon was taken up in the discussion of a resolution moved by C. N. Vroom, of St. Stephen, as follows:—

Resolved, That in view of urgent needs of more missionaries, the vacant stations be filled up, the expenses to be paid out of the vested funds.

After the lengthy debate it was finally resolved, that under no circumstances shall the vested funds of the society be touched, and only the interest be used for any purpose.

The secretary stated that the following had been elected by deaneries to the board of missions:—Rev. Messrs. Brigstocke, Montgomery, Smith, Forsyth, Handford, and Loundes.

Treasurer's Report.

The treasurer, Geo. E. Fairweather, submitted his annual report.

It showed that grants for missionaries amounted to $14,443.52. The amount received from children's missionary boxes was $315.72, which is less than any year since 1881. The missionary assessment for the year had been $12,697.69 and the amount paid in to the treasurer $11,923.69. The treasurer explained that James F. Robertson, of St. John had given $500 to be used as a special widows and orphans' fund.

The report was adopted and a committee consisting of the Coadjutor, W. M. Jarvis and Rev. Mr. Raymond appointed to consider the question of forming such fund.

Church Society and Synod.

The Coadjutor Bishop read a report on the question of the amalgamation of the Diocesan church society and the synod. It was the report of the committee appointed to act in conjunction with a committee of synod on the question of amalgamation of the two, and the society committee consulted with others and afterwards a sub-committee was appointed to gather information. A circular letter was issued to all bishops in Canada and the United States asking for information on all points which would be raised if the amalgamation were thought desirable. The replies received from the bishops were appended and it was pointed out that in no other diocese are the finances of the church under the control of a voluntary body. The diocese approaching nearest this was that of Quebec. In that province a church society exists, but the synod exercises joint control with the society over the finances. In every diocese where there formerly existed a church society controlling the finances it had been amalgamated with the synod and it had been found of advantage. There had been no difficulty in transferring trust funds. The committee feeling matter one not to be undertaken hastily or without due consideration had resolved that each member should put his views in writing.

All replies were given with the report, showing the advantages and disadvantages of amalgamation. The committee suggested that further consideration of the matter be entrusted to a committee of the general committee, the report and appendices to be printed. Those favorable to amalgamation gave their reasons. Among these were, that it would result in centralization of power in one body, would increase the dignity and influence of the synod and the simplification of machinery. It would result in a saving of much time.

Those opposed to amalgamation claimed that there was danger of the funds being affected by discussions in the synod, and risks involved in the breaking up of the old system.

The report was adopted and the following committee entrusted with further consideration of the question: The bishop coadjutor, Revs. Ketchum, DeVeber, Armstrong, Medley, Talbot, Loundes and R. T. Clinch, Chief Justice Allen, W. M. Jarvis, H. W. Frith, G. A. Scofield, G. R. Parker, T. W. Daniel and Geo. E. Fairweather.

S. P. C. K.

Rev. T. E. Dowling read the report of the book depository committee for the society for promoting Christian knowledge, showing that the sale during the year ending April 30th last, amounted to $946.72, and for the year ending April 30th, 1886, $1,005.90 showing a decrease of $59.18. The report was adopted.

TUESDAY EVENING.

The following were reported as elected members of the home mission board:—Revs. Canon Medley, Canon DeVeber, O. S. Newham, Canon Neales and J. M. Davenport and R. T. Clinch, H. W. Frith, W. M. Jarvis, F. R. Parkin, Chief Justice Allen, G. A. Schofield and C. N. Vroom.

Executive Committee.

The executive committee was chosen as follows: B. R. Stevenson, G. R. Parkin, A. A. Sterling, I. Allen Jack, C. A. Macdonald, H. L. Sturdee, R. P. Starr, D. L. Hanington, A. F. Street, T. Barclay Robinson, G. Sydney Smith, John Moore, T. W. Daniel, R. T. Clinch, G. E. Fenety, J. Black, W. K. Crawford, Burd Peters, C. T. Kinnear, Judge Wilkinson, Dr. Brown, C. E. L. Jarvis, C. N. Vroom, C. W. Weldon.

Rev. Jas Neales, rector of Gagetown, expressed a desire to retire from the active ministry and the case was referred to the home mission board.

THE SYNOD.

The eighteenth annual session of the Diocesan Synod of Fredericton met in the Church Hall, at ten o'clock yesterday morning, the Lord Bishop of the Diocese in the chair. After prayers, the roll call of clergy and lay representatives was called by the secretary.

Moved by Mr. W. M. Jarvis and carried that the minutes of the seventeenth session, as printed, be taken as read and confirmed.

Moved by Bishop Kingdon and carried that the Rules of Order be suspended in order to admit of resolutions on deceased brethren submitted by Bishop Kingdon and seconded by Mr. C. W. Weldon referring to the demise of E. S. Grimmer. The mover and seconder, His Lordship the Metropolitan and several other gentlemen offered remarks touching upon the life and death of the departed brother.

The Board of Domestic and Foreign Missions for the Diocese of Fredericton was elected as follows: Rev. Canon Brigstocke Rev. G. M. Armstrong, Rev. D. Forsyth, Mr. G. Herbert Lee, Hon. B. R. Stevenson and T. B. Robinson, the Lord Bishop and Bishop Coadjutor being members ex officio.

The synod committee on Sunday schools reported that Sunday school teachers' associations already established, namely, those of the deaneries of St. John, Kingston and Shediac have been doing very efficient work during the past year. The committee felt very strongly that Sunday school work of the diocese was of the highest importance.

The following were appointed the standing committee: Rev. Canon Brigstocke, Rev. Canon Nealis, Rev. Canon Deveber, Rev. Canon Medley, Chief Justice Allen, Hon. B. R. Stevenson, Mr. G. R. Parkin, and Mr. W. M. Jarvis.

Mr. C. W. Weldon, and Rev. F. W. Vroom were re-appointed governors of King's college.

The secretary read a lengthy memorial from the corporation of the Mission church, of St. John, concerning the differences between the Mission church and St. Paul's church, of Portland.

After some discussion, the memorial was received and ordered to lie on the table.

The annual report of the domestic and foreign missions was submitted by Rev. Canon Brigstocke and adopted. The report dealt with the progress made by the church during the past fifty years.

Mr. G. Herbert Lee read in connection with the report the financial statement which was referred to an audit committee.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

A resolution was passed sending greetings to the Nova Scotia synod now in session.

Chief Justice Allen gave notice of a motion to refer the memorial of the trustees of the mission church to a committee who shall meet the rector, church wardens, and vestry of St. Paul's church, and hear their respective claims to report to the synod.

Rules and Canons.

The committee appointed to take into consideration the present constitution, Rules of Order, and Canons adopted by the Synod and to report upon the codification and amendment of the same, submitted their report at the afternoon session, the consideration of which occupied the attention of the Synod the greater part of the session. The committee reported that the various amendments made to the constitution of the Synod and the rules and canons adopted from time to time since its organization, were sufficiently numerous and important to justify, in their opinion, a complete revision and codification under direction of the Synod; and submitted a general plan in printed form for such codification and revision The report with a few slight changes was adopted by the Synod.

Diocesan Church Society.

The general committee of the diocesan church society resumed its business last evening, Bishop Kingdon in the chair.

Mr. F. B. Robinson, treasurer of S. P. C. K. depository, submitted his annual report showing receipts amounting to $1 976.8; stock and sales $1,691 01; assets $2,134. liabilities $800; surplus $ 1,384.70.

Board of Home Missions.

Geo. A. Schofield, secretary of the board of home missions submitted the annual report of the board. The board regretted that owing to an error in the estimates of available funds for the ensuing year which was not discovered until after the report submitted by the late board had been adopted, they were obliged to depart from the recommendation of that report that no increase should be made in the assessments. The board recommended that five per cent. be added to the assessments for the ensuing year. Adopted.

Gagetown—The Rev. Jas. Neales having announced his desire to resign his parish and retire from work on account of age and infirmity provided he could be granted a pension of $400, the board recommended that such amount be appropriated from the general funds of the society as a pension for the Rev. Mr. Neales, if required—Adopted unanimously.

The board recommended that there be advanced to the Rev. Scovil Neales, missionary at Queensbury, $250 and $150 to Rev. D. V. Gwilym, Richibucto. Adopted.

The board recommended that the following resolution be adopted by the general committee viz:—That the board of home missions be authorized to appoint a committee of churchmen to take such steps as they may deem advisable to place before the diocese its various needs. Carried. The committee appointed were H. W. Frith, G. S. Smith, Geo. A. Schofield, Geo. E. Fairweather, and C. N. Vroom.

Rev. Mr. Neales enquired concerning the residency of clergymen in the Queensbury mission. Rev. Mr. McKeil suggested that the clergyman reside at Temperance Vale, being the most central place. It was decided by the board that the clergyman reside at or near Millville.

A lengthy discussion was had over the grant to the Richmond mission. Rev. Mr. Montgomery's amendment not to reduce the grant was lost, and the report of the board adopted.

MARYSVILLE.

Sparks From the Hive of Industry on the Nashwaak.

The Mills and the Mill Hands —Life on the West Side.

The Big Store that Supplies a Town—Marysville Brass Band.

What are they doing at Maryville? Well, I'll tell you, not so much for the benefit of the people of Fredericton who may read it, as for the numerous readers of THE GLEANER who have not as yet visited this busy town, —a hive of industry.

The oldest institution, and the one I will first call your attention to is the saw mill, known as

The "Old Mill."

This mill was built when Mr. Gibson purchased the place; but he has made so many changes in the structure and improvements in machinery that, as it stands at present, hardly a trace of the original remains and we can say at once, he built it.

It contains four gangs, of eight saws to a gang, four gang edgers, and the required amount of trimmers and slab cutters. The machinery is driven by the celebrated and well known turbine water wheels manufactured by Jas. Harris & Co., St. John, with these wheels and an abundance of water, steam has to take a second place as a motor, both in regard to economy and power.

The spruce logs, which is the principal lumber sawn, are floated down the stream, hauled up into the mill by a patent friction wheel and landed on the "bed." Here they are overlooked by "Dave" or "John," as the case may be, and if not too long are then rolled over to the gang. The gang men, of which there are three, now take charge of them and without a second's time for thought, and as it were by magic, tell just how to place them so as to get the best and greatest amount of deals. Now we find them sawn up, they have passed through the gang and are left to the tender mercies of the edgers. These, as their name implies, take off the edges; perhaps if the deals are too wide or seamy, split them and send them on to the trimmers and markers. Here the markers examine them, the trimmers cut off the ends, and having the lengths in feet marked on them away they go to the river again, having left the stream at one side of the mill as logs, and reaching it on the other as deals or boards, ready for the Foremost Place in the Markets of the World.

The slabs and edgings are placed on a train of cars, and propelled by a strong horse, go on their way to the lath mill.

Another mill containing one gang, edger and necessary equipment, where the work is carried on as above described, was built by Mr. Gibson from the foundation. This mill is complete in all respects and has the name "Champion of New Brunswick," having sawn, as a test, eleven thousand feet of spruce in an hour.

These two mills employ upwards of one hundred men, and each gang, taking the lowest figures, cuts one hundred thousand feet per week, but remember, these figures are the lowest.

These, as well as the other lumber departments, are under the direct supervision of Alex. Gibson, Jr. With his knowledge of the business, and his tact and energy, which like a mantle has fallen from the shoulders of father to son, every thing moves like clock work, and the motto seems to be, "good machinery, good work, and the best results to employer and employed." The mill wrights are Richard Staples and John Hazlewood, both veterans in their profession, and know the various parts of the machinery, as a hand knows its members. Mr. Staples has invented several useful pieces of machinery, which he will no doubt be happy to describe to any one who enquires. The filers are the most skillful that can be got, and have the reputation of cutting the smoothest and most regular lumber that goes into the Liverpool market, which we may call the greatest smart in existence.

Many of the mill hands have been with Mr. Gibson from twenty to thirty years. I won't dwell on this, but just say it speaks volumes for manufacturer and men. It would not do to pass on, without a few words about the foreman, Jacob Libby, Esq. He has been in Mr. Gibson's employ about thirty-three years. During that time he has constructed all the dams and piers on the Nashwaak,—the piers of the Grand Falls, Aroostook and Woodstock bridges on the N. B. Railway, and that he knows how to do it, the severe tests which they have stood from ice and logs, are ample evidence.

The grist mill, equal, if not superior to any in the province, another enterprise of Mr. Gibson's, is under the care of Josiah Lint. Mr. Lint has the honor of winning several exhibition prizes for flour and meal.

Now, if you are not too tired we will go back to the "Old" mill and follow the cars and their loads of edgings

Down to the Lath Mill.

This mill is under the charge of Mr. David Alexander, of St. Stephen; his son William looks after the saws, having as assistant filer, John Dunbar Hugh Alexander is millwright and Wm. Atcheson engineer. During the summer they saw laths and in winter shingles. There are three patent lath machines, several shingle machines, slab tables, butters, which trim the ends of the bunches of laths, and all the other necessities which are required to make it what it is, a first class mill. The file-room contains, besides other machinery, a Meely and Gaskin automatic grinder, made at Fairville; and another by Hodgson, of Amherst, N. S. Mr. Alexander says they do their work well and are perfectly satisfactory. As an example of the filers' work and how fast saws get dull, Mr. Alexander told me that during the past five weeks a saw wore in diameter 2½ inches. The great freshet of the spring covered the logs with fine sand which dulls the saws very quickly. The work of lath sawing is carried on very methodically. Every man at his post, doing his work quickly and in the best manner; and to stand at the end of the row of machines and watch the men is like watching the skillful manœuvres of a regiment at drill.

It is a Veritable Bee Hive.

The daily out-put on an average is 125 thousand of laths, but 134 thousand has been cut in ten hours. There are 50 men employed. The motive power is supplied by an engine of 130 H. P., and week in and week out this mill grinds away, giving good returns to the owner and good wages to the hands.

Well, as we are at the lath mill, we will go up the hill and visit the "store." We'll wait a minute till these teams get past, some going to the factory with raw cotton, or new machines, others coming from it with manufactured goods of all kinds that can be made from cotton, such as shirtings and sheetings, seer-suckers, ginghams, and many other varieties which I can't name. Now, they are past, we will get over the railway before there is another jam and we are

Into the Store.

Everything that man requires for comfort, luxury and necessity is here in endless profusion; and it is needless to add that the many clerks find their time for chat limited, yet with the great rush, which is not for a day or week, but from New Years all through the circle of months till New Year's again and again, a perfect record is kept, all come and get and are satisfied. Let a person stand on the hill and look over the town and say, "I have got to provide the necessary supplies for all the people for only to-morrow." "Where will I begin?" "How will I plan it so that all may get what they want?" When he begins to figure up and calculate the endless lines of groceries, wearables, etc., etc., he will get a faint conception of the wonderful (I will say wonderful, for no other word conveys the idea) skill, with which Mr. Gibson plans and executes. Then when he adds to-morrow, to-morrow, till year after year is made up, he will get a weak view into the labyrinth of business which Mr. Gibson manages

In this Line of Supply Alone.

Seeing the necessity of separating the grocery and dry goods departments he has in course of erection and nearing completion, a large brick store.

It stands at the corner of the street leading to the bridge, and faces the street which runs past the residence of Mr. Gibson. The whole length is 89 feet and 32 feet wide. It is built of brick and trimmed with Marysville freestone which gives it a fine appearance. The lower flat, the store proper, runs the whole width of the building back, for three quarters the length or about sixty feet, and is fourteen feet high. The ceiling is finely moulded, and finished and supported by five tastefully ornamented iron colums. The set in frames of southern pine. Two of the panes are 8 by 12 feet each, and the other two which form the sides of an alcove or entrance to the door are 4 by 12 feet each. A beautiful cornice runs along the tops of the rows of shelves, all round the room, adding greatly to its beauty. The floor is made of Marysville spruce noted for its durability. The remainder of this flat, a space 32 by 29 will be a general storehouse for the reception and storage of goods. Between the store and storehouse, on the right will be the office. The upper flat will contain the millinery, tailoring, and dress-making departments. It has ten large windows on each side, a lofty ceiling, but as the room is not finished we will forbear visiting it any further. Let us go out and look at the front. Above the door and windows, which I described is a fine brick cornice, above this six large windows and an ornamental brick arch surmounts the whole. The brick layers have been taxed to the utmost, and it is only using the words of my readers, when they see the building, if I say that beauty, utility, strength and grandeur are skillfully combined in its structure.

But I hear the

coming down through the fine avenue of elms and maples, which skirt the streets of this stirring city and as I [who has not] have a strong liking for good music, let my readers follow me up the road under the shade of the trees past the beautiful cottages of brick and wood, which I have not time to describe to the residence of James Gibson, Esq. We cannot stop to admire the school, the beautiful church "that tops the neighboring hill" or the house of Alex. Gibson, jr., and the Rev. Mr. Read.

There is the band, 16 in number, occupying what is allowed to be one of the finest stands in the province. It is octagonal in form, is surrounded with lattice work and in the centre stands a tall flag staff. The stand is painted white and green and the contrast of the colors gives a pleasing effect. While they are playing that waltz, let us get acquainted with them and their instruments But here is the roll. We will copy it at once so that the music may go on:—

Prof. S. Crean, leader, 1 E. b cornet;
Bradford Pond, 1 E. b cornet;
Arthur Dickey, 1 B. b cornet;
John Stafford, 2 B. b cornet;
William Heron; 1 B. b bass;
Charles McPherson, 1 B. b bass;
William Alexander, 1 alto;
Wm. Cheswell, 2nd alto;
Wm. Walker, solo alto;
John Heron, 1st tenor;
J. Judson Libby, 2nd tenor;
J. Gibson, euphonium;
M. Hartney, baritone;
E. Higgins, bass drum;
Silas Richards, kettle drum;
Blanche Wheeler, cymbals.

They have just finished the Sir Charles Quickstep—let us ask the drummer for a history of the band. "There, he says, is the name of the maker," and looking at a cornet we see engraved Riviere and Hawkes, London, England. As they make all the band instruments for the British army we need not ask if they can produce good ones. The drummer says, "We have only been in practice about a year; but Mr. Bryson drilled us pretty sharp." The band has played in Fredericton and received praise from all, so not being a critic I must take the verdict of the many and say, "They play well." New uniforms are to arrive the 10th inst. from Pettybone, of Cincinnati, and I will say in conclusion that Marysville has, thanks to Mr. Gibson, a good band of fine players with fine instruments; and as they give open air concerts every Tuesday evening, music, the soul of poetry, is a pleasing feature of life in this beautiful town. In a few days I will take my readers, who may have followed me thus far, to see the great cotton factory and dye-house—till then good bye.

CITY COUNCIL.

Business Transacted at the Last Session —Provision Made for Sprinkling the Streets—Claim for Damages Allowed.

The July session of the city council was held on Tuesday night. All the members of the board were present excepting Ald. Parker, who is attending to military duties. The monthly accounts for the various departments were submitted as follows:

Roads and streets	$262.28
Public works	8.24
Administration of justice	60.50
Fire department	63.56
Contingent	49.20
Wharf	5.80
Old burial ground	11.22
Sewerage and water	262.28

The fire committee in their report recommended that the tenders of E. J Lawlor for erecting hose tower on No. 4 station and sheathing and repairing H. and L. rooms be accepted, and also that of R. H. Mackey's for painting central station for the sum of $60. The committee also reported that they had deemed it advisable to purchase 1,000 feet of hose, and asked authority for making the purchase. They had been offered hose known as the Maltese Cross hose at $1.10 per foot.

On the motion to adopt the report a lively discussion ensued over the proposed purchase of hose, which was led off in a spirited manner by Ald. McManus, who opposed the purchase. Ald. Hazen moved as an amendment that 500 feet of hose be purchased which was carried by a vote of 5 to 4. On motion the report was adopted as amended.

The wharf committee reported the city wharves in a bad condition, $2,000 being necessary to put them in proper repair. Except to put the Hill & Berry wharf in repair, which the city is compelled to do by previous contract, the council decided by vote not to make any further appropriations for the repair of wharves this year.

The city hall committee reported that they had carefully considered the claim of damages for $75 of Abe Spitz, manager of Barlowe Bros. minstrels, for non-lighting of hall on the evening of May 16th, and recommended a cheque of $50 in favor of Mr. Spitz, allowing him the hall free, which is equivalent to the full amount of damages asked for. The committee further recommended that the clerk be requested to notify the gas company that they are required to refund the said $75 to the corporation. Report adopted.

On motion of Ald. Hazen, the road committee were ordered to have measures taken to sprinkle the streets.

A correspondence was read from the secretary of the city schools giving a statement of the Wisely school affairs. The trustees had deemed it advisable to close the school owing to the small attendance of pupils. After a short discussion a resolution was passed advising the trustees to do all in their power to keep the school open during part of the year.

Mayor Fenety was given authority to remove some dead trees in different parts of the city. Free water was granted for the post office drinking fountain.

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

News From All Round Gleaned By "Gleaner" Correspondents.

MILLVILLE.

To be Punished for Serenading—Matrimonial—Returning from the Short Line.

MILLVILLE, July 4.—The weather for the four last days of the past week was extremely hot, running up to 90 degrees in the shade.

Notice was given in the last items of a party of young fellows serenading Ed. Appleby and his bride. Quite a number of them have been summoned to appear before David Lindsay, J. P., of Bright, to answer a charge against them for destroying property belonging to said Appleby and otherwise disregarding the laws of the land.

On Thursday, the last day of June, Henry Hoyt, one of our enterprising young men, went over to the land of Caverhill, and there took to wife Etta, the beautiful and accomplished daughter of William Sleep, Esq., of that place.

A young son of David G. Palmer died very suddenly on the morning of the 1st inst., and was interred here yesterday. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. John Prosser. As the services were going on, another funeral procession drove to the grave yard and interred the remains of a child belonging to a daughter of Wm. Mead, the mother being the Mead woman in the Bennett bigamy case of a few years ago.

Your correspondent noticed in THE GLEANER of the 29th June, the finding of the body of a man in the river near Savage Island, which brings to mind a story I heard about five or six weeks ago. I will give it as I heard it somewhere in the front of Kingsclear. It appears there is a Frenchman tending a boom, and one night he heard something rub hard against the boom. On looking out he saw a raft passing along with a new white warp lying across it. He could not see the other end of the raft to learn whether or not there was any one on it, but about the time he was entering the boom house he heard the raft strike heavy on a pier. At the same time he heard three fearful yells, as if in the agonies of death, and he supposed some one had been asleep on the raft and when it struck he woke. Will the Kingsclear correspondent make some enquiries and report?

The heavy wind of Saturday, the 2nd inst., blew down a barn and shed belonging to Mr. Joseph Manzer, two miles north of here. There are others reported blown down in different settlements.

Mr. A. J. Hoyt, who has been to work on the Short line, returned home on the 2nd inst.

KESWICK.

Social—Building Operations — School Examination—Obituary.

KESWICK, July 5.—On Monday, June 27th, the young people of this vicinity put in an enjoyable evening at Mr. Wm. Lawrence's. Dancing was in order and good music was furnished by Mr. Wesley Brewer.

There was a public auction of the effects of Mr. Chas. Dunphy, on Saturday, July 2nd. Mr. E. Love, auctioneer.

The weather is hot; but with intermitting showers.

The crops are looking finely, especially the hay crop.

The school examination came off here on last Thursday, in which the teacher, Mr. Everett, gave a good exhibit of the general work done in the school. Addresses were made to the children by the trustees at the close of the exercises.

The frame of Mr. James Yerxa's house is up and boarded in. The house promises to be a credit and mark of interest to the place, standing as it does on the summit of a knoll, and having a beautiful and extensive view.

Mr. Alex. Colter, sr., is fixing up his house and making many improvements.

Mrs. Jane Wheary, relict of the late Joseph Wheary of this place, died at her home, on Thursday last, of erysipelas. The deceased has long been respected for her humble and fervent piety and all will miss "Aunt Jane" from her place in the different places of worship in the place. Deceased was a member of the Baptist church.

PORTAGE.

A Heavy Wind and Lightning Storm on Saturday Last.—Last Day of School.

PORTAGE, YORK CO., July 5th—The dull monotony of our every day life was considerably changed on Thursday last, it being the last day of school. The examination was held in the forenoon, and in the afternoon the parents of the children assembled in the woods adjoining the school grounds with large baskets of good things where with swinging, racing and lunching the young folk were made happy the rest of the day We are sorry to learn however that some who were there tried to get a half witted female and some little boys to make use of foul language, and thus make it disagreeable for some of the ladies, but their efforts were foiled.

The school under the auspices of Miss A. B. Donald is improving rapidly.

The heaviest storm that was ever felt in these parts visited us on Saturday last. Large trees that have withstood the storms of hundreds of years, were torn up by the roots. A barn owned by Daniel Fairley was picked up off the ground and dashed into atoms, rendering the frame totally useless; a horse and carriage owned by Mr. Clamfield were in the barn; and after the storm was over the horse was found among the ruins with his feet in the air kicking violently. When relieved the animal was found to be unhurt but the carriage was considerably damaged,

Mr. Avery's fields were stripped of fencing as well as several others.

Crops here never looked better: everything promises a year of plenty.

BLISSFIELD.

New Salem School's Entertainment—The Hot Wave and Other Notes.

BLISSFIELD, July 4.—A basket social and concert was held on the 2nd inst., in New Salem school, No. 2½. The following programme was carried out:

Music by the choir, "Come Again"

Recitation by Miss Sadie Bamford, "Plod."

Dialogue by Miss Ida Donaldson and J. Stewart, "Entertaining Sister's Beau."

Instrumental music by Miss Hessie Bamford.

Dialogue by Miss Annie Bamford, John Gilks and Cornelius Gilks, "The Train Tomorrow."

Recitation by Miss Tessie Wasson, "Uncle Phil,"

Music by the choir, "Only Waiting."

Recitation by Miss Maggie B. McDonald, "The Young Men of the Present Day."

Recitation by Freeman McDonald, "The Young Women of the Present Day."

The baskets were then offered at auction by Mr. Enoch Bamford and a lively competition followed. God Save the Queen by the choir brought the exercises to a close. The proceeds of the evening, which amounted to $40.00, go towards fencing and improving school grounds. Much credit is due to Miss Wilson, our popular school teacher, and all concerned in the enjoyable affair.

The corporation drive to-day is clearing Money Islands. They expect to be in South West Boom in two weeks.

For several days the weather has been extremely hot accompanied with heavy showers and thunder and lightning.

The hay and grain crops are above the average, and the farmers anticipate a good return for their labor.

J. G. Emery was through this section last week and did quite a stroke of business in the fire and life insurance line.

There was some misunderstanding as to dates in regard to the convention to be held. Since the beginning of last week there has been a great opening for a revival, several of the worst characters of the place having declared that if the other place was any hotter than this they did not wish to go there. The succeeding heavy showers have perhaps put a damper upon their good resolutions, but we believe some special services will be held nevertheless.

YORK MILLS.

The Grangers and what they are Accomplishing—A Bear Paw.

YORK MILLS, July 5.—A grange was organized in Little settlement a few weeks ago. Fifty members are enrolled now and it is expected to double that number, in the course of a few weeks. They are building a large hall and finishing it in splendid style. A part of the building is to be used as a store room. They are making a first class quality of butter, and it is hope I they may long continue.

Mr. Michael Embleton went to look at a bear trap he had set on Diffen Ridge the other day and found the fore paw of a large bear caught in it. Mr. Bruin had chewed the leg off close to the trap.

NASHWAAK.

The Result of the Storm—Preached His Farewell Sermon.

NASHWAAK, July 4.—The Rev. A. Lucas preached his farewell sermon, on the 3rd inst., to a large and attentive congregation in Tay church. It is expected that the rev. gentleman will leave here for his new station in a day or two.

A barn owned by Mr. Fairly, on the Miramichi road, was demolished by the gale on Saturday night last.

Mr. Peter Waltmon has given an account of another large egg measuring 6½ in. in circumference. The egg is eight inches long.

The Poor Little Ones.

We often see children with red eruptions on face and hand, rough, scaly skin, and often sores on the head. These thing indicate a depraved condition of the blood In the growing period, children have need of pure blood by which to build up strong and healthy bodies. If Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" is given, the blood is purged of its bad elements, and the child's development will be healthy, as it should be. Scrofulous affections, rickets, fever-sores, hip-joint disease or other grave maladies and suffering are sure to result from neglect and lack of proper attention to such cases.

Hymeneal.

A quiet wedding was celebrated yesterday morning in St. Paul's church, which was the first to be celebrated in that edifice. The contracting parties were Dr. Sharpe of Marysville and Miss Helen J. McLeod of this city. Dr. Crocket supported the groom and Miss Miriam McLeod attended the bride. Rev. Mr. Bruce of St. David's church, St. John, officiated, assisted by Rev. Daniel Fiske. Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom took the early train for St. John attended by the best wishes of many friends.

The bride was the recipient of numerous and handsome presents. THE GLEANER extends congratulations to the young couple.

Circus To-Morrow.

The circus train, two engines and 18 cars, will arrive here from Canterbury at an early hour to-morrow morning. The street procession will take place at half-past ten o'clock and will parade the principal streets. The circus showed in Houlton last Saturday and at Woodstock Wednesday. The menagerie is not equal to Barnum's or Forepaugh's but the ring performances is far in advance. The trained band of elephants, the clowns, the trapeze performance, the shooting of Ira Paine and Chas. Fisk's feats in bareback riding are special features which place Robbin's circus far above the average.

Fire in Quebec Citadel.

About midnight last night fire broke out at Quebec in the barracks at the Citadel. The city brigade were unable to cope with the flames. At half-past two this morning the fire was close to the magazines. All the available force in the battery were blowing up the buildings, and a trumpeter was sounding a bugle for danger and all hands to keep clear.

FIRE ON TOBIQUE.

Simmons & Burpee's Mills Struck by Lightning and Destroyed.

The mills owned and operated by Simmons & Burpee on the Tobique river were set on fire on Tuesday of this week during a severe storm of thunder and lightning, but the men being on the spot put the fire out. On Wednesday morning they were again discovered to be on fire and all efforts to save them proved fruitless, and they were burned to the ground together with all their contents, consisting in part of two runs of stones, rotary saw, two new shingle machines, clapboard and lath machines, about 300 bushels of wheat, 300 of buckwheat, part of which belonged to Mr. Boone, the miller. The loss is quite a heavy one at this season, as they have lumber on hand to have kept the mill running the whole season. The grist mill will be a great loss to the farmers. Loss about $7,000; insured for $3,000. The mill will be rebuilt immediately. During the storm one of the men was knocked down and another had his boot torn from his foot. The mill employed from fifteen to twenty hands.

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 80,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and not one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample bottles to try, sold at 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers, in the United States and Canada.

AN HISTORIC GRAVE.

The First Grave in the Old Cemetery Opened Yesterday—To Erect a Monumental Stone.

THE grave of the first man buried in the old graveyard was opened yesterday. According to well authenticated information the first burial in this hallowed spot was that of a young officer in His Majesty's regiment, Sir Anthony Forester, about the year 1788—almost one hundred years ago. No tombstone or memorial mark of any kind located the site of the grave. No mound was even visible but the facts in connection with the burial and the grave have been handed down purely by tradition. Last summer the site of the grave was marked by City Clerk Beckwith, on information he then received from Mr. Chas. Moffat. Mr. Beckwith states that last summer when they were talking of closing the graveyard, Mr. Moffat took him to the spot of Forster's grave, showing him the exact location. Mr. Moffat had received his information from the late John Biggs who lived in Fredericton when the officer was buried. Moffatt tells that Biggs carefully cautioned him not to forget the site of the grave as it was the first grave in the old grounds. It is on the right hand side of the road from the main gate, on the rising knoll not far distant from the late Joseph Myshrall's grave. About three or four paces off are the graves of the first rector of Fredericton, Dr. Cook and his son, both of whom were drowned in crossing the river from St. Mary's in the year 1795. Forster was buried by Dr. Cook, according to the tradition, some six or seven years previous to this. Mayor Fenety, in his address to the citizens last year, suggested the erection of a monumental stone here. Yesterday a couple of men were set to work digging on the traditional spot among the briars and tangled grass. So accurately had the location of the grave been defined that the men struck the two crumbled sides of the coffin exactly in line with their digging. The outline of the coffin could be faintly traced. The skull and a few of the larger bones of the body were unearthed, but, with the exception of the skull the bones had nearly entirely wasted away. The charred remnants of a silver coffin plate was found among the bones, but no inscription was traceable. One side of the plate, the side probably next to the coffin, presented quite a smooth surface. The cave has been filled in again and the erection of a monument will be next in order.

Jubilee Celebrations at St. Marys.

The St. Mary's firemen are preparing to celebrate the Queen's jubilee in grand style. Each year the boys provide the citizens of Fredericton, St. Mary's, and Gibson with a most enjoyable afternoon and evening. A first class tea, refreshments of all kinds, a good band, brilliantly lighted grounds, and an extensive dancing platform constituted the programme in past years, and we understand that an effort will be made to surpass all other like occasions. By means of these entertainments, the firemen have succeeded in working up a fairly creditable fire department affording a sense of security to the people of the village and vicinity, and their efforts in this direction should be encouraged. The entertainment will come off early next week. Advertisement will appear later.

TERRIBLE STORMS UP RIVER.

Barns and Circus Tents Blown Down—One Man Killed and Several Others Badly Injured.

A terrible thunder and lightning storm passed over the northern part of Aroostook and Victoria counties last Monday. At Caribou the squall struck with great force carrying away several barns and houses. A number of persons are reported to have been badly injured. Some men, while at work on the railway, took refuge under their hand car, when the lightning struck the steel car rail killing one of the men and severely injuring his companions. Robbins' circus tent was blown down at Caribou, causing a general stampede among horses and men, one man had his leg broken and a number of people were more or less injured.

On Tuesday a hail and thunder storm passed over Grand Falls flooding Robbins circus tent so that it was impossible for them to hold their performance. During the storm seven barns were blown down on the Grand Falls portage road. In Birch Ridge Settlement, Tobique river, the wind blew down fourteen large frame barns and done great damage to the forest. The loss of barns will be a great inconvenience to farmers at this season of the year.

HERE AND THERE.

Some Facts and a Few Other Good Things.

A good place in which to linger a while—Tarry-town.

No medicine is more conscientiously prepared, more powerful, or more highly concentrated, than Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Its standard of excellence is the result of careful study. This preparation is acknowledged by the medical profession to be the best blood purifier.

With the advent of a railroad the desert ceases to be a trackless waste.

THE TRIUMPHANT THREE.—"During three years suffering with dyspepsia I tried almost every known remedy but kept getting worse until I tried B. B. B. I had only used it three days when I felt better, three bottles completely cured me." W. Nichols, of Kendal, Ont.

At a recent convival gathering the following toast was proposed; "The bench and the bar. If it were not for the bar there would be little use for the bench."

GET THE BEST. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the best, most prompt and safest cure for cholera morbus, dysentery, sick stomach, cramps, cholic, and cholera infantum that has yet been discovered. Its popularity is undimmed by age. All medicine dealers sell it.

Higgins—"I notice that you and Brown do not speak any more. What's the matter?"

Wiggins—"Well, you see, we had a very heated argument the other day which has caused a coolness between us."

FROM MANITOBA.—"I have been cured of chronic diarrhœa by the use of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I used about twelve bottles of it and am now entirely free from the disease." William McLaren, Clearwater, Manitoba.

"Doctor," said a patient, "I shall never forget that to you I owe my life." "You exaggerate," said the doctor; "you only owe me for fifteen visits.

WORTH REMEMBERING.—In a long letter from John H. Hall, of Baddick, Cape Breton, N. S., he says: "I believe were it not for Burdock Blood Bitters I should be in my grave. It cured me of kidney and liver complaint and general debility, which had nearly proved fatal."

Daughter—"Ma, why does Uncle John say 'Er—er—' so when he talks?" Mother—"To err is human, my child."

This season of the year it is very important to have a reliable remedy in the house for such diseases as flux, dysentery, diarrhœa, summer complaint, cholera, cholera morbus and cholera infantum. Such a remedy is West's Pain King. Only 25c. All druggists.

"Your refusal, sir, to trust me for a paltry drink of whiskey fills me with astonishment and indignation." Bartender—"All right, sir; you can fill yourself up with astonishment and indignation and it won't cost you a cent; but if you want to fill up with whiskey you will have to have cash!"—Puck.

SCOOT FRIENDS SCOOT, TO THE YORK STREET RESTAURANT.

Christmas has come and gone, and it is a thing of the past. Some parties, I have been informed, have made the remark that my advertisements are rather flshy, and I think it is a scaly thing for them to make such remarks, but I wish to inform them that I can shell out on Christmas and New Years, and if they doubt my word let them drop in on New Year's eve on their way to or from midnight service and they can see me shelling out the Oysters and assist in spending the parting year and welcoming the incoming New Year.

Please give the York Street Restaurant a bumper house to-morrow night as I want lots of cash as my wardrobe is getting down and I've got to pay the tailor a visit.

To my numerous customers I take this opportunity of wishing a Happy and prosperous New Year.

The Appetite

May be increased, the Digestive organs strengthened, and the Bowels regulated, by taking Ayer's Pills. These Pills are purely vegetable in their composition. They contain neither calomel nor any other dangerous drug, and may be taken with perfect safety by persons of all ages.

I was a great sufferer from Dyspepsia and Constipation. I had no appetite, became greatly debilitated, and was constantly afflicted with Headache and Dizziness. I consulted our family doctor, who prescribed for me, at various times, without affording more than temporary relief. I finally commenced taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time my digestion and appetite my bowels were regulated, and, by the time I finished two boxes of these Pills my tendency to headaches had disappeared, and I became strong and well.—Darius M. Logan, Wilmington, Del.

I was troubled, for over a year, with Loss of Appetite, and General Debility. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and, before finishing half a box of this medicine, my appetite and strength were restored. —C. O. Clark, Danbury, Conn.

Ayer's Pills are the best medicine known to me for regulating the bowels, and for all disease caused by a disordered Stomach and Liver. I suffered for over three years with Headache, Indigestion, and Constipation. I had no appetite, and was weak and nervous most of the time.

BY USING

three boxes of Ayer's Pills, and, at the same time dieting myself, I was completely cured. My digestive organs are now in good order, and I am in perfect health.—Philip Lockwood, Topeka, Kans.

Ayer's Pills have benefited me wonderfully. For months I suffered from Indigestion and Headache, was restless at night, and had a bad taste in my mouth every morning. After taking one box of Ayer's Pills, all these troubles disappeared, my food digested well, and my sleep was refreshing.—Henry C. Hemmenway, Rockport, Mass.

I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only relieved me of that painful disorder, but gave me increased vigor, and restored my health.—John Lazarus, St. John, N. B.
