DAVISON.—January 8th, at Isaac's Harbor, very suddenly, in the seventh year of her age, young and beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Davidson. The poor little thing was subject to fits, and strangled in one of them. Their comfort lies in the fact that the little one is with the Lord.

FLEMING.—At Port Hillford, Jan. 10 of la grippe, Esther, relict of the late William Fleming, aged 70 years. Sister Fleming was baptized into fellowship of the Port Hilford church, April 18th, 1874, by the Rev. Mr. Eagles, of which church she was a faithful member till she was called to join the church triumphant.

McLEOD.—At Wittenberg, Colchester Co., N. S., Dec. 8, 93, Mrs. T. McLeod. This dear sister was an earnest loving Christian woman; a valued member of the W. M. A. Society and much interested in its work. A little family of children is left bereft of both a father's and a mother's care. But God, who doeth all things well, will not fail to be "a Father to the fatherless."

PEITZSCH.—Jan. 8th, at her home, at Isaac's Harbor, after a long and painful illness, in her 18th year, Ethel Maude, beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Peitzsch. Maude exemplified the spirit of the true Christian. The desire of her heart up to the hour of her departure was: "Any where with Jesus." May the God of all grace comfort the bereaved family in their sorrow.

McREADY.—At Jacksonville, Carleton Co., on the 21st Jan., Margery, beloved wife of Joseph McReady, aged 52 years. Her illness was of long and tedious duration, and at times she suffered much, but through it all she was graciously upheld and comforted by her Lord. For more than twenty years she had witnessed a good confession before many. Funeral services by the pastor assisted by Rev. Mr. Williams, Methodist.

CRISS.—On the 28th ult., at Prince Albert St., Mrs. Lorenzo Dow Criss passed peacefully to her reward. Sister Criss was for many years a devoted and consistent member of the upper Wilmot Baptist church. She leaves a husband, daughter and many relatives and friends to mourn. In her death the church and community sustain a great loss. She could truly say, "For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain." The bereaved have the sympathy of the entire community.

TINGLEY.—At Cookville, West. Co., Jan. 18, Caroline, widow of the late Isaac Tingley, and eldest daughter of the late John Anderson, of Midgic. Sister Tingley was baptized many years ago by the late Rev. Wm. Sears, uniting with the Sackville church, and ever since she made this public profession she has lived the life of a sincere and devoted Christian. Our sister was laid to rest in the cemetery on the Sabbath following her death. A large number followed her remains to the grave. Truly it may be said of our departed sister, "For her to live was Christ, to die was gain." She leaves a large number of friends to mourn their loss.

ALLEN.—On Jan. 9th, '94, at Springfield, N. S., Ida M., beloved wife of Henry Allen, aged 20 years. Sister Allen was baptized in 1887 by Rev. M. W. Brown into the fellowship of the New Germany church. Three years ago, in company with her father, she united by letter with the Springfield church, of which she remained a consistent member until she died. Suddenly and peacefully she passed away, trusting in her Saviour, leaving her parents, brothers and sisters and a lonely husband to mourn their loss.

LISTON.—At Truro, N. S., Jan. 24, '94, aged 88 years, 10 months, 24 days. Our brother was born March 1st, 1805; was married April 3rd, 1834, and was baptized by Rev. Theodore Harding in Onslow (the mother church of all the Baptist churches in Colchester Co.), Oct. 5th, 1839. For 54 years our departed brother lived a quiet consistent Christian life. The last sixteen years of his life were spent in Truro, a member of the Prince St. Baptist church. His end was peace. His dear partner for nearly 60 years survives him, who with two sons and two daughters cherish the memory of a good husband and father.

GRIFFIN.—At his home at Isaac's Harbor, Jan. 16, after an illness of only a few days, Deacon Edward Griffin, in his 70th year. He was one of the best of men. In all our dark times in the church, he stood firm as a rock. He was a tower of strength to the pastor, church and community. The convicted sinner often sent for him to pray with him, and the dying ones often went home in the sound of his prayers. He had followed the Lord for a long number of years. From our human standpoint, our loss is irreparable; but God does right. The stricken widow, children and brothers and sisters have our deepest sympathy.

HOWATT.—At the Maine General Hospital, Portland, Jan. 29, after undergoing a surgical operation for the removal of a tumor, Elizabeth Jane, aged 50 years and six months, youngest daughter of the late Deacon Isaac Howatt, and dearly beloved wife of Benjamin E. Clark, Houlton, Me. She leaves a sorrowing husband, son and daughter to mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate wife and mother. She was among some of the early members of the Summerside Baptist church while it was yet in its infancy, being baptized by Bro. Kidson on the 27th of May, 1868. [Island papers please copy.

GRENO.—At Chapman Settlement, of la grippe, 31st January, Elizabeth, widow of the late William Greno, aged 71 years, leaving a large family and many friends to mourn their loss. She was a true-hearted Christian, and died as she lived with a full assurance of a bet-ter resurrection. Our departed sister remained a very consistent and useful member until she left us to join the church triumphant. She died as she lived—trusting in Jesus. She was also an active member of the Christian Endeavor Society. May the Lord sustain the sorrowing family and friends, is our earnest prayer. Her father and mother both are members of the Amherst shore church.

HAMILTON.—Snatched from life in the full vigor of youth and health, by falling from a building on the 21st Dec., 1893, at Sharon, Mass., Herman Hamilton, of Truro, N. S., youngest and much loved brother of Lenore Hamilton Todd, of the "Congo Balola" Mission, who laid down her sweet, consecrated young life for Christ and for the sons and daughters of darkest Africa. In less than a year from the time the father, E. W. Hamilton, Prothonotary of Truro, received the sad news of his daughter's sudden death, came the stunning dispatch that Herman was dead. May God, even his father's God, comfort him as He alone can. The mother has preceded her children to the spirit-land.

WEAVER.—At Port George, Annapolis Co., Jan. 19, after a lingering and painful illness, Susan, relict of the late Henry Weaver, aged 50 years. Mrs. Weaver was baptized during the ministry of Bro. Sweet, and by a quiet consistent life honored the Christian faith. During a long, tedious illness, her trust in God endured the test of affliction's furnace, as gold seven times tried, and when the hour came to commit her fatherless children to Him who has said "Leave them with Me," faith graciously triumphed. The text chosen by the deceased for improvement at the funeral, Job 13: 15, is a sublime expression of perfect trust. May the mourning ones be enabled to exercise like precious faith.

WILSON.—On Jan. 25th, '94, at Dalhousie East, Abigail, beloved wife of Deacon Thomas A. Wilson, aged 61 years. Sister Wilson was converted under the labors of our beloved Brother Rev. R. Morton, D.D.; in 1848 was with others baptized by Elder James Parker (allow me here to say that I have found through this southern part of our province many living seals to our Brother Morton's ministry. Sister Wilson at the early age of fifteen became a member of Dalhousie East Baptist church, was a consistent member, a good mother, a faithful wife. Her sufferings were great, but with patience and Christian fortitude she bore it all for Jesus. The body was taken to its resting place on 28th ult.; sermon preached by the pastor, Rev. S. Langille from Isaiah 43: 2. She is gone to her rest and leaves a little church, a large circle of friends, eight children, a beloved husband to mourn their loss. May the Lord of all good sustain the bereaved.

— The poet Burns says: "Dyspepsia is the Devil." It is, but where he assumes this form he is easily gotten rid of by K. D. C. Use K. D. C.

HENDRY.—On the thirteenth of Jan'y, George S. Hendry, aged 25 years. In the morning Mr. Hendry left his boarding house at M. Adam to assist in removing the snow from the railroad. The engine was thrown off the track at Harvey and plunged into the lake, carrying him with it. Not being able to extricate himself from his perilous position he was drowned. He was a son of Mr. George Hendry, of Woodstock, N. B., and a member of a Congregationalist church in Boston, Mass. The sad event cast a gloom over the whole town, and expressions of sympathy were deep and numerous for the parents and two sisters who were bereft of an only son and brother.

BAKER.—At Big Tancook, Jan. 20th, '94, of the result of la grippe, Mr. Geo. F. Baker, aged 36 years. His father, Mr. Frederick Baker, was one of the four who first owned this island. His son George F. became one of the second list of owners, and was born in the same house in which he died. Some 25 years ago he professed faith in Jesus during a series of cottage prayer meetings. And during his last sickness, which he bore with the greatest of patience, he would often break out in prayer and praises saying, "I thank the Lord Jesus for saving such a poor miserable sinner as me by His own precious blood." Then he would rejoice that he was going home to the glorious mansion where he would see his blessed Jesus.

NEWCOMBE.—At Bridgetown, Jan 21st, of heart failure, Mrs. Helen F. Newcombe, aged 68. On the following Friday 26th, her sister Miss Catherine Foster, of la grippe, aged 68. Mother and aunt of Abner F. Newcombe, Hic. In this dispensation of Providence our church has lost two of its oldest and ripest members. During their lives these sisters have been separated but little, at one time about as many years as there were days between their deaths. In death they are not divided. Their Christian characters have been refined by fire. They entered their rest like a shock of corn fully ripe. Our young brother, whose home has been broken up, has the sympathy of, not only the church, but the whole community. The dark cloud has a silver lining.

YOUNG.—At Pennfield, Charlotte Co., Jan. 9, Bailey Young, aged 87 years and four months. During the last eighteen years, since the death of his wife, he has been living with his only son, although at intervals he spent considerable of his time with his daughter, Mrs. Prescott. For more than 60 years he has had an assurance of faith in Jesus, having received his first spiritual impression in meetings held by the venerable Father Ansley in the vicinity of Beaver Harbor. Before his faculties had failed him the writer frequently discoursed with him upon the rich promises of the covenant keeping God of Israel. His only son and one daughter were present at the last. Appropriate services were held at the house and church. Sermon from 1 Thess. 4: 13, 14.

BOYCE.—At Northport, N. S., Jan. 14 of la grippe, Jessie Lavinia, aged 19 years, daughter of Anthony and Sarah Ann Boyce, and grand daughter of the late Wm. B. Embree, Esq., formerly of Amherst, N. S., leaving a father and mother, two brothers and five sisters, two of the last named being in the United States, besides numerous friends to mourn their loss. Her end was peace. Our departed sister and her mother both professed faith in Christ, and were baptized by Rev. E. C. Corey on the 23rd of July last. It being the first baptism by immersion in Northport. It was a beautiful sight to see mother and daughter following each other into the water and there buried in baptism in the likeness of their dear Redeemer. They both united with the Amherst Shore church.

CALDER.—At Beaver Harbor, Jan. 21 Elizabeth A. Calder, aged 68 years. For a number of years our deceased sister has been a great sufferer, but the ailments being upon her coarser nature, she could cry to Him "who giveth more grace," that she would soon be where the inhabitants never say I am sick. Her expectations now are more than realized. For a quarter of a century she was without a husband's care, but now I trust they are re-united. Sister Calder leaves five living children, four sons and one daughter. More than fifty years ago she was led to embrace the faith of Jesus Christ under the preaching of the late Wm. Rideout, and later was baptized into Church fellowship. Two children were with her at the last. Appropriate services were held by the pastor with sermon from Phil. 1: 21. May sustaining grace be given the bereaved.

COSSETT.—At Smith's Cove, Digby Co., N. S., Nov. 5, Charles Cossett. Bro. Cossett was for over forty years a valued member of the Second Hillsburgh church, located at Smith's Cove. He was baptized by Rev. Joshua Cogswell in 1852 and to the end maintained a consistent Christian course. During the latter part of his pilgrimage he was a great sufferer from asthma, but about a month previous to his death he was attacked by the disease which terminated his life, and which proved to be cancer of the stomach. On his death bed he enjoyed the presence of his Saviour and longed to depart that he might be with Christ forever. He seemed to hear the music of the angelic choir and to enjoy earnests of the heavenly rest. He left to mourn a widow, one son and three daughters, one of whom is the wife of Rev. W. McGregor, of Hyannis, Mass. The memory of the just is blessed.
