This Morning

We opened a considerable shipment, consisting of a dozen new styles of Ladies' American Made Dress Shoes.

They came from the makers of ladies' shoes who have for many years made none but the highest-priced goods. They weren't made for us, they were made for different dealers in the States, but not being shipped in time for them, they came our way.

We are going to sell them for Two-Fifty. Now, don't think that because the price is low that you get an ordinary shoe. There's comfort, beauty and exclusiveness in every pair. Sizes 2 to 7. Widths AA to E.

No Element Of Uncertainty

Regarding the Relief of Mafeking's Brave Defenders.

The Story That Kruger Made Peace Proposals Denied.

A Boer Commandant Offered to Make Terms—"Unconditional Surrender" the Answer—Contradictory Accounts Regarding the Relief of Mafeking—One States That the Entire Boer Force About the Town Was Captured—The Queen Expresses Her Gratification—Boisterous Jubilation Ends in Rioting—Buller and Rundle Continue Their Successful Movements.

London, May 21—2:22 p.m.—The following dispatch from Sir Alfred Milner, the British high commissioner in South Africa, to the secretary of state for the colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, was received at 11:30 p.m. today:

"Barton telegraphs from Taungos that Mafeking was relieved May 17. (Signed) Milner."

London, May 21—2:20 p.m.—The war office confirms the dispatch that Mafeking has been relieved.

BULLER HEARD FROM.

London, May 21—2 p.m.—The war office has received the following message from Lord Roberts: "Kroonstad, May 21.—Buller reports that his advance will be delayed for a few days on account of the way in which the railway has been destroyed."

LADYBRAND OCCUPIED BY BRITISH.

"Rundle reports that Ladybrand has been occupied.

"Hunter is pushing up the railway with supplies for the Mafeking garrison, and is arranging a hospital train for the conveyance of the sick and wounded to Kimberley.

"Methuen has left Hoopstad to cooperate with this force."

KRUGER HAS NOT SUED FOR PEACE.

London, May 21—2:25 p.m.—There is no truth in the report that President Kruger has sued for peace, and no communication from him on the subject is expected in the immediate future.

THE QUEEN GRATIFIED.

London, May 20—4:15 a.m.—Last night's court circular contains the following: "The Queen received on Friday night with the greatest gratification and thankfulness the news of the relief of Mafeking after a heroic defense of over seven months by Col. Baden-Powell and troops under his command."

This is the first official intimation of the relief of Mafeking, and it would not have been made had any doubts existed in the official mind as to the correctness of the news.

A dispatch from Lord Roberts, dated Kroonstad, 3 p.m., today, says: "No official intimation has yet been received, but Reuter states that the relief of Mafeking has been effected."

DEWET OFFERS TO SURRENDER

London, May 20. — A special dispatch from Kroonstadt says that General Dewet has sent word that he is prepared to surrender conditionally with his entire commando.

London, May 21. — It now appears that the Dewet who offered to surrender with 1,000 men was not the well-known General Dewet, but Commandant Dewet. He stipulated that his men should be allowed to return to their farms. Lord Roberts replied that the surrender must be unconditional.

Want Peace.

WILL MAKE OVERTURES.

New York, May 20. — A dispatch from Lorenzo Marquez, dated May 19, says: "The Transvaal Government decided to send a message today to Lord Roberts requesting a cessation of hostilities, demanding a guarantee that the lives of all colonials fighting with the Boers shall be spared, and stating that unless these terms are granted the mines will be blown up and Johannesburg destroyed. The government has been for some time considering the destruction of the mines. President Kruger and the executive council were against the proposition, but strong popular pressure was brought to bear in favor of it. President Kruger has had a dream that the war would be ended within three weeks, which he firmly believes. There is much uncertainty in Pretoria, where Kruger is the only strong hand. The Boer president told me yesterday that he would fight until the last cartridge. But many officials and burghers are shaky, and desire a compromise. They do not want to defend Pretoria for fear that their property will be destroyed by bombardment. A big meeting was held Thursday night, at which the women of Pretoria passed resolutions urging the defense of the capital to the bitter end. Provisions will soon be scarce in Pretoria. All is being taken to Lydenburg, where the capital may be removed. Notwithstanding the discouraging situation, President Steyn maintains a cheery and bold demeanor. A few hundred men of the foreign legion attacked Mafeking Saturday and carried several forts. The Boers failed to support them, and the result was a fiasco. The relieving column of British was then withing a few miles of the town, and—the Boer government has stopped all telegraphic news going out."

The Relief Column.

BOERS WITHDREW EAST.

London, May 19.—A special dispatch from Molopo, dated May 17, states that a large British force from the south succeeded in entering Mafeking yesterday (Wednesday), and that the siege was raised by the Boers, their commandoes withdrawing eastward.

Another Cape Town account of the composition of the relief column says that it consisted of 2,000 men of the South African Light Horse, the Imperial Yeomanry and the Kimberley Horse. It left Kimberley on May 4, with 35 wagons, containing stores and ammunition, with four guns of the horse artillery and two maxims, and moved west along the railway without meeting opposition. At Kraaipan the Boers fell back when attacked

The relief column, as it approached Mafeking from the south, was attacked by a strong force of Boers, who were repulsed. The rear guard continued in action for some time. The British casualties were slight.

BOERS BARRED THE WAY.

Pretoria, May 19.—The Associated Press' special western border correspondent wires that the relief column entered Mafeking on Wednesday night. Gen. Delarey engaged them successfully during the whole of Wednesday, but during the night one of the officers withdrew without the general's knowledge, thus leaving a way clear for the column to enter.

ANOTHER STORY.

London, Monday, May 21.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Lorenzo Marquez, dated Sunday, says: "On Thursday the entire Boer force around Mafeking, including the guns, was captured by the British."

Rundle

DRIVING THE ENEMY.

London, May 20.—A dispatch from Winburg, dated May 19, says: Gen. Rundle reached Trommel, 28 miles from here, on Friday, traversing exceedingly mountainous country. Commandant Olivier's commando is several days ahead of him, but stray patrols of Boers are watching Rundle's movements. His men are in excellent form, in spite of the long daily marches.

London, May 20—11:55 p.m.—The war office has received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts:

"Kroonstad, May 30—3 p.m.—Rundle reports having occupied Bresler's Flat, Trommed and Clocolan, the enemy falling back on Senekal and Ficksburg.

"Fifty rifles and 3,000 rounds were surrendered by the Free Staters to a battalion of yeomanry working along the telegraph line from Boshof to Bloemfontein.

"A field cornet and 86 burghers surrendered at Boshof yesterday.

"While at Hoopstad, Methuen secured 250 rifles and between 400,000 and 500,000 rounds."

Buller

MOVING ON.

London, May 19.—The war office has received the following dispatch from Gen. Buller, dated Newcastle, May 19:

"Gen. Cleary moved to Ingogo today, and Gen. Dundonald to Laing's Nek. We almost caught up with the tail of the enemy's column, and have captured a few prisoners and wagons.

"The men have marched very well indeed. I left Ladysmith May 10, and by the road used am now 138 miles from there.

"The telegraphist section has been indefatigable, and the service corps has kept us full of rations all the time.

"The fifth division also has done great service."

Ingogo was the scene of a battle in first war of independence, and Majuba is close at hand. The extent of the damage done to the tunnel is not yet known with precision. Buller's march has been unexpectedly rapid, and his forces are now in a position to turn the rocky defile which has always been regarded as impregnable against assault.

Volksrust, on the Transvaal border, May 17, via Lorenzo Marquez, May 18—5 p.m.—The large tunnel at Laing's Nek, which was 2,213 feet long, and which afforded the only means of railway communication between Natal and the Transvaal, has just been completely destroyed by the Boers, who blew it up with dynamite. A very large quantity of the explosive was used, and its effect was terrific. The shock was felt for a great distance from the tunnel, which is now completely choked up from end to end with huge masses of earth and rock, which will require months and great engineering skill to remove. All the commandoes are occupying fine strategic positions, and feel confident that they can easily repel any attempt by Gen. Buller to enter the Transvaal by way of Laing's Nek.

A dispatch form Pietermaritzburg says: The occupation of Newcastle by Gen. Buller has caused great jubilation. The magistrate and his staff, the mayor and the corporation have left for Newcastle. Many fleeing Boers have gone to the Orange Free State by Muller's Pass. Others have gone to Wakkerstroom. Most of them, however, have gone north as a disorganized mob.

Baden-Powell.

SHOULD BE MADE A GENERAL.

London, May 19.—Replying to "The Imperial Forces" at the American Press fund dinner this evening, Col. Lambton, of H. M. S. Powerful, said: "I happened to be at Cape Town when Mafeking was first invested. I heard the opinion freely expressed that it was impossible for the town to hold out a trimestre. For such a gallant defense Baden-Powell should be made a general."

Speaking at the dinner of the Cambridge University Club tonight, at which the Australian federation delegates were the principal guests, John Morley said: "The public imagination has been excited to the unparalleled degree at the triumphant ending of one of the most striking episodes of the war. Differ as we may about the policy of the war, everyone recognizes with something deeper than admiration the heroic sense of personal and public duty which animated and inspired the fortitude and endurance, the patience and courage of the men of whom all are thinking today."

Too Boisterous.

REJOICING TURNS TO RIOTING.

The boisterous rejoicings over the news from Mafeking have become riots in parts of London, Aberdeen and Belfast, and elsewhere in the United Kingdom. In the Finchley district of suburban London a mob stoned a railway station master's house and smashed the windows of a draper's shop, setting the building on fire also, whether by accident of design it is not yet known. Two clerks were injured. The house of a Boer sympathizer at Harlsden was attacked by a large crowd, and the windows were shattered. The police charged the mob, and were greeted with a shower of decayed eggs. Numerous arrests were made, and the police reserves were called out. Rioting took place in Aberdeen from 7 to 10 o'clock Saturday evening around a hall where a "stop the war" meeting was being addressed by Mr. Cronwright Schreiner, husband of Olive Schreiner.

A crowd of students and others tried to storm the hall and to break down the doors. The foot police were unable to cope with the disturbers, and sent for the mounted police, who

In Fitting Spectacles

The first consideration is the selection of correct lenses. These, however, will prove of little value unless the frames hold the lenses comfortably in their proper place. We fit lenses by two distinct tests, and pay the greatest possible attention to the selection of suitable and becoming frames.

The highest degree of perfection is reached in our Rimless Eyeglasses and Spectacles.
