LIVERPOOL AND LONDON
Fire and Life Insurance Company,
Instituted in 1836.
Incorporated by Special Acts of Parliament.
Capital, Two Millions Sterling,
Unlimited liability of the Stockholders of the Company.
Subscribed Capital, £1,500,000.

Accumulated funds,	346,922	4	9
	£544,139	14	9

THE 19th annual General Meeting of this company was held at Liverpool on the 16th Feb'ry last, when the following Report of the business of the Company during the past year was submitted:—
"The increase in the Fire Insurance Business must be satisfactory to the Proprietors, as shewing the rapid and safe progress which the Company is making. The receipts for the first year have increased considerably over those of 1852, while the losses have materiaiy diminished.

	1852.	1853.
Receipts,	£98,654	£113,612
Loss. s,	59,091	42,846
Profits,	£39,563	£70,766

These results show, notwithstanding the very numerous and destructive fires that have occurred both in this country and especially in America, that great caution has been exercised in taking risks, on the part of those on whose judgement the Directors must necessarily in a great measure rely. The reserved surplus fund now amounts to £413,712.

FLOWERS OF ENGLAND.

Flowers of English land,
Reared by woman's love and care;
Light of many a household band,
Source of many a mother's prayer;
Our lovely, our bravest, and our best,
Glorious wanderers o'er the sea!
Where hath honour fixed your rest,
English Flowers, "where are ye?"

In a lonely spot where none
Ever pass with joyous tread,
Lit by Varna's burning sun,
Where the comrades tear is shed,
Where the tall grass shadowy waves,
Where the soldier bends his knee
O'er his soldier brother's graves,
English Flowers, "there are ye."

Where on Alma's glorious plain
Hero hearts gave up their breath,
Where the nobly-lowly slain,
Grasped their weapons, e'en in death.
Where our soldiers fought and died,
Where the boudmen turn to flee,
Where the reaping Angels glide,
English Flowers "there are ye."

Where our horsemen spurned the ground,
On Balaklava's fatal scene,
Tho' certain of the death they found,
Undaunted, resolute, serene;
Where lips had scarcely time to pray,
"Father, take my soul to thee,"
Ere in death they speechless lay,
English Flowers, "there are ye."

Where our Britons made their stand,
On Inkerman's immortal day,
Where every heart and every hand
Strove with godlike energy;
Where Cathcart fell,—where Strangways died
Whose lowly graves we ne'er may see,
Soldier brothers, side by side,
English Flowers "there are ye."

Where the steep cliff darkly frowns,
Where the Euxine billows foam,
Where the reging surge-voice drowns
The dying shriek, the prayer for home,
Where the storm fiends urge the bark
On the rocks where death must be,
Where pearls gleam soft in caverns dark,
English Flowers, "there are ye."

On glory's shining page enrolled,
Shrined within a nation's heart,
With memories that may ne'er grow cold,
With lustre that can ne'er depart;
Our loved, our bravest, and our best,
Noble spirits of the free,
In the Heaven of the blest,
English Flowers, "there are ye."

(From the Life and Beauties of Fanny Fern.)

THE HUSBAND'S DEATH.

Throughout the whole course of Fanny's writing we are presented with frequent and most pleasing pictures of her own self. Not only does she figure as the graceful heroine of "Ruth Hall," but all her sketches have a connection more or less remote with the events of her own life. The following sketch as we are assured, is a description of the death of her husband, though it contains one of the customary portraitures of Fanny herself.

THE YOUNG WIFE'S AFFLICTION.

"A delightful summer we passed, to be sure, at the —— Hotel, in the quiet village of S——. A collection of prettier women, or more gentlemanly, agreeable men, were never thrown together by the necessity of seeking country quarters in the dogdays. Fashion, by common consent, was laid upon the shelf, and comfort and smiling faces were the natural result. Husbands took the cars in the morning for the city, rejoicing in linen coats and pants, loose neck-ties; their wives, equally independent till their return, in flowing muslin wrappers, not too chintzy for the wear and tear of little climbing feet, fresh from the meadow or wildwood.

"There were no separate 'cliques' or 'sets,' nobody knew, or inquired, or cared, whether your great grandfather had his horse shod, or shed horses for other people. The ladies were not afraid of smutting their fingers, or their reputation, if they washed their own children's faces; and didn't consider it necessary to fasten the door, and close the blinds, when they replaced a missing button on their husband's waistband, or mended a ragged frock.

"Plenty of fruit, plenty of fresh, sweet air, plenty of children, and plenty of room for them to play in. A short nap in the afternoon, a little additional care in arranging tumbled tresses, and in girding a fresh robe round the waist, and they were all seated in the cool of the evening on the sweet meadow or long piazza, smiling, happy, and expectant, as the car bell announced the return of their liege lords from the dusty, heated city. It was delightful to see their business faces brighten up, as each fair wife came forward and relieved them from the little parcels and newspapers they carried in their hands, and smiled a welcome, sweet as the cool fresh air that fanned their heated foreheads. A cold bath, a clean clothing, and they were presentable at the supper table where merry jokes flew round, and any news was discussed between the fragrant cups of tea, and each man fell in love with his pretty wife over again, (or his neighbour's, if he liked!)

"It was one harmonious, happy family! Mr. —— and her husband were the prime ministers of fun and frolic in the establishment. It was she who concocted all the games, and charades, and riddles, that sent our merry shouts ringing far and wide, as we sat in the evening on the long piazza. It was she who planned the picnics and sails, and archives in the old hay-cart; the merry parties and romps on the green; and the little cozy suppers in the back parlor just before bed time (and nobody but herself could have coaxed out of the lossy old landlord.) It was she who sailed our coffee and scorched our toast; it was she who made pies for us, and wrote verses; it was she who sewed up pockets in over coats, or stole cigars, or singed the ends in water; it was she who nursed all the sick children in the house; it was she who cut out trucks, and pinafores, and cars, for unskillful mothers; it was she who was here and there, and everywhere, the embodiment of music, and fun, and kindness; and as she flew, as her handsome husband, (with her queen on her lips) [illegible] teeth, and a form like Apollo's. Mary was so proud of him! She would always watch his eyes, when she meditated any little piece of surprise, and it was discontinued or put off as she read its language. He was just the man to appreciate her—to understand her sensitive, enthusiastic nature, to know when to check, when to encourage; she it need but a word, a look; for her whole soul went out to him.

"And so the bright summer days sped gaily on; and now autumn had come, with its exceeding beauty, and no one had courage to speak of breaking up our happy circle; but oh! it came on with stealthy steps, we had no such thoughts!

* * * *

"The merry shout of the children is hushed in the wine halls; anxious faces are grouped on the piazza; one is a darkened room above, lies Mary's princely husband, delirious with fever! The smile has fled her lip, the rose her cheek; her eyes is hunted with tears that never fall; day and night without sleep or rest, she keeps watching vigil; while unconscious of her presence, in tones that pierce her heart, he calls unceasingly for 'my wife!' She puts back the tangled masses of dark hair from his burning forehead, she presses her little hand coolingly on his hot brain, she listens to the physician, 'to prepare a opiate.' She dare not try to be alone with him when he is raving. She tells no one that on her delicate breast she bears the impress of an almost deadly blow from the hand of her husband; she knows but to one, that the Angel of Death, who has come once before, is lurking from the city, tells the anxious groups in the hall that the pale at most day cast dare break the news to the wretched Mary, such is little needful. She has gazed in their faces with a keen, frenzied earnestness; she has asked no questions, but she knows it all; and her heart is dying within her! No entreaty, no persuasion can draw her from the bedside.

"The old doctor, with tearful eyes, passes his arm round the trembling form, and says, 'My child, you cannot meet the next hour—leave him with me.'

"A mournful shake of the head is her only answer, as she takes her seat again by her husband, and presses her forehead low, upon clammy hand; praying God that she may die with him.

"An hour of pain—an eternity of agony has passed! A blanching, unresisting form is borne from that chamber of Death.

"Beautiful as a piece of rare sculpture, lies the husband—no trace of pain on lip or brow; the long, heavy lashes lie upon the marble cheek; the raven locks, damp with the dew of death, clustier profusely round the noble forehead; those chiselled lips are glorious beautiful in their repose. Tears fall like rain drops kindly eyes; servants pass to and fro, respectfully with measured tread; kind hands are busy with vain attempts to restore animation to the fainting wife. On that bitter, bitter waking! (for she does wake. God pity her.)

"Her hand is passed slowly across her forehead; she remembers! she is a widow! She looks about the room—there is his hat, his coat, his cane; and now, indeed she throws herself, with a burst of passionate grief, into the arms of the old physician, who says, betwixt a tear and a smile, 'Now God be praised—she wakes.'

"And so with the falling leaves of Autumn, 'the Great Reaper' gathered in our noble friend. Why should I dwell on the agony of the gentle wife? or tell of her return to the desolate city; of the disposal of the rare pictures and statuary collected to grace its walls by the refined taste of its proprietor; of the successive disposal of every article of luxury; of her removal to plain lodgings, where curious people speculated upon her history, and marked her unlistened eyes; of the long, interminable wretched days; of the wakeful nights, when she lay with her cheek pressed against the sweet, fatherless child of her love; of her untiring efforts to seek an honourable, independent support? It is but an every-day history, but (God knows) its crushing weight of agony is none the less keenly felt by the sufferer!"

RUSSIAN AND FRENCH SOLDIERS.

A lively writer from Paris draws a parallel between the soldiers of different nations now fighting in the Crimea, and first says of the Russians:—

The valor displayed by the Russians in the night attacks on the Allies has never been surpassed by the soldiers of any nation or people whatever.—The Russian soldier lacks strategy and quickness of movement, and he possesses a courage almost without a parallel, a remarkable amount of bodily and great resistance to the exhausting effects of wounds. It has been a common remark, the day of Sebastopol to the present moment, that the Russian soldiers are the most difficult soldiers in the world to put hors de combat which are to be met in Europe. Many Nay balls go through and do but shoot a Russian soldier; he must be pushed over. Bodily injuries are not the power of endurance to the loss of blood, and to the first impressions of a wound, have been established since the commencement of the campaign in the Crimea, and it is no doubt due to the rude life to which the Russian soldier is subjected, not only as a soldier but as a peasant.

Next he says of the Frenchman:

While eating is no part of a soldier's life in the Russian camp, in the French camp it is quite the contrary. A Frenchman must have his breakfast before he fights, and he will cook and eat it in the midst of bursting shells, rather than miss it; rather than lose the fear of losing his breakfast and before the battle, there is almost an even balance. On the morning of the battle of Inkerman, 3000 Frenchmen were compelled to stand the shock of 40,000 for three hours before starting to the aid of their suffering allies. They fought heroically as they always do, when they did arrive, but in the meantime there had been a fearful slaughter of English, which, if [illegible] might have been spared.—This is one of the features [illegible] do not wish to point, for the good of the alliance, but it is nevertheless true.

STATE OF THE ARMY IN THE CRIMEA.

While Lord John Russell states to the House of Commons that all the official knowledge to which he has access is inadequate to explain to him the melancholy condition of the army before Sebastopol, "in want of food, clothes, and shelter," accounts arrive from many quarters of the serious contrast to our deficiencies presented by our allies the French.

Our men fight side and share the rear soldiery and paradise guest, while the French soldiers are cared, as we learn from a source, that may be relied on, in the following simple and judicious manner:—

"At 6 a. m., the French soldier eats a drink of coffee with biscuit crumbled into it; at 8 a. m., a little soup; at 12 noon, again; at 3 p. m., again; at 7 p. m., coffee again with cognac. In the camp, meat is scarce, and from long practice, it is well dried and prepared for their comfort. These blessings have been provided by their commissariat, which our troops have not. —D. A. NAVAL AND ARMY INTELLIGENCE.

(From the Army and Navy Gazette of 1st March.)

Britannia, 120, Captain T. R. Carter, late flag ship of Vice-Admiral Dundas, C.B., ex-Commander-in-Chief of the Black Sea Fleet, arrived at Portsmouth on Saturday afternoon, the 24th ult., from the Black Sea and the Mediterranean, 59 days from Malta, owing to contrary winds. She brought home about 100 men of the lost Tiger, who, together with their officers, will undergo the form of trial by Court-Martial for their participation in that catastrophe. Her crew, now mustering between 500 and 600 men, are in good health. They have not suffered from any want of provisions on their protracted voyage. Her ship's complement was reduced to the above number from 1,000 men by colonels at Varna, and by sending a large number of Seamen and Marines into the trenches.

Neptune 120, Captain Fredk. Hutton, arrived at Spithead, on the 5th ult., from Malta, which she left on Thursday, Jan. 11, with 260 Military invalids from the Hospitals in the Bosphorus, being sick and wounded Soldiers from the Army before Sebastopol. They are from almost every Regt. at the seat of war. It is quite moving to hear how they speak of Miss Nightingale and the female nurses. All these invalids came home in charge of Captain Gregory of the 14th Foot. The Neptune passed Gibraltar on the 25th, and has been just two months since she left Spithead for Malta. She left all her stores at Malta Dockyard that were not necessary to bring the ship to England. She has proved herself a noble three-decker, and is everyway a truly "first rate" man-of-war—the best the St. George by a week in the run out.

An augmentation of half a Battalion of Royal Engineers and 500 Sappers and Miners is ordered to take place immediately, which will give four companies of 120 Non-Commissioned Officers and men each. The Company at Corfu is also to be made up to 120.

Royal Artillery.—In consequence of its being intended to augment the strength of the Royal Artillery in the Crimea by several Batteries of Field and Horse Artillery, it is in contemplation to increase the Corps of Royal Artillery Drivers, so that every available disciplined man, both of the Horse and Foot Artillery and Rocket Brigade, may do duty as gunners only, whereas a number of efficient Artillery men are taken from the guns for the purpose of driving.

Augmentation of the Army.

The following Infantry Regiments will be raised to a strength of 85 Officers (4 Field Officers, 16 Captains, 40 Subalterns, and 8 Staff,) 140 Non-Commissioned Officers, Drummers, &c., and 2,000 Rank and File, making 2,127 of all ranks, of which it is intended that 1,600 should be always on active service—1st Royal Regiment (1st Battalion), 4th King's Own, 7th Fusiliers, 9th Regt., 13th, 18th Royal Irish, 19th, 30th, 31st Regiment, 34th Regt. Holloway's Pills a certain Remedy for Indigestion and Liver Complaint.—Marie Armstrong of Three Rivers, Canada suffered more than most people from indigestion, accompanied by liver complaint, several very clever medical men told her she was in a consumption, and her friends despaired of her ever recovering, as she tried everything they thought likely to benefit her, without success. At last she tried Holloway's Pills, which quickly assimilated with the blood, removed the obnoxious matter, and thoroughly cleansed and renovated the system. The result is, that she was perfectly cured, and now enjoys the best of health. These Pills are also a certain cure for all diseases of the stomach and bowels.

NEWLY improved "MODEL MELODEONS," Sold at the Cabinet Ware-Rooms of the Messrs. J. & G. LAWRENCE, head of King Street. These Instruments have received the approbation of the best judges for the Duribility and Beauty of the workmanship and excellent Tone.

PRINCETOWN, Dec. 10, 1854.

Messrs. MASON & HAMLIN:

GENTS: I have had the Model Melodeon I purchased at your establishment, early in October, in daily use since it was unpacked, and find it in all respects to more than meet my expectations. Its tone is excellent, and action good; and, what must be considered a desideratum, it seems to be less affected by temperature than any instrument I have seen. Good judges pronounce it the best made. Yours, etc. JOHN L. LORUNOR.

FRIEND OF THE CANADIAN!

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

EXTRAORDINARY CURE FOR ASTHMA!!

OF AN OLD LADY SEVENTY FIVE YEARS OF AGE.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Thomas Weston, (Book Store,) Toronto, dated the 9th October, 1854.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—Gratitude compels me to make known to you the extraordinary benefit an aged parent has derived from the use of your Pills. My mother was afflicted for upwards of four and twenty years with asthma and spitting of blood, it was quite agony to see her suffer and hear her cough; I have often desired that I would give all I possessed to have cured her; but although I paid a large sum for medicine and advice, it was all to no purpose. About three months ago, I thought perhaps your Pills might benefit her, at all events I resolved to give them a trial, which I did; the result was marvellous; my slow degree my mother became better, and after persuading your remedies for nine weeks, she was perfectly cured, and now enjoys the best of health, although seventy five years old.

I remain, Sir, your obliged,
(Signed) THOMAS WESTON.

REMARKABLE CURE OF DROPSY!!

AFTER BEING TAPPED THREE TIMES.

Copy of a Letter from Anthony Smith, Esq. Halifax, Nova Scotia, dated 26th August, 1854.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—I desire to add my testimony to the value of your Pills, in cases of dropsy. For nine months I suffered the greatest torture with this distressing complaint; was tapped three times, and finally given up by the doctors; having become in appearance as a skeleton, and with no more strength in me than a child just born. It was then that I bought of trying your Pills, and immediately sent for a quantity, and commenced using them. The result I can scarcely credit even now, although true it is. After using them for four weeks, I felt much better, and by persevering with them, at the expiration of two months, I was completely cured. I have since enjoyed the best of health.

I am, Sir, yours sincerely,
(Signed) ANTHONY SMITH.

ASTONISHING CURE OF GENERAL DEBILITY AND LIVER COMPLAINT.

Copy of a Letter from James Reeves of Charlottetown, Prince Edwards Island, dated 17th Nov. 1854.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—I am happy to say that your Pills have restored me to health after suffering for nine years from the most intense general debility and languor, my liver and bowels were also much deranged for the whole of that time. I tried many medicines, but they were no good to me, until I had recourse to your Pills, by taking which and following the printed directions for seven weeks I was cured, after every other means failed to the astonishment of my neighbours, acquaintances and friends. I shall ever feel grateful to you for this astonishing restoration to health, and will recommend your Pills to all sufferers, feeling it my duty to do so.

I remain Sir, your humble servant,
(Signed) WILLIAM REEVES.

[FOR THE CHRONICLE]

FALL OF THAT GREAT CITY—BABYLON THE GREAT.

About the time that mystic dreams disclose
Some future event—to some in deep repose—
Methought the time for "recompense" was come,
To rend in wrath, that City's awful doom!
By thunder, lightning, and volcanic fire,
Terrific earthquake, and destruction dire!
When all—ingulph'd in one dread hour of wo—
Shall sink, mid mingled horrors, quick below!
The blood of Saints and holy Martyrs cry
For vengeance, promis'd from the Throne on High!
T' reward the foulest foes of God and man,
Double for all—the man of sin begun.
Then let the fall of Babylon the Great—
Sound dire alarm to ev'ry kindred state!
And when the subjects of Immanuel's care,
To flee from wrath—and stand aloof—for fear!
The present, past and future—all, are still
In strict accordance with the Sov'reign will—
"Shall not the Judge of all this world do right"?
And arm his hosts with more than mortal might!
To hurl to nought the tyrant—impious Czar—
Th' inglorious cause of bloody war!
To hurl true Sion's savage hosts away,—
And duly prepare to ope Millenium—day.
No man of sin shall then—nor impious Czar,
Disturb our Sion's peace with clam'rous war!
Fair smiling Peace shall fill each cottage store—
Nations shall learn the art of war no more.
God has inspir'd and arm'd the Allied arms,
To crush the cause—to cease wild war's alarms.
Then let us join the Great Angelic Host—
"Glory to Father, Son, and Holy Ghost"!

God save and bless our great Illustrious Queen!
Long may she live, for Sion's sake, to reign.

QUAILS AND OYSTERS.—Among the first class restaurants in Albany is the Marble Pillar, located under the Museum, and kept by "Billy Winne," a gentleman whose good nature is only equalled by his tunnage. Among the visitors who enter'd "the Pillar" on Tuesday last was a semi-clerical looking gentleman, who ordered up a broiled quail and a dozen fried oysters. While discussing these delicacies, he touched the bell, and requested the waiter to send the proprietor to him. The waiter complied, and in a few moments afterwards the semi-clerical looking gentleman was in a cozy colloquy with Mr. Winne, about matters and things in general.

"By the way, W., what was the trouble with that young man I saw you in altercation with on Friday evening last?"

"He contracted a bill to the amount of eighteen shillings, and then refused to pay up."

"And what did you do with him?"

"Cuncked him out doors."

"Nothing else?"

"No—going to law don't pay. To have obtained eighteen shilling worth of money by means of litigation, would have consumed ten dollars' worth of time."

"Then all you do is to chuck them out, as you say?"

"That's all."

"Well, that may be a wise plan, but I doubt it. By the way, what kind of wine have you got?"

"As good an article of Heidsick as you can find in this city. Will you have a bottle?"

"On one condition, and that is, that you will join me in its imbibition."

"With pleasure, sir."

The bell was again tinkled—a white jacket appeared in the door-way—the white jacket vanished. In a moment the white jacket reappeared, bringing in a silver top on a juvenile salver. The wine was poured out, duly iced and disposed of. In a few moments after this, Winne "begged to be excused," and left his friend to "finish up the quail." The friend did so, and then reappeared in the bar-room.

"Where can I find a little water to dip my fingers in?"

"In the wash bowl by the looking glass."

The stranger crossed the room, took a wash, brushed up his whiskers, adjusted his white neck-cloth, and once more sought the proprietor.

"Mr. Winne, I have really enjoyed myself. I cannot recollect when I ever relished wine and quail with greater zest."

"Happy to hear you says so, sir."

"As a memto of the little repast, I have one little favour to ask."

"What is it?"

"Chuck me out."

"What?"

"Chuck me out."

"You don't mean to say you have been doing me?"

"I don't mean anything else. I have not the first red cent; and if you want pay for that quail, you must do as I said before, "chuck me out."

Winnie could bear no more. He made a rush to the kitchen to get "the cheese knife." While he was absent, our semi-clerical friend dashed out of the side door, and when last seen was rushing north at the rate of fourteen miles an hour. Should he stop this side of Canada we shall issue an extra.—Dutchman.

GENIUS, TALENT, CLEVERNESS.—Genius rushes like a whirlwind; talent marches like a cavalcade of men and horses; cleverness skims like a swallow in a summer evening, with a sharp shrill note, and sudden turning. The man of genius dwells with men and with nature; the man of talent in his study; but the clever man dances here, there and everywhere, like a butterfly in a hurricane striking everything and enjoying nothing, but too light to be dashed to pieces. The man of talent will attack theories; the clever man assails the individual, and slanders private character. But the man of genius despises both; he lives none, he lives to himself, shrouded in the consciousness of his own strength, he interferes with none, and walks forth an example; "eagles fly alone, they are sheep that herd together." It is true that should a poisonous worm cross his path, he must tread it under his foot; should a cur snarl at him, he may chastise it, but he will not, can not attack the privacy of another. Clever men write verses, men of talent write prose, but men of genius write poetry.—Lectures on Poetry.

THE TALE OF A FATAL SOFA.—"I know a gentleman of fortune, who says, that when he first began to prosper, his wife would have a new and elegant sofa. 'That sofa,' he says, 'cost me thirty thousand dollars!' The riddle is thus explained: When the sofa reached the house, it was found necessary to get chairs to 'match'; then side-boards, carpets and tables, 'to correspond' with them, and so on through the entire stock of furniture, when at last it was found that the house itself was quite too small and old fashioned for the furniture, and a new one was built to correspond with the sofa and et cetera; 'thus,' added my friend, 'running up an outlay of thirty thousand dollars caused by that single sofa, and saddling on me in the shape of servants, equipage, and the necessary expenses attendant upon keeping up a fine 'establishment,' a yearly outlay of eleven thousand dollars, and a tight pinch at that; whereas, ten years ago, we lived with much more real comfort, because with much less care on as many hundreds. The truth is, the continued 'that sofa would have brought me to inevitable bankruptcy, had not a most unexampled tide of prosperity kept me above it.'"

RACIST SO.—There is not a country in the world where the people are becoming so extravagant in the mode of dressing and living as in the United States. It is one of the worst signs of the times. The airs of the mush-room aristocracy are really disgusting. How ludicrous it looks, to see boys sporting diamonds by the thousand dollars' worth, at the time, whose fathers are accustomed to wheel barrows, and whose children are pretty certain to be in the workhouse. And girls—silly simpering things, weighed down with the jewels and bracelets—whose mothers broke their backs at the wash tubs, scouring floors and picking oakum. The real, substantial aristocracy never indulge in such fopperies and foolieries."

Education means allowing you to think as I do, but unless you want me to think as you do, there is gross intoleration.

The Subscriber having been appointed Agent to the above Company for New-Brunswick, begs to announce that he is prepared to receive Proposals for FIRE AND LIFE ASSURANCE. The large Capital of the Company, and the number and influence of its Proprietors, enable it to rank with the most eligible Offices, either in America or Europe, with respect to the advantages offered to the Public.

FIRE BRANCH.

Persons assured by this Company are not subject to any covenants or calls to make good losses which may happen to themselves or other, nor do they depend upon an uncertain fund or contribution, the Capital Stock of this Company being an unquestionable security to the Assured in case of Loss or Damage by Fire.

LIFE BRANCH.

In addition to the more customary methods of Insurance, the Company likewise Assures Live on any of the following contingencies:—

For the term of One Year, Seven Years, or any other definite period.

For the whole continuance of Life.—The Premiums to cease, after a limited number of Annual Payments.

For Two Joint Lives.—The sum assured to be paid on the death of either.

On the longest of Two or Three Lives.—The sum assured to be payable at the death of the last survivor; or,

The Survivorships.—To secure the payment of the sum assured, if a life A die before another life B.

For a sum to be payable at age 60, or at death.

Premiums on Credit.—A portion of the Premiums may remain on Credit. Assurances may be effected in various ways, not enumerated, to meet the convenience of parties.

The important advantages afforded by the Company in the Life Branch will include the following viz:—

The Guarantee of an ample Capital, and Exemption of the Assured from liability of Partnership.

Moderate Premiums.

Large Participation of Profits by the Assured amounting to Two-thirds of its net amount, which may be applied at the option of the party effecting the Assurance [illegible] immediate payment of the sum so appropriated. By an equivalent reduction of the Premiums.—Or, 3rd. By an equivalent increase of the sum assured.

Small Charge for Management.—The expenses of the Office being borne in due proportion by the two Branches.

Prompt Settlement of Claims.

Policies lapsed by non-payment of the Premium may be renewed within three months, by paying the Premium, with a fine of 10s. per cent., on the production of evidence to the satisfaction of the Directors of the good state of health of the life assured.

The Company will always be prepared to Purchase the Policies of this Office at their equitable value or will grant a New Policy in lieu thereof without any further payment of Premium, for a sum to be agreed on.

Extra Premiums, suitable to special circumstances, will be accepted to enable a party possessing a Policy on the life of another to guard against the possibility of its being vitiated by the life departing beyond limits, or by any other cause.

Thirty Days are allowed for the Payment of Premiums after the day on which they respectively fall due.

Additional Advantages offered to Lives Assured with this Company at St. John, N. B.

I.—RESIDENCE.—Persons assured for the whole term of life will have permission, without the payment of extra Premium, to reside in any part of Europe, or in any place in North America to the north of 38 degrees of North Latitude, but not to the westward of the Mississippi River.

II.—VOYAGES.—They will also, if not sea-faring by profession, be allowed, without any extra charge—

To cross and re-cross the Atlantic Ocean, in steamers or first-class sailing-vessels;

To pass from any part of Europe to any other, or from any part of North America to another, within the limits above specified; also,

To pass to and from, but not to reside in any place which shall not be further south than 35 degrees of North Latitude, but not to the westward of Mississippi River.

THE INFALLIBLE REMEDY!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

ERYSIPELAS OF EIGHT YEARS DURATION CURED!

Copy of a Letter from George Sinclair, Esquire, of Paris, Canada, dated the 18th of July, 1854.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—I feel a pleasure and pride in bearing witness to the wonderful benefit I have derived by the use of your inestimable Ointment and Pills. For eight years I suffered unceasingly from attacks of erysipelas; large purple blotches came all over my body; in addition to the unpleasant feeling of itching and burning, which effected me both night and day, rendering life misery to me, as well as to all around,—of severe was the attack. I tried several reputed remedies without deriving the least cessation to my misery. At last, I determined to try your Ointment and Pills; after taking them for a few weeks, a visible improvement took place, and I feel considerably better;—in three months, by continuing with your medicines, I was completely cured, and now enjoy the best of health. The truth of this statement is well known here, hence there is no necessity for me to request secrecy. I am, Sir, yours respectfully,

(Signed) GEO. SINCLAIR.

ULCERS IN THE LEG.—REMARKABLE CURE!

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Edward Tomkinson, of Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, dated the 4th May, 1854.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—My sister, Miss Jane Tomkinson, suffered for a great number of years from a bad leg; in which there were several deeply seated and old wounds, defying the skill of some of the most eminent of the faculty, a variety of remedies were also used unsuccessfully; and it seemed to me that there was at not any thing capable of mitigating the agonies she endured. As length she had recourse to your Ointment and Pills, and after using them for about five weeks, she was completely cured, after all other means had failed to afford her the slightest relief. I have no objection to these facts being published, if you feel disposed to make them known.

I remain, Sir, your most obedient servant,

(Signed) EDWD. TOMKINSON.

A BAD BREAST CURED WHEN DEATH'S DOOR!!

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Henry Malden, of Three Rivers, Canada West, dated July 9th, 1854.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—My wife suffered most severely after the birth of our last child with a bad breast. There were several holes in it, one as large as a hand; all the devices and stratagems I tried would not heal them, but assumed an aspect more frightful than before, and horrible to behold. As a last resource I tried your Ointment and Pills, which she persevered with for seven weeks, at the expiration of that time her breast was almost well; by continuing with your remedies two more weeks she was entirely cured, and we offer you our united thanks for the cure effected.

I remain, Sir, yours truly,

(Signed) HENRY MALDEN.

The Pills should be used conjointly with the Ointment in most of the following cases:

JAMES BURTON,

Tailor and Draper,

BEGS to inform his friends and customers that he has removed his business to the premises in Germain Street, recently occupied by Dr. Millar, where he has opened an assortment of the best West of England CLOTHS, Doeskins and Single Mill'd Cassimeres, Oxford Mixed CLOTHS Scotch TWEEDS, WAISTCOATINGS, and other materials in his line of business, all of the finest quality, and newest style, which he will be happy to make up in a substantial English manner, after the newest fashion, and on reasonable terms.

In returning thanks to his numerous friends and customers for the liberal encouragement received since his commencement in business, he begs to assure them that no exertions on his part shall be spared to merit a continuance of their favors.

To the Officers of H. M. Army.

J. B. would beg to state that having been for years employed in the Cutting Department of HANTT'S Military Tailors, 26 Pall Mall, he is prepared to execute in a superior style all orders with which he may be entrusted.

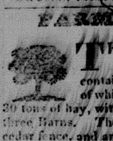
FARM FOR SALE.



THE Subscriber's FARM of Canning, Queen's County, containing 400 acres of good Land, 70 of which are cleared, and cuts annually 20 tons of hay, with a good Dwelling House and three Barns. The improved land is under good cedar fence, and an excellent pasturage. There is on the Farm a large quantity of white and grey Oak Timber, and shows good chance for cordwood; there is also an excellent privilege for fishing, and in what is called the Key Hole, there is a good situation for a steam Saw-Mill or Ship-Yard. There is a Church, Meeting House, School House, and Steam Flour Mill, all within half a mile, and a good road passing through the Farm. The Property is so situated that it would make two farms. It will be disposed of on liberal terms. For further particulars apply to the subscriber on the premises.

—We assert with Confidence that—

J. RUSSELL SPALDING'S

ROSE MARY

AND CASTOR OIL

IS decidedly the nicest and best toilet article in the world for the Hair. The ablest chemists who have examined it testify that as an agent for preserving the Hair and promoting its growth it surpasses any other article.

After a long series of experiments, Mr. SPALDING succeeded, by an intricate process, in freeing the Castor Oil used in this preparation from its peculiar odor and all greasiness, and inblending it with the ROSEMARY, &c., in such manner as to form the cheapest and best OIL OR WASH Ever made, for which all who desire to preserve a good head of Hair until late in life, will be grateful.

The Sale of the Article has been Immense!

And its Success Astonishing—Use it if you wish.

1st. To beautify the hair.
2d. To cool the hair elegantly.
3d. To remove dandruff effectually.
4th. To restore the hair to bald heads.
5th. To give the whiskers a beautiful appearance.
6th. To prevent the hair from falling off.
7th. To cure all diseases of the scalp.
8th. To dress false hair nicely.
9th. To cure the headache.
10th. To kill hair eaters.
11th. To keep the hair from turning.
12th. To dress children's hair beautifully, and lay the foundation for a good head of hair.
13th. If you do not wish to grease and soil the bonnet, cap, hat, pillow, and everything coming in contact with the hair, use SPALDING'S ROSEMARY, and be sure to get the Genuine of the manufacturer and proprietor.

J. RUSSELL SPALDING,
Chemist and Apothecary.
