"Emperor" Ferdinand is expected to arrive here shortly.

Doesn't Want War.

London, Oct. 6.—The Bulgarian charge d'affaires, M. De Breff, today officially informed Great Britain of Bulgaria's declaration of independence. The Bulgarian Government instructed its representative to say also that in proclaiming her independence Bulgaria had no desire for war, and that her aims were eminently peaceful.

All the Bulgarian diplomatic representatives abroad are taking similar action.

Paris, Oct. 5.—France has essayed the role of mediator with the object of preventing war between Turkey and Bulgaria, and as a result of Foreign Minister Pichon's series of conferences today with the representatives of the powers, including M. Iswolsky, the Russian foreign minister; Naoum Pasha, the Turkish ambassador to France, the Austro-Hungarian, the British, the American and the Italian ambassadors, and of active exchanges which have been going on between the various cabinets, it was announced tonight that France, Great Britain, Russia and possibly Italy, were prepared to act in unison to preserve peace and to call a conference of the signatories of the Berlin treaty to deal diplomatically with the situation that has arisen between Turkey and Bulgaria and to harmonize conflicting interests so that fresh complications may be avoided.

Already certain tentative propositions as a basis for such conference have been forwarded to Constantinople and if the Porte's assent can be secured it is regarded as certain that peace will be maintained. The nature of these propositions has not been disclosed, but it is understood that they involve the recognition of Bulgaria's independence as a "fait accompli."

WON'T LOSE PENSION

Montreal are concerned, the company will easily be able to do this, and at the same time keep on the strike-breakers brought over from England, as there will be a very much larger amount of work to be done than was handled at the time the strike was declared.

Men Greatly Disappointed.

While the strikers that gathered about the union headquarters here was not in possession of all the details of the agreement that had been reached, it was easily seen that they were greatly put out that the union officials had not secured greater concessions from the company.

It can be said that the terms of the settlement were a surprise, even to Mr. James Somerville, the leader here, who also represented the men on the board of arbitration.

Claim To Have Open Shop.

While it is not specified in as many words, the C. P. R. officials now claim that they have open shops right along the lines.

The statement that the men go back to work maintaining their seniority and rights to pension, was made by a member of the local committee. In local circles it is felt right along that in the end the company would agree to this. The main endeavor of the company is to secure an open shop.

Terms of the Settlement.

By the terms of the settlement the men agree to accept the finding of the majority of the arbitration committee. This is what they refused to accept before. The C. P. R., on their part, agree to take back the men as they find room for them on their staffs. They also agree that there shall be no discrimination against the men who went out.

The board recommended that there be no change in the rate of pay, and as there would be but a small percentage of the men affected by the sliding scale asked for by the company, the board could not see the utility of such an arrangement.

On the eastern lines a nine-hour day was asked for, but on a promise that the company would grant the shorter day as soon as other companies would agree, the board would not recommend any change.

On the question of schedule committees the board recommend that there be one committee for the whole system. The carmen were to be included on this committee.

With regard to committee representation in shops, the men were to be paid for time lost while a claim was under investigation, if it was shown that a grievance existed, otherwise not.

Specialists were allowed on certain classes of work, such as drill press.

The contention of the company with regard to boilermakers was allowed, giving an extra class with a schedule of 40 cents an hour.

There was to be no change in the proportion of apprentices except in the machine shop, where a percentage of four to one was recommended.

On the question of the make-up of a wrecking crew the clause regarding machinists on the crew was struck out, and the request of the company for overlapping hours was recommended. As to helpers, the contention of the men that helpers be not allowed to use tools was upheld.

In the case of a necessity for a reduction of expenses in the shop the old rule still held whereby the working hours were shortened instead of a general staff reduction being made.
