THE FACTS VS. RECIPROCITY

goods are bought. That is only half the truth. It is a place where goods are bought and sold, and unless a territory can sell things it cannot buy them.

"The commercial and financial operations of the modern world are essentially mutual. If a nation is to find a market, that market must be a trading and producing people which means that the market must be a competitor in some sense. If a nation is to have sound credit it must not disturb the credit of other nations. If it is to exact its own half of the economic contract it must fulfil its own half. If it is to have a field for its investments, it must not place the territories in which it hopes to find that investment at any financial or economic disadvantage. These propositions are not new. They have always represented the ideal conditions of human society. But they were never practically operative while distance and difficulties of communication and ideas shut off one people from another. But the conditions today differ from the conditions even as we knew them thirty years ago by this fact, that the telegraph has made us financially one, and that what was originally merely a moral fact—that we are all members one of another—has become a very patent and intrusive financial fact, demonstrated to the densest of us by the simple figures of the bank rate.

"My claim is not that these facts are new, so much as that they have reached a condition of weight in the practical daily affairs of our life which can no longer be ignored in our practical politics. When they are realized, a dynamic revolution to the advantage of all concerned becomes inevitable. The more quickly therefore they are realized the better for us all."

Sir Edward Grey, secretary of state for foreign affairs, and Lord Esher, permanent member of the committee of imperial defence, have publicly referred to the effect produced in many countries by the theories expressed in this article, as well as to the significance of a pamphlet entitled The Great Illusion, by the same author, Norman Angell. Even a weak woman, a nonentity in the eyes of the law, without the privilege of the suffrage, may yet help some of the men who have that power in their hands to see that "the dog in the manger" policy is destructive to progress and to success in the fullest sense of the words. It seems very much like throwing dust in one's eyes to introduce extraneous questions such as annexation at this critical moment. We have lived side by side with our neighbor to the south of us most peaceably for a century, and may continue to do so for twice as long without merging our nationality in his, while profiting by a more friendly interchange of commodities, and shall we say, of civilities.

The meeting opened this morning with 91 riflemen registered, a falling off from the attendance of last year. The weather was fine and bright but conditions could hardly have been worse for good shooting. The wind was unsteady and varied from 3 to 9 miles, the elevation was also changeable and some good men fell off badly in scores on the first range of the provincial, which started after the Nursery. The latter match resulted in a tie between G. W. Hazen, St. John, and John White, Campbellton, who will shoot off for the watch offered for the competition. Score:

The Maiden team match was won by Campbellton with 83 points, Moncton R. A., second, 82 points.

Sussex, N. B., Aug. 16—(Special)—Only one match, the McLean, was shot off today at 800 yards, ten shots. The weather was as bad as could be and after the first pair had shot it was hard to keep on the target with the rain pouring down and the wind shifting. There was a tie for the cup between Captain Golding, who took first money, and Major Perley. They were the first pair up and kept right together. David Freeze had hard luck. He started with a bull, got an inner for second, then seven bulls and missed his last shot. The scores were:

ADVERTISING ADAM.

(Chicago News.)

Members of congress write the sketches of their lives that appear in the Congressional Directory, though not many outside of Washington know that.

In the present directory, Representative Adam Littlepage, of West Virginia, has an autobiography that lays over anything ever printed in that book.

They were talking about this in Charleston.

"Adam laid it on pretty thick," said one man. "He shouldn't have done that."

"Why not?" asked another. "He knew what he was doing. Why, you can't beat him for governor next time! He's already sent out two thousand copies of that book to show the folks back home what the government thinks of him."

ROUSING LIBERAL MEETING AT BATH, CARLETON COUNTY

F. B. Carvell and George W. Upham Cheered by Big Crowd

Many Conservatives Have Bolted Their Party on the Question of Reciprocity, and Carvell Will Have Enormous Majority.

Bath, Carleton county, Aug. 12.—A very enthusiastic Liberal meeting was held here tonight. The large Secord hall was completely packed and many could not gain admittance.

C. E. Gallagher, ex-Carleton county warden, occupied the chair and on the platform were seated Councillor John E. Kinney, of Kent parish; H. F. Paisley, editor of the Carleton Sentinel; Michael Crain and others, also the speakers of the evening, F. B. Carvell, K. C., and George W. Upham, M. P. P.

The first speaker was Councillor John E. Kinney, who contrasted in a ringing speech which was heartily cheered, the prices of farm products in Maine with those usually paid in New Brunswick, and also pointed out the great advantage that will be gained for the lumbermen and the men who hire with them, and that better wages could be paid for labor and the young men would find employment at home instead of in Maine, as has often been the case here for many years past.

The next speaker was George W. Upham, M. P. P. He said this was the first political meeting he had attended in Bath since his election in 1908. He was warmly welcomed and cheered by the great crowd. He said the statement made by O. S. Crocket when here in Bath a few days ago in this hall that lambs usually brought higher prices here than in the United States, was utterly untrue. He urged the farmers to consider this great question which most certainly would increase the prosperity of the country.

F. B. Carvell was cheered to the echo until the rafters and arches of the hall seemed to tremble, such was the enthusiasm of the immense crowd.

Mr. Carvell reasoned the question of reciprocity as a business proposition and showed that it could not affect lumber, as that was free now to come into Canada.

He contrasted the statements made by Mr. Cowan, of Vancouver, when recently touring the province, that our lumber market here would be glutted when he, Mr. Cowan(a lawyer) must know that lumber had come into Canada for the last twenty years free of duty.

Mr. Carvell took up the question of live stock and showed that not one lamb was shipped to England last year and only about twenty sheep and that the farmers of New Brunswick paid $2,500 duties last year on exports to the United States on lambs and sheep alone.

He showed the eager listening audience how utterly untrue and absurd were many of the arguments advanced by Conservatives, that the Yankees would come over here and take our farms and deplete our forests which could not be done without the consent of the owners.

If indications point to anything they foreshadow that Mr. Carvell will receive an overwhelming majority here in this parish. Many Conservatives are joining in support of the trade agreement.

I. O. G. T. GRAND LODGE IN SESSION

Plaster Rock, N. B., Aug. 15—(Special)—Grand Lodge I. O. G. T. opened this evening. The officers and delegates attending are: J. C. Jackson, William Scott, Archie Morrell, Mrs. Florence Crossman, Moncton; E. N. Stockford, St. John; John D. Scammell, A. C. M. Lawson, A. L. Carten, Fredericton; L. R. Hetherington, Mrs. Hetherington, Henry H. Stuart, Newcastle; J. B. Stevenson, Arthurette; H. C. Ricker, Millville; Miss Effie Hanley, Penniac; C. M. Colwell, Jemseg; Rev. Mr. Gould, Dover; Miss Mary Beattie, Beachwood; F. W. Belyea, Cambridge; P. Chase, Cambridge; Michael Kelly, Jerusalem; Mrs. Vanderbeck, Riley Brook; Mrs. Geo. Ridgewell, Plaster Rock; Mrs. Flanders, Mapleview, and others.

Grand Chief Templar Jackson's report pointed out that the loss of membership began three years ago when the number of organizers in the field was reduced. Hitherto there had been good gains. This year with organizers employed only a few months there was another loss. He advocated keeping prominent organizers employed. There had been no appeals to settle during the year. He had reorganized Albert District Lodge, Coronation Lodge at Charterville.

He complained that several lodges had died because of the executive not being kept informed by the local deputies. Temperance legislation was at a standstill in New Brunswick. The Temperance Federation had evidently fallen asleep. Kent and Northumberland Sons of Temperance were laying recommendations before the grand lodge which he approved. New Brunswick should help in the prohibition fight in Maine.

Grand Secretary Hetherington's seventh annual report showed a falling off of the total active membership from 3,039 to 2,715. Thirteen lodges were over four quarters in arrears. Seven members had died during the year, one was expelled, 330 suspended, 250 withdrawn by card, 40 resigned, 291 lost by forfeiting charters. On the other hand, 323 were initiated, 17 received on card and 30 reinstated.

Mrs. Jackson reported that juvenile work showed a decrease of temples of from ten to nine and of members from 603 to 542. She was compelled to retire because of ill health.

Grand Superintendent Kelly recommended that in view of the nearness of the general elections we pledge ourselves, regardless of political party affiliations, to support all candidates who pledge themselves either publicly or in writing in a manner satisfactory to us to support prohibition, and that where no candidate gives such assurances, we nominate independent prohibition candidates; second, that all clergymen be made honorary members of lodges; third, that every member become a missionary for the order.

The templar committee reported having handed over the subscription list to the national templar. The propagation committee reported less work done this year than usual. More organization work was needed.

Thursday, Aug. 17

Very interesting sessions of the United Baptist Women's Missionary Union were held yesterday in Germain street Baptist church. Speakers prominent in missionary work gave talks on the way in which the Gospel is being carried to heathen lands. Among those who gave addresses were Mrs. J. Firstbrook of Toronto, Mrs. Freeman, a returned missionary from India, and Miss S. E. Hall, a teacher in the Grand Ligne school of Quebec.

At last evening's meeting, after the opening ceremonies, Miss Hall gave a talk on the work being done among the French people in the outlying districts of Quebec. The Baptists have teachers and missionaries in different parts of the province and Miss Hall explained very fully how this work is carried on. She said that the people who are trying to introduce the reading of the Bible to the French Roman Catholics have a difficult task. The work was opposed in many ways. She cited one case of a man being arrested for selling copies of the Bible. It was often stated that the Bible was obscene literature.

Mrs. J. Firstbrook told of her experience while on a visit to the missionaries in India. She gave a very interesting sketch of different places and customs of India. One of her first impressions of Ceylon was of the various kinds of head wear in use by the men there.

Mrs. Freeman spoke of the customs and superstitions of the people of India. The caste system, she explained, is keeping back the development of India.

The afternoon session was opened with a prayer and praise service led by Mrs. F. Wentworth.

An address of welcome was read by Mrs. David McLellan.

The president, Mrs. D. Hutchinson, gave an address. Mrs. Hutchinson, in her remarks, deplored the lack of knowledge among the masses in Christian communities, as to their needs for carrying on missionary work in unchristian lands. The churches today had a greater obligation in regard to this work than ever before and earnest prayer was just as necessary as money and work.

There were signs of enlightenment in practically all the so-called heathen nations.

Greetings were read from several outside societies.

Reports from provincial secretaries were given. The report of Nova Scotia was read by the provincial secretary, Mrs. A. E. McLeod. Nova Scotia had 184 societies with a membership of 3,873. During the year $6,100.81 was raised for foreign missions and $2,749.41 for the home field. Ten new societies have been formed and six reorganized. Ninety-eight life memberships have been added and the work in Nova Scotia is in a very flourishing condition.

A brief report of the work in Prince Edward Island was read by Miss A. A. Wadman. There are 26 societies with a membership of 468. This year $1,057 was given to missions. Increases have been made in al branches of work.

Miss Rebecca Bennett gave the report of the New Brunswick societies. Nine new societies have been formed and 35 life members added during the year; $4,594.27 was raised for foreign and $1,275.78 for home missions. New Brunswick now has 160 societies with a total membership of 3,134.

A meeting of the executive was held at the end of the afternoon session.

The presentation of reports occupied the attention of the meeting. Mrs. S. C. Freeman, who was expected to have given an address on missions in India, through her familarity with the work in Pazialemedi, did not arrive today, but will probably be here this afternoon. The reports of some of the officers were presented this morning, and committees appointed.

Mrs. J. W. Manning offered the opening prayer and Mrs. A. J. Archibald conducted intercessional service.

The nominating committee selected was composed of: Mrs. A. C. Smith, west side; Mrs. J. H. MacDonald, Fredericton; Mrs. A. C. Martell, Wolfville, N. S., Mrs. A. S. Lewis, Yarmouth and Mrs. Z. L. Fash, Charlottetown. Mrs. Rebecca Bennett, of Hopewell Cape, and Miss Marion J. Hopkins, of Yarmouth were appointed a resolution committee.

In her report as recording secretary, Miss C. R. Fullerton gave a detailed account of the work of the last year and told of the encouraging success which has greeted the efforts of the workers for the union, causing new branches to be organized and the membership to be greatly increased. A very successful year had been experienced.

Mrs. M. S. Cox, corresponding secretary submitted her report dealing with the work of the union in different fields, particularly in the missionary campaigns successfully conducted in foreign lands. She spoke of what had been done by the Baptist missionaries in India during the last year and told of wonderful growth in the number of converts made among the natives of India who were accepting Christ and confessing themselves to God in a manner which spoke well for the missionaries laboring amongst them.

The report of the executive was submitted by Miss Fullerton, recording secretary. Miss E. Gillespie presented her report as treasurer of the mission band committee, and it showed a total of $4,521.20 collected during the year. Of this amount $2,288.63 was subscribed by New Brunswick mission bands, $2,068.93 by Nova Scotia bands, and $163.64 by P. E. Island workers.

Mrs. Mary Smith as treasurer reported a balance of $3,198.76 on hand with a total disbursement of $25,960.33. Of this disbursement the largest amount was $15,000 for the work of foreign missions. The Nova Scotia and P. E. Island missions received $1,750, the Grande Ligne mission $1,200 and the western missions $2,250.
