THE MARKETS

Local Market.

London, Tuesday, Jan. 23.

The market was very poorly attended this morning. The only noticeable change was in butter, the price of which was slightly easier, caused doubtless by the mild weather. It is believed that the price will advance as soon as cold weather sets in.

LATE SPORTING

London Hockey Players Tackle Seaforths Tonight.

Bantam Boxers at the Grand Opera House Next Tuesday.

HOCKEY.

SEAFORTH HERE TONIGHT.

The management of the London hockey team received a cablegram late yesterday afternoon announcing that the game between the crack Seaforth aggregation and the Londons would have to be played here tonight, as there was not sufficient ice at Seaforth. The ice at the Princess is in good shape and a fast and hard-fought game can be looked for. The Seaforths have the reputation of being the hardest team that London will have to run up against. The winners of tonight's game will go in the semi-finals, with only two clubs between them and the championship cup. The visitors have defeated Listowel and Harriston, placing themselves in the third round with London. The London boys had a final practice at the Jubilee Rink last night and every member showed up in good form. The Seaforth team will arrive in the city at 5:40, via the G. T. R.

Skating was advertised at the Princess last night, but owing to the receipt of the telegram announcing the game here, the ice was reserved.

FISTIC

ANOTHER GOOD BILL.

The third boxing event of the season under the direction of the London Athletic club, will be given in the Grand Opera House, Jan. 30, when Denny Gallagher, of Cleveland, champion bantam-weight of the United States, and Andy Ward, of Sarnia, who holds the same title for Canada, will meet in a 20-round "go." Arrangements for the contest have been completed, and there is every indication that it will be one of the finest exhibitions ever given in Western Ontario. Both are fast and willing workers. The men met in a six-round contest in Toronto, and Ward got the decision, and Gallagher is eager to turn the tables. The longer contest will give opportunity for them to show their power and shiftiness to better advantage. Gallagher will arrive in London Jan. 27 and complete his training here. Besides the big feature, there will be a ten-round go between Pat Kilty and Jimmy Alcott, of Toronto, both of whom are very fast and clever. They met once before, and the contest ended in a draw, a result not very satisfactory to either. Tommy Barber, who made such a good impression with the public on both of the occasions that he has appeared under the London Athletic Club's management will again be on the programme. His contestant will be George Cooper, the south-paw twirler of the London baseball club, who has also a good record as a sparrer.

Amusements.

"A WONDERFUL WOMAN."

Fanny Rice appeared in the new farce-comedy "A Wonderful Woman," at the Grand Opera House last night, before a large and appreciative audience. In her latest success the charming and vivacious comedienne is seen to admirable advantage. The play bubbles with humorous situations, in which due prominence is given the fascinating favorite, whose performance was greeted with continuous ripples of laughter and enthusiastic applause. There was not a dull moment throughout the three acts of the play, nor in the delightful one-act comedietta, "A Double Lesson," which was put on as a curtain-raiser. Of the strong company supporting Miss Rice special praise is due Miss Elenore Brodhay.

"A TRIP TO COONTOWN."

Abundantly rich in dressing and scenery is "A Trip to Coontown" (matinee and night, tomorrow), a confusing plethora of bright lights, dazzling surroundings and costly costumes, an insignificant share of bright lines; no plot, but a good assortment of clever people, comedians, singers, dancers, etc. Whatever else you miss, do not miss seeing Cole and Johnson. Sam Lucas is there, and Lloyd Gibbs, Walter Dixon, Sam Cousins and Sam King; Miss Edna Alexander (soprano), Molly Dill, Alice Mackay Accoce, the Freeman sisters and a lot of able associates, with a chorus of 25 trained voices.

"TRIPLE ALLIANCE."

On Friday and Saturday next, with popular Saturday matinee, the Grand Opera House has for its attraction an organization which appeared in this city during the early part of the season. It is known as the "World's Greatest Magicians," and introduces Servais LeRoy, Imro Fox and Fred E. Powell, who will be accompanied by several entertainers of the highest order. This is the only combine that has ever been made in the magic line, and it certainly should attract more than ordinary attention. A company of high-class entertainers add an enjoyable feature to the programme. Among them are Lelliott, Bush and Lelliott; Zazelle and Vernon, comedy bar performers; Charles Mariner, shadowgraphs, and Dora Devere, the phenomenal female baritone singer.

Notice of application for incorporation of the Ingersoll Radial Electric Company with power to construct a line from Ingersoll to Woodstock, and another from Mount Elgin to Verschoyle, has been given.

The Montrose, which is engaged to carry the third contingent to the Cape, is now on her way to Halifax.
