DYSPEPSIA CURED BY B.B.B.

MR. GEO. READ.

Read the Proof.

DEAR SIRS,—I write you to say that for some time I had been suffering from acute indigestion or dyspepsia, and of course felt very great inconvenience from same in my general business. I thereupon decided to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after taking two bottles I found I was quite another man, for B. B. B. entirely cured me. I have also used it for my wife and family and have found it the best thing they can take, and from past experience I have every pleasure in strongly recommending B.B.B. to all my friends.
I write you because I think that it should be generally known what B. B. B. can accomplish in cases of indigestion.
Yours faithfully,

"IT SAVED ME DOLLARS."

Forcible Words from an Honest Man—Interesting Experience of a Millstream Blacksmith—A Happy, Well Man.

"If you are the boss I'd like to talk with you!" These were the words of Mr. E. I. Ellison, who called at our office yesterday, without invitation of anyone, prompted only by a thankful heart.

He addressed the manager of the Groder Co., with above words. Finding he was right he continued: "I consulted a physician for CHRONIC Diarrhœa, from which I suffered all summer. Somehow he did not help me. Just then I saw a testimonial from a man I knew, who had been cured by your remedy. We got a bottle Thought it was no good—only syrup. Well, sir, the first half bottle helped me. I kept on taking it. The medicine kept on curing. Now I'm all right: can eat, sleep, work, and enjoy life. Groder's saved me a large doctor's bill; and I know others that it has cured. I took less than three bottles, and my case was a very bad one."

Such words come from the heart. Such a writing does good to other sufferers.

Poetry.

Where the Old Trout Hide.

The rosy lips of morning kiss the blushing cheek of spring,
The first bluebird of summer is already on the wing,
The pussy willow heads are nodding in the gentle breeze,
The buds are swelled to bursting on the sap-
py maple trees,
The wine of life is mingled with every breath you take—
All nature is responding to the summon to awake
And the resurrection lifts you like a mighty rolling tide,
As you early seek the deep pool where
The Old
Trout
Hide!

How unwillingly you left them when last year's season closed:
How you labored for that big one, who only calmly dozed
In the shadow of the rock there, while he winked the other eye,
"Do you take me for a baby, to be tickled with a fly?
How dignified and lazy as he came forth from his lair,
And smell your scarlet-ibis and your royalcoachman there!
How every speckle glinted like a ruby in his side,
And you almost got to swearin where
The Old
Trout
Hide!

There never was a fisherman, so I've heard
the old folks say,
Who caught the biggest fish. Always sure to get away.
And it's just as true in trouting as it is in other things,
That blessings seem the brightest when they spread their golden wings
And soar where you can't touch them; but only stand and wish
That you had them in your basket with the other little fish.
If wishes were but fishes, how your heart
would swell with pride,
As you landed that three-pounder where
The Old
Trout
Hide!

Yet after all the sportman, though he doesn't catch the fish,
Catches all the life and sunshine that a happy heart can wish;
Old Mother Nature takes him and smoothes
life's wrinkles out,
So get your rod and basket, for the morning's made for trout;
You'll go back to your labor, to your dry and musty books,
In your soul a little laughter, of the laughter of the brooks.
In your heart a little singing, like the singing of a bride;
And you got your inspiration where
The Old
Trout
Hide!

The Traveler's Wife.

They were all commercial travelers, enjoying their cigars on the verands of Kansas hotel, shrewd, intelligent knights of the grip and sample case, fragments of that vast army of untiring business heralds, whose ceaseless labors keep the healthy blood forever coursing through the great arteries of trade. It was Sunday, and the genial travelers were whiling away the hours in that favorite diversion of the drummer—story-telling.

"Yes, I got my wife in this State," said Frank Carpenter, a valued representative of a great jewelry house in America's greatest metropolis. "It was out in the western portion of the State where the larger cattle ranches are situated, that I first met a woman who now honors me by bearing my name, and if you care to hear a bit of romance I'll tell you how it all came about.

"Business called me to bustling town on the Union Pacific road at a time when the county fair was in progress there. These cattle range faire draw great crowds, you know, for the leading attractions are arenic contests of the most exciting and dangerous character, such as riding wild bronchos, roping wild steers, etc. On this occasion, however, public opinion seemed to be centred on a bicycle race in which a burly cowboy and a wealthy cattle-owner's 18-year old daughter were the contestants. A handsome prize was offered by the managers of fair, but it sunk almost out of sight when compared with the large sums of money staked upon the race by outside parties.

"During the forenoon the cowboy was pointed out to me on the street—a great swaggering fellow, wearing the inevitable white sombrero and displaying a huge pistol in a belt strapped about his waist. He was talking of the race to a group of his rough companions on the sidewalk in front of the hotel, and before I heard him utter a dozen words I had sized him up as a bully and a braggart, and cherished a hope that the girl, rough though she might prove to be, would do him up in the coming contest.

"The grand stand was literally packed with excited humanity and the ground around the half mile circular track was crowded to witness the afternoon sports. I was unable to secure a seat on the grand stand, and after much pushing and squeezing, succeeded in gaining a position against the railing that enclosed the track, but a few yards from the judges' stand. I felt considerably nettled, I don't know why, when I discovered from the conversation of those about me that the cowboy was the favorite in betting circles.

"The gong sounded, and the contestants came upon the track. I tell you, fellows, I experienced a delightful surprise when, instead of the coarse, sun-burned girl whom my fancy had pictured, I beheld the prettiest little Western flower my eyes had ever rested upon. Her face was of a gentle, half timid cast, her eyes a glorious lustre brown, and the luxurious growth of almost golden hair, which fell in loose waves over her shoulders, was a fitting crown for such a lovely little prairie queen. As she rode her glittering nickled wheel slowly about during the arrangement of the preliminaries to the race I thought I had never seen a young woman whose every movement was nearer the very essence of the poetry of motion and peerless grace. I noticed that she seemed nervous, somewhat rattled, you know, and as she rode slowly by the spot where I stood I could not suppress the words of encouragement that sprung to my lips:

"'Do not be frightened,' I said. You will defeat him—I know you will."

"'Thank you,' she replied, with a smile that caused my young heart to throb with pleasure. 'I hope I may I will do my best."

"They were called to the scratch to receive their instructions from the judges. The distance to be ridden was one mile, running start, and in a moment they were off.

"That great crowd leaned forward with breathless interest as they sped away, their wheels closely abreast, and that interest deepened as they completed the first round and passed the stand to enter upon the second half mile without either having gained any perceptible advantage. As the quarter pole was passed it was noticed that the cowboy drew a trifle ahead, and the shouts of his backers and rough companions were of the most encouraging nature. I was too far distant to be able to see the young girl's face, but I instinctively felt that it must wear a look of pain and mortification and that her heart must have throbbed painfully over what seemed certain defeat. Under the wire they flew, and cheers were deafening as the cowboy passed the line fully fifteen feet in advance of his fair competitor. Had I possessed sufficient muscular power I felt that I would have experienced sincere pleasure in springing over the railing and administering a good thrashing to the burly braggart when I heard him mockingly say to her as they came to a stop and dismounted:

"'Go home and wash your mammy's dishes. You can't ride a little bit.'

"My blood was fired at the taunting remark, and I hotly exclaimed:

"'She is a far better rider than you, and nothing but your brute strength defeated her. I believe she could beat you if given another trial.'

"The flood of thanks the girl's eyes poured in upon me warmed my heart to the core. The bully looked at me disdainfully a moment and sneeringly said:

"'Boys, get onto the white-chokered tender foot. Get onto the silk-harnessed ladies man. Ef you think the gal kin put it onto me in another race, mebbe you've got some spar' dust that'll prop up yer opinion?'

"'Yes I have,' I angrily answered, 'Plenty of it, if the young woman will run again.'

"'And how much do you hold your opinion at?' he asked.

"'All yourself and your friends wish to throw in sight,' I replied.

"At this a large, red faced man apparently under the influence of liquor, whom I afterwards learned was the owner of the great herd of cattle over which the braggart presided as foreman, stepped up and said:

"'If you want to clinch the tenderfoot for a bet, Dick, I'll let you have a thousand.'

"'I was mad, boys, and wouldn't have weakened then if my life was to be the forfeit of my obstinacy. Addressing the young woman I asked:

"'Will you ride another mile at five o'clock this afternoon?'

"After a moment's hesitation she replied:

"'Indeed, I will, and I know I will defeat him. I felt before as if every one in the crowd was against me, and I was nervous and very much frightened, but your words have encouraged me, and I feel that I can now ride much better."

"'Meet me at the Pacific Hotel in an hour and I will cover your $1,000,' I said to the cattle-owner and his foreman.

"I hastened to the town, and, boys, I did something that I would have scorned to do had not my anger and stubbornness been aroused to a desperate point. I had jewelry samples with me valued at several thousand dollars, and calling a waggon I went to the hotel, loaded my sample cases, and hauled them to the leading jeweler of the town, who was a good customer of mine. I explained to him that I needed a loan of $1,000 for a few hours only, and offered to pledge my samples for that sum. He well knew the value of the stuff I carried, and after but a moment's hesitation wrote me a check for the desired amount. Securing the money at the bank, it was soon in a chosen stakeholder's hands with the $1,000 from the other side.

"The news of the additional race and the heavy stakes ventured on it spread like wild fire, and the jam on the fair grounds at the appointed hour was terrible. I secured a brief interview with the young woman and found her eyes alight with hope, and after warmly thanking me for the interest I manifested in her success, she strongly reiterated the belief that she would win the race. There is a little cuss called Cupid who goes about dressed in a pair of wings and a bow and arrow, and I tell you, boys, he was getting in his delicate work on me in great shape as I stood looking into the animated face of that handsome girl and listed to her musical voice as she thanked me modestly but earnestly for my services in assisting her to lower the pride of that taunting brute and wiping from her own escutcheon the stigma of defeat.

"'If papa were here he would back me with all he possesses under the circumstances," she said, "but he was detained at the ranch five miles out. Should I be the cause of your losing your money he will certainly make it up to you, and (with an arch smile) the knowledge of that fact alone permitted me to consent to your risking it.'

"'There is no risk," I replied. "You will win, and no one will shout louder than I when you lead your insulting antagonist under the wire.'

"By a queer freak of human nature the sympathy which had been bestowed upon the cowboy at the former race was now lavished on the girl, and when she wheeled her safety on to the track the crowd cheered her to the echo and shouted forth a torrent of words of encouragement. To all this she responded with modest bows and smiles of gratitude, and when the gong sounded she rode to the scratch with a look of confidence on her face that boded no good to her rival."

"'Go.'

"Boys, did you ever see a lark dart away from a swooping hawk? That girl began to whirl those pedals with her nimble feet in a manner that set the crowd wild, and she took the lead right at the start and darted away from him. Yell? Great Scott! how that crowd did yell as she finished the half mile fifty feet ahead of her rival and wheeled away on the second stretch with a defiant smile on her handsome face. The cowboy flew after her, straining every muscle in his great effort to overtake and pass her, but he might as well have chased a streak of excited lightning as that flying fairy ahead. She passed under the wire fully fifty yards in the lead and, as she sprung from her wheel, her face beaming with the light of triumph, that great crowd arose to its feet and almost shook the heavens with ringing cheers. When the defeated cowboy came up to the crowd which surrounded the happy victor his face was aflame with chagrin and passion, and with a wicked leer he said to the girl:

"'I reckon yer stranger tenderfoot lover 'll get a kiss fur every dollar he won on this.'

"Before I could reach him a powerful blow from a fist laid him on the ground, and a large, fine-looking old man stood over him ready to repeat the blow if he made an attempt to rise.

"Take that, you ruffian," he cried. "This is my daughter, and she's a lady, a Southern lady, sah, and is entitled to respect. You are a ruffian, an unmitigated ruffian, sah, and I will kill you as I would kill a wolf if you evah again offer her an insult. Get up now, and go away, and nevah cross my path again, or I will not anawer for the consequences."

"The brute slunk away, and the old gentleman quickly drew his daughter from the large crowd which had gathered.

"That evening he drove to the hotel in his carriage, and approaching me said:

"'You are the gentleman who befriended my daughter at the fair this afternoon, and I am glad to meet you, sah. I believe you are a gentleman, and I owe you my most sincere thanks for your action. She has told me all about it, and I fully appreciate the motive which led you to espouse the cause of a woman who was not being accorded fair play, for that ignorant fellow and his friends caused her to lose the first race by intimidating and embarrassing her. I cannot say that I approve of such contests, but she is my only child, sah, the pride of my old heart and home, and she loves her wheel—loves that wheel next to me I do believe, sah—and when that big brute challenged her to a contest in the recreation she most dearly delights in, it roused her Southern pride—we came here from Georgia, sah—and she pleaded so hard to be permitted to run the race that I reluctantly consented. Now, I want you to get into my carriage and go home with me and be my guest while you remain here, and I will accord you genuine Southern hospitality, for I am under obligations to you sah. Come."

"Well, boys, I went out to the old chap's ranch, and I went there on numerous future trips, and—well, the $1,000 I won on that race I carefully laid away for a special purpoce, and for that purpose I subsequently used it. My little Southern wife now wears it in sparkling gems on one of her fingers."

"And the wheel she rode in the race, Frank. You, no doubt, yet preserve it as a cherished souvenir of the exciting contest?" said one of his fellow-travelers.

"O, yes, she has it yet but she seldom uses it. She now has a machine with four wheels, which she pushes ahead of her, and both she and I think the load it carries is the prettiest, cutest girl baby in America."

An African Traveller.

RESTORED TO HEALTH BY THE USE OF HAWKER'S BALSAM.

The following is copied from the Manchester, England, Times:

Capt. John Lawrence Walsh, who has temporarily returned from Assinie and Grand Bassam, Africa, writes under date of Feb. 2nd, 1894: "I have much pleasure in certifying that I was entirely cured of a severe attack of bronchitis by one bottle of Hawker's balsam of tolu and wild cherry. I had just arrived from Africa, and the change to an English climate caused me to contract a terrible cold, ending in bronchitis. I lost my voice for several days, but have been completely restored by using one bottle. I can recommend it highly." This testimony is of great value, showing as it does how colds resulting from change of climate or sudden change in the weather in any particular locality may be quickly cured. Hawker's balsam of tolu and wild cherry is equally efficacious in all throat and lung troubles. It is particularly valuable in families where there are children, for the little ones love it and it relieves a cough or cold at once. No household can afford to be without this greatest of remedies for these troubles. Hawker's balsam of tolu and wild cherry is manufactured by the Hawker Medicine Co., St. John, N. B., Canada, and is sold by all druggists at twenty-five and fifty cents a bottle.

In connection with the above, we note that a pioneer shipment of the Hawker remedies, to South Africa, has been made by the S. S. Volta sailing from Liverpool, Eng., on Feb. 16th, 1894.

The Cellar.

One of the most neglected, and therefore dangerous departments of the household, is the cellar. This is quite liable to be more or less damp, and consequently to grow musty and mouldy, even if free from the infection of decaying vegetables, as is not always the case. Besides in not a few instances, a thorough investigation would disclose the presence of rotten oid boards, laden with germs of disease. Clear them all out; use brush, broom and shovel; get the whole area as clean as possible, and then use a strong disinfectant—a solution of copperas is as good as anything. Then ventilate thoroughly, apply whitewash freely and ventilate again. Then go into the cellar and compare the apartment with what it was before in the way of air and odor. Having done this, do not wait for the annual cleaning, but keep it clean day by day and month by month, paying especial attention to ventilation. The air in the cellar, however vitiated it may be, inevitably finds its way to the living rooms above, and into the lungs of the occupants, with all its load of infection and danger.

One Better Than Thirteen.

William F. Goetchius, Esq., contractor and builder, office 552 Seventy Avenue, New York City, writes: "I have suffered from dyspepsia for a number of years and was confined to my house for five months. Have had thirteen New York and Mount Vernon doctors (will name them if necessary) attending me but failed to get any benefit. I tried K. D. C., and am pleased to say the effect was magical. I have tried probably every known remedy for dyspepsia, and found none to benefit me, until I took K. D. C. I recommend K. D. C. as the dyspeptic's best friend. Try it and prove what I say."

A TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE.

Eight Long Years of Pain and Suffering.

A WELL KNOWN GODERICH LADY RESTORED TO HEALTH AND STRENGTH AFTER PHYSICIANS HAD FAILED—GIVES HER EXPERIENCE FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD.

From the Goderich Signal.

The marvellous change which has taken place in the physical condition of Mrs. Culloden Fraser, Britannia street, during the past twelve months has been the chief topic of conversation among her many friends and acquaintance of late, and to all who know of the terrible manner in which she has been afflicted, her lifting up appears to have been little short of miraculous. Mrs. Fraser has a wide circle of acquaintances in Goderich and vicinity, having resided in this town for over thirty years—ever since her husband, who was a merchant in Bayfield, retired from business and located here. Having heard of the wonderful change that has been brought about in her physical condition, a representative of The Signal called upon Mrs. Fraser at her pleasant home to congratulate her on the improved state of her health, and to find out in what manner the happy change had been effected. He was graciously received and the following statement was voluntarily given by Mrs. Fraser:

"It is now eight years since one morning as I was performing ablutions, and when passing my hand over my face, I experienced a pain on the cheek similar to that which is felt when a thorn which has penetrated the flesh is touched. The pain continued after that and appeared to move all over my face and head. From the cheek it went to the upper lip, then to the lower lip, then to the forehead and head and then to the ear. So intense was the agony which I suffered that I was unable to touch my hair and eyebrows, and my eyes felt like veritable balls of fire. My gums were so affected that I was unable to masticate my food, and as a result I suffered greatly from lack of nourishment. My face became so contracted from the effects of the pain that my best friends could hardly recognize me, and the only relief I could get was from chloral and the use of opiates. Finally my local physician, who had been tireless in his efforts to help me, said he could do nothing further for me, and my case seemed utterly hopeless.

I then went to Clinton and consulted one of the most skilled practitioners in that town, who diagnosed my case and said he could recommend no treatment that would benefit me. I came home utterly broken down and not knowing what to do. I had read in the newspapers of the marvellous results accomplished by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, but as I had never placed much confidence in proprietary medicines so widely advertised, and had relied more on the methods of skilled practitioners, I had not given the matter of using them much thought. As a last resort, however, I determined to give Pink Pills a trial, and had two boxes purchased at the drug store of James Wilson. From the first box I cannot say that I experienced any noticeable benefit, but by the time I was half through with the second box I knew I was mending rapidly, as the terrible pains had ceased, to a great extent, and I had begun to feel more like my former self. That was last fall, and when my friends heard that I was recovering they began to drop in rapidly and congratulate me. As a result of the excitement consequent upon the fact that sometimes as many as ten or a dozen would come in to see me during the course of a day, I had a relapse—a return of the old pains—but I continued to take Pink Pills, and am pleased to say that I gradually got back to my normal condition, in which I am to-day. This summer, since August, I have been entirely free from the malady, which has never been the case during the previous seven summers, but I occasionly take the Pink Pills, as my doctor advises me that it is well, so as to ward off the disease. I attribute the marked improvement in my health solely to the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and have not failed to recommend their use to many of my friends who have made enquiry as to the benefit derived by me from them."

In conversation with J. Wilson, druggist, it was learned that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have a very large sale in Goderich, and that many can testify to their great value as a blood builder and nerve tonic. Mr. Geo. A. Fear, druggist, also speaks highly of the results attained by the use of Pink Pills among his customers, and says he finds them the best selling remedy in his store.

Such remarkable cures as that of Mrs. Fraser have been but too few in the past. Thanks to the better knowledge that the people are obtaining of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills they are now becoming more numerous.

This medicine contains in a condensed form all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood, and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effects of la grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions, that tired feeling resulting from nervous prostration, all diseases depending upon vitiated humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities, and all forms of weakness. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork, or excesses of whatever nature.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark. They are never sold in bulk, or by the dozen or hundred, and any dealer who offers substitutes in this form should be avoided. The public are also cautioned against other so-called blood builders and nerve tonics, put up in a similiar form intended to deceive. Ask your dealer for Dr. William's Pink Pills for Pale People and refuse all imitations and substitutes.

These pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and Schnectady, N. Y., and may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., from either address, at 50 cents or six boxes for $2 50.

—Skin diseases are more or less directly occasioned by bad blood. B.B.B. cures the following Skin Diseases: Shingles, Erysipelas, Itching Rashes, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Eruptions, Pimples and Blotches, by removing all impurities from the blood from a common Pimple to the worst Scrofulous Sore.

The Weekly Monitor.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 30th, 1894.

—GENERAL COXEY's career seems to have come to a rather inglorious termination. This once mighty leader, who was to accomplish such great things for the unemployed of the nation, now languishes in a Washington prison, condemned because he didn't "keep off the grass." To add to his humiliation he was handcuffed on leaving the police court, hurried into the so-called "Black Maria," along with some ten or a dozen common drunks, negroes and other prisoners, and sent up to serve out the sentence of the court. Such is the termination of the first chapter of this man's career as a great philanthropist and reformer. His poor, deluded followers, who walked through the mud and slush of early spring, all the way to Washington, while he rode in his carriage, have been left to find their way back home, or otherwise shift for themselves as best they can. Both leader and followers have probably accomplished what they sought at the inception of the undertaking—free board and lodgings for a time, and a very large measure of notoriety through the medium of the press. Coxey will probably be heard from next in a dime museum or something of the kind. The undignified and very humiliating treatment which he has received at the hands of the Washington authorities will doubtless go far toward cooling the ambition of those others who were so quick to imitate him. These adventurers, who appeared eager for the notoriety which such an undertaking gave Coxey, at the outset of his career, will now see, in the utter failure of his expedition to gain anything, but the contempt of the entire nation, the uselessness of continuing any longer their tramp in the direction of the national capital. It is well, too, that expeditions of this kind should thus be brought into contempt. Had Coxey and his band of ragamuffins succeeded in impressing their demands upon Congress so as to influence legislation to any considerable extent, it would have given a mighty impetus to other such lawless mobs to undertake similar expeditions and make other demands even more unreasonable and ridiculous. All these idle industrial armies will no doubt now disperse, without having influenced the action of Congress one iota.

—A tax of fifteen dollars a year upon commercial travellers is one of the expedients to which the province of Prince Edward Island has recently resorted in order to help fill her depleted treasury. We fancy this is one of the forms of taxation which will prove popular with everybody except the knights of the road themselves; and, if exacted of all such travellers, it ought to realize a fairly substantial sum for the province, judging by the number which annually comes this way, for at some seasons of the year their name is legion.

Our genial friend, the drummer, is one of the adjuncts of business, as at present carried on, concerning whose usefulness there is some room for doubt. He is generally the prince of good fellows, with a thorough knowledge of the world, and able to read and understand human nature as he would an open book. His business is to sell goods, and he generally does it, whether his customer wishes to buy or not. As a result the merchant frequently finds himself with more goods on hand than he can sell, and more bills to meet than he can pay. And if any body thinks that the commercial traveller, or his employer, pays all his own expenses and does not charge it up to his customer, in the increased price of his goods, then we fancy he is laboring under a slight mistake about the matter. So, looking at the question in all its aspects, we are inclined to the opinion that the action of the Prince Edward Island legistature in imposing a tax upon our friends of the road is justifiable, and one which our own provincial authorities might imitate without in any way inflicting any hardship upon the business interests of the province.

—THE cordial reception which the citizens of Boston gave to the two British war ships which visited that port during last week must have been very gratifying to all those who are desirous of seeing peace and good-will existing between the two great branches of the Anglo-Saxon family. Nothing seems to have been left undone by the citizens to make the visit a pleasant one to the officers and men of the ships, while the attentions shown to the govenor of the state, the mayor of the city, and the various private citizens who visited the ships were no less cordial and friendly. The Blake is a magnificent specimen of Her Majesty's navy, and British subjects in Boston had reasons for the feelings of pride they experienced in her appearance as she steamed into the harbor and fired the customary salute.

We observe, too, that the 24th was quite generally observed by the Queen's subjects over there, many banquets taking place, in honor of the occasion, and more than the usual amount of bunting being displayed, without any of the disagreeable incidents which have marked similar occasions in the past.

—THE various showers of the past week were very refreshing and came just at the right time, as they were very much needed. Thus far our spring has been an unusually dry one. In Ontario and the western sections of the dominion, however, the season has been fully as moist as the average, and very favorable reports are being received from there of the outlook for the wheat crop. Notwithstanding the fact that the price of wheat during the past year has ruled below what is claimed as a paying basis, there is reported to be a larger acreage under cultivation this season than at any time in the past.

—THE finances of Prince Edward Island must be in an exceedingly bad state when the grant of $150 a year to teachers has to be cut down to $25.00. Yet that seems to be the size of the reduction which is to be made, if the newspapers have correctly reported the matter. So sweeping a reduction as that will create havoc with the educational affairs of the island, and we can hardly conceive of a condition of the finances of the province which would justify it; and in view of the fact that the local government proposes to increase the revenue of the province quite largely by direct taxation, this sweeping reduction seems altogether unnecessary.

—Final steps are now being taken at Washington for the admission of Utah as a State of the Union. Were it not for the stain of Mormonism Utah would doubtless long ago have been removed from the list of territories. She has a population of two hundred and thirty-three thousand, a number far in excess of some of the Western States, and considerably more than Delaware. Utah will be the forty-fifth State in the Union. Her companion territories are New Mexico, Arizona, Indiana, Alaska, Oklahoma and the District of Columbia. New Mexico has a population of over two hundred thousand and her admission as a State cannot be much longer delayed.

—An Ottawa despatch to the Halifax Herald says: It is understood that the government will introduce a bill to simplify the franchise act, which will very greatly reduce the time required for making the revision, and as a natural consequence materially lessens the cost of revision. The preliminary revision now required will, it is said, be dispensed with. The revising officer will make his lists from the provincial lists and then appoint a day for each division on which he will hear complaints for striking off names and receiving applications for placing names on the list.

Teachers' Association.

The fifteenth annual meeting of the Teachers' Association of Inspectoral District No. 4, convened in Sissiboo Hall, Weymouth, on Thursday, May 24th, 1894, was duly called to order at 9.30 a. m. by the President, Inspector Morse.

The minutes of last meeting, held at Bear River, were read and adopted.

The following officers were appointed for the ensuing year: Vice-President, I. M. Longley; Secty.-Treas., J. H. Crowe; Executive Committee, B. S. Banks, Nelson Churchill, Mrs. Benson, Miss May Belle Fash, and W. N. McVicar.

The president then read letters from Dr. MacKay, Principal McVicar and Principal McGill, deeply regretting that they could not be present.

Mr. McVicar provided a substitute in the person of Principal Cameron, of Yarmouth, and Mr. McGill had asked Prof. Smith of Truro to take his work here.

The Chairman suggested that a few persons be appointed to correspond with the press in reference to the work of the Association, accordingly Mr. O. P. Goucher was appointed to correspond with the Halifax Herald, Mr. I. M. Longley with the Morning Chronicle, and Mr. W. E. Saunders with the Ed. Review.

The executive committee thought it advisable this year to change the nature of the work, and that instead of reading and discussing papers as formerly, the Association do some science teaching in order that the work may harmonize more directly with that taken up by the Summer School of Science.

The first lesson taught was one in Physiology, by Principal O. P. Goucher, of Lawrencetown. In teaching this branch of science, Mr. Goucher dwelt particularly on the bones. The teacher of this lesson had nearly every part of the human skeleton present, which he showed to the class. Close questioning on the part of the teacher, elicited some good and ready answers, and gave Mr. G. a good opportunity to explain his work. Principal Goucher handled this subject in an able and practical manner, and showed commendable tact and ability as a teacher, which called forth remarks from members of the Association.

Princs. Banks, Longley, Prof. Smith and others in remarking on the lesson gave valuable hints and suggestions, which if put into practice in the schools would do much to simplify the work in this branch of science.

Meeting adjourned at noon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Meeting called to order at 1.45 p.m.

Report of A. D. Brown and S. C. Shaffner in reference to the publication of the "Drama by Principal McVicar" was read and laid on the table. The report was subsequently adopted.

After roll-call, Prof. Smith, of the Agricultural School, Truro, was introduced. Prof. Smith was here for two purposes,—one to take Principal McGill's lesson in Chemistry; the other, to have a talk on the natural sciences generally.

Mr. Smith said, Chemistry was one of the most difficult of the sciences to teach. The text-book could not be successfully taught without the aid of apparatus. That to undertake to do so was worse than a waste of time. Much had been said of science, but more should be said of art. The teaching of every lesson should be one of art. Art first, then science. The pupils should experiment and investigate for themselves. "We learn to do, by doing." In the study of anatomy and physiolgy, the pupils should get an animal, and dissect it. Examine the bones and the parts as Mr. Goucher had done in his excellent lesson. Botany was not so difficult to teach as many of the sciences; and again, he objected to the mere use of the text-book. He emphasized the fact that more attention should be given to field work,—go into the woods and fields. Children should be early taught to use the pencil. He considered drawing one of the most important of subjects. No brief synopsis in this report could do justice to Mr. Smith or his valuable instruction. In closing, the Prof. advised all who could afford it, to spend a portion of their vacation at the Science School, Truro. He was always in attendance and its instruction was free to all.

Principal Brown remarked that we should be very grateful to Prof. Smith for his valuable hints and suggestions. But the Council of Public Instruction had assigned the whole work of the text-book in Chemistry to be prepared in one year by 10th grade pupils; and to take up every topic, as Prof. Smith had recommended, and teach it experimentally, would require much more time than the teacher had at his disposal. What should be done in that case? Prof. Smith said, it was better to do thoroughly what was done, than to merely memorize the facts of the text-book.

Mr. Cameron of Yarmouth, being present, rose to say, that he was here to fill the shoes of a better man, and simply suggested that he wanted the members of the Association to come to-morrow morning prepared to ask questions or to suggest subjects for discussion in respect to the earth as a planet.

Miss Parker, a graduate of the Normal School, was then asked to teach her lesson on the "Tonic Sol Fa" system of music. Miss Parker introduced her subject by giving a brief historical sketch of the system, and the place it should occupy in school work. The well known school song "My Own Canadian Home" was then taught according to the new system. Before Miss Parker had finished her lesson, the time for adjournment had arrived.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. Mr. Longley moved that the next meeting of the Association be held in the month of May of next year, and passed unanimously.

Resolved, That the exact date be fixed by the executive committee and that the next meeting be convened at Bridgetown.

Miss Parker then continued her music lesson. This was a very interesting and to many an important lesson. The teacher invited inquiry regarding this method and answered all questions satisfactorily.

Thus ended the evening session.

Meeting adjourned at 9.30 p.m.

FRIDAY MORNING SESSION.

Meeting called to order at 9 a.m. Financial statement received from the executive committee and all debts ordered to be paid.

Resolved, That we hold one long session this morning instead of two short ones, and finish the business of this year's association.

The chairman announced that Mr. Brown, of Bridgetown, was very ill, and would not be in attendance to-day.

Mr. Cameron was then called to teach a lesson on Physical Geography, and on rising to address the meeting received tremendous applause. In a few pleasing remarks he opened the subject and for one hour and a half the attention of every member was fairly riveted upon the speaker. In scathing language Mr. Cameron condemned the text-book on Geography, as being the worst ever published, even the English Grammar not excepted, but which might play a very good second fiddle. I shall not attempt to give even a brief outline of this valuable lesson. To be appreciated, it must be heard.

At the close of this lesson Mr. Longley announced that the eastern-bound train would soon be due and those who were going east of Annapolis would have to leave at once. As Miss Vidito had to leave on the early train, her valuable lesson on Botany could not be given.

Mr. N. W. Hogg, of the Digby Academy, was then called to read his paper on "Pestalozzi." This was a very interesting paper and many good points made, some of which were: that Christianity is essential in educating the young; that the parents must be the first educators of the child; that each part of the subject must be thoroughly understood by the pupils before they receive further instruction; the lesson should be frequently reviewed; the object of teaching is to develop; drawing should be taught. This paper called forth remarks from Rev. Mr. Withycomb, J. H. Crowe and others.

Mr. Woodman next read a paper on "Attention." This paper dealt more with theory than with practise. The paper was a well written one and well received.

Mr. Crowe in speaking to the paper said that he thought many persons were incapable of commanding attention, and that no set rules could be laid down which would very much aid them in doing so. He thought the power to hold the attention of the class must be within the teacher. The teacher must be possessed with a sort of animal magnetism, the school forming one pole of the battery and the teacher the other, and attention would be kept up along the wire in some such an unexplainable manner as news is conveyed and received along the galvanic wire.

Mr. Withycombe spoke on the practical side of this subject, and thought teachers were born, not made.

Mr. Hogg remarked that children could not be frightened into attention.

Mr. Churchill thought the teacher should appeal to the eye, rather than to the ear, in securing attention.

The remainder of the session was occupied in listening to Mr. Cameron on "English Literature." As Mr. Brown could not be present, Mr. Cameron said he would do his best to take Mr. Brown's place. The poem selected was Grey's "Elogy." It is needless to say that Mr. Cameron was at home on this subject, and interested and instructed the members for over an hour.

The association expressed their very sincere appreciation of the services of Mr. Cameron and Prof. Smith, and accordingly passed a vote of thanks.

A vote of thanks was also tendered to the railway management for reduced rates, and to the trustees of Sissiboo Hall for the free use of their building.

The Association was brought to a close by singing the "National Anthem." Thus ended one of the most practical and successful meetings of the Association ever held within the district. J. H. C.

—Pine Apples, Bananas, choice Oranges, and Fresh Confectionery from Moore's Kandy Kitchen; also, Fresh Baker's Bread. Lunches served at all hours. London Fruit Store, Middleton.

—Would it not be a wise step on the part of the proper authorities to have the sewers in the water district thoroughly flushed? An inspection of one on Queen street leads us to believe that it is badly fouled.

—To any person desirous of purchasing Carpets or Curtains, J. W. Beckwith will send to their homes for inspection a complete set of samples, at short notice, on application. 4tf —Victoria driving park, Yarmouth, is going to have a big race meeting on Yarmouth's natal day, Monday, June 11th. The purses will amount to $350. and the races are to be free-for-all trot, 2.38 class mixed, and the three minute class mixed.

—Buy your kid gloves from J. H. Chute Until further notice I will sell my $1.50 imported French Kid Glove (lace 7 clasp) for $1.25, and my $1.25 glove for $1.00, cash. J. H. Chute, Middleton. 9 3i —Messrs. deBlois & Primrose, proprietors of the drug store known as Medical Hall, have recently disposed of their business to Mr. S. W. Weare, of Cochrane's drug store at Kentville. The new purchaser is to take possession within the next few days.

A DISTINGUISHED VISITOR.—It is said upon what appears to be good authority, that, during Prof. Robertson's proposed tour in the Maritime Provinces, this summer, as Dominion Dairy Commissioner, the Governor General has promised to attend and speak at one gathering in each of the provinces.

A NEW ENTERPRISE.—Work on the new mill of Hardwick & Whitman, Annapolis, began on Wednesday. The office and store room used by Mr. T. S. Whitman, is to be moved back about 120 feet and, together with another building to be built, will make one of the largest and best mills in the county.

—We are indebted to Secretary Parker, of the Fruit Growers' Association, for a neat pamphlet containing the "Transactions and Reports of the Association and International Show Society of Nova Scotia for 1894." It comprises 130 pages of interesting matter, and is the best yet issued by the Association.

—It is a curious fact that twice in the history of Dr. Talmage and his tabernacles his house of worship has been burned on a Sunday, the fire appearing in both cases about the time of morning service. Both fires occurred on the 13th of the month. History does sometimes repeat itself.

—Fruit culture is more profitable to the farmer now than his other crops. Brown Bros. Co., the most extensive nursery house in Canada, have a vacancy in this section. Write them at Toronto, Ont., for their terms. 2 tf.

—For some weeks large quantities of potatoes have been exported to the United States from the Annapolis and Cornwallis Valleys. W. H. Chase & Co., of Port Williams, have been the principal shippers. Shipments are made by the Bay of Fundy Steamship Company from Annapolis for connection at St. John with the International Steamship Company to Boston.

NO DEMAND FOR KILN WOOD.—There is no demand for wood at Rockland. A captain, who recently returned from there, said he was only able to obtain $2.50 per cord for his load. Very few kilns are burning. One firm, owning thirty kilns, are only using one this spring. The prevailing business depression is the cause.

—The Ontario elections are now on and the veteran premier, Sir Oliver Mowatt, is making a gallant struggle to retain his hold on the province. Elements, in the form of associations banded for special purposes, enter into the campaign, which were heretofore absent, and many who profess to know what they are talking about say the result is somewhat doubtful.

—The Evangeline Navigation Co. have issued a very neat little guide-book for the season of 1894. It is printed in colors and is a model of typographical neatness, and contains several attractive little sketches of scenery on the line between Kingsport and Parrsboro. G. W. Penniman, the distinguished journalist and lecturer, says: "The trip over the 'Evangeline Route' to Parrsboro, across the basin of Minas, is one of the finest in America, and one worth going across a continent to enjoy."

—Mr. Robert S. Batton, of Clarence, has just completed a course of instruction in butter-making at Nappan, as has also Mr. James Hawkesworth, of this town. Since returning home Mr. Batton has accepted an offer made him by the Maitland Cheese and Creamery Co., of Maitland, Hants county, and leaves to-morrow to take charge of a factory which is to be opened there at once. Both the above-named gentlemen have been much benefitted by the practical lessons received in the use of the seperator, ripening cream, churning, and working and packing of butter, and consider the time spent at Nappan as of vast importance. Mr. Hawkesworth goes to Malagash Bay for the season.

OBITUARY.—Mr. George Ramey, an aged and respected old gentleman who has been living in this town for the last ten years, passed peacefully away to his rest on Thursday last after an illness of several months. The deceased was a native of Northfield, Lunenburg county, where he was born in 1820. For a long term of years he resided on the Morse Road, but as his family grew up was induced by them to make Bridgetown his home. He leaves several sons and daughters, besides a large circle of relatives to mourn their loss. The funeral took place on Saturday, and was largely attended, among the mourners being his son Mr. Perley Ramey, of Haverhill, Mass. The Rev. F. P. Greatorex conducted the services, and the remains were interred in the old Episcopal graveyard.

Annapolis County S. S. Association.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Annapolis County Sunday-school Association held at Bridgetown on Monday, 14th inst., the following were appointed as vice-presidents in place of parties declined:

Ward 4, John Ross; Ward 7, Edgar Porter; Ward 11, Joseph Bent; Ward 14, Wm. Dukeshire; Ward 15, James Jackson; Ward 16, James Whitman.

All vice-presidents are requested to visit Sabbath-schools in their wards, and if any locality where a school can be organized to do so, or notify the secretary. All Sunday-schools are requested to adopt some form of temperance work. The local committee of convention in September is as follows:—

Harry Goodwin, Leonard Phinney, How Ray, Jennie Troop, Laura Hart, Musical Director, Richard Hay.

J. W. WHITMAN, Secty.

Celebrating Her 100th Anniversary.

Mrs. Hoyt, widow of the late Dickson Hoyt, and mother of Weymouth's postmaster, Mr. George Hoyt, celebrated the 100th anniversary of her birth yesterday at her home in Weymouth. The occasion was made one of great prominence and was attended by immediate relatives from all parts of the country.

Death of Mrs. Jennie Cameron.

The Eastport Sentinel announces the death of Jennie, widow of the late A. D. Cameron, which occurred in that city on the 22nd inst., at the residence of her brother.

SIRS,—I had such a severe cough that my throat felt as if scraped with a rasp. On taking Norway Pine Syrup I found the first dose gave relief, and the second bottle completely cured me. MISS A. A. DOWNEY, Manotic, Ont.

The Valley Telephone Co., Ltd.

The success which is constantly manifesting itself in this new enterprise is certainly most gratifying to the worthy promoters who were instrumental in bringing about the much-needed method of communication, and though there were some misgivings as to the result at the outset, it is now absolutely conceded by the business houses from one end of the line to the other that the benefits derived are indispensable. From day to day there is an ever-increasing demand for new instruments and an extension of the line over new territory, and though every effort is being put forth by the Board of Management to satisfy this demand, the wishes of the people cannot be complied with as rapidly as they would like. Within the past few days a line has been constructed from Canning to Kingsport, a distance of three and one-half miles; another from Brooklyn to Middleton, a distance of three miles, and still another is now being built from Annapolis to Lequille, some two miles in length. Since the publication of the directory for the year 1894, issued only some five weeks ago, many new subscribers have been added. In the Annapolis circuit, Mr. J. S. Carder, the obliging agent of the Bay of Fundy Steamship Line, has had an instrument placed in his office, and we understand that when the Lequille branch is erected, an addition of some dozen or more phones are to be placed in the private residences and business establishments along its course. Mr. Henry Shaw, whose popular grocery is at the head of Queen and Granville streets in this town, has also lately become a patron of the busy line. Many others are to follow, and it is believed that before the end of the year the company will have at least three hundred subscribers.

RHEUMATISM CURED IN A DAY.—South American Rheumatic Cure for Rheumatism and Neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. The first dose greatly benefits. 75 cents. Warranted by deBlois & Primrose.

The 24th at Lawrencetown.

The loyalty of Lawrencetown to our Queen was well illustrated on Thursday last. The weather was unusually fine, and the freshness of spring lent an additional charm to this picturesque town. From early morning train till "dewy eve" our streets were thronged with holiday makers. The Middleton Brass Band discoursed sweet music, playing alternately on the band stand in front of the Elm House, also in front of the Temperance Hall, much to the edification of all present.

When the singers arrived, who were to take part in Prof. Phinney's concert, the band met them at the station, playing appropriate airs. By 8 o'clock Whitman's Hall, where the concert was held, and which had been fitted up and enlarged for the occasion, was crowded to its utmost capacity. The following is the programme, which was carried out to the entire satisfaction of a critical audience:

"You Stole My Love," Glee.
Duett—"O, Morning Land." Miss Hall and Mr. Titus.
Solo—"Anchored." Mr. H. H. Potts.
Solo—"Dutch Lullaby." Miss Manning.
Quartette—"Where are you going my Pretty Maid." Miss Hall, Miss Manning, Mr. Titus, Mr. Ritchie.
Mandolin—Selected. Miss Tibbits.
Solo—"Come into the Garden, Maud." Mr. Titus.
Male Quartette—"Dream of the Olden Time." Mr. Titus, Mr. Hall, Mr. Potts, Mr. Ritchie.
Duett—"When Morning Light is Beaming." Miss Hall and Miss Manning.
Solo—"King's Courier." Mr. Ritchie.
Mandolin—Selected. Miss Tibbitts.
Duett—"The Fisherman." Mr. Titus and Mr. Ritchie.
Chorus—"O Italia." Company.
"God Save the Queen."

Dominion Rifle League Matches.

The Dominion Rifle League matches, of which there are four this year, commenced on Saturday, May 26th. Each battalion is entitled to enter one or more teams for these competitions, a medal being furnished for person in each team who makes the highest number of points in the four matches. The 69th batt. furnishes two teams in these competitions this year. According to Col. W. E. Starratt's orders these two teams assembled at the Paradise West range on that day at 12 o'clock, Major C. S. Cole acting as range officer. The day was dark and cloudy, with an occasional shower of rain and a changeable wind. However, the shooting was very good, especially that of Capt. Geo. LeCain, of Round Hill, whose score is among, if not the foremost, in the province. The Martini-Henry rifle was used by by No. 1 team, and the Snider by No. 2 team. The following is the grand total of points made by each man of No. 1 team:—

Capt. Geo. LeCain	91 pts
Lieut. Freeman Fitch	70 "
Sergt.-Major Whitman	88 "
Sergt. Lenley Young	71 "
Sergt. Charles Morse	45 "
Lieut. Eugene Morse	70 "
Lieut. John Charlton	81 "
Lieut. Arthur Nichol	74 "
Sergt. Batt. Saunders	61 "
Pt. William Scott	68 "

Wonderful Record By the Yarmouth Line.

B. B. Hardwick, of Annapolis, left Annapolis at noon Saturday, May 12th, arrived at Boston Sunday forenoon, left Boston Sunday 12 p. m., arrived at New York 7 a. m. Monday, left New York 6.30 p. m., arrived at Montreal 8 a. m. Tuesday, left Montreal 5 p. m. Tuesday, arrived at Ottawa at 9.30 p. m. Tuesday, left Ottawa at 6.30 p. m. Wednesday, arrived at Quebec at 7. a. m. Thursday, left Quebec at 12. p. m. Thursday, arrived at Boston at 8 a. m. Friday, left Boston at 12 o'clock noon Friday, and arrived home Saturday a. m., 19th. Mr. Hardwick says that this trip cannot be taken by any other line and do the same amount of business in all of the cities named in the same time.

The Roseberry Government Sustained.

London, May 25.—The debate on the budget bill, which was expected to cause the downfall of the Roseberry ministry, was commenced yesterday by Sir John Lubbock, Liberal Unionist, moving that the budget committee be empowered to divide the budget bill into two parts. After a heated debate the motion was defeated by 161 to 121, forty majority for the Government. A couple of other resolutions by Conservatives on the budget were ruled out and the house went into committee of the whole. The British Government has received a proposal from Germany to hold a conference on the Somoan question. Great Britain will probably accept.

The Sealers.

Victoria, B. C., May 22.—Capt. McLean, of the sealing schooner Favorite, arrived yesterday with six hundred skins. He was boarded May 6th by H. M. S. Haycinthe and had his guns taken and was also ordered home. Charles Kaulback and Wm. Hughes were lost for several days, but finally landed on North Island. They lived on sealskins and ducks for seven days and when they reached the Indian canoe were badly frozen. They were taken to Virago Sound and they thrust their feet into hot water to thaw them out and consequently lost several toes. Hughes lost part of his right foot.

Shipping Notes.

Schr. Roman is on her way from Baltimore to Bear River direct.

Brigt. Nellie Pickup is chartered to load logwood at Jamaica for Providence at $3.50.

Barqt. Ethel Clarke, Capt. Jos. Brinton, sailed for Cuba Thursday morning from Digby.

Barque Swansea arrived Wednesday from Hantsport at Bear River in tow of tug W. M. Weatherspoon. Clarke Bros. are now loading her with lumber for Buenos Ayres.

Queen's Birthday Celebration at Boston.

May 24th was a big day for the Sons of England at Boston. A big dinner was set at the Parker House in honor of the Queen's Birthday and also the 78th anniversary of the foundation of the society. A banquet was given last night on board H. M. S. Blake to Gov. Greenhalge and a number of city officials. The speeches at both affairs were good.

An Insane Mother Drowns Her Children.

Mrs. Charles Jackson, of Bass River, the mother of 11 children, drowned her six-year old boy, and four-year-old girl, in a well last Wednesday. She said she had been directed to kill three, but her heart failed her when she came to the baby. She had been insane a dozen years ago, and showed recent symptoms.

Used-up ball players and athelets find Johnson's Anodyne Liniment a balm in Gilead.

Clementsport Items.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Vroom are home for a few weeks from Boston.

Mr. Wm. Ritchie is having himself a new house built on the west side of the river. The building will, when finished, be a great improvement to the place.

Mr. A. D. Roop came home from the Liverpool Lake last week after several days of fishing. Mr. Roop caught and brought home with him eleven dozen of very fine trout, which weighed about seventy pounds.

Station-master Murphy will take advantage of his three weeks vacation by taking a trip to the province of Ontario. Mr. Murphy plans starting on his trip sometime during this week.

Shafner Brothers, Clementsport, are rushing the work on their new vessel so as to have her ready for the summer trade. The thriving town is enjoying a fair share of prosperity. The shipbuilding going on not only gives employment to many of our own carpenters but a large number from the adjoining towns.

Mr. Frank McLaughlin and Miss Dossie Yon were united in marriage at the home of the bride in Ontario, on the 21st inst. The bride and bridegroom arrived home via St. John on Friday. The Clementsport Band made things lively for a short part of the evening, but were well repaid by the kindness bestowed upon them, and some very pretty classical music from the piano by Miss McLaughlin.

The Clementsport school propose giving a concert in the Baptist hall on Friday evening, July 1st. Our principal, Mr. Marshall, has his scholars prepared with some very choice selections in the shape of recitations, music, dialogues, tableaux, etc. One recitation in particular, which is to be recited by one of the county's best elocutionists, Miss Pearl Morton, will be worth more than the admittance fee. The teacher of the primary department, Mrs. Jones, has her scholars also well prepared with different selections for the occasion. All who enjoy a "jolly good time" are requested to be present.

Upper Granville.

Miss May Calder, of Bentvillle, is visiting among friends in this place.

The late showers came very opportune, and vegetation is now making up for lost time.

Dr. Gideon Barnaby, who now owns the farm lately occupied by his brother John, has been expending a considerable amount of capital in clearing a large lot of pasture land and bringing it under the plough. This is a decided improvement to the farm, and as the soil is of the best quality to be found in our valley, it cannot but prove highly remunerative to the doctor, who is ever alive to enterprise and progression.

Your correspondant had the pleasure of being one of a party of young people from this place, who enjoyed a day's outing at the pretty and attractive village of Hampton, on the 24th inst. The drive over the mountain, with the magnificent views to be had from the top and the ever-changing scenery, was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Arriving at our destination, the time was spent in boating and other amusements, until the lengthening shadows bade us return to our homes, each feeling amply repaid for the day so pleasantly spent. We cannot speak too highly of the hospitality of the good people of Hampton, or of the many attractions which their pretty village affords to those who are in search of rest or pleasure.

Inglisville Items.

Farming is progressing slowly.

Mr. Henry McNayr has sold his farm and is at present occupying the N. Charlton house in the Valley.

Mrs. G. W. Parks and son Willie have returned from St. John. Mrs. R. G. Banks and Mr. J. Long, from Clementsvale, and Mrs. Arthur C. Potter and son Percy, have returned to their home at Clementsvale, having paid a visit to her old home at West Inglisville.

The Baptist Sabbath-school gave a concert on the evening of the 20th, for the benefit of the school, consisting of recitations, readings, vocal and instumental music, etc. The various exercises were well rendered to an appreciative audience.

Some fire fiend, while fishing, built a fire near the Trout Lake brook, south of the West Inglisville road, last Thursday, and the wind being favorable it spread over some of G. C. Banks' land and all of John Durling's, G. and Z. Durling's, W. and J. Durling's timber land, burning the standing timber, beside fencing and eleven cords of wood prepared for market belonging to Zeb Durling. The rain of Friday morning stopped it from spreading further. It would be advisable for persons having an inclination to build fires to build them on their own property.

Parker's Cove.

The anniversary number of the WEEKLY MONITOR thankfully received, and we were very much interested in its contents.

The farmers about this vicinity have finished planting, and greatly rejoice in the rain of last Friday and Saturday.

The people here are anticipating two mails a week in the near future, and are anxious to see it in operation.

We regret to hear of the dangerous illness of Mrs. Wm. Fields, of Litchfield, and daughter of J. Karnes of this place.

We understand that there is to be a blacksmith shop erected on the premises of Mr. Reed Blair, at the corner of the Parker Mountain road, by two gentlemen from Bridgewater. We wish them every success.

Rev. J. H. Jenkins, from Lower Granville, preached at Lake Brook meeting-house Sunday morning, May 20th, from these words, "All the saints salute you, chiefly they that are of Cæsar's household."

Spa Springs Chips.

Visitors have been numerous lately.

Miss Zena Hall, of Kingston, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Starratt Marshall.

Fishing excursions are prevalent with the season, and many pleasant hours are spent by those who are so happy as to participate in the pleasures they afford.

Mrs. Silas Daniels gave an "At Home" on Monday afternoon and evening to her several young friends. A very enjoyable time was spent.

A number of our young people drove to Port George on May 24th. After a very pleasant afternoon spent in boat sailing and fishing, they drove to Lily Lake where a lunch was partaken of. The drive back to the Springs was heartily enjoyed, and all declared that it was a day long to be remembered.

Dalhousie West.

Farming seems to be the leading industry at the present.

Quite a number of teams have passed through here on fishing excursions during the week.

Miss Nellie Jackson, who is attending school at the Academy in Annapolis, is home to spend a few days with her parents.

It is rumored that one of our prominent young men is soon to join the matrimonial ranks. We extend to him our best wishes.

One of our neighbors, Mr. Curtis Gormley, is intending moving in the near future, having purchased his brother's farm in Perotte.

Mr. Leverett Durling, while out visiting relatives with his family, went on a fishing trip, and after trouting a short time came back with a fine string of trout.

Paradise Gleams.

Mr. McKeown, of Lawrencetown, visited the Sabbath-school. His remarks, as well as those of Mr. Longley, were very interesting.

Mr. C. W. Leonard, who has spent the winter with his mother and brothers, returned to his business in New York last week. Mr. F. W. Leonard has gone to pursue his medical studies. We wish him success.

The 24th gave opportunity for several to visit their friends and home: Mr. and Mrs. Leavitt of Annapolis, Principal Longley of Digby, Miss Kinley of Falkland Ridge, Miss Manning of St. John, and Master W. T. Morse of Digby were here.

Port Lorne.

The farmers have about completed their operations in getting in crops. Potatoes are breaking through the ground and grain is looking finely in some sections.

Mr. Wm. Dalton, who has been very sick, was able to attend church last Sabbath. He is improving slowly.

Mr. A. F. Newcomb occupied the pulpit on Sabbath evening.

The two-topmast schooner Muriel, Capt. Roblee, is at the pier loading lumber from Cole's mill for Clark Bros. of Bear River. Mr. Wallace Clark is here in person, pushing matters forward in lively shape.

Don't Forget.

That to remove corns, warts, bunions in a few days, all that is required is to apply the old and well-tested corn cure—Putman's Painless Corn Extractor. Sure, safe, painless. Putnam's Corn Extractor makes no sore spots hard to heal, acts quickly and painlessly on hard and soft corns.

Lawrencetown.

Dr. Ilsley of Weymouth is in town.

The recent rains were a great help to all crops.

J. W. Whitman's residence is being newly painted.

Mr. Harry Dodge is in town with his studio and will remain a few weeks.

R. Stevenson recently secured forty-two shad and two salmon in one night. Other good catches are reported.

W. E. Palfrey will remove to the J. A. Brown house this week, where he will reside for the present.

J. B. Burrill of Yarmouth, C. Lohnes and A. Down of New Germany, have been the guests of John Hall the past week.

Miss Eleanor Stevens and Miss Etta Duling have left us for the summer,—the former goes to Ellershouse, the latter to Halifax.

Among the people in town on the 24th we noticed F. G. Stevens, of Halifax, and Rev. J. R. Downing of New Germany.

A few hundred people were in our town on the 24th, but all were disappointed in not finding some entertainment for them through the day, as there were no sports of any kind carried on. The remarks that were passed were not all to Lawrencetown's credit. The Middleton Brass Band furnished music during the afternoon.

The L. B. B. held a tea-meeting in the afternoon, and about $18.00 was realized.

Margaretville Notes.

We had the pleasure of listening to a very interesting Sunday-school concert, held in the Methodist church, last Friday evening, May 25th, and we feel proud of the great display of talent in many of the young scholars. Especially do we wish to give Miss Maggie B. McLean and Master Neil McLean praise, as they richly deserve it. For young Neil we predict a brilliant future in the musical world, as his voice, which is very rich and sweet, will win for him friends wherever he goes. We hope, in the near future, to again have the pleasure of being entertained by our young friends.

We understand our old friend "Lon" Harris is rebuilding his hotel, which, when completed will be a very commodious and accomodating house for the general public. We wish him the highest success, and as he is a great favorite with everybody, we have no doubt he will have a full house this summer.

Hampton.

The pleasant showers of last week was a great benefit to the crops,—everything is now growing nicely.

Bait for fishing purposes is very scarce and lobster fishing is very poor.

Last Sabbath afternoon our pulpit was occupied by the Rev. H. Achilles.

Mr. Fred Bishop, of Bear River, was the guest of E. B. Foster on Saturday and Sunday.

Capt. Mitchell, schr. Maud, is making regular trips to St. John.

Some of the Valley people came over on the 24th, held a picnic, and enjoyed the cool sea breezes. Quite a number of the Bridgetown boys were present and among others feeling amply repaid for the day so pleasantly spent. We cannot speak too highly of the hospitality of the good people of Hampton, or of the many attractions which their pretty village affords to those who are in search of rest or pleasure.

Christian Endeavor News.

DEEDS OF WILLING WORKERS OF THE Y. P. S. C. E.

The Endeavors of Vancouver, B. C., have established a Chinese mission which is doing good work.

That Kansas City Christian Endeavor free soup house last winter fed nearly 16,000 hungry men. It required 4,000 gallons of soup and more than 10,000 loaves of bread.

During Indiana's cold spell last winter eleven Endeavorers of Rockville rode twenty four miles in zero weather to organize a society in the country.

There are thirty-eight Christian Endeavor societies in Jamaica with a membership of 2,200.

The members of a society in New York State have given this year $190 to missions and $759 for church purposes.

In Quincy, Ill., a member of one of the churches has for fifteen years been confined to his bed with paralysis. Once every month, on Sunday afternoon, the Endeavorers of his church go to his house and hold a meeting.

The wearers of the C. E. Pin are active in the cause of good citizenship. In Toronto recently they bore no small part of the fight for a quiet Sabbath against the street car companies. In Florida they are petitioning against the lottery and everywhere they are working for temperance.

The Christian Endeavor cause is rapidly gaining ground in the Church of England in Ontario. And this is right. The Bishop of Huron is one of its ablest advocates.

The members of a society in unhospitable Turkey recently gave $5 to missions and this means, in proportion, fifty times as much for any American society.

Preparations are being vigorously made for the great convention at Cleveland, Ohio, July 11-15. This promises to be one of the greatest gatherings of the year.

The societies are increasing in the Maritime Provinces at the rate of two a week. There are now 440.

At a cost of over $12,000 the Endeavor societies of the Reformed Church in America have built two small churches as Mission Stations in country districts. Thus does the Y. P. S. C. E. help in the gospel work.

Dominion Prohibition Convention.

A circular has been issued by the Dominion alliance calling a Dominion prohibition convention in Montreal for July 4 and 5. It is signed by Senator Vidal as president and Mr. F. S. Spence as secretary. The circular states: "While the convention is Canadian in its character and aims, it has been thought well to have with us a few leaders of the movement in other lands. Hon. Neal Dow, the father of prohibition; Lady Henry Somerset, leader of the English W. C. T. U. workers, and Miss Frances E. Willard, president of the United States National W. C. T. U., have kindly promised us their presence and counsel."

The meeting is certain to be not only of far-reaching importance, but of deep and lasting interest. The plan of representation to the convention will be as follows:

The following organizations are to be entitled to representation on the basis named: County, city or electoral district prohibition alliances, leagues or central committees, municipal or ward committees, branches of the W. C. T. U., divisions of the Sons of Temperance, lodges of the I. O. G. T., councils of the R. T. of T., branches of the League of the Cross, prohibition clubs, any other prohibition or temperance organizations, church congregations, Young Men's Christian associations, Salvation Army corps, societies of Christian Endeavor, Epworth leagues, branches of St. Andrew's brotherhood, Baptist Young People's unions, and other young people's associations in connection with church work. The members of the council of the Dominion alliance, elected from representative ecclesiastical, temperance and prohibition bodies, to be also members of the convention.

Influence of Canada.

HER FUTURE IS BIG WITH THE FATE OF UNTOLD GENERATIONS.

London, May 19.—The Times, commenting editorially this morning on the series of articles concerning Canada which it has published recently, says: "It seems manifest that of the large problems on the successful solution of which the future of the British empire will depend, there are very few which are not more or less directly illustrated by Canadian experience, and the probable solutions that Canada will find, whether for good or evil, will largely affect the organic structure of the empire. It is certain the influence of Canada on the international relations of Great Britain and the United States has tended more than anything else to a peaceful settlement by arbitration of the questions which under less favorable condition might have proved intractable to diplomacy. It is not perhaps altogether fanciful to surmise the beneficent results achieved in this direction. Possibly they will be the germ of future development almost too vast and far-reaching for political imagination of living men to conceive. What may be the future of Canada's relations to the United States on the one hand and to Great Britain on the other no man can yet say, but none can doubt that the problem here propounded is big with the fate of untold generations."

—The present depression in the shipping trade throughout the world is the most serious that has been experienced in many years. Floating carriers are, for the most part, a weariness to their owners. Freights are scarce and the rates paid for the little that can be obtained are exceedingly low.

The Turnip Fly.

My object in writing you is to give a positive and unfailing remedy for this plague, which is: Soak the turnip-seed in kerosene oil over night, or at less ten hours before using it. Spread it in the sun; and in less than one hour it is ready for sowing. I have practised this for over twenty years without ever failing once, but be sure to let the seeds be immersed in the oil ten hours. One or two hours is not a certain remedy, although if the seed is only moistened with the oil it will help to protect it. There is no danger of the oil injuring the seed; on the contrary, I think it assists the seeds to germinate, and I have always thought the plants healthier than plants grown from seeds without soaking in oil. The above from the Montreal Witness is, if effective, certainly a very simple remedy.

Westport, N. S.

Capt. G. C. Haley, of the schr. Jessie B. says: that for the last 4 years he had been a great sufferer from rheumatism in his knee, which at times swelled up and became very painful. He tried many remedies without success until he obtained some of Dr. Manning's german remedy, which gave him almost instant relief. He also says: "I have used it for indigestion, flatulency, cold in the stomach, cramps, neuralgia, and in fact for almost every kind of pain or ache. I would not be without it, he adds, at any price." Dr. Manning's german remedy is manufactured only by the Hawker Medicine Co'y., St. John, N. B., and is for sale by all druggists and dealers.

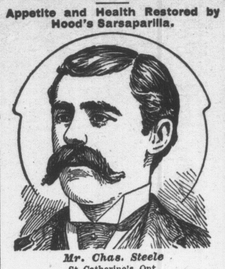
Broken in Health

That Tired Feeling, Constipation and Pain in the Back

Appetite and Health Restored by Hood's Sarsaparilla.



Mr. Chas. Steele
St. Catherine's, Ont.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"For a number of years I have been troubled with a general tired feeling, shortness of breath, pain in the back, and constipation. I could get only little rest at night on account of the pain and had no appetite whatever. I was that tired in my limbs that I gave out before half the day was gone. I tried a great number of medicines but did not get any permanent relief from any source until, upon recommendation of a friend, I purchased a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which made me feel better at once. I have continued its use, having taken three bottles, and Sealing in Newfoundland.

HOW A VESSEL IS FITTED OUT FOR A CRUISE.

The season of sealing has already begun in Newfoundland, and a busy season it is. Everybody in the colony, with its 200,000 population, is intent on the sealing season and interested in its results. In the space of a week or two the ice which lies along the coasts of Newfoundland and Labrador will be alive with young seals, whose bleating, as heard from a distance, is exactly the same as that which comes from the throats of a thousand lambs. For a short period previous to the birth of their young the old seals make their way south from the Arctic regions to the ice which most favors them in the whelping season.

"Whelping ice," as the old salts call it, is low, flat and smooth rather than hummocky, and, as such, it affords a place of safety for the young seals in the first few days of their life. When about ten days or a fortnight old the young seals are in prime condition, and the pelts yield a pure oil. In the old days the seals were pursued by hunters all along the coast, and a considerable quantity were taken, while the myriads out on the ice, away from the coast, remained untouched. Twenty years ago, or perhaps longer, a few small sailing vessels used to fit out annually at St. John's, Newfoundland, for ice hunting. These vessels were frail, and therefore not available for much battling with the ice; though the hunters were able by their means to go further to sea, the number of seals caught was still very small. It was not until steamers were built for sealing that the seal industry rose into the importance which it holds to-day in that colony. At the present time two large fleets of steamers go to the ice every spring and return, generally with freights of seals numbering, in some cases as high as 45,000 and 50,000 apiece. One fleet hails from the port of Dundee, in Scotland, the other is fitted out and owned by merchants resident in St. John's.

PREPARING FOR A CRUISE.

When the time arrives for the fleet to leave harbor such a scene as that presented on the wharves and in the streets of St. John cannot be equalled anywhere else on earth; neither can it be adequately described. There as many as 300 to 600 sealers crowd into one of the steamers, the provisions necessary to feed so large a family—perhaps for a sealing period—are very extensive, and they are brought to the wharves by a ceaseless stream of carts and sleighs. Barrels of pork, of beef, of flour and of biscuits, hard tack, chests of tea—for a Newfoundlander could not live without his black tea—cases of tobacco and some rum—usually a good lot of this last—is stowed away in the lockers. Then come the sealers, in crowds. Each man is attired in a heavy flannel smock, frock or Guernsey jacket, Indian skin boots, an Elsinore cap with flaps for ears, sealskin (leather) gloves, harpoon, pelting knife, a hauling rope and snowshoes or racquets. It is not to be understood that these men get berths or sleeping places on board the sealing steamers, for they do not even expect them. They will never undress, nor wash, nor pay the least attention to their toilet, so long as the hunt lasts, and it sometimes lasts for weeks at a time. When night comes and sleep steals over him the hardy hunter—as hardy as steel—squats in some quiet corner on a barrel or heap of seal pelts or on a sail, or anywhere at all where he can stow himself.

STARTING FOR THE SEAL FIELDS.

When all has been made snug and taut on board and the captain of the sailing steamer has his immense crew aboard, affectionate farewells are said, a shrill siren wakes the echoes of the hills that frown over the magnificent harbor of St. John's, ropes and hawsers are let go and away goes the fleet to battle with the ice floes and to secure, as they generally do, a valuable cargo. But, alas, many of the sailing steamers have never returned! The voyage, though brief, is full of dangers, and at least a dozen vessels have been crushed to pieces in the ice and gone to the bottom during the past two decades.

One hour after leaving harbor the steamers get out into the heavy ice, and from that moment until they return there is almost a ceaseless conflict with the ice. A characteristic feature of the sealing steamer is what is known as the "barrel." Now the barrel is literally a barrel which is placed at the foremast head, made fast and used as a look-out station. This barrel is never without an occupant by night as well day. The man in this lookout has for the time being the whole responsibility of the ship and crew resting on him. He is looking out not only for "patches" of seals ("patch" is a herd), but he has also to look out for the easiest passage for the vessel through the ice. He has a lonely billet, and, when a storm is raging, a by no means agreeable one. The lookout man, or the "barrel man," as he is called, is changed every few hours, as the crew is so large. The watch on the barrel has sometimes to be kept up for days without sighting the seals; sometimes only for a few hours.

THE GAME SIGHTED.

When the game is sighted "Swoils ahead! swoils ahead!" is yelled by the barrel man, and everybody on the ship is thrown into the wildest confusion and excitement. The rattlings are instantly crowded and hundreds of eager eyes look out across the dreary waste of ice to see the "swoils," as the seals are locally described. Meanwhile the ship steams slowly ahead, but if a lead or opening in the ice is found, full sail is crowded on. "Full speed" is the command for the engineer and in a jiffy the ship finds herself in the midst of the seals, a countless herd. Then what a slaughter ensues! Arming himself with his harpoon, rifle, scalping knife, hauling rope, and snowshoes, out leaps every man on the ice, and an indescribable scene of carnage is enacted. The young seals pay no attention to the onrush of the murderous hunter, but the old seals leave the ice and dive into the little pools that are always in the midst of the shelving ice. These are sometimes shot in the water and secured. The young seals are always clubbed. The only sign they make when the hunter approaches them is usually an upturned glance with their beautifully liquid eyes and, maybe, a piteous bleat. A sharp blow on the back of the head crushes the life out and in a trice they are pelted, and their carcasses, quivering and ghastly, are left, with thousands of others on the blood-dyed ice.

Having pelted the seals, the hunter piles as many as he secures together and, tying them to his hauling rope, he drags them over the ice to the ship. If the weather is fine his work is much easier than if it were stormy, and certainly less risky and dangerous. In the clear days he can venture a long distance from the ship, so long as he keeps her in view, and so follow the herd of seals to its outermost limit. Otherwise the ship must go with him.

SEALING A DIRTY BUSINESS.

By the time that one good haul of seals is made, the clean looking hunter who came aboard his ship in port is besmeared by blood and grease beyond recognition, and a repulsive thing he has become. In this condition, pretty generally, he will remain to the end of the voyage. On their return to harbor it is known by the odor, for you can smell him many blocks away. This is not hard to believe; close quarters to him is a terribly hard experience.

The scene above described may occur two or three times in a voyage until a full load has been secured. Sometimes the seals are never sighted by some belated vessels. One such craft on one occasion fell in with sharks instead of seals, and a large cargo of them was secured. They played around the ship in such numbers that the captain gave the men permission to catch them. They harpooned many and the rest were taken with hooks baited with pork. The sharks proved a valuable freight. The incident was related to us by one of the crew.

The weather, as a general thing, is still and absolutely calm at sea amid the ice. The more closely packed the ice, the finer the weather. The days are very lovely, and the nights are simply glorious. The sky is almost a black blue, so rich is its colouing, and space looks as unfathomable as it really is. The stars twinkle mischievously and, owing no doubt to the intensely clear and rarfied condition of the atmosphere, they seem to stand out from the blue dome and to hang, as they do, in the midst of space. If aurora approaches with all its brilliant pageantry and restless and inconstant beauty, the sealer gazes on a scene which for simple grandeur and magnificence is not equaled anywhere. There is not a sound to be heard save, occasionally, the sharp snapping of an ice floe somewhere near, or the scraping, for a moment, of the ship's side against a piece of ice. On board the steamship the men sit in happy groups, looking like the most abandoned crew of pirates that ever sailed the ocean blue, and the most blood-thirsty, but with feelings which find expression in some good old Scotch or Irish song, or in a Moody and Sankey hymn.

The Spring Medicine.

"All run down" from the weakening effects of warm weather, you need a good tonic and blood purifier like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Do not put off taking it. Numerous little ailments, if neglected, will soon break up the system. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla now, to expel disease and give you strength and appetite.

Hood's Pills are the best family cathartic and liver medicine. Harmless, reliable, sure.

—Gardener (to Pat, a green hand)—"What do you mean by putting those eggs in the ground, Pat?" Pat—"Sure, sir, an' didn't ye say we were to raise egg-plants? Mebbe it was a hin ye wanted me to plant."

All youthful lovers—
The joyous thought of wedded fees
About him hovers.

Keep Thyself Pure.

The striking motto of the White Ribbonmen relates to the realm of morals, but of no less importance is it that the motto be applied to the physical system. Hawker's nerve and stomach tonic and Hawker's liver pills are the greatest of all blood purifiers and health givers. Ask your druggist for them.

—Husband (during fearful storm)—Matilda, get up, the world's coming to an end. Wife (half awake)—And my hair ain't curled.

—As the name indicates, Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer is a renewer of the hair, including its growth, health, youthful color, and beauty. It will please you.

—Mrs. Tippler—I wish you wouldn't drink, my dear—it is such bad taste.

Mr. Tippler—Yes, especially when you wake up in the morning, love.

—I had a severe cold for which I took Norways Pine Syrup. I find it an excellent remedy, giving prompt relief and pleasant to take. J. PAYNTER, Huntsville, Ont.

—Shy Youth—What should a fellow do when he is badly gone, Miss Mabel?

Mabel (encouragingly)—Go a little farther.

—English Spavin Liniment removes all hard soft or calloused Lumps and Blemishes from horses, Blood Spavin, Curbs, Splints, Ring Bone, Sweeney, Stifles, Sprains, Sore and Swollen Throat, Coughs, etc. Save $50 by use of one bottle. Warranted by deBlois & Primrose.

—Yabsley—"Does your wife ever choose your clothes for you?" Wickwire—"No; she merely picks the pockets."

—The action of Ayer's Pills, upon the stomach and liver, is prompt and beneficial.

—Worry is a fruitful source of misery and the prime cause of premature decay and break-downs.

—Minard's Liniment relieves Neuralgia.

GATES' INVIGORATING SYRUP. SUPERSEDES ALL PILLS. The Best CATHARTIC.

Home Testimony from Actual Experience is always the same.

Read the following:—

"It is a pleasure as well as a duty to speak well of remedies that have done for us all that is claimed for them. I therefore take pleasure in recommending the excellent preparations of Dr. Gates, and especially the INVIGORATING SYRUP. As a gentle laxative I regard it in every way superior to harsh and griping physics so commonly used, in that it performs the three-fold functions of a physic, an appetizer and a tonic.

NOTICE OF ASSIGNMENT!

I hereby give notice that THOMAS M. SMITH, of Nictaux Falls, in the County of Annapolis, Merchant, has by deed of assignment dated the 3rd day of May, A.D. 1894, conveyed to me all his real and personal property, book debts, etc., for the general benefit of his creditors, subject to certain preferences, as in said deed of assignment contained.

After payment of said preferences the said deed of assignment provides for payment pro rata of creditors executing the said deed within three months, and the residues, if any, to all the other creditors pro rata.

The said deed of assignment is duly recorded and filed in the Registry of Deeds office at Bridgetown, in said County, and a duplicate thereof now lies at the store late occupied by the said Thomas M. Smith, at Nictaux Falls, aforesaid, where the said deed may be examined and executed by creditors.

Dated at Nictaux Falls, this 3rd day of May, A.D. 1894.

Has the Highest Award in the World!
Is the unequalified approval of every customer. Our fence has won at every Fair or Exposition where entered. But what does a practical farmer care for that? The fighting qualities of a soldier are proven on the field of battle, not on dress parade.
Don't fail to keep it before the people that ours is the only perfectly self-regulating fence offered. Don't loose sight of the great saving in posts, as with some other fences the posts alone costs as much as our fence complete.
I believe we have the best fence for the money on earth. I base my belief on the fact that one string of fence sells lots more. Page fence has proved itself by far the best for farmers' use, and we know from the orders already received that our business will boom with that of the farmers.
A variety of fences suitable for all purposes: cemeteries, school grounds, hen yards, barn yards and hog yards, orchards, gardens.
Our Lawn Fence is just right.

KINGSTON VILLAGE ARRIVALS

KINGSTON, April 17th, 1894.

Dear Friends,—
I should like you all to come and see my new store and while you are here it will be a pleasure to show you what a nice line of Prints, Cashmeres, Cloakings, Lace Curtains, Shades, Boots and Shoes I have.
The gentlemen will no doubt be pleased with the Ready Made Clothing, Shirts, Hats and Ties; while the ladies will surely want to look at the Millinery, Capes, Jackets and Underclothing, and those nice Ginghams for Aprons.
If any of you are contemplating matrimony you will be pleased with the Dinner and Tea Setts, Carpets, Bedroom Suites, Mattresses, Chairs and Tables.
Perhaps you will want to buy something, if so bring your Eggs, Butter, Beans, Dried Apples or Cash, as I am still selling on "No Credit," and do not want to hurt your feelings by refusing goods.
Oh! I have Grass Seeds too, and such a medley. Baby Carriages and Cradles, etc.

"For Years,"
Says CARRIE E. STOCKWELL, of Chesterfield, N. H., "I was afflicted with an extremely severe pain in the lower part of the chest. The feeling was as if a ton weight was laid on a spot the size of my hand. During the attacks, the perspiration would stand in drops on my face, and it was agony for me to make sufficient effort even to whisper. They came suddenly, at any hour of the day or night, lasting from thirty minutes to half a day, leaving as suddenly; but, for several days after, I was quite prostrated and sore. Sometimes the attacks were almost daily, then less frequent. After about four years of this suffering, I was taken down with bilious typhoid fever, and when I began to recover, I had the worst attack of my old trouble I ever experienced. At the first of the fever, my mother gave me Ayer's Pills, my doctor recommending them as being better than anything he could prepare. I continued taking these Pills, and so great was the benefit derived that during nearly thirty years I have had but one attack of my former trouble, which yielded readily to the same remedy."

The Household.

To Make Homemade Cake.

SEVERAL KINDS THAT ARE AN IMPROVEMENT ON CATERER'S WARES.

In large cities the making of cake is about a lost art. There are many reasons for this, first and foremost of which is the bakery. Then there are the women's exchanges, where people fancy they can buy just such cakes as dear grandma used to make, but oh! what a delusion and a snare they prove! "The test of the pudding is in the eating," but the test of bought cakes, either at bakeries or exchanges, should be left entirely to their appearance, for there alone is their merit. I have a friend who makes the most delicious cake I ever tasted. One of the best and easiest made of her almost endless variety of cakes is what she calls a luncheon cake. This is how it is made:

One cupful of sugar, one scant half cup of butter, worked to a fine cream; one egg, one-half cupful of sweet milk, two cupfuls of flour, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Flavor with grated nutmeg. Bake in a shallow pan well lined with buttered paper.

Sometimes she frosts the top of this cake and decorates it with English walnut meats. Then she calls it reception cake. Another of her cakes is what all children love. She calls it sponge cake:

One large cup of sugar, four eggs beaten to a foam, three tablespoonfuls of milk, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one large cup of flour; flavour with lemon.

This makes a small cake. It should be baked in a shallow, square pan, and eaten fresh.

Another of her cakes is rich and delicious; she calls it wedding cake:

Two pounds of butter, two pounds of granulated sugar, twelve eggs. Beat whites and yolks separately; three tablespoonfuls of cloves, one tablespoonful of mace, two tablespoonfuls of allspice, one nutmeg grated, a quarter of a pound of citron cut in little pieces, four pounds of dried currants, two pounds of flour, and one heaping teaspoonful of baking soda.

This must be thoroughly beaten and mixed and baked four hours in a slow oven. To frost it beat up the whites of four eggs to a stiff froth, add powdered sugar as long as you can blend it nicely; also add the juice of one lemon. Spread this over the top of the cake nearly an inch thick and around the sides half that thickness.

Here you have a cake fit to set before a king. It will keep for months.—Chicago Tribune.

Summer Diet.

Very few indeed realize that a diet suitable for winter is absolutely unfit for summer. In the former, fats and other heat-producing foods are needed, while in summer these, of course, are contra-indicated. As for people who do not work hard with their hands, a purely vegetable and fruit diet is the best for them.

This calls to mind the prevalent belief that fruits in hot we
