JUDGE CONDEMNS MOTOR REGULATIONS

Justice Middleton Would Have Every Driver of Car Pass Examination.

SPEAKS STRONGLY

No Leniency for Man Who Drives Instrument of Death While Drunk.

Condemnation of the existing regulations regarding motor cars, and the laws concerning their operation featured the address of Mr. Justice Middleton to the grand jury of the criminal assizes, which commenced in the city hall yesterday. Commenting on the number of cases on the list as the result of motor car accidents, his lordship urged the jurymen to make some recommendations which would lead to the reduction of accidents. He referred to the fact that the owner of a car, or any member of his family, under the present regulations is allowed, whether capable or incapable, to drive a car on the public highways. He considered that every individual driving a car should be required to pass an examination just the same as chauffeurs, who employ this means of earning a livelihood.

Justice Middleton spoke strongly in connection with the cases in which drunken men have met with accidents while driving cars. He said that no mercy should be accorded any man who, under the influence of liquor, takes one of these "instruments of death" on the public highway.

Decrease in Crime.

He was delighted with the great decrease in the amount of crime, and stated that the last time he addressed a Toronto grand jury there were over four hundred persons in the jail, while at the present time only eighty-four persons are incarcerated. On his last visit to Hamilton only eleven people were in there.

With reference to the case of Albert Sinclair, sr., who is charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of his son, his lordship pointed out that there was no evidence taken at the police court proceedings to justify the committal. "The fact that there was no evidence submitted makes your duty as grand jurors more onerous," he said. "There was no evidence of murder and no evidence at all against the father. You are not to infer, however, from what I have said that there was no foundation for the charge, but the evidence should have been sent forward for your examination. The prisoner has a right to be at the preliminary investigation, the purpose of which is to let the prisoner see what is the nature of the offence with which he is charged."
