WA, July 4.—Deputy Minister Lowe Agriculture Department was shown a cable despatch stating that Herbert r, President of the Board of Agri- said that a microscopic examina- he lungs of animals landed on the Lake Winnipeg had proved that nimals had been affected with neumonia, and that the pro- against Canadian cattle must aintained. Mr. Lowe said that the British farmers were no doubt using every effort to main- tain prohibition against Canadian cattle.

Will Rewinkle Again?

e assets of The Evening Star were d yesterday to J. J. Crabbe, the Ade- aide-street printer, for $5000, a figure somewhat lower than the preferred claims thereon. Mr. J. J. Crabbe refused to say anything in the matter other than that, though he was a staunch Reformer, the Reform party had nothing to do with the purchase.

A few days ago Mr. Crabbe went carefully through the stock with Mr. W. J. Gage, and it is freely stated that the latter gentleman is a part-purchaser at least. Mr. Gage when approached last night would not deny the soft impeachment, but referred the reporter to Mr. Crabbe. It is freely stated that a newspaper of some kind is to be started by the purchasers, and the fact that Mr. Gage has a paper mill gives strength to the rumor.

Columbus Mementos.

At the meeting of the York Pioneers yesterday afternoon D. B. Read, Q.C., continued the reading of extracts from Eli Gorham's diary. The President, Dr. Scadding, exhibited photographs of likenesses of Christopher Columbus, also of the monuments erected in his honor at Geneva and Florence, and of the tall memorial column lately set up in Spain in front of the La Robida monastery. Excellent photographs of the caravels, recently in Toronto harbor, were shown, with copies of paintings illustrative of the landing of Columbus, also a likeness of Sebastian Cabot.

AND PETER WEPT BITTERLY.

The Ryan Says He Is the Victim of a Dirty Trick—Breach of the Limited Liability Act.

The John Ryan Company (Limited), the Colborne-street woolen concern, has been gradually liquidating its affairs since the middle of last February.

The company is composed of Peter Ryan and his two sons, Bernard and John. The latter is secretary-treasurer and Bernard Ryan is president. The capital of the concern is $40,000, and it has been in existence since 1890. In February last the Ryans decided to close up business for the very good reason that they were not making money, and have since been paying off their liabilities and getting rid of their stock.

As it was purely a family concern the three shareholders did not think it necessary to report to the Government after their last annual meeting on the subject of their intentions, and on Monday they were disagreeably surprised to find that the Attorney-General's Department, on information alleged to have been lodged by a Toronto merchant, had commenced proceedings against them for breach of the Ontario Limited Liability Act. The penalty for not giving notice of intention to liquidate is $20 a day for the period of delinquency, making the Ryans subject to a fine of something over $2500.

"It's a dirty trick," said Peter Ryan yesterday, "but it's lucky that the Lieutenant-Governor-in-council has power to reprieve all penalties under the Act. Why, the Government wouldn't allow me even to grind a fellow-man in that way. We are paying every cent of our liabilities; I have just raised $10,000 on my life policy to do it and I call it a dirty trick to jump on us just now."

MR. HUNTER'S LICENSE.

Argument Yesterday In the East Toronto Village Case.

The matter of the license of R. H. Hunter of East Toronto village, which has been before Judge Macdougall under protest against it, was up again yesterday. Messrs. Johnston and Ross appeared for Hunter, while Mr. Maclaren appeared for the protest. Rev. Mr. Langford, F. S. Spence and other temperance people were interested auditors of the arguments pro and con.

Mr. Johnston argued that the signatures to the petition in favor of granting the license to Hunter are good; that time is not the essence in this matter; that the signatures of a majority of the citizes make a license granted by the commissioners valid. If there is anything wrong about this license the wrong was in getting signatures and in signing the petition. It is the right of every citizen to sell liquor, but the law steps in and restricts this right; the matter of religion or morality is not an element in this fundamental right; the question is not if Hunter's license is good or not, but if the commissioners did a legal act in granting the license.

After Mr. Johnston had argued these points and sustained his argument by the quotation of several authorities Mr. Maclaren followed at considerable length, in reply, after which the judge said he would consider the authorities and cases cited before giving his decision.

Re the Lost Victoria.

Editor World: As an old navigating junior officer may I ask through your columns our public, and, through you, the general public's also, to await decision of the court martial that will be held? There are so many points of evolution, discipline and other tactics concerned that (at least in my view) until these points are cleared I can hardly hold with Admiral Markham's opinion. Fortunately for himself (more fortunately, perhaps, for the naval service at large) it appears the navigating officer of the Victoria is amongst the saved. And if he is, as I guess he may be, one of the old, not new, navigating class he will at the c.m. surely be able to describe what Admiral Tryon intended to do—will know the distances, the measures of the arcs in encompassing them, and presumably know also the relative handlings under the then existing conditions of both his and the Rear Admiral's ship, the Camperdown. There should have been, in my opinion, prompt action by Admiral Markham on flagship's signal, he watching carefully flagship's progress in turning and cautioning his own line, by signal, to correspond, both room and time, for Tryon's evolution, should have been carried out without mishap. This same manœuvre has been done, under sail alone, by our men-of-war in the past, and although the conditions have so much changed I can't see why it can't be done now. R. E. H. BUCKNER, Late R. Navy.

Toronto Junction.

The county judge will hear 25 appeals against the rulings of the Court of Revision in the matter of the present year's assessment. The time for receiving appeals closed yesterday.

The scholars and teachers of the Presbyterian Sunday School held their annual picnic at the Island yesterday.

The firemen were called out yesterday to extinguish a fire which threatened destruction to the handsome Lakeview-avenue residence of R. C. Jennings. Loss $60.

A remarkable freak of nature in the shape of a litter of four kittens, well formed, of full size, but all firmly fastened together, is to be seen at the residence of C.J. Boon, Law-street.

The half-yearly report of the High school shows a total enrolment of 85 students and an average attendance of 59.

TOTALLY DEAF.—Mr. S. E. Crandell, Port Perry, writes: "I contracted a severe cold last winter, which resulted in my becoming totally deaf in one ear and partially so in the other. After trying various remedies and consulting several doctors without obtaing any relief I was advised to try DR. THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL. I warmed the Oil and poured a little of it into my ear, and before one-half the bottle was used my hearing was completely restored. I have heard of other cases of deafness being cured by the use of this medicine."

Island Residence.

Mr. J. F. Ellis has sold his beautiful Island residence to Mr. F. H. Gooch, who intends occupying it for the season, and as mineral water has been struck, intends putting in a well and will be pleased to see his many friends during the season.

Consequent on the celebration of the Fourth of July in the States there were no American advices yesterday, all business exchanges being closed. The only English advice received was Beerbohm's report.

The Ontario crop prospects are very good now, the hay crop being unusually large. The oat crop will also probably be very good, and the barley and peas fair.

FREQUENTLY IT HAPPENS that prudent wives by systematic saving in household expenses have accumulated a fund sufficient to save their husbands from bankruptcy in times of sudden reverse. Of course, in the ordinary way this saving is irksome, but in the present instance it becomes a double pleasure. We have all kinds of fresh products sent in to us by country customers. We want city people to buy these nice Fresh Eggs, Butter, etc., at lower prices than they can be had elsewhere. Incidentally we give the city the benefit of buying their Groceries retail at wholesale prices—same as we give to our thousands of farmer customers throughout the country. We guarantee all our groceries and household supplies pure. We sell at from 15 to 20 per cent. lower than the retail stores, and we deliver goods free to any part of the city. In this way we are building up a splendid trade.
