THE HALIFAX MORNING POST,
AND PARLIAMENTARY REPORTER.
By H. J. Crosskill, No. 13, Hollis Street, Halifax, N. S.

IT is now four months since the publication of this paper was commenced, and during that short period, it has become established in character and circulation in Nova Scotia and in many portions of New Brunswick.

It transmits regularly, by every mail, to all places in both Provinces, the latest and most important intelligence on all subjects interesting to the Colonies or the Empire at large. Four hours after the arrival of the Cunard Steamers from England there is issued from this office an extraordinary sheet containing the news which is thus sent by the same conveyance that carries the English Mail, to the towns at a distance from the Capital,—to New Brunswick, to Prince Edward Island, and to the United States of America: so that the subscriber to this paper receives the English news, free of extra charge, earlier than it can be obtained through any of the ordinary channels.

NEW BRUNSWICK.—Once every week the Morning Post publishes a letter, replete with wit and information, from a talented correspondent in Saint John—whose graphic sketches of society, and humorous descriptions, are universally admired, while they are increasing the esteem in which the Morning Post is held in New Brunswick, and extending its circulation among her inhabitants.

To furnish a correct Report of the sayings and doings of the Parliament of Nova Scotia, is one of the chief objects of this paper.

Immediately after the close of the Session, the proprietor of the Morning Post will commence the publication of a series of ORIGINAL TALES, POEMS ESSAYS, and SKETCHES,—his desire being to encourage native genius, and to extend and beautify the walks of colonial literature. He trusts that this new and novel feature in the journal under his control, will secure for it as extensive and permanent a circulation, as, it is humbly conceived, a paper on which so much labour is expended, is justly entitled to.

The Morning Post is mailed to country subscribers at the low price of fifteen shillings per annum in advance; or it will be sent to any address, for one year and a half, on the receipt of a pound note in advance,—free of postage.

The Sam Slick papers, third series, are now being republished in the Morning Post.
