been of any moment. It is, however, very evident that though the money in market has been relieved, that relief has been of merely a temporary character.

In the British funds the operations of to day have not worn anything of an important character; they have scarcely supported the buoyancy which distinguished the features of the market yesterday.

The Lyons journals gave a lamentable representation of the state of the town and the working classes in particular. According to these prints, the individuals applying for relief to the charitable institutions, and who in ordinary times, are estimated at 4,000 and 5,000, are now rated at 27,000 intra muros, and those in the Faubourgs of Vaise, La Guillotiere, and Droix Rousse, amount to between 8,000 and 10,000. To supply this starving multitude with bread during the present month, there is no greater sum remaining than 30,000f. or one franc for each person.

A despatch, dated the 17th of March, 1837, has been received by the Right Hon. Viscount Palmerston, G. C. B., his Majesty's principal Secretary of State for foreign affairs, from Henry Canning, Esq. His Majesty's Consul General and Charge D'Affaires at Hamburg, transmitting a law made at Bremen for the prohibition of the Slave Trade.

His Majesty's Government have determined upon relieving the 11th Light dragoons in India, that regiment having embarked for Bengal in February, 1819. The 3d Light dragoons has been selected for this service, and will immediately be brought from Ireland to this country, and be assembled at Canterbury, where they will be equipped for embarkation, (dismounted) to save the enormous expence of transporting the horses of Cork to Bristol; those fit for service will be transferred to the several regiments of Cavalry in Ireland, and the remainder will be sold at auction for the benefit of the public.

FRANCE.

The absorbing topic in the French papers, as well as in the correspondence from France, is the "ministerial crisis. According to the best information several days of negociation had not yet succeeded in reconciling the jarring pretensions of MM. Mole, Guizot, and last, not least, Louis Philippe; and the only thing which admitted of little doubt was, to use the words of the Doctrinarie Journal de Paris, that the administration must undergo some change in order to encounter the approaching important debates in the Chamber of Deputies.

The Governorship of Ceylon, vacant by the resignation of the Right Hon. Sir Robert Wilmot Horton, has been offered to Mr. Stewart Mackenzie, the member for Ross and Cromarty, and accepted by him. The term of Sir Robert Wilmot Horton's government will expire in October next; six years will then have elapsed from his first arrival in Ceylon. We feel sure that his departure from the scene of his labours will be lamented by all who are interested in the welfare of the colony. Mr. Mackenzie is no stranger to the affairs of India, having held the office of a commissioner of the India Board from 1832 to 1834. The salary of the Governor of Ceylon is reduced from £8,000 to £7,000 per annum; no private secretary is allowed him; his staff consist of two A.D.C's. each with a salary of £250 a year.

☞ Several articles intended for this day's Paper are omitted for want of room.

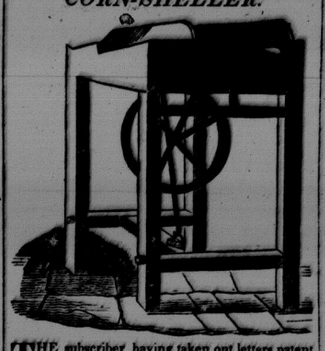
Maxwell's Patent Self-Feeding CORN-SHELLER.



THE subscriber having taken out letters patent from the government of the United States, for the purpose of securing his rights as inventor of this valuable machine for the agriculturist, is now ready to dispose of state county and town rights, on liberal terms, and of single machines, adapted to horse or other power, or to the hand, as may best suit the interest or convenience of persons needing the article.

Two sizes are manufactured: a large one, calculated for power; and a smaller, designed for the hand. They are entirely different from any Corn Sheller heretofore known, and being contracted with great simplicity and durability, are not liable to get out of repair—an important consideration.

The large machine, driven with power, is capable of shelling, in a superior manner, 500 bushels in a day, acting on twelve ears at once. It is only necessary to keep the hopper supplied, but of no consequence how promiscuously the ears are thrown in, as it feeds itself with regularity and precision. Thus one man may easily attend several machines; and in case the corn is deposited in an upper loft, and the sheller on a lower floor, with a feeding trough of proper dimensions, it might run for hours without any attention. The machine is compact, occupies but small space, and requires but little power.

The small machine, intended to be worked with the hand, shells three ears at once, feeding itself, &c. in the same manner as the large one. A more minute description of both is deemed unnecessary, as purchasers are invited to, and no doubt will, examine for themselves.

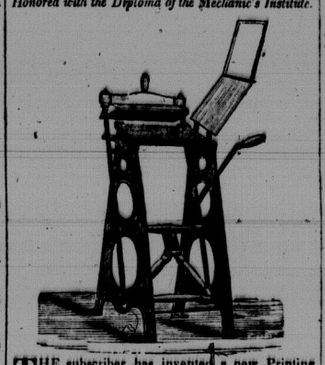
The prices are fixed at the lowest rate, $50 for the large, and $20 for the small sheller, the inventor relying on extensive sales for a fair remuneration.

Letters desiring information may be addressed, (post paid,) to J. MAXWELL, Machinist and Draftsman, 259 Bowery, New York.

☞ J. M. refers to the separate handbill of each, for description of the following: Improved Thrashing Machine, Maxwell's Patent Washing machine, improved Straw and Leghorn Press, and several other machines. New-York, May 1, 1837.

Maxwell's Patent Job Printing PRESS.

Honored with the Diploma of the Mechanic's Institute.



THE subscriber has invented a new Printing Press, which is considered a valuable economical addition to a Job Office, combining simplicity of construction and durability with speed and excellence in its performance.

He manufactures 3 sizes of the Job Press No. 1, intended for cards, at $30; No. 2, to print a surface of 14 inches by 9, at $50; No. 3, to print a foolscap sheet, at $75. Printers are invited to examine the invention for themselves.

J. M. continues to make, on the most approved principles and construction, all kinds of Machinery connected with Agriculture the Arts, &c. He invites the attention of the public to the following Machines, which may be seen at his establishment, 259 Bowery, the limits of an advertisment forbidding a detailed description:

Maxwell's Patent Self-Feeding Corn Sheller, of several sizes, calculated for power or the hand—probably the most superior article of the kind known, excellent as many of its competitors are.

Improved Thrashing Machine, which delivers at least one sixth more grain from the straw than the best machines now in general use.

Improved straw and Leghorn Presses, of various descriptions and prices. Milliners will find a variety of improvements in these Presses, that render them much more advantageous than the old ones.

Sugar Breakers, for the use of Grocers. This article is of an improved construction, with two cast iron cylinders, a fly wheel, &c. The price is now reduced to thirty-five dollars.

Maxwell's Patent Washing Machines, combining a number of advantages not heretofore attempted in similar machines.

Lithographic Presses, &c. &c. made to order.

The undersigned will dispose of Rights, in his various Patents, for towns or Counties, on liberal terms. For further information, inquire of—if by letter, post paid—
