NEW FLAVORINGS.

THE great success of fine cookery of all kinds consists in the delicate and careful use of seasonings—in the mingling of tastes well joined.

A generation ago almost the only flavorings known in sweet cookery were Vanilla, Lemon, Almond, Nutmeg and Cinnamon. Today there are many dainty new flavorings, and the coarser spices are little used in delicate cookery. but are reserved for rich puddings and for savory dishes of meats and other places where they more properly belong.

The juices of various fruits, such as Apricot, Banana, Cherry, Limes, Orange, Pineapple, Pear, Peach, Raspberry, Strawberry, also Coffee and Rose have been added to the list of flavors in the last few years. Vanilla remains in use, as it has been for over a century. Lemon flavoring is not so much used as formerly, although there is always something of a popular fancy in this matter, and it will always remain a delicate and refreshing flavor for ice creams and cold desserts, but is not so well adapted for hot deserts as some of the above flavors. Coffee is one of the most delicious of the new flavorings; it may be used in custards, ice cream and charlotte russe. Essence of Limes makes a delicious flavoring for the icing of cake, as does also our Water-White Vanilla, for which it is especially adapted on account of its being perfectly pure and colorless.

Below we give a list of our Flavoring Extracts, all of which possess in a remarkable degree the true flavor of the fruits and spices from which they are compounded and are so highly concentrated that a very small quantity need only be used, and housekeepers will consult their own interests by insisting that their grocers furnish them with

SYDNEY, C. B.

[PROGRESS is for sale in Sydney by John McKenzie and G. J. McKinnon.]

JUNE 13.—One of the prettiest weddings that has been in Sydney for some time took place this morning. Miss Ella Muriel McGillivary, second daughter of Dr. A. D. McGillivary, was led to the altar by Mr. Harrison Clifford Beveon, of Webster, N. S. The marriage took place in Falmouth street church, and long before 11 o'clock the church was filled, with the exception of the seats reserved for the guests. The church was beautifully decorated by the bride's girl friends. Two arches were erected over the aisle, composed of cherry and wild pear blossoms. Hanging over the door by which the bridal party passed out was a horseshoe of wild flowers. The platform and pulpit were one mass of flowers. Bunches of wild pear separated the guests' seats from those of the congregation. The bride entered the church leaning on the arm of her father, and looked very pretty in a bridal gown of pearl white satin and carried a bouquet of bridal roses; the long tulle veil was thrown back off her face. She was attended by her sisters, Miss Alice and Miss Nina McGillivary, the former wearing pale pink silk, trimmed with heliotrope, and hat to match, the latter pale green nun's veiling. Mr. Mr. A. A. McKay, of Halifax, acted as best man, while Mr. Bruce Ingraham, Mr. H. Campbell, Mr. E. McPherson, Mr. B. McLeod, were the ushers. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. B. Rankine. The choir sang a wedding hymn. After the ceremony a reception was held at the Sydney hotel. The bride's travelling gown was blue, with hat to match Among the guests were Dr. and Mrs. McGillivary, Ven. Archdeacon and Mrs. Smith, Judge and Miss Dodd, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Rigby, Mr. and Mrs. F. Mosely, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Hearn, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Mosely, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. McKean, Mrs. Crowe, Miss Weeks, Mrs. George Donkin (Truro), Mr. W. Crowe, Mr. D. J. McDonald. CHERRY RIPE.
