THE RAILWAY.

The silent glen, the sunless stream,
To wandering boyhood dear,
And treasured still in many a dream,
They are no longer here;
A huge red mound of earth is thrown
Across the glen so wild and lone,
The stream so cold and clear;
And lightning speed and thundering sound
Pass hourly o'er the unsightly mound.

Nor this alone, for many a mile
Along that iron way,
No verdant bank or hedgerow's smile
In summer's glory gay;
Thro' chasms that yawn as though the earth
Were rent in some strange mountain-birth,
Whose depth exclude the day,
We're borne away at headlong pace,
To win from Time the wearying race.

The wayside inn, with homelike air,
No longer tempts a guest
To taste the unpretending fare,
Or seek its welcome rest.
The prancing team, the merry horn,
The cool fresh road at early morn,
The coachman's ready jest;
All, all to distant dream land gone,
While shrieking trains are hurrying on.

Yet greet we them with thankful hearts,
And eyes that own no tear,
'Tis nothing now, the space which parts
The distant from the dear;
The wing that to her cherished nest
Bears home the exulting breast,
Has found its rival here.
With speed like hers we too can haste,
The bliss of meeting hearts to taste.

For me, I gaze along the line
To watch the approaching train,
And deem it still, 'twixt me and mine,
A rude but welcome chain
To bind us in a world, whose ties
Each passing hour to sever tries,
But here may try in vain;
To bring us near home many an art,
Stern Fate employs to keep apart.

CARMINA LAUDIS.

BY ANNA M. D. M'COY.

How dear to me those songs divine,
That from my fancy I've heard!
Sweet memories cluster round each line
And sacred peace flows from each word.

Alike when blessings fill my cup,
Or when I feel the chastening rod,
That song shall still inspire my hope
Of "all thy mercies, O my God."

Should, one by one my dear loved friends
Forget or act a treacherous part—
Sing, for sweet peace and music lends,
"Give me a calm a thankful heart."

And when my heart its coldness mourns,
Its vile ingratitude to God—
Sing, till with holy zeal it burns,
Of that blest "fountain filled with blood."

If, lured by folly's glittering snare,
I, careless tread the downward road,
Sing, till my soul joins in the prayer,
"O for a closer walk with God!"

When standing by the graves of those
Whose love we prized, whose loss we weep
Sing of their calm, their sweet repose,
"Asleep in Jesus! blessed sleep!"

And when my dying hour shall come,
Sing to me, o'er and o'er again,
Of that bright "land" beyond the tomb,
"Where rests no shadow, falls no stain."

Then may I hear the angel's song,
And, sweeter still, my Saviour's voice
Welcome me with the ransomed throng,
To share in heaven's eternal joys.

VARIETY.

THE SATURDAY HALF-HOLIDAY.—ITS BEARING ON SUNDAY REST.—Mr John Robert Taylor, law-stationer, in a letter in the Daily News, says:—In my own business of a law-stationer, there are, in term time and the busy portion of the year, upwards of five hundred law writers employed on Sundays, through the want of a Saturday half-holiday. If solicitors closed their offices at two o'clock on Saturdays, the work required to be done for the law and equity courts by the following Monday morning would reach the law-stationer by one or two o'clock, or earlier, on Saturday, and could be divided in the trade, and executed the same afternoon, and thus prevent the necessity of desecrating the Sabbath. It has often occurred to me that when the judges of the realm visit Saint Paul's Cathedral, accompanied by the Lord Mayor and civic authorities on the first Sunday in every term they can scarcely be aware of the large amount of Sabbath desecration committed by one of the branches of the legal tree. Every day's experience proves that the human mind is taxed beyond its power of endurance, resulting in insanity and a vast train of evils. Only a week ago I attended an inquest on the body of a Chancery barrister, who died suddenly of a diseased heart, and it turned out in evidence that he had been worked very hard in a very important cause, and was at times much excited, which no doubt accelerated his death. As foreman of the jury, I commented upon the prevalence of this disease, and stated my impression that in these competitive times a man does as much work in ten years as he formerly did in his whole term of life. The worthy coroner, Mr. Wakely, replied that the disease of the heart was frightfully on the increase, especially among members of the legal profession, and that he had scores upon scores of similar cases. I then urged the necessity of the above movement, when Mr. Wakely replied that he considered it ought to be a whole holiday on Saturday."

MANNERS.—I make it a point of morality never to find fault with another for his manners. They may be awkward or graceful, blunt or polite, polished or rustic. I care not what they are, if the man means well and acts from honest intentions without eccentricity or affectation. All men have not the advantage of "good society," as it is called, to school themselves in its fantastic rules and ceremonies, and if there is any standard of manners, it is one founded in reason and good sense, and not upon these artificial regulations. Manners, like conversation, should be extemporaneous, and not studied. I always suspect a man who meets me with the same congeeing of the body, and the same premeditated shake of the hand. Give me the—it may be rough—grip, of the hand, the careless nod of recognition, and when occasion requires, the homely but welcome salutation—"How are you my old friend!"

Among the wounded at the storming of Sebastopol, was a musician who received a shot in the knee, and was under the necessity of having his leg amputated in consequence. As usual, preparations were made for binding him down, so that he might not be able to move. "What are you doing, doctor?" inquired the wounded man. "I must take off your leg, and it is necessary that you should be bound down," replied the doctor. "I will never consent to such a proceeding," exclaimed the musician "You may tear my heart from my breast, but I will not consent to be bound down. If you have a violin, bring it to me." A violin was brought. After tuning it the wounded man said:—"Now, doctor, you may begin." The operation, which lasted about thirty minutes, now commenced, and the patient played his violin the whole time without a single false note, or the slightest change in his features.

He who neglects advertising, not only robs himself of his fair advantages, but bestows the spoils on his wiser rivals.

The Subscriber having been appointed Agent to the above Company for New-Brunswick, begs to announce that he is prepared to receive Proposals for FIRE AND LIFE ASSURANCE. The large Capital of the Company, and the number and influence of its Proprietors, enable it to rank with the most eligible Offices, either in America or Europe, with respect to the advantages offered to the Public.

FIRE BRANCH.

Persons Assured by this Company are not subject to any covenants or calls to make good losses which may happen to themselves or other, nor do they depend on any uncertain fund or contribution, the Capital Stock of this Company being an unquestionable security to the Assured in case of Loss or Damage by Fire.

LIFE BRANCH.

In addition to the more customary methods of Insurance, the Company likewise Assures Lives on any of the following contingencies:—

For the terms of One Year, Seven Years, or any other definite period.

For the whole continuance of life—The Premiums to cease, after a limited number of Annual Payments.

For Two Joint Lives.—The sum assured to be paid on the death of either.

On the longest of Two or Three Lives.—The sum assured to be payable at the death of the last survivor; or,

The Survivorships.—To secure the payment of the sum assured, if a life A die before another life B.

For a sum to be payable at age 60, or at death.

Premiums on Credit.—A portion of the Premiums on Credit. Assurances may be effected in various ways, not enumerated, to meet the convenience of parties.

The important advantages afforded by the Company in the Life Branch will include the following viz:—

The Guarantee of an ample Capital, and Exemption of the Assured from liability of Partnership.

Moderate Premiums.

Large Participation of Profits by the Assured amounting to Two-thirds of its net amount, which may be applied at the option of the party effecting the Assurance:—1st. By the immediate payment of the sum so apportioned.—2nd. By an equivalent increase of the sum assured.

Small Charge for Management.—The expenses of the Office being borne in due proportion by the two Branches.

Prompt Settlement of Claims.

Policies lapsed by non-payment of the Premium may be renewed within three months, by paying the premium, with a fine of 10s. per cent., on the production of evidence to the satisfaction of the Directors of the good health of the life assured.

The Company will always be prepared to Purchase the Policies of this Office at their equitable value or will grant a New Policy in lieu thereo without any further payment of Premium, for a sum to be agreed on.

Extra Premiums, suitable to special circumstances, will be accepted to enable a party possessing a Policy on the life of another to guard against the possibility of its being vitiated by the Life departing beyond limits, or by any other cause.

Thirty Days are allowed for the Payment of Premiums after the day on which they respectively

Additional Advantages offered to Lives Assured with this Company at St. John, N. B.

I.—RESIDENCE.—Persons assured for the whole term of life will have permission, without the payment of extra Premium, to reside in any part of Europe, or in any place in North America to the north of 38 degrees of North Latitude, but not to the westward of the Mississippi River.

II. VOYAGES.—They will also, if not seafaring by profession, be allowed, without any extra charge—

To cross and re-cross the Atlantic Ocean, in steamers or first class sailing-vessels;

To pass from any part of Europe to any other, or from any part of North America to another, within the limits above specified; also,

To pass to and from, but not to reside in any place which shall not be further south than 35 degrees of North Latitude, but not to the westward of the Mississippi River.

Keating's Cough Lozenges.

A certain remedy for disorders of the Pulmonary Organs; in difficulty of Breathing—in redundancy of Phlegm—in incipent CONSUMPTION (of which Cough is the most positive indication) they are of unerring efficacy. In ASTHMA, and in WINTER COUGH, they have never been known to fail.

Keatings' Cough Lozenges are free from every deleterious ingredient; they may, therefore be taken at all times BY THE MOST DELICATE FEMALE AND BY THE YOUNGEST CHILD; while the PUBLIC SPEAKER and the PROFESSIONAL SINGER will find them invaluable in allaying the hoarseness and irritation incidental to vocal exertion, and consequently a powerful auxiliary in the production of MELODIOUS ENUNCIATION.

Prepared and sold in Boxes, and Tins of various sizes, by THOMAS KEATING, Chemist, &c., No. 79, St. Paul's Church Yard, London. Sold Retail by all Druggists and Patent Medicine Venders in the World.

N. B.—To prevent spurious imitations, please to observe that the words "KEATING'S COUGH LOZENGES" are engraved on the Government Stamp of each box, without which none are genuine.

IMPORTANT TESTIMONIAL.

Copy of a Letter from the late COLONEL HAWKER, (the well-known Author on "GUNS AND SHOOTING,"

Longparish House, near Whitchurch, Hants, October 21st, 1846.

SIR,—I cannot resist informing you of the extraordinary effect I have experienced by taking only a few of your LOZENGES. I had a cough for several weeks, that defied all that had been prescribed for me; and yet I got completely rid of it by taking about half a small box of your Lozenges which I find are the only ones that relieve the cough without deranging the stomach or digestive organs.

I am, Sir, your humble servant,
P. HAWKER.

YOUNG'S BOARDING HOUSE,
NEAR THE KING'S SQUARE.

THE Subscriber wishes to inform the public that he has moved to the premises formerly occupied by J. K. CAMPBELL, nearly opposite Country Market, which he has fitted and furnished in a superior manner, and where the best of attention will be paid to all who may favour him with a call.

N.B.—The Stabling attached to the premises need no comment, being the best in the City, with careful grooms always in attendance.

DANDALION COFFEE.
A Novelty! A Rarity!! A Luxury!!

THE virtues of DANDALION have long been held in high estimation, but the difficulty of obtaining it in all seasons of the year, has impeded the wishes of the public in extending and promoting its more general use.

The above preparation is therefore offered to the public with confidence, as possessing all the properties of the plant, and when used according to direction, it forms a most agreeable drink. It is also used to improve the flavour of Coffee and Cocoa. Sold in packets at 1s. 9d. and 3s. 6d. sterling, by FELLOWS & CO.,
July 26. Opposite lower end Market-street

Dr. Nevile's Invigorating Balm.

THIS admirable preparation is the most effectual remedy known for Baldness and falling off of the Hair, giving it a rich glossy appearance, unequalled by anything of the kind. It contains no alcohol or alkaline substance, (as all the washes do which are now used,) and will restore the natural colour after those articles have deprived the hair of it. We can defet enquirers to persons, both old and young, many of them who have been bald several years, and have had their hair stored by this preparation. It acts by assisting nature and will in no way prove injurious. Prepared and Sold by FELLOWS & CO.
Germain-street.
October 5. opposite west end of country M'kt.

THE HORSE,
In Health and Disease.

THE Subscriber begs to intimate to his friends and the Public generally that he is prepared to give his entire attention to all matters relating to the Purchase, Sale, and Treatment in Disease, of Horses entrusted to his charge. He does not arrogate to himself (as others have done) the sole right and qualification to give advice and administer Medicines in Veterinary cases, but simply refers to his many years experience and to the multitude of successful cases which have been confided to his care by the leading men of St. John and its vicinity.

ROLAND BUNTING, VETERINARIAN.
