LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—Our new story begins in to-day's issue.

—The Canada Pacific Railway passenger time table will be changed on Nov. 24.

—To-night the London Board of Trade meets to consider the municipal elections.

—Two cents for the WESTERN ADVERTISER containing an account of the Birchall hanging.

—Four drunks were the only individuals requiring the Police Magistrate's attention this morning.

—Mr. Charles Hunt, of Hunt Bros., has returned from a trip to the old country, greatly benefited thereby.

—Mr. R. M. Gubbins who has been teaching school near Glencoe, has returned to Western University, this city.

—Remember the Saturday night temperance mass meeting in Victoria Hall, at 8 o'clock, when Rev. Mr. Talling will be the principal speaker.

—Rev. Mr. Tolmie, of Brantford, will preach the anniversary sermons of the King Street Presbyterian Church next Sunday. He exchanges pulpits with the pastor, Rev. W. M. Roger.

—Mr. Peter Carling, of Ingersoll, who was asphyxiated by gas in the Huron Hotel on Wednesday morning, recovered consciousness yesterday. The doctors were obliged to bleed him liberally.

—A full account of the hanging of Birchall, with a review of the murder in Blenheim swamp as published in this week's WESTERN ADVERTISER, can now be obtained from the counting-room and from newsdealers.

In Maisonville vs. Ellis, at Osgoode Hall yesterday, counsel for the plaintiff moved for an order for the examination of a witness at London, who resides in Detroit and is about to go south for the winter. Order made. Costs in the cause.

—The "Y's" held their regular semi-monthly meeting yesterday afternoon in their rooms, Nitschke Block, when a Bible reading was given by one of its members and the subject discussed by all present. Some business was then attended to and new members received.

—At the monthly meeting of St. George's Society a committee was appointed to draft a letter of condolence with the family of the late Josiah Blackburn, who was one of the oldest life members of the society. The President and Secretary were instructed to call a special meeting of the society to attend the funeral in a body.

—Further argument was heard by Mr. Justice Rose at Osgoode Hall yesterday in the St. George accident cases—Knight and others vs. the Grand Trunk Railway Company—upon certain questions arising upon the judgment delivered by the learned judge in September last. Judgment was reserved.

—It will be seen by an advertisement in another column that the Equitable Assurance Society of New York has opened an office in this city, with Mr. P. B. Owens as manager of the district. The very high character of this company, together with the well-known ability of Mr. Owens as a life insurance expert, will no doubt lead to a large business in Western Ontario. Read the advertisement.

—The WESTERN ADVERTISER for this week is now on sale at the counting-room and by newsdealers throughout Ontario for 2 cents. Buy a copy and send to your friends. It contains a full account of the execution of Birchall.

—At the meeting of No. 2 Committee last evening a letter was read from Mr. M. Shea, complaining that he had delivered 100 loads of screened gravel on Maitland street and 50 on Adelaide, and had been paid as unscreened. The communication was filed. A doctor's bill of $46 was inclosed with Mrs. Donohue's claim. It was recommended that the committee be given power to deal with it. There were present Ald. Jones (chairman), Wyatt and Thomas, City Engineer Tracy, Secretary Graydon and Commissioner Owens.

—The death of Mr. Hugh F. McCallum, well known in this city, occurred at Ailsa Craig this week. He had accidentally fallen against the railing of the stairway in the hotel at which he was stopping, and bruised his face considerably. The wound was not serious in itself, but erysipelas set in and his death speedily followed. He had a fixed income of about $3,000 a year, and spent his time leisurely with cousins in East Williams and Ailsa Craig, to which place he came a few years ago from Philadelphia, where his brother and sister, sole surviving members of the family, reside.

Last night, Right Worthy Bro. A. B. Munson, D.D.G.M., London district, A. F. and A. M., paid an official visit to St. John's Lodge, 209a, and was received with all the honors due to his exalted position by the officers and members and visiting brethren. The D. D. G. M. was introduced to the lodge by Right Wor. Bros. J. S. Dewar and G. C. Davis, and was tendered a cordial welcome by the W. M., Wor. Bro. Carruthers. Among other leading members of the craft present were: Wor. Bros. E. Paul, A. G. Smyth and J. D. Clarke, Tuscan Lodge; George Elliott, St. John's, No. 20; G. W. Francis and Dr. J. B. After the able exemplification of the mysterious rites and ceremonies by the Wor. W. M. and his officers, an adjournment was made to the banquetting hall, where the visitors were entertained right royally, and the usual toasts, with musical accompaniment, were given and responded to.

A Pleasant Event.

The "at home" given in the manse of St. James' Presbyterian Church last evening by Mrs. and the Misses McEwen was a decided success. By 8 o'clock the spacious parlors, halls and stairs were crowded, and standing room only could be obtained. Plenty of good eatables were served by the ladies of the manse in the dining-room, and were heartily partaken of, after which a large collection was taken up. Rev. M. P. Talling acted as chairman, and by his genial manner had everybody feeling just at home. As well as being a congregational reunion, it was a Presbyterian ministerial reunion, Revs. J. A. Murray, J. Ballantyne, W. M. Roger, W. J. Clarke and M. Gordon being among the guests. The programme was carried out in fine style, and several encores were responded to. Mr. Charles Wheeler, of St. Andrew's Church, and Miss E. Summers acted as accompanists. Following was the programme: Instrumental solo, Miss Gordon; solo, Mr. W. J. Crone; solo, Miss Mutch; reading, Miss Gray; solo, Miss Gilmour; reading, Miss Boon; duet, Mr. and Mrs. Watt; solo, Mrs. Cooper; solo, Mrs. Colwell; reading, Miss Cannell; solo, Mr. R. Morrison; solo, Mrs. Cooper.

The Sewage Suit.

County Crown Attorney Hutchinson has received intimation of the staying of proceedings by the Attorney-General in the suit regarding the pollution of the River Thames with sewage. A copy of the following letter to the City Solicitor was inclosed and explains the Attorney-General's action:

TORONTO, Nov. 11, 1890.

The Queen vs. London:

MY DEAR MR. MEREDITH,—I have your note of yesterday. The Government are of opinion that it is quite impossible to treat as worthless the judgment of the court and the reports of the Provincial Board of Health. But we are desirious of relieving the city as far as may appear to us to be consistent with our public duty. As the work suggested in the report of the Local Board of Health, and agreed to by the resolution of the City Council is considered by the Council to be such as to afford the parties complaining substantial relief from the nuisance as it affects them. The court will direct the stay of proceedings pending this experimental work provided that the work is in good faith entered upon immediately and proceeded with to completion with reasonable diligence. We charge that in such case the action of the Council under all the circumstances be favorably considered in case the complaining parties are not satisfied. Yours truly,

(Signed) O. MOWAT.

Revisits the Land of His Birth.

The St. Johns, Newfoundland, Evening Telegram, has the following item regarding Rev. Dr. Thompson, of London township, well known in this city: "In the list of passengers hence by the Allan steamship Nova Scotian will be observed the name of the Rev. G. J. A. Thompson, B.D., Ph.D., who, after an absence of nearly six years, has been spending a vacation of a few weeks in his native land. The reverend gentleman is a son of Mr. W. H. Thompson, of Harbor Grace, where most of his spare time since his arrival has been spent with his parents and immediate friends. Since completing his course with honors two years ago he has been the pastor of Bethel Presbyterian Church, London township, Ontario, where he has done faithful service in his own quiet, unostentatious way. Mr. Thompson since his brief sojourn among us has not been idle. He has preached twice every Sunday—six times in this city in different churches, twice in Harbor Grace, once in Carbonear and once at Heart's Content. He is an interesting and cultured speaker, with a fine rich voice, a faultless articulation and a very pleasing manner. In leaving his island home for his new-made home in Ontario, he takes with him the good wishes of hundreds of admiring friends and fellow-countrymen."

Little Workers at Work.

The Little Workers connected with the Memorial Church certainly demonstrated last evening that there is nothing small about them when it comes to providing a good entertainment. The commodious school room of the church was tastefully decorated in honor of the occasion, and was crowded to the doors with parents and friends, most of whom had a personal interest in the performance. Canon Richardson, the chairman, made a few opening remarks asking the sparing criticism of the audience in their first attempt at any similar thing. The programme commenced with a march into the school room by the brightly dressed Little Workers, with the letters "L. W." inscribed on their dress fronts, and a song chorus, "Childhood Pleasures." A well executed instrumental by Mr. A. Lawrason was followed by a clever recital by Miss Annie Wilkins. The "Herbert's Mountain Home" received a pleasant rendition from the children. A piano solo was given by Miss Owens and an amusing reading by Col. Smith, called "Prodger's Performances." Recitations, dialogues and musical exercises were rendered by Misses Helen Richardson, Pearl Marsh, May Wilkins, Amy Dinzey, Violet Towers, L. Justice, Flossie Barnard and Clara Burton. An enjoyable feature of the evening was a cornet duet by Bugle Major Fisher and Private Wheatley, of "D" Company band. Mrs. Boomer concluded with a reading. The whole affair was conducted by Misses Penney, whose painstaking efforts were well rewarded by the admirable entertainment.
