

AFFLICTED SEE FAMOUS SHRINE

Huge Procession Through Cathedral Grounds During Celebration

AN IMPRESSIVE SCENE
Nearly Every Canadian Town and American State Represented

QUEBEC, July 29.—An impressive part of the celebration of the Feast of St. Anne at the famous shrine of Beauséjour was the huge procession held through the cathedral grounds of the cathedral with the participants carrying lighted wax tapers.

The sight of the afflicted, among them many stretcher cases, paralyzed men, women, and children in wheel chairs, children who had not walked from their infancy carried in the arms of grief-stricken parents was unforgettable. Many members of religious orders were present who knelt in rapt attention and the patient demeanor of a nun seated in a wheel chair attracted much attention.

Some of the sufferers had traveled nearly one thousand miles in spite of heat conditions. One crippled boy from western Ontario was wheeled about by his father. The man belonging to the humble class of life and had come to the shrine in spite of the great expense and the difficulty of caring for his little invalid. The boy was his only child.

An object lesson
A young girl entirely paralyzed and blind was borne on a stretcher which, during the services, was placed in the nave near the great relic. Attended by her devoted parents she had come from a distant American town. The deep faith of the stricken girl was an object lesson to the many hundreds who gathered around her during the day for although her cure had not been effected following the great procession for hours afterwards she was still in the church, her lips moving in prayer.

The vast crowd was composed of many nationalities and nearly every Canadian town and American state was represented. One large party from Omaha, Nebraska, a group of business women from Philadelphia were at the shrine while Massachusetts was well represented by a large motoring party. Tourists from New Orleans, Baltimore, and New York were numerous. Western Ontario had a large quota as well as the prairie provinces.

Perhaps Quebec had the honor of claiming the veteran pilgrim, for an old resident of the city stated that was her fiftieth pilgrimage to the shrine of the feast. She had kept up the practice since the age of seventeen.

Wind on Friday night might have done damage to the old land nearly blown down.

WILL FIND OUT IF CHILD LIVED

Inquest Into Circumstances Surrounding Discovery in Trunk Was Begun

ADJOURNED TILL 8TH AUG.
Dr. Wallbridge Instrumental in Aiding Police in Case—Jury Was Chosen

Only formal evidence was offered at the opening of the inquest on Thursday afternoon at Tickle's morgue into the death of the child whose body was found in an upstairs room of a Belleville residence.

Coroner Dr. Boyce outlined the story of the occurrence as known to the authorities. It might be at least a case of concealment. Time would be required in order to find out whether the child had actually lived. This would mean an autopsy and the jury decided to have two doctors perform the postmortem one to assist Dr. Wallbridge, whose attendance in the case led to the discovery and who was with the police when the discovery was made.

The jury after viewing the body in company with the coroner and Dr. Wallbridge, heard the evidence of Detective Sergeant Truhsch as to the finding of the dead babe in a trunk.

An adjournment was made until August 8th to permit the crown authorities to investigate and secure attendance of witnesses.

PREFERS VICTORIAN WOMAN

Better Be Dull Than Fast, Says English Bishop

"The Victorian woman," the Bishop continued, "although she might at times have been a little dull and even dowdy, was in many respects preferable to her successor. CANADA CLUB HONORS BYNG

Duke of Connaught Presides at Farewell Banquet to Governor-General

DEVONSHIRE'S MESSAGE
Could Wish Nothing Better for Successor Than his Own Experience

LONDON, July 29.—The Duke of Connaught presided at a dinner last night tendered by the Canada Club to Lord Byng, the new Governor-General of the Dominion of Canada, who sails from Liverpool on August 4th.

In proposing the toast to His Excellency, the chairman read a message from the Duke of Devonshire, the late Governor-General, wishing his successor an experience in Canada as happy as his own had been.

Lord Byng, responding, declared that if Canada as a whole extended to him the same spirit as the Canadian Army Corps in France did while he was its commander, he could readily hope that his tenure of office as representative of the King in the Dominion would be successful. If he should prove a failure in the important office he would not be because of any lack of affection on his part for the men of the Great Dominion, whom he had been proud to lead in the war.

Lord Byng concluded by paying a specially complimentary tribute to General Sir Arthur Currie, who succeeded him as commander of the Canadian Army Corps.

ASSESSMENT YEAR PREVIOUS; FAULTS IN PRESENT SYSTEM

Mr. W. C. Mikel in an Interview Suggests Why Spring is Poor Time to Make Assessment and Fall Poor Time to Pay Taxes.

Discussion of the assessment of the City of Belleville is a live issue, and many suggestions have been made. Mr. W. C. Mikel who was seen by The Ontario Post, offered the opinion that it would be wise to take the assessment in the year previous to that in which taxes are levied.

"By section 50 of the Assessment Act," said Mr. Mikel, the assessor begins his Assessment not later than February 15th and must complete it by April 30th. This system has two important defects: First, if a house to house assessment is needed, it must be done in the coldest and stormiest season which rather encourages the making of assessments in the Assessor's Office. Second, the collection of taxes under this system cannot be started much before November, necessitating the borrowing of money by the City or often months and compounding the taxpayer to dig up his money when his heaviest burdens of the year have to be met, namely, fuel and winter clothing.

"The Council can under section 56 have the assessment made the Fall before, namely, between May 1st and September 30th, all appeals being completed by December 15th, so that when the new Council takes office in January the members know exactly the amount of the assessment upon which the rate is to be struck, and can proceed to strike the rate almost at once."

Among the advantages were these pointed out by Mr. Mikel:

"The collection of taxes under the latter system could be commenced by June. This would enable the Council under section 108 to divide the taxes into five or six instalments making it very much easier for the taxpayer as well as enabling the City to use the tax money instead of borrowing from the Bank. As our Tax Bills will be heavier from now on, anything that will soften the blow might well be put in operation."

Mr. Smith-Wilkinson, several years her junior, formerly was plain Mr. Smith.

They dazled Paris.

When she entered the Claridge dining-room, Paris stood on its dining chairs and called upon its sacred pigs.

Then she returned to her home town, Nottingham, prepared to go to New York and take everything with her.

"I'm a self-made woman and I can't afford to do it," she told the "Times" Press in an interview. "I've got to be a success."
