DETAIN SISTER TO HELP SOLVE TRUNK MURDER

Body of Miss Tabor, Teacher, Preserved in Salt in Trunk Three Years.

SEARCH CONTINUES

Classmates at U. of M. in 1900 Say Dead Woman Was Brilliant Student.

Lawton, Mich., Dec. 2.—Mrs. Florence Critchlow, sister of Miss Maude Tabor, teacher of languages and graduate of the University of Michigan whose body, preserved in salt, was found in a trunk in the Tabor home Sunday, was taken into custody Monday and removed to Paw Paw, for further questioning in connection with the mysterious slaying of her sister.

Mrs. Critchlow was detained on orders of Prosecutor H. H. Adams, after she had refused to give any details which might aid the authorities in their search for the slayer of the school teacher, who had been missing for the last three years.

Nature of Death Unknown.

Search is still being made for Mrs. Lester Tabor, and Walter Tabor, mother and brother of the murdered woman, who are believed to be in the west, and who may be able to help solve the mystery, also for a former friend.

Examination of the body has failed so far to reveal the nature of her death, it is declared, beyond the fact that the nose and face seem more decomposed than other parts of the body, which probably was crammed into the trunk with salt at least three years ago.

U. of M. Graduate in 1900.

No bones were found broken, but the condition of the nose indicates the possibility the woman might have been felled by a blow in the face. Physicians also claim to have found evidence that the victim was about to become a mother at the time of her death.

Miss Tabor received her Ph. B. degree at the University of Michigan in 1900. Search for her former classmates today has revealed only three, all residents of Ann Arbor. They remember little about her except that she was a brilliant student, her work in the languages having been conspicuous. The last records of the University of Michigan list her as a teacher in Ogden, Utah, in 1911.

Sought Guardian for Mother.

Mrs. Critchlow and her dead sister were daughters of the late L. A. Tabor, one of the best-known lawyers in South western Michigan up to the time of his death seven years ago. Miss Tabor spoke several languages fluently and had been an instructor in modern languages in a number of Michigan schools, including the Vine street grade school in Kalamazoo. There she roomed with her mother at the home of Mrs. Minnie Hueston, 821 South Rose street, until the spring of 1915.

Attorney Lincoln Titus of Kalamazoo, a close personal friend of the late L. A. Tabor and intimate with the Tabor family for 25 years, said:

"Shortly after Mr. Tabor's death, the daughter, Florence Critchlow, brought suit into court to have her mother adjudged incompetent and to have a guardian appointed over her. Maude Tabor, the murdered woman, stood by her mother in the trouble, and assisted her in the defence. I and many other attorney acquaintances of Mr. Tabor offered our legal assistance to the mother. The case, however, was dismissed at the hearing.

Disappearance Was Mystery.

"Mr. Tabor's property was never probated. He had it fixed in such a way that the mother received income from the property.

"Miss Maude taught school in the west several years before her father's death, but returned to attend his funeral. After that she remained at home with her mother, sister and brother until her disappearance about three years ago. Since that time, I have frequently asked Lawton acquaintances concerning the Tabor family. Lawtonites always told me the same story, that Maude disappeared, and was supposed to have died in the west. Lawton seemed in the dark, however, as to the facts concerning the death, and the incident was considered somewhat of a mystery at that time.

SUFFERED WITH BOILS LAST 5 YEARS

Boils are simply a breaking out of bad blood, and anyone who has suffered from them, knows how sick and miserable they make you feel. Just when you think you are cured of one, another seems ready to take its place and prolong your misery. All the poulticing and lancing you can do will not get rid of them.

While the skin appears to be the cause of the irritation, the real disease is rooted in the blood, and to get rid of those painful pests it is necessary to get right at the seat of the trouble.

When the blood is purified, cleansed and vitalized, by Burdock Blood Bitters, the boils will quickly disappear, your misery is at an end, and health and strength come back again.

Mr. Robt. Johnson, Barkway, Ont., writes: "I have suffered very much, during the last five years from boils, having as many as five at once. I tried different remedies without any relief. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters, which I did, and after taking just one bottle I have had no more boils."

B. B. B. has been on the market for over 40 years, and is manufactured only by the T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

REORGANIZATION OF DISTRICT MILITIA UNITS DISCUSSED

Officers Favor Retention of Old C. E. F. Units.

REPORT GOES TO OTTAWA

Maj.-Gen. Sir William D. Otter Discusses Plans With District Officers.

Major-General Sir William D. Otter, C.B., C.V.O., head of the commission for the reorganization of the Canadian active militia, with his personal staff, Brig.-Gen. H. A. Panet, C.M.G., D.S.O., the G. O. C. of Military District No. 1, the headquarters staff of the district and the commanding officers or the representative officers of all of the militia regiments in the district, met in the Armories here yesterday afternoon, when a long discussion concerning the reorganization of the district militia units was held. The session was for the purpose of ascertaining the most popular scheme, through the suggestions of the assembled officers, upon which to base the future work of organization and which will materially assist Gen. Otter and his staff.

Before leaving, Gen. Otter thanked the officers for the valuable suggestions which they had submitted, and he promised to communicate the most important of them to the Government when making his report.

Would Form W. O. Regiment.

Probably the most commonly suggested scheme was that there should be a Western Ontario Regiment formed with two battalions, the first to be representative of the 1st Battalion, C. E. F., and the second to be representative of the 18th Battalion, C. E. F., and that the county units be associated in some way with the two battalions. Then followed schemes as to where these battalions should be stationed.

The first expeditionary battalion was organized at Valcartier Camp from detachments mostly from the city corps in this district, while the 18th Battalion was organized in this city by Lieut.-Col. E. S. Wigle of the 21st Regt. (Essex Fusiliers) of Windsor. In the splendid memorandum scheme, of a tentative nature, which was presented by Lieut.-Col. Walter J. Brown, the A.A.G. of the district, it was stated that there are a sufficient number of militia infantry regiments for the formation of a division in this district, but that there will be more artillery, engineer and machine-gun units needed. The question of whether the district can stand the organization of two extra battalions was also presented, or, as an alternative, the allotment of the 1st Battalion, C.E.F., to the 7th Regt. (Fusiliers) in London, and the 18th Battalion to the 21st Regt. (Essex Fusiliers) in Windsor.

Retain C.E.F. Units.

The majority of the officers strongly favored, and asked for, the retention of the identity of the old militia regiments with the association of the overseas battalions which they assisted to recruit and support with their militia soldiers, for the preservation of history and military achievements.

Throughout the meeting the sentiment toward a scheme of universal training in the district was strongly pronounced.

The following suggestions for the perpetuation of the various battalions organized in this district were presented in Colonel Brown's memorandum scheme:

7th Regiment (Fusiliers), Headquarters London, Ont.—1st Battalion (1st Battalion, C.E.F.); (a) 2nd Battalion (33rd Battalion, C.E.F.); (a) 3rd Battalion (142nd Battalion, C.E.F.).

21st Regiment (Essex Fusiliers), Headquarters Windsor—1st Battalion (18th Battalion, C.E.F.); (a) 2nd Battalion (99th Battalion, C.E.F.); (a) 3rd Battalion (241st Battalion, C.E.F.).

22nd Regiment (The Oxford Rifles), Headquarters Woodstock—1st Battalion (71st Battalion, C.E.F.); (a) 2nd Battalion (168th Battalion, C.E.F.).

24th Kent Regiment, Headquarters Chatham, Ont.—1st Battalion (186th Battalion, C.E.F.).

25th Regiment, Headquarters St. Thomas, Ont.—1st Battalion (91st Battalion, C.E.F.).

26th Regiment (Middlesex Light Infantry), Headquarters Strathroy—1st Battalion (135th Battalion, C.E.F.).

27th Lambton Regiment (St. Clair Borderers), Headquarters Sarnia—1st Battalion (149th Battalion, C.E.F.); (a) 2nd Battalion (70th Battalion, C.E.F.).

28th Perth Regiment, Headquarters Stratford—1st Battalion (110th Battalion, C.E.F.).

29th Regiment (Highland Light Infantry of Canada), Headquarters Galt—1st Battalion (34th Battalion, C.E.F.); (a) 2nd Battalion (111th Battalion, C.E.F.).

30th Regiment (Wellington Rifles), Headquarters Guelph—1st Battalion (153rd Battalion, C.E.F.).

32nd Bruce Regiment, Headquarters Walkerton—1st Battalion (160th Battalion, C.E.F.).

33rd Huron Regiment, Headquarters Goderich, Ont.—1st Battalion (161st Battalion, C.E.F.).

198th Regiment, Headquarters Kitchener—1st Battalion (118th Battalion, C.E.F.).

(a) Reserve battalion.

With reference to the cavalry, the problem is how to perpetuate the Canadian Light Horse and the 7th C. M. R. with the 1st Hussars and the 24th Regiment, the Grey's Horse. The 7th C. M. R., C.E.F., was the only cavalry unit organized in this district and a draft from the unit formed the divisional cavalry in the 2nd Canadian Division. When they arrived in France they were absorbed into the Canadian Light Horse as "B" Squadron.

Would Form Artillery Brigade.

It was suggested that there be two artillery brigades formed, one with its headquarters in London, and the other in Guelph. As a nucleus, there might be two batteries in each of the brigades, one an 18-pr. battery, and the other a howitzer battery.

Three battalions of engineers are required if the establishment of the Canadian corps is carried out, and at present there are only two companies in the district. The machine gun brigade, which has been allotted to the district, will probably form a part of the divisional organization; two additional companies are needed to complete the Army Service Corps establishment, while one more field ambulance is required for the medical units.

GENERAL SECRETARY TO CO-ORDINATE THE LIB. ORGANIZATIONS

National Organization Committee Decides to Open Office at Ottawa.

OTTAWA, Dec. 1.—The decision to provide for the opening of an office in the capital, with a general secretary here to keep in touch with all parts of the Dominion, and act as a co-ordinating influence of today's meetings of the national organization committee of the Liberal party, which met in the offices of Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King. The committee is composed of delegates from every province, and some 25 prominent Liberals took part in the discussion. At the adjournment of the afternoon meeting several delegates, on leaving the room, stated that there had been full unanimity and also that there had been plenty of enthusiasm for the carrying out of plans of organization.

The memorandum submitted to the national Liberal convention in August last, and which resulted in the present meeting, called for the opening of an office in Ottawa, under the supervision of a national organizer with his general secretary and the necessary staff. This office was to be a sort of clearing house; not interfering with the control of provincial affairs, but bringing all provincial organizations into harmony with one another, and at the same time working out a policy of education of the people to the ideals of Liberalism through the medium of the platform and the press.

There will be both morning and afternoon sessions tomorrow, but it is expected that the business of the committee will have been concluded by the time 5 o'clock is reached. At the end of the sessions it is expected that an official statement covering the proceeding will be issued.

Have Pretty Teeth

Remove That Dirty Film

All Statements Approved by High Dental Au

Free A 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent, to show you how to end film. See below.

Look in the Glass

Look at your teeth in the glass. Then brush them in this new way for ten days and look again.

There is a film on your teeth—a slimy film. It clings to the teeth, enters crevices and stays. The tooth brush does not end it. The ordinary tooth paste does not dissolve it. So it stays between the teeth and elsewhere and may do a ceaseless damage.

That film is what discolors—not the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Thus most tooth troubles are now traced to film.

Dental science, after years of searching, has found a way to combat it. Able authorities have proved it by many careful tests. Now the method is embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent, and leading dentists everywhere are urging its daily use.

A 10-Day Tube is now supplied to everyone who asks. Test it and see what it means to you.

A Week Will Tell

The results of Pepsodent will be a revelation. A week will show you that there is a way to whiter and safer teeth. For your sake and your children's sake, make this test and see.

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to day by day combat it.

But pepsin must be activated. The usual method is an acid harmful to the teeth. So pepsin long seemed barred. Science has now overcome this trouble by discovering a harmless activating method. It is that method which makes possible this efficient film combatant.

You can prove the effects, and quickly. Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the slimy film. See how the teeth whiten—how they glisten—as the fixed film disappears.

Compare the results with your old methods. Learn what clean teeth mean. Then let your own mirror tell you what is best. This test is most important to you. Make it at once. Cut out the coupon now.

Who Is Responsible for Smashing the Treaty?

Jubilation reigned in some quarters when the United States Senate's emphatic rejection of the treaty of Versailles came as a sensational climax of one of the most bitterly fought political battles in our history. It may have been a victory, and the destroyers of the treaty and the League of Nations "may exult in their triumph," but, retorts the Springfield Republican (Ind.), "they will go into history having constructed nothing and selfishly leaving the world to its darkness and woe." Opposing this view, the New York Sun declares that "there never was anything more wrong, more ridiculous, more preposterous, than to maintain that the war was going on, and must go on until the United States Senate and the American people consented to swallow Mr. Wilson's pernicious league of nations." In fixing the responsibility, the pro-league Rochester Times-Union (Ind.) says that the "United States Senate, under the bankrupt leadership of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, has killed the peace treaty," but Republican papers like the Philadelphia North American and New York Tribune lay the responsibility for the failure of the treaty at the president's own door, in effect charging him with "infanticide."

Under the heading "The Rejection of the Treaty," THE LITERARY DIGEST in its issue for November 29, prints as its leading article a summary of public opinion in the United States as expressed in newspapers of all shades of opinion. The article covers every phase of the controversy over the treaty and makes very clear how the country regards the Senate's action.
