WHEAT MENACED BY DRY WEATHER

Situation in Kansas Causes Further Alarm and Quotations Score Advance.

CHICAGO, May 24.—Increasingly unfavorable prospects in southern and western Kansas carried the wheat market up today. Closing prices were firm at an advance of 1c to 1½c over last night. Corn finished unchanged to 1-8c higher, oats varying from a shade off to ¼c up, and provisions strung out from 15c decline to an upturn of 5c.

Incessant dry weather and a forecast of more started wheat shorts to buying. New investors also took a hand, making a liberal volume of business much in contrast with the usual week-end curtailment. Bulls were especially impressed by statements that 3,000,000 acres in southwest Kansas were in a critical condition, with each day enlarging the damage and making the danger worse.

Visible Supply Decreases.

Signs of a substantial falling off in the United States visible supply total discouraged the bear side in wheat and so did word that exporters had disposed of a little new winter. Reduced estimates from Oklahoma and less promising reports from Missouri were likewise influential, so that the market at no time had any important reaction. Export clearances of wheat and flour equaled 934,000 bushels.

In the corn pit selling by cash houses and news of heavier country offerings offset the bullish action of wheat. Weather conditions favored planting. Profit-taking by longs weakened oats.

Provision trade was only local. The one noticeable feature was an erratic dip of 15c in May pork.

ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

Owing to Saturday being a holiday there was a dull market for what produce was offered. It is to be hoped that those in authority at the civic market will see the futility of trying to conduct a market on a holiday, on such a day as the 24th of May, "the holiday of the Dominion," that everybody, both buyers and sellers, wishes to celebrate and enjoy.

Prices for all classes of products were about the same as on Friday, which was also a dull market.

Butter—Prices for butter are decidedly easier, the wholesale market for which declined from two to three cents per lb. during the past week, and of course the retail market followed in line.

Butter—Prices ranged from 28c to 33c per lb., the bulk going at 30c to 31c per pound.

Eggs—Market for eggs is firm at 25c with a few select lots going at 27c.

Poultry—There was little offered and prices were unchanged.

FALL WHEAT CROP IS MOST PROMISING

Severe Night Frosts, However, Have Checked Pasture Growth.

STRAWBERRIES SUFFER

But General Fruit Outlook in Niagara District Is Good.

The following statement regarding the crop condition in the province, based on the returns of correspondents sent in on or about May 15, has been issued by the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Fall Wheat.—This crop wintered well, notwithstanding the light protection of snow, and the early spring weather was also favorable, there being comparatively little heaving or other injury from frost. There was an unusually rapid growth in the latter part of April and the first few days of May, which gave a good head to the plant, but subsequent cold weather has acted as a check. Taken all together, however, the present outlook for the crop is most promising, except on late sown fields or on low or poorly drained land. Only a comparatively small aacreage has been plowed up or resown with barley or other spring grain. Much less injury than usual from insects is reported.

Clover.—In the western half of the province, in the northern districts and in most of the Lake Ontario coounties, clover has done well, especially in the case of the younger fields. In the more eastern part of the province, however, much of the crop has been more or less killed out during the winter and spring, altho even there some good fields are also reported. Several correspondents point out that late pasturing was responsible for some of the poor fields of both clover and alfalfa.

Alfalfa.—Reports regarding alfalfa are not quite enthusiastic as usual, as both winter and spring conditions were trying to this crop and many of the fields are somewhat patchy. As in the case of fall wheat and clover, alfalfa has done best on well drained land.

Night Frosts.

Vegetation. — Unusually warm weather in the latter half of April and the early part of May caused growth in the field, orchard and forest to go ahead with a rush, and vegetation was estimated to be from a week to two weeks ahead of the normal. Cool weather with night frosts coming in about May 8, however, gave an almost complete check to growth from that date to time of reporting, and while orchards seem to be more forward than usual, pastures are now only about ordinary. In most cases cattle are on the grass and are getting a good bite. Very timely rains were falling as our later correspondents wrote.

Fruit.—In the first week of May orchards gave promise of an immense yield. The trees were covered with fruit buds—many in full bloom—and small fruits were also blossoming profusely. Between May 7 and 12, however, a series of severe night frosts occurred, the effects of which are variously described. A careful sifting of the reports shows that early strawberries were badly nipped, but that the later varieties happily escaped. Some brush fruits, such as currants, were also caught in some of the more advanced sections. In the fruit lands anlong the lake shores—more especially in the Niagara district—fruit trees sustained comparatively little harm from the frosts, but some of the orchards farther inland were injured to some extent. Of the orchard tree apples have suffered the least and plums and cherries the most, but in no case as seriously as was at first expected. To sum up, the injury from the severe frosts of May have turned out to be much less general than was feared at the time of the frosts, and a good yield of all classes of fruit may still be had should favorable conditions prevail. The presence of the tent caterpillar in unusually large numbers is complained of by many correspondents in the eastern half of the province.

Plenty of Fodder.

Fodder Supplies.—Farmers are in a better situation as to fodder supplies than for many years. In most localities there is a sufficiency of hay and in many quarters a plentiful supply. There is also a sufficiency of oats on hand in most cases, altho this and other grains are now fed more freely than formeerly to live stock. Wheat is somewhat scarcer, but there is enogh for all requirements on the average farm. The only deficiency appears to be in the quantity of straw on hand.

Spring Sowing.—This work was well advanced when correspondents reported, and in many quarters all spring grains had been got in. While there are complaints of some of the stiffer clay soils being hard to work and remaining somewhat lumpy, most of the reports speak of the condition of the seed bed as being from fair to excellent. All the spring grains made a good catch as a rule, but several correspondents stated that more rain was necessary in order to ensure the best results.

UNION PACIFIC IS LEADER IN RISE

If Expected Developments Make Good New York Market May Work Moderately Higher.

Erickson Perkins & Co. (J. G. Beaty) wired at the close of the New York market Saturday:

The stock market developed a good deal of momentum under the leadership of Union Pacific, which rose more than 4 points above yesterday's bottom price to 155. Southern Pacific, Reading, Copper, American Can and various specialties were almost equally strong.

If the reported developments in Union Pacific "make good" next week, the market should work moderately higher before we see the next set back. The street had it that a settlement between Union and Southern Pacific is close at hand. Southern Pacific officials are on the way east, and important conferences are scheduled for Tuesday and succeeding days. One story had it that Central Pacific will go to Union Pacific, and the large block of Southern Pacific held by Union Pacific or a part of it, will be retired. We have no facts. This same story has done service before, which creates the impression that a maniplutative movement in the market after all has been the basis of the present rise in stocks.

Many look for a Minnesota decision Monday. Should it come, and be favorable, it would greatly stimulate the market for a few days, in the opinion of some good authorities.

FOREIGNERS EASED OFF ON LONDON MART

C. P. R. Sells on Curb a Point Below Closing—Greeks and Bulgars Are Fighting Again.

LONDON, May 24.—The stock market was dull and uninteresting today. Consols were supported and home and Mexican Rails hardened a fraction, but foreign securities and Kaffirs were inclined to ease off on reports of renewed fighting between the Bulgarian and Greek troops.

American securities ruled quiet and featureless. Prices opened unchanged and closed from ¼ higher to ¼ lower than yesterday's New York closing.

Money was in good demand, but discount rates were easy.

Canadian Pacific was weak on the curb and sold at 242½, a point below the official closing.
