A GOOD PLACE TO BUY GOOD CLOTHES

OUR $15 SUITS

are excellent values—such good values that some who come to us expecting to pay $18 or more, select a $15 suit by preference.

Without making comparisons we wish to state that the suits we are now selling at $12, $15, $16.50 and $18 are exceptionally well tailored from superior woolens, and embody the desirable qualities, the little details of style, that are usually seen only in higher priced suits.

We urge you to inspect these lines before paying more. This does not mean, of course, that we cannot give you your money's worth in higher priced suits. Our suits at $20 to $30 are well worth every cent of those figures. But first see what we offer at the lesser prices, and make your own comparisons between our suits and others.

NOW IS A GOOD TIME TO SELECT YOUR SUIT

KINGSTON WILL GET CHEAP POWER

Kingston, Ont., May 13—Hon. Adam Beck, chairman of the Hydro-Electric Commission, in addressing a public meeting in the city hall on the question of cheap power, stated that the contract the commission had just made with the New York and Ontario Power Company, was at a lower rate than that for Niagara power. Owing to the fact that the Ontario Government could not build apparatus outside of the province, it is necessary to have the company at Waddington, N. Y., reduce the power to the necessary voltage. The company's figure for a minimum of 2,000 horse-power is $13, while for 10,000 horse-power it is $11.

The prices for power supplied to Kingston would be materially lower than those estimated a month ago. Including all charges the estimates are: For 1,200 horse-power, $38.83; for 1,800 horse-power, $30.31; and for 2,400 horse-power, $22.91. Mr. Beck ventured to say that in five years Kingston would be able to sell power to manufacturers at $25 a horse-power. Assistant Engineer Yates, of the Commission, who is now here, has estimated that Kingston's power requirements are 4,100 horse-power.

Washington, May 13—A treaty between Canada and the United States to prevent the further pollution of the great lakes, is proposed by a resolution introduced by representative Sulzer, of New York.

THE CEMENT CHARGES

Despatches to J. M. Robinson & Sons say Cement common was today quoted at 23 and 23 1-2. The despatches add: "Opinion seems to be that Sir Sandford Fleming has come out too late with his charges against Cement. Company was legally formed and put through."

Montreal, May 13—T. P. Jones, of the Can. Cement Company, makes a brief but emphatic reply to the charges.

Mr. Jones intimated that Sir Sandford had his facts twisted and furthermore that Sir Sandford "got his," or in other words, participated in any profits that were going. Mr. Jones said

"Sir Sandford Fleming's statement does not represent the facts. As far as I know, any profits made in the organization of the Canada Cement Company were shared in by him.

"Since my connection with the company, (January 1, 1910), there were no difficulties until Sir Sandford saw that the present directors would not take over an insolvent company, of which he was president, to the detriment of the shareholders of the Canada Cement Company, and to his own personal and financial advantage."

The charge of Sir Sanford that a group of promoters of the Canada Cement Company had improperly appropriated to themselves $13,000,000 of the capital stock of the company has not been taken very seriously by financial circles in this city.
