ALEX. GRAY, HOME, TELLS OF PORTS ON OTHER SIDE

Engineer Inspected European Harbors—St. John Favorably Known.

Completing a ten-weeks tour of European ports, Alexander Gray, resident engineer here for the Federal Department of Public Works, arrived home at noon today, greatly impressed with the magnitude of port development on the other side. During his trip, Mr. Gray inspected the docks and facilities for handling cargo at the ports of Germany, Southampton, Liverpool, Leith, Edinburgh, Glasgow, London, Plymouth, and several lesser ports.

"At all of these ports," Mr. Gray says, "state and citizens are combining to increase their equipment for the handling of traffic. In some places they have plans already certified calling for an expenditure running as high as $40,000,000."

Before leaving the Union Depot, Mr. Gray held a brief conference with his chief, Hon. Dr. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works, in the latter's private car, which was attached to the Halifax train. Mr. Grey said the trip was a great experience for him, although he was glad to get home. He landed at Quebec on Monday from the C. P. S. liner Montroyal.

Was at Wembley.

Mr. Gray visited the British Empire exposition at Wembley and was greatly struck with the exhibits advertising the ports of India, South Africa and Australia. "These colonial ports" says Mr. Gray, "were much better advertised than our Canadian ports. They had excellent models, on quite a large scale, of their most important ports, including Melbourne, Cape Town, Calcutta and Bombay. I noticed that the only reference to St. John was a small placard. Quebec and Vancouver had photographic views of their harbors, but the point is that our ports were not half so well advertised as the ports of the other colonial possessions."

Speaking about conditions on the other side, Mr. Gray said they were not nearly so bad as painted. "Take for example the port of Antwerp, Belgium," explained Mr. Gray. "To read some reports on this side one would conclude that Belgium was in a very poor condition financially. Yet, I found at Antwerp, they are going ahead with a scheme of port development that will entail at least $25,000,000. I intended visiting Hamburg but was compelled to forego that trip."

St. John Favorably Known.

While in Manchester, Mr. Gray said he saw Canadian cattle that had been shipped from St. John slaughtered there. At that same port, he also saw Canadian grain shipped from St. John unloaded and also saw a sugar cargo shipped from this port unloaded. St. John, he said, was quite favorably known on the other side. The big dry dock here, he said, was a big boost for the port.

METHODIST BAN IS LIFTED TODAY

Springfield, Mass., May 27.—The Methodist ban upon amusements, except those "which cannot be used in the name of the Lord Jesus" was lifted today by a five to one vote of the Methodist Episcopal General Conference here. A minority report forbidding theatre attendance on Sundays and specifying dancing and immoral theatre performances was tabled by 460 votes to 295. The adoption of the majority report removed restrictions against dancing, games of chance and all theatre attendants in force since the church's inception.

EXCEPTION IS MADE OF N. B. PRESBYTERY

Mirimichi Body Only One Specially Treated in Union Bill.

Ottawa, May 27—Provision for "non-concurring members" who give notice that they do not intend to enter the union was outlined at the opening stages of the resumed hearing on the Church Union bill before the Commons' private bills committee this morning.

This provision was mentioned by William Duff of Lunenburg during the discussion of the definition section, which came first before the committee. He proposed to add to the list of definitions a definition of "non-concurring members" as being members of concurring congregations who within six months gave notice in writing that they do not intend to enter the United Church.

During the discussion Mr. Duff asked if there had been any negotiations with the Board of the Presbyterian College at Halifax.

Mr. Mason replied that under the constitution the colleges were bound by the action of the Presbyterian General Assembly.

Dr. Murray MacLaren asked why the Presbytery of Miramichi was specially mentioned in the Union.

Mr. Mason said that so far as the Union committee knew, this was the only Presbytery in Canada which had separate incorporation.

COLUMBUS KNIGHTS MEET

State Convention is Opened in Fredericton--Welcome by Mayor.

(Special to The Times-Star.)

Fredericton, N. B., May 27.—The state convention of the Knights of Columbus of New Brunswick opened here this morning with some 30 delegates in attendance. State Deputy Bliss A. Bourgeois, of Moncton is presiding.

The convention opened with high mass at St. Dunstan's church celebrated by Rev. J. H. Milligan, chancellor of Fredericton council, and a sermon by Very Rev. Dean Carney. He said the Knights of Columbus should be chivalrous and upright at all times. He should keep in mind his duty to his King and to his church and fellow men. Protection of the widow and the orphan was an important duty. Another was to conform to the dictates of the duly elected officers in all things lawful.

The convention assembled in the rooms of Fredericton Council No. 1942.

His Worship Mayor R. L. Phillips extended a warm welcome. Their visit would be made as pleasant as possible.

Past State Deputy Dr. W. P. Broderick of St. John replied. He referred to the fact that the membership now was some 800,000. He also made reference to the war work carried on by the K. of C.

SPORTSMANSHIP.
(Toronto Globe.)

The United States Rugby players at the Paris Olympic were hooted by the mob because they defeated the home team, and they had to be escorted from the grounds under police protection. Such incidents make international bad blood, when there is a unique opportunity to foster international good-will. At nearly every Olympic or other world competition there have been similar scenes. They throw no discredit on sports or athletics—almost invariably the spectators, not the players, are to blame; but if the true spirit of sportsmanship is no part of the crowd psychology, what service is rendered by these spectacular events? The desire to win is a natural passion, but the degree to which the feeling is subordinated to a resolution to observe the rules of the game and to show good manners is the measure in which the highest aim of sportsmanship has been achieved. The moral value lies in self-discipline and self-restraint, two wonderful aids in character-building. The physical benefits of sport are poor attainments when the ethical code is disregarded.

DIED HERE TODAY.

Many friends will regret to know of the death of Herbert E. Middleton, which occurred here today. He is survived by four brothers—Clarence J. and Elmer L. of Holderville; Domville T. of Long Reach, and Frederick A. of St. John.

MEET TO FORM LAY HEALTH ORGANIZATION

Important Topics are Discussed Today at Health Centre Gathering.

A representative number gathered this morning at the Health Centre to discuss the matter of a provincial organization to deal with the matters of Child Welfare, Social Hygiene and prevention of tuberculosis, in particular, and public health in general. Every town in the province was represented, and all were enthusiastic over the proposition to form a provincial lay body to help create the proper public sentiment in regard to public health measures.

Hon. D. Roberts, Minister of Health, presided. Dr. Gordon Bates, secretary of the Canadian Council of Social Hygiene, Toronto, and Dr. T. M. Sieniewicz of Halifax were visitors, and both had inspiring messages. The progress of preventive medicine and the importance of further extending its sphere were set forth by Dr. Bates and Dr. H. A. Farris, the former dealing with social hygiene and the latter with tubercuosis.

Delegates.

The delegates registered this morning from outside points were: Dr. W. C. Kierstead, Fredericton; Mrs. Reid McManus, Moncton; Mrs. B. Somers, Dr. L. G. Pineault, Campbellton; Mrs. H. D. Morris, Chatham; Miss Agnes Herbert, Edmundston; Mrs. R. J. Miller, Grand Falls; H. H. Ritchie, Newcastle; Mrs. L. D. Moffett, Sussex; E. P. Wright, St. Stephen; Dr. W. D Rankin, Woodstock; Dr. S. J. Collins, River Glade. Among those present from the city were Rev. Dr. Hutchinson, Dr. H. A. Farris, Miss Hegan, Miss Brophy, E. L. Rising, Mrs. J. Owens, Mrs. G. W. Campbell, Dr. William Warwick and Miss Meikeljohn.

In the course of his address, Dr. Bates made a slashing attack on some of the literature exposed for sale on the news stands of the city and his belief that one of the best things the new organization could do would be to get after these publications and see that they were banned forever.

Hon. Dr. Roberts, Minister of Health, opened the meeting. Dr. William Warwick was unaimously selected as secretary.

Dr. Roberts.

Dr. Roberts then outlined the reasons for the calling of the conference. He referred to the six and one-half years in which public health work had been carried on in the province and the advances made. It was impossible, he said, to do anything without the support of the lay public, and in order to enlist their support in the campaign against tuberculosis and venereal disease and for child welfare work this conference was held. It was recognized that the state must lead, but the people must help if results were to be obtained. In the province today there was only one organization to fight tuberculosis—that in St. John—and in this city they were proud of its achievements.

In combatting venereal disease, the province had eight or nine clinics at various points and in this respect New Brunswick was well in the lead.

Child Welfare

In regard to child welfare he said that out of some 11,000 births in 1922 some 3,000 were not attended by a physician. This was a blot on the province.

It was not planned to have physicians at the head of this organization but to act in an advisory capacity.

A general nominating committee to name officers for the three organizations was named by the chairman as follows: Dr. Rankin, Woodstock; H. H. Ritchie, Newcastle; Mrs. G. W. Campbell, Dr. H. A. Farris, St. John; Mrs. Miller, Grand Falls.

The following constitution committee was appointed: K. McLauchlan, Rev. Dr. Hutchinson, St. John; Dr. Penault, Campbellton; Mrs. Reid McManus, Moncton, Dr. W. C. Kierstead, Fredericton.

Tuberculosis

The organization of the Tuberculosis association was then taken up and an address by Dr. H. A. Farris was heard. He read a telegram of regret from Dr. Woodhouse at his inability to be present and an offer to contribute $1,000 toward the cost of an anti-tuberculosis campaign.

Dr. Farris said that in the province there were about 3,200 cases of tuberculosis and of these only 350 were being treated. The municipality of St. John was spending about $70,000 a year on fighting tuberculosis but many of the other counties were not doing anything and strongly objected to paying for the care of those afflicted with this disease.

He cited the cases of five children in St. John who had died from tuberculosis in the past eight months. Tuberculosis was curable and it was preventable. In St. John the death rate had been cut in half and he hoped to see it still lower.

In St. John three clinics were being held, one for children and two for adults, and they had an excellent lay organiaztion. Dispensaries were needed in every centre and a traveling physician was going all over the province, visiting the clinics and organizing. The provincial organiaztion could bring this about. There were two ways to fight this plague. The first was to prevent advanced cases by having these clinics discover the cases when they were in the incipient stage and by bringing about better living conditions. He felt a big step in advance had been taken in getting the provincial hospitals to send their nurses to the St. John County Hospital for training. He felt a survey suggested by Dr. Woodhouse should be undertaken, possibly centering on Campbellton. In the campaign the rallying cry must be "save the children."

River Glade Superintendent.

Dr. S. J. Collins, superintendent at River Glade, said it was not possible to say how many cases of tuberculosis there were in the province until a thorough survey had been made. Experience had shown that the disease was curable and even in advanced stages treatment might prolong life and enable the patient to remain in active employment.

Halifax Doctor.

Dr. T. M. Sieniewiez of Halifax said before any good could be accomplished there must be a public sentiment in favor of public health, and he believed such an organization proposed would be a big factor in creating that sentiment. He endorsed the plan for a traveling physician and an efficient public health nursing service to seek out the cases.

Hon. Dr. Roberts referred to the grant from the Rockefeller Foundation for school inspection for public health on condition that the province take over the work at the end of two years and now there was not a school in the province that was not inspected by an all-time inspector.

The question was asked if it was compulsory on the parents to carry out the orders of the medical inspector. Dr. Roberts said if it was found impossible for the parents to have his orders carried out, the department of health tried to provide some other way of getting it done. If the order was not carried out the child could be kept out of school.

In addition to the school inspection there was needed the public health nurses who would interpret to the families the orders of the school inspector and the Rockefeller Foundation had agreed to finance, for a period of two years, two public health nurses to each sub-district Board of Health provided the municipalities would carry on the work at the expiration of that period. This would mean an expenditure of $4,800 a year for each county. Eventually this would be done and it was the work of the association to see that it was done soon.

Dr. Kierstead asked if the nurses were available and Dr. Roberts said it was planned to start a training school here at the Health Centre.

Dr. Bates

Dr. Gordon Bates, Toronto, secretary of the Council of Social Hygiene, was then introduced by the chairman. He paid tribute to the work of Hon. Dr. Roberts in placing public health where it ought to be in New Brunswick. He said for some time the need for the co-ordination of lay efforts had been realized and this conference was looking toward that end. Last year there had been 328,000 treatments given for venereal diseases in the various provinces through a grant of $200,000 by the Dominion Government and this year there was a grave danger of losing this grant because public sentiment was not what it ought to be. An organization such as was proposed here was one of the best means of creating this sentiment. It had been said by Dr. William Osler that one venereal disease outranked all other diseases as a cause of death.

It was very hard to outline to any community just what these things meant. He told of one family in Brantford where the father, mother and seven living children were all affected and had to be supported by the municipality.

Dr. Bates said he did not agree with the belief that dancing led to immorality but he did believe that the public dance hall should be supervised. He advocated a change in the methods of dealing with the delinquent. There had been many cases of unfairness, particularly in the matter of the difference between the punishment to the man and woman. The speaker said he saw on news stands of the city magazines which were not fit for any person to read and one of the duties of the new organization would be to see that these were put out of circulation.

Dr. L. G. Penault told of the work of the clinic in Campbellton. They were doing some good but could do more if the co-operation of other physicians was given.

Dr. W. D. Rankin, Woodstock, told of success which had attended clinics in Woodstock and said he had found a lack of co-operation on the part of the physicians.

Adjournment was then made until 2.15 this afternoon. The first order of business at the afternoon session was to be an address of Miss Meikeljohn on child welfare.

PURDY LIKELY ON ROUTE THIS WEEK

From present indications the new river steamer D. J. Purdy will be ready for a trial spin by the last of this week. The engine is practically all assembled and is being set up by an expert, Mr. Keel, from the Wintow factory in Cleveland, Ohio. He expects to be able to start the engines by Friday and hopes to start off on a trial spin on Saturday. If all turns out well the new steamer will make her maiden voyage to Fredericton on June 3.

WATER MAIN RENEWALS.

Good progress was being made with the laying of the new water main in Duke street, Commissioner Wigmore reported this morning. The pipe has been laid from Sydney to Carmarthen streets, and it is expected to lay about 100 feet this afternoon between Carmarthen and Wentw orth streets. In anticipation of the renewal of the present main in Carmarthen street a 12 by 8 connection was placed in the new main at the junction of Duke and Carmarthen streets.

The rock of Gibraltar is more than 1,400 feet high.

CANNED FISH PAY HIGHER SALES TAX

Hon. J. A. Robb Refused to Accept Amendment by Stevens.

Ottawa, May 27.—In the Commons last night Hon. H. H. Stevens moved that "salmon and other fish, prepared or preserved, including oysters," be subject to sales tax at 2½ instead of 5 per cent. It was observed that under the terms of the Stevens amendment canned lobster would be included.

Hon. J. A. Robb declined to accept the amendment. "I think it is a pretty fair tax on the boys who go out at night and buy lobsters and sardines," urged Mr. Robb. "They should pay something towards the administration of this country."

Then came a sub-amendment to make the reduction in the sales tax applicable to canned salmon only. This was defeated, as was also the Stevens amendment. As the acting minister of finance was himself proposing an amendment, Mr. Meighen described the government as floundering around like a wounded whale.

Additions made to the list of goods exempt from sales tax are, calf, cattle and hog feed; wind mills and complete parts thereof; portable engines with boilers in combination, horse power and traction engines for farm purposes, and complete parts, gas engines used for fishermen in their own boats.

Sir Henry Drayton moved that lumber should be subject to sales tax at the 1921 rate but his motion was lost. When the House rose, the sales tax was still under discussion.

FIVE BURNED TO DEATH; MAYBE 20

Fire Grips Men's Hotel in Newark—One Hundred Men There.

Newark, N. J., May 27—Five persons are known to have been burned to death in a fire which broke out suddenly in the third story of the Windsor Men's Hotel in Halsey street, in the centre of the automobile tire district. The fire spread to the entire third and fourth floors, and enveloped several auto tire shops on the street floor. Three alarms were immediately sounded.

With more than forty lines of hose playing on the flames the fire continued beyond control. Chief Moore said he knew there were four bodies in the flame-ravaged structure, and that he expected to find at least fifteen more. Three bodies were brought out while the flames were raging. Two more were found on the top floor. More than 100 roomers occupied the building last night.

THE WRESTLERS ARE DOING WELL

That his charges are in the pink of condition, and may be depended upon to make a creditable showing, was a statement made to The Times-Star today by Walter O'Toole, who is coaching and instructing local boys in the art of wrestling. He said that he has the boys out every morning for road work, and after that they go through a hard grill on the mat. McCarthy, who will strive to win honors in the welterweight class, is progressing so favorably that Coach O'Toole is now confident he will win his way to the big Olympic trials in Toronto. McCrossin, who is the 135 pound Maritime champion, continues to improve daily, and is expected to have little difficulty disposing of any opponents who will question his right to go to Toronto. Both Walter [illegible] Murray, the former 125 pounds Maritime champion and [illegible] 112 and 115 pound Maritime champion, are also showing rare ability, and are expected to put up a battle royal at the trials here next week.

BECKLES WILSON WEDS IN ENGLAND

Noted Canadian Writer Married in Chelsea to Miss Ida Parkes.

Last week at Chelsea, England, Beckles Wilson, late lieutenant-colonel, C. E. F., and Ida Parkes of Sheffield and Avenue Wagram, Paris, were married.

Henry Beckles Wilson is a noted Canadian journalist and author, who has spent a great deal of his life in England, but a few years ago was for a time a resident of Nova Scotia. He was born in Montreal in 1869, educated at Kingston, and in 1887 joined the staff of the Boston Globe. He was its correspondent in Cuba in 1888, represented the New York Herald in Georgia in 1889, founded a paper in Atlanta, returned to journalism in New York, then removed to London and embarked on a literary career which he has pursued with great success.

He has written novels, books on Newfoundland, the Hudson Bay Company, Lord Strathcona, the Romance of Canada, the Life and Letters of James Wolfe, Nova Scotia, and others, besides contributing many articles on colonial affairs to weekly and monthly reviews. His home is Quebec House, Westerman, Kent, England. The Montreal Gazette has said of him "he is a thorough patriot whose soul is in his work."

Employer Pays Tribute.

Perhaps there is no person more pleased over the wonderful accomplishment of Captain Greenlaw and the "Ocean Eagle" than F. M. Ross, manager of St. John Drydock and Shipbuilding Co., Ltd., who received wireless messages yesterday afternoon and last night from Captain Greenlaw.

The first message received by Mr. Ross was about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, in which Captain Greenlaw stated that he had rescued five men; five more were still clinging to the rigging of the "Mikado" and six bodies had been washed ashore.

The next wireless message was at 5.30 o'clock, from Captain Greenlaw, and came via Sable Island, stating that the "Mikado" had broken up; that he had eight survivors and one body on board. He was rushing to Canso for a doctor. The men had been hanging for 12 hours on the spars of the trawler.

Mr. Ross was loud in his praise of Captain Greenlaw, and remarked: "It is just what we would expect of Captain Greenlaw and his crew of 11 men. Captain Greenlaw has been in our employ for four years and has given the finest service any man could give the company. He is a fine type of a Nova Scotian."

Captain Greenlaw has many friends in St. John who will subscribe to Mr. Ross' remarks. The commander is a favorite with all who have had the pleasure of his acquaintance.

Marx Is Likely To Be Leader

Germany is in the throes of another governmental crisis as the result of last night's resignation. Chancellor Marx is continuing to conduct business at the President's request, and it is understood that the whole affair may result merely in a realignment of the ministry with Marx still in power.

The government's resignation resulted from a breakdown of the long drawn out attempts to construct a straight bourgeoise coalition which could work with the Reichstag as composed on the basis of the recent elections.

France Worries As Birth Rate Falls

Paris, May 27.—(United Press).—"Born in 1922, 760,000 French against 1,450,000 German children."

This is not only statistical, but it is a catch-line employed by the National Alliance for the Increase of the French population, on circulars distributed about the country. The Alliance has organized a vigorous campaign for laws encouraging natality and the propagation of large families.

Nearly 100,000 placards have been printed and distributed by the Alliance which is an organization inspired solely to combat the decrease in the birthrate of France. One represents a French child cunningly guarding a small cake in its tiny arms, while beside him is a chubby German child, twice his size, coveting the cake.

The placards point out that in 1922 France was behind Italy in registered births, the latter claiming 1,600,000, and also Japan, which registered 1,900,000.

In discussing the situation the Matin says: "The position of France in regard to natality becomes more and more critical, while the Germans declare every day that they will take their revenge when our population becomes sufficiently weakened."
