PRIEST AND PEOPLE.

The Roman Catholic Diocese of London.

Its Inception and Growth—Successful Efforts of Bishop Walsh—Prosperity of the Diocese.

It will be interesting to note, in connection with the consecration of Dr. O'Connor as bishop of the Diocese of London, which takes place in this city to-morrow, a few particulars relating to the formation and subsequent growth of the church district over which he has been appointed the honored head. Dr. O'Connor is the third bishop of this diocese since its inception on Feb. 21, 1856. The history of the Roman Catholic Church within the county of Middlesex dates back to 1833-40, when the old log house of worship was erected in London on the corner of Maple and Richmond streets. Until the diocese was formed the Catholic people of London were visited by priests from Toronto or Sandwich, and in December, 1844, Father Mills was appointed to attend the townships of Westminster and London. In 1847 is found the same of Rev. P. O'Dwyer; in 1849 that of Rev. John Carroll and Rev. Thaddeus Kirwan. On June 29, 1851, Bishop De Charbonnel, of Toronto, confirmed 130 persons at London and 85 at the Church of St. Lawrence. As before stated the Diocese of London was erected Feb. 21, 1856, and on the 29th of the same month, the Papal Bulls were addressed to the Rev. Peter Adolphus Pinsonneault, priest of the Society of St. Sulpice, Montreal, naming him first bishop of the new see. He was consecrated in Montreal, May 18 following his ordination, and formally installed as bishop of London on June 29 following, the record being signed by Armandus, F. M. bishop of Toronto; John, bishop of Hamilton; T. T. Kirwan, Edward Bayard, Louis Musard. At the urgent request of the new bishop who found little to satisfy him in the London town of 1856, the episcopal see was transferred to Sandwich, the brief authorizing the change being issued Feb. 2, 1859. For some months prior to this date Bishop Pinsonneault was visiting in Europe—Bishop Farrell of Hamilton being administrator from Sept. 19, 1858, to the spring of 1859. When Bishop Pinsonneault retired in 1867, Rev. J. M. Bruyere, of Toronto, was appointed administrator of the diocese, a position which he filled until the installation of Bishop Walsh at Sandwich, Nov. 14 of that year. In January, 1868, the latter moved his episcopal residence from Sandwich to London, and on Nov. 15 procured from the Propaganda a decree making London once more the episcopal see of the diocese. During the period that Bishop Walsh was at the head of affairs the growth and influence of the Roman Catholic Church in the Diocese of London has been remarkable. This has been in a great measure due to the remarkable endowments and indomitable energy of the esteemed prelate. On his accession to the See of Sandwich he was confronted with many and grave difficulties, to overcome which brought into active play his marvelous administrative powers and enlightened conceptions of a trying situation. The diocese was involved in debt to the extent of $40,000, with little or nothing to show for this enormous liability. As a result of Bishop Walsh's masterly management no less than $952,798 was raised from 1867 to 1885 for diocesan purposes, and the amount has been since increased to over $1,500,000. Churches have sprung up and their followers increased and multiplied. One tribute to Bishop Walsh's untiring zeal and disinterested love for his people has been the erection of that magnificent edifice, St. Peter's Cathedral, which is a credit alike to the church and to the city of London. It is a standing monument of his devotion, although his memory needs no reminder in the hearts of his flock, and his elevation to the archbishoprick of Toronto, a dignity which he now adorns, is a just recognition of his faithful service. Dr. O'Connor is bequeathed a rich legacy in an extensive and prosperous diocese of over 100 churches, a large and growing Catholic community, an affectionate and industrious clergy, and a wide field for the exercise of that executive ability, rare talent, and Christian tolerance with which his name has ever been associated.

A peculiarity of Hood's Sarsaparilla is that while it purifies the blood it imparts new vigor to every function of the body.

One of Barnum's elephants broke loose from a street parade in Muscatine, Iowa, and killed two horses, after frightening a group of small boys and bruising several keepers around.

We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial is without doubt the best medicine ever introduced for dysentery, diarrhœa, cholera and all summer complaints, sea sickness, etc. It promptly gives relief and never fails to effect a positive cure. Mothers should never be without a bottle when their children are teething.

Mr. W. L. Judson's superb collection of pictures, now on exhibition at his residence, 417 Dundas street, is soon to be removed to Toronto. Mr. Judson's pastels are making a great hit in Chicago, judging from the favorable press comments of that city. Londoners should see to it that some of his best things remain in London. 60-tf

H. Beaton is now prepared to offer the choicest selection of fine furs ever shown in the city, comprising shoulder capes and muffs in beaver, sable, seal, Persian lamb, blue raccoon and many others. In boas and storm collars we show a large variety in all the leading shapes. Call and inspect styles and prices. H. Beaton, 143 Dundas street. 61-u

Building Associations.

The London Board of the Dominion Building and Loan Association, consisting of Mayor George Taylor, president; Hon. David Mills, M.P., counsel; A. A. Campbell, secretary; A. M. McEvoy, treasurer, with John Mills, Dr. Moorhouse, W. M. Spencer, Wm. Gerry, Dr. McCallum, J. G. Dodd, W. B. Minhinnick and J. L. Fitzgerald, are placing shares of the association, $100 each, upon payment of monthly dues of 60 cents. Prepaid shares $50, with interest payable semi-annually. Information respecting the association and its workings will be cheerfully given by any member. This association is a mutual co-operative company upon plans as old as the oldest, with the improvements of the very latest in England and the United States. The office of the secretary, A. A. Campbell, is in Molsons Bank Building. 59tf

Origin of Swearing.

The brother of the fairy Pari Banou was only thirty inches high. His beard was thirty-two feet long and extended horizontally in front of him as he walked. He invented swearing to express his feelings when poor biscuit were set on his table. His wife could always make biscuit to please him by using Imperial Cream Tartar Baking Powder.

The congregation of St. Thomas' Church, Sandwich, are determined that their pastor, Rev. Mr. Hind, shall not have chalk and water in his milk. They have presented him with a cow.

The proposed enlargement of the Brantford's boundaries is stirring up determined opposition in the suburbs likely to be annexed. They object to sharing the cost of city municipal life.

Mr. John Ellah, a farmer residing near St. Marys, had a horse, new top buggy and harness stolen from his stable the other night. This is the first attempt at horse-stealing in that vicinity for several years.

Rev. Dr. Cochrane, of Brantford, leaves this week for British Columbia, where he will preach the opening sermons of the new Victoria Presbyterian Church. He will also lecture in Winnipeg and Vancouver.

Mr. T. D. Stanley has assumed control of the business of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company in St. Mary, Mr. Beam, their former agent, having accepted a similar appointment of the C. P. R. Company.

Mr. Sterne Ball, operator and ticket agent at Newbury, has been promoted to Petrolea. The other evening his brother Foresters tendered him a farewell supper at Smith's hotel, where a very enjoyable time was spent.

The oldest inhabitant in the vicinity of Kenilworth, Mrs. Chestnut died a few days ago, at the advanced age of 102 years. She emigrated from the north of Ireland 52 years ago. She was highly esteemed among her neighbors.

At a meeting of the Bruce Presbytery held at Port Elgin last week, a call from Geneve Church, Chesley, to the Rev. D. Perrie, of Nissouri, was sustained. The congregation promises a salary of $1,100 and four week's holidays.

On Tuesday afternoon a number of the intimate friends of Mr. Finucane, teller in the Bank of Montreal, Chatham, met in the Garner House parlors, and presented him with a handsome dressing case. He leaves for Winnipeg at once.

Mr. C. Prouty, clerk of Stephen township, has left for an extended trip east, objective points being Ottawa and New York. Mr. Prouty has been clerk of the township for 33 years, and the present has been his only leave of absence in that time.

A tailor residing in West Brantford named William Walkinshaw, was found Friday morning sitting on his work-table in his home with life extinct. It is supposed he died on the previous day, but his aged wife, who is very infirm and whose mind is weak, did not seem to realize his condition.

A horse belonging to Thomas Farrow shied near Plattsville the other day and ran the buggy into a fence. Mr. Farrow sustained serious injuries about his chest, having two or three ribs broken and being injured internally, caused probably from striking on the fence as he fell. Mrs. Farrow was not seriously hurt.

The contracting parties to a pretty wedding in Hamilton on Wednesday. Miss Lizzie Nicholson and Mr. George P. Sutherland, of Fingal, Ont. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Mr. Sutherland, father of the groom. The bridesmaid was Miss Nellie Nicholson, Mr. John Chittenden acting as groomsman.

Mr. W. Carter, of con. 7, McGillivray, had the misfortune to lose his barn by fire the other evening. He found two animals fastened there instead of in the field, where he had a few minutes before placed them. He succeeded in getting them out of the burning building, but was unable to save much else. It is evident that the fire was the work of an incendiary.

A pleasant event took place on Thursday afternoon at Glencoe, when Argus J. McArthur and Miss Katie Ann, eldest daughter of Donald Patterson, of Cambellton, were united in marriage by the Rev. Mr. Curry, B.D. The bride was supported by her sister Miss Mary, while Mr. N. McEachren performed a similar office for the groom. After the ceremony the happy couple left for a trip to Detroit to spend their honeymoon.

On Wednesday evening the little daughter of Mr. Charles M. Arkell, St. Thomas, was passing the fire-place, when her dress caught fire, and immediately she was enveloped in flames. As it was tea time, both Mr. and Mrs. Arkell were in the room, and the latter picked up a rug and wrapped the little one in it, smothering the fire. The child's clothes were entirely destroyed, and the burns received are extensive, but the only serious one is on her side, under the arm.

For several years there has been a growing dissatisfaction in the congregation of St. John's Church in Tilsonburg, and at last a number of the oldest and most influential member have openly rebelled against the innovations in doctrine and methods of worship they claim the rector has from time to time forced upon them, and a serious rupture is imminent. The disaffection is so great that the bishop of the diocese has been appealed to, to use his power to put a stop to the objectionable practices.—[Tilsonburg Observer.

The Sabbath School Association of the Ridgetown district met on Wednesday in the Methodist Church, Thamesville. The opening exercises began at 10:30 a.m., and the services continued until 9:30 p.m., with short intervals for refreshment. A few of the ministers billed for different subjects failed to appear, and this threw more work on those that were present. Many vital points in connection with Sabbath school work were ably discussed, such as "Illustrative teaching," "Order, and how to maintain it," on "Systematic giving," etc., which proved very interesting and instructive to those present. The attendance was not as large as it should have been, considering the importance of this great work.

CHATHAM.

Dr. Tye, who has been sick for some time, intends taking in the climate of Florida for the winter.

Another installment for the gates at the G. T. R. crossings has arrived. It will be all here by-and-bye.

The teachers held their session here Thursday and Friday. There was a good attendance.

The first patient was received in St. Joseph's Hospital on Wednesday.

The entertainment given by Miss Kellogg Thursday evening was very much enjoyed by those who heard her.

The talk on the streets is the excursion to London to witness the ordination of Bishop O'Connor on Sunday.

The "Two Orphans" combination will appear at the Grand Opera House on Tuesday evening next. Plans are now open at the express office.

BOTHWELL.

Zone and Bothwell Agricultural Societies' Fall Fair, which came off on Wednesday and Thursday, was in every respect, save one, a decided success, especially considering the state of the weather. On the last and principal day rain fell early in the forenoon, increasing in volume as the day advanced, till afternoon it came down in torrents. In horses and cattle the animals were numerous, while the quality was simply first-class. The same may safely be said of hogs and sheep. The hall also presented a fine appearance and did great credit to the ladies of town and farmers' daughters in the district. The show of apples was meager, owing to the failure of that crop. Grapes, quinces, roots, vegetables, etc., were very good. One end of the hall was occupied by a very fine exhibit of Manitoba products. Gate receipts were considerably below par, whereas had the day been anything like propitious doubtless the takings would have been double that of previous years. The directors nevertheless are quite sanguine of being able to discharge all liabilities, but have a small surplus on hand. It may be mentioned that through the liberality of Messrs. H. Walker & Sons, of Walkerville, who own a large tract of land in the immediate vicinity, a number of fine steers were on the ground in competition for their special prizes, which seem to attract the attention of farmers more and more each year. Take it all in all the directors have good reason to congratulate themselves and thank the public for the success attending their labors.

Two Could Ask That Question.

"Where did you get that umbrella?" demanded a citizen, fiercely, as he recognized a familiar looking rain protector.

"Before I answer that," repeated the other, calmly, "suppose you tell me where you obtained it originally."

Then the first questioner wilted.

TORONTO LETTER.

Sudden Death—Funeral of Oarsman O'Connor's Brother—The Assizes.

TORONTO, Saturday, Oct. 18.

Further sessions of the Prison Commission have been postponed till Sept. 29 on account of the illness of Mr. C. Drury.

The waterworks main on Huron street burst at the College street intersection last night, flooding the street nearly to McCaul. The block pavement was torn up for a considerable distance on College street.

Mrs. Ellen Litster, aged 66, widow of the late John Brown, died very suddenly yesterday at her residence, Major street. While consulting her daughter as to a choice of edibles for tea her countenance changed and she died in a few minutes. Heart disease was the cause.

At the Assizes to-day the grand jury brought in a true bill against Frederick Macnamara on three different charges, namely, procuring Eda McIntosh to become a common prostitute; enticing her, under 21 years of age, by false pretenses, into a house of ill-fame, and having illicit intercourse with her.

The funeral of John O'Connor took place yesterday afternoon. The remains were placed in the vault at St. Michael's Cemetery. The body had been embalmed and the interment will not be made till after the arrival of Wm. O'Connor, brother of the deceased, who sailed from England a few days ago on the steamer Umbria. The oarsman has not yet heard of the death of his brother.

PANIC IN A CHICAGO CHURCH.

Fifteen Hundred Children and Mothers Crazed with Fear.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—While Rev. Father Barzensky was conducting a service for children in St. Stanilas Catholic Church yesterday morning the altar draperies took fire from a candle and a panic ensued. In the wild rush about twenty of the children were crushed and trampled on, and some of them received fatal injuries. There were about 1,500 children, accompanied by their mothers, in the church at the time. The women and children became panic-stricken and rushed pellmell to the exits. Those in front were pressed upon by those behind and lost their footing on the stone steps in front of the building, where they were trampled upon by the fleeing multitude. The arrival of the fire department added to the stampede, and in a few minutes 10,000 people had gathered in the neighborhood. The fire was quickly extinguished and the police with much difficulty rescued the wounded children. Jos. Jazak, 12 years old, has a fractured skull and will probably die; Stanislaus Kaminska was injured internally; Frank Drewyki received a severe cut on the head; Stanislaus Furgot, 9 years old, was injured internally; Martin Kioski, 10 years old, Frank Sick, 10 years old, and Leon Skowkowski, 11 years old, were sent to the hospital, and four other children were taken to their homes. The scene after the panic was over was terrible. The stone steps at the entrance were covered with blood. The carpets on the floor of the church and many of the pews were torn up, and the church looked as though some bloody riot had taken place in it.

FALL FAIRS.

Among the agricultural exhibitions to be held this fall are the following:

Ungentlemanly John.

DETROIT, Oct. 16.—A young woman named Anna Watko, residing at 684 Gratiot avenue, received the following self-explanatory billet doux yesterday:

"I have chosen you as my next victim, so beware. JACK THE CLIPPER."

Libby Merrill, a 13-year-old girl residing with her parents at 127 Abbott street, was walking along Fifth street Tuesday evening, when a man jumped out of an alley, caught hold of the long braid of hair that hung down her back with one hand, and with the other manipulated a pair of shears, cutting the braid off close to her head. This done, he ran back into the alley and disappeared.

To Cure a Cough, to relieve all irritations of the throat, to restore perfect soundness and health to the lungs, use DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which is still prepared with the same care as when it was introduced to the public by Dr. Wistar over 40 years since.

Worth Ten Dollars a Bottle.

Any person who has used Polson's Nerviline, the great pain cure, would not be without it if it cost ten dollars a bottle. A good thing is worth its weight in gold, and Nerviline is the best remedy in the world for all kinds of pain. It cures neuralgia in five minutes; toothache in one minute; lame back at one applicaio n; headache in a few moments; and all pains just as rapidly. Why not try it to-day? Large bottles 25 cents, sold by all druggists and country dealers. Use Polson's nerve pain cure —Nerviline.

The Phonograph.

Electricity has certainly done wonders as a means of saving labor. The telephone has nearly done away with the message boy, and now the phonograph threatens to supplant the stenographer. If the typewriter could be so manipulated as to do away with the constant strain upon the nerves and muscles of the young ladies that at present have to bear the brunt of the battle in the war for wealth, what a boon to the gentle sex it would be; but as it is the constant bending over the machine, frequently in a close office, is apt to destroy the free action of the lungs. Nothing prevents this better than a pure wool undervest next the skin, the health brand as recommended by the leading members of the medical faculty. No woman ought to be without. The genuine is marked "Health." For sale by Thomas Beattie & Co. b

Indigestion

IS not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich.:—

"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."
