LOCAL LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock were: 78 carloads, all told, composed of 1396 cattle, 500 hogs, 1075 sheep and lambs, with about 30 calves.

The quality of fat cattle was generally good, there being several loads of choice, well-finished shippers.

Trade in fat cattle was dull, especially for exporters, which were fully 35c to 50c per cwt. lower than they were one week ago, the bulk selling at $5.40 to $5.65 per cwt. As the day advanced, prices did not improve, and several drovers had to take less than they were offered in the morning. Only one load was reported as having brought $6, being contracted for in the country, and a very choice, well-finished lot.

Fully two-thirds of the fat cattle on the market were bought for export.

Prices for butchers' cattle, also, were easier, but the drop in them was not so great as in the shipping classes.

Prices for milch cows, stockers, feeders, sheep and calves were unchanged, but lambs sold at higher prices.

Altho the run of hogs was light, prices were lower, selects selling at $7.25, and fats and lights at $7 per cwt. with market weak at those quotations.

New York Cotton.

New York, Aug. 26.—The weekly government report upon the cotton crop, issued today, indicates, in my opinion, the most serious situation which has confronted the trade since 1896. This situation is intensified by the fact that a month ago everyone, myself included, was expecting a large crop and an abundant supply of cotton. A large crop now seems absolutely out of the question, while an exceedingly small crop is quite within the range of possibilities. The world's supply of American cotton, visible and invisible, is less, with one exception, than it has been any time since the American war, and in the case of the exception referred to, cotton went to 11 cents a pound in New York. I feel justified, therefore, in expressing the opinion that a further and very substantial advance in cotton is inevitable, and may be confidently anticipated, and southern holders and producers can, I think, without trouble, realize at least 9 cents a pound for their production, provided they are not precipate in accepting present prices.

FOREIGNER IS ASTONISHED.

Wants to See for Himself Development of Western Canada.

Dr. Sinclair McDougal, the eminent specialist of Berlin, is a Queen's Hotel guest. Dr. McDougal, Miss McDougal, Miss Etta Fontain and Harry L. Walton, are in Toronto en route for a tour of all Canada. Dr. McDougal is the author of recent medical journal articles on the cure of consumption with the "X rays."

"This is my first journey thru this part of America," explained the gentleman, with a charming foreign accent, "and I hear marvelous stories of the granaries of the world being situated in the Canadian Northwest. I must hurry on to that wonderful country. It reads to me like Gulliver's travels and other fiction—to near of 20,000 people being transported a thousand miles merely to handle a harvest for another remote section of the country. I find this is a country of great distances. I am told that if we travel by fast express we cannot cross Canada in six days. In that time we can cross civilized Europe. Here is Britain's great hope of the future. Here is the future empire of her kings. If there is a great British confederation some day, the capital will not be London, but somewhere in the central part of this part of the western hemisphere. Talk of the expansion of the States—here in Canada is the real expansion, and the real progress. I am immensely astonished at what I see and hear, but, perhaps, it is not all true—eh! what is it they call it—zee grand boom? But I shall see for myself."

SHAFFER CRITICALLY ILL.

Head of the Iron and Steel Workers May Not Live.

Pittsburg, Aug. 26.—Theodore J. Shaffer, president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers, who is critically ill at his home in Pittsburg, was graduated from a rolling mill into the Western University of Pennsylvania, and in time into the Wesleyan Theological Seminary. That led him into the ministry, but he stages back into a rolling mill again, where he was called to become president of the Amalgamated Association. President Shaffer is one of those unfortunately brilliant men whose physical resources are inadequate to maintain the drafts made upon him by his versatile and active mentality. After working day and night as a boy and youth in the rolling mills to acquire an education, he was met with the professional judgment of one physician after another that he must lay aside intellectual labor and return to physical tasks if he hoped to preserve his health. Reluctantly he followed the advice, and left the pulpit. He succeeded M. M. Barland as president of the iron and steel workers in 1896.

BOER PRISONERS NOT FREED IN HASTE

England Takes Time in Returning Expatriated Burghers.

Washington, Aug. 26.—United States Consul Morey, at Colombo, Ceylon, where a large number of Boer prisoners of war have been held captives, has furnished to the State Department a copy of the official announcement made as to the release of these prisoners. The point of the notice is that the repatriation of the prisoners is not to take place at once, but will depend on the readiness of the colonial governments to receive them, as the circumstances of the new colonies do not admit of the return of unlimited numbers at one time.

Foreign prisoners of war who are not burghers will not be allowed to return to South Africa. They may leave Ceylon at once at their own expense. Others may be handed over to their consuls if their governments wish to make special arrangements for moving them. Otherwise they must wait until the British government finds it convenient to repatriate them.

FELL TWENTY FEET.

William Vansickle, Aged 67, May Die From Injuries.

St. Thomas, Aug. 26.—William Vansickle, a farmer, residing at Dexter, was the victim of a very serious accident yesterday afternoon, which may yet cost him his life. Medical aid was immediately summoned, and the discovery made that the unfortunate man's shoulder had been fractured and several ribs broken, one of the ribs puncturing his lung.

Mr. Vansickle's advanced age—67 years—will be a great handicap to his chances for recovery.

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

Room in St. Clair-Ave. School Closed Owing to Withdrawal of York Township Pupils.

JUNCTION VOTERS' LIST POSTED

There Are 1082 Jurors on the List, an Increase of 94 Over Last Year.

Toronto Junction, Aug. 26.—The Management Committee of the Public School Board met to-night and decided to transfer Miss Carberry from St. Clair-avenue School to the school on Western-avenue, and remove all the desks and seats now used in the room she teaches to Western-avenue. This change is forced upon the board in consequence of the trustees of School Section No. 22, York, opening a school of their own, and taking from St. Clair-avenue about 54 pupils, who paid $1 per month each for the privilege of attending. A resolution was passed, instructing the ratepayers of School Section No. 13, York, that pupils could continue to attend any of the schools in town, provided the section paid $1 per month per pupil. The cost per pupil is about the same, or less, than if the section had to build a school of its own and engage a teacher. The scholars, too, have the advantage of a graded school, which they have not in most rural school sections.

The trees, except those which will be ornamental, have been cut down, an iron fence is to be erected, the lot will be levelled and sodded, and shrubs will be planted here and there. Mr. Murray and the churchwardens are taking donations towards the cost of the work.

TWO FUNERALS IN OWEN SOUND.

Owen Sound, Aug. 26.—The funeral of Thomas McDowall, one of the oldest and most noted railway and road contractors in Canada, took place to-day. He was connected with the building of the Northern Railway, the Soo Branch of the C. P. R., the old narrow-gauge, the Midland and the Port Hope and Lindsay Branch. He built the suspension bridge at Burlington Beach, Garafraxa grave road and part of the Toronto and Owen Sound road. He was concerned in the construction of many other roads, and was contractor for street work and sewers in Owen Sound up to a short time before his death, on Sunday, at the age of 84 years and 2 months. Deceased was born in Belfast, and was a member of the Irish Constabulary before coming to this country, nearly 50 years ago, his first employment being as keeper at the Toronto Asylum. His son, Moses McDowall, is Superintendent of Streets, besides whom two daughters survive. He was probably the oldest Orangeman in this part of Ontario.
