WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

THE British, advancing again in Palestine, have cut the railway between Jaffa and Jerusalem and have also seized the junction of this line and the railway from Beersheba to Damascus. This coup turns Jerusalem from the west and unless the enemy can make a stand a short distance to the north of where the present fighting proceeds, he will have to evacuate Jerusalem. Von Falkenhayn, it appears, has a Turkish army concentrated at Aleppo. He planned the recapture of Bagdad, but Sir Stanley Maude has stolen a march on him and has destroyed the ammunition accumulated for the Turkish Mesopotamian campaign. General Allenby is advancing to the attack in Palestine for the compelling of Von Falkenhayn to divide his forces. Either he must do so in order to send large reinforcements to Palestine, or he leaves Syria open for British occupation.

In the furious struggle from the Trentino to the Adriatic Sea, the Italians have given a little ground in the Trentino and the enemy has established another bridgehead on the western bank of the Piave. The most critical point is the Trentino. If the enemy breaks thru in this region, he can get behind the Italian armies on the Piave and can make another big haul of prisoners. Cadorna, however, had paid particular care to the fortification of the Trentino, so the region should be easy to defend. The allies are taking no precautions and have evacuated the art treasures from Venice. This news is a sharp blow to the predatory instincts of the enemy. Severe winter weather has set in on the mountains. The enemy is already fighting under heavy difficulties. These will increase as the campaign proceeds. Shortage of lubricants is interfering with the mobility of his artillery. The Italian campaign will increase the shortage.

The clamor raised against Lloyd George for his Paris speech, and his strategic board, has ceased as suddenly as it began. No person, it seems, wants the British premiership with its great responsibility. The present crisis makes it inadvisable to have a political upheaval at the present time. Lord Northcliffe has declined a position in the cabinet as minister of aerial affairs. His lordship disagrees with part of the British policy, especially towards the United States. He arrived in London, it seems, at the right moment to suppress the protest raised by his newspapers. His lack of the taste for parliamentary speech-making probably has had something to do with the refusal of a portfolio. An aerial minister at the present moment would have a great deal of business to transact. Moreover his organs would have to cease from blaming the government.

The German newspapers display great interest in the British parliamentary crisis. They are inclined to think that Mr. Asquith might succeed Lloyd George and that the fall of Lloyd George would remove an obstacle to their coming peace drive. Thus the clamor raised in a section of the British press has, for the moment, encouraged the enemy. He has been assiduously preparing for another peace agitation. Mushroom papers, whose financiers are unknown, have suddenly sprung up in England to advocate peace. The British Government is preparing measures to curb the activity of pro-German peace-mongers and human rabbits by instituting a censorship of their pamphlets and other writings. The government will stop the publication of anonymous books and articles on peace or the war. It will subject signed books and articles on peace and the war to a rigid censorship. This will end the attempts of certain persons at creating a public opinion favorable to the giving back of the lost German colonies, to the raising of the alienation of certain dominions' support, and to the formulation of the allied peace terms. The allies, however, are fighting for the future more than for the present, and nothing less than a complete victory in the field will do. The British navy, aided by the United States navy, has assured the winning of complete victory on land by its complete victory on the sea over the German submarine campaign.

The Bolsheviki have lost ground before the attack of Kerensky and his supporters, have had to evacuate Catchina, and have had to fall back to other positions. This reverse is on their own admission. Their assertion of their position's being strong enough to resist forces ten times as strong as the forces of Kerensky, sounds like the uttering of words to encourage their followers. They still hold Petrograd, and some Russian warships, manned by sailors of their political persuasion, have taken up stations in the Neva to bombard the city if their faction loses control. Kerensky, instead of attacking them in their dens, may choose to starve them out by cutting off their food supply.

SEVERELY BLAMES BRITISH POLICY

documents which have passed thru my hands as head of the mission are such as, if published would greatly increase our prestige in the United States and hearten our people at home.

"May I also take this opportunity of giving warning about our relations with that great people from whom I come. We have had the tragedy of Russia, due partly to lack of allied propaganda to counteract that of the Germans. We have had the tragedy of Italy, largely due to that same enemy propaganda. We have had the tragedies of Serbia, Rumania and Montenegro. There is one tragedy which I am sure we shall not have and that is the tragedy of the United States.

"But from countless conversations with leading Americans I know that unless there is swift improvement in our methods here the United States will rightly take into its own hands the entire management of a great part of the war. It will not sacrifice its blood and treasure to the incompetent handling of the affairs of Europe.

"In saying all this, which is very much on my mind, believe me I have none but the most friendly feeling toward yourself and that I am greatly honored by your suggestion.

"Yours sincerely,

"Northcliffe."

CANADIAN SOLDIER MURDERED IN LONDON

Canadian Associated Press Cable.

London, Nov. 15.—A mysterious story concerning the death of Pte. Oliver Gilbert Imley, a Canadian, in London, was investigated today by the coroner. John McKinley, another Canadian of the same battalion, much bandaged, narrated having met Imley on Thursday night on Waterloo road. An Australian soldier asked them to buy him coffee. They did so. They later met this Australian with another and a civilian. The Australians told the Canadians not to stay at the Y.M.C.A., but to come to a certain house, where they could have beer and a good time. The Canadians proceeded back to the Y.M.C.A., but in a dark place encountered this civilian again, who demanded money. The witness received a violent blow and says Imley was likewise assaulted. Imley died later in a hospital.

HAMILTON NEWS

PREFER TO SELL TO GOVERNMENT

Fishermen of Bronte Eager to Help in Supplying Fish.

Hamilton, Nov. 15.—That the fisher folk of Bronte were eager to operate with the government, that fish might be supplied in large quantities and at low prices, was the good word that Controller Jutten brought back from the conference in the lakeside town this afternoon. Hon. Finlay MacDiarmid, minister of works, was unable to be present, but the government was represented by C. S. Squires, secretary of the sales branch.

The fishermen state that they would prefer selling to the government rather than to private companies, and Mr. Squires promised that they would be given every consideration. It was arranged that the fishermen should meet again tonight for the purpose of organizing.

Damages of $10,000 are being asked by Robert H. Merigold and his wife Elizabeth in their action, which commenced in the assizes today against the Grand Trunk Railway, the Illinois Central and the Pullman Company, for loss of business, personal sufferings, indignities and expenses sustained thru being deprived of the use of a drawing-room suite from New Orleans to Chicago.

Claiming that it would be too close to the King George School the board of control today opposed an application received from Chairman Milne of the building committee of the school board, and Secretary Foster, for permission to secure a site for a new thirty-room school on the Scott property.

As the result of a complete apology the case of the United Gas & Fuel Company of this city against The Herald Printing Company, the Dominion Natural Gas Company and the Manufactures' Natural Gas Company for libel has been settled out of court.

SAYS IRISHMEN AIM AT FULL INDEPENDENCE

Viscount Chaplin Calls Attention of Lords to Grave Situation in Ireland.

SINN FEIN ASPIRATIONS

Association Not Pro-German, But Chasing the Ideal of an Irish Republic.

London, Nov. 15.—Viscount Chaplin in the house of lords today called attention to the grave situation in Ireland. He referred especially to the Sinn Fein campaign in favor of an independent republic.

Baron Wimborne, lord lieutenant of Ireland, replying, said he did not share Viscount Chaplin's gloomy anticipations. Despite the inflammable matter in Ireland, the gravest danger to be apprehended was the importation of arms or a hostile landing. But he had been assured that in view of the steps taken neither possibility was likely to arise. As to the internal situation in Ireland, that was not out of hand, and generally the country was prosperous. A governing factor in the situation was the Irish convention, which he believed had been rewarded with substantial progress.

After alluding to the expected rising in Ireland last Sunday week, which did not materialize, he said that had the executive taken precipitate action the convention would have been killed. This incident justified the government policy not to seek trouble, but to be prepared.

The Sinn Feiners, said Lord Wimborne, were not pro-German either in feeling or in impulse. Their idea of Ireland becoming a republic must always remain a dream, he declared. The government now had an adequate military establishment in Ireland.

GERMAN SHELL HITS AMERICAN SOLDIERS

Number of Infantrymen Wounded by Same Projectile—Artillery Retaliates.

Canadian Associated Press Cable.

With the American Army in France, Nov. 15.—A number of American infantrymen suffering from shell wounds arrived today at the base hospital. All the casualties were caused by the same shell.

A group of Americans were in a shack in the reserve when the Germans began shelling heavily. The officers ordered the men to a dugout, but before they could get there a big shell dropped on the position and exploded. The American artillerists concentrated their fire on the communicating trenches of the enemy, and it is believed that their shells caused considerable casualties and damage.

TAKE TURKISH GUNS

Advance of British Northward is Continuing, Report From London War Office States.

London, Nov. 15.—The junction point of the Beersheba-Damascus Railway with the line to Jerusalem is now in the possession of the British army in Palestine, it was officially announced. The railway line to the vicinity of Na'aneh and El-Mansurah came into British possession as a result of the continued advance of Gen. Allenby's infantry and mounted troops. The Turks lost 1500 men in prisoners on Tuesday, besides four guns and a score of machine guns.

The text of the official statement on the Palestine operations reads: "Our infantry and mounted troops continued their advance yesterday, Gen. Allenby reported yesterday, and we now hold the railway line in the vicinity of El-Mansurah and Na'aneh including the junction of the Beersheba-Damascus Railway with the line to Jerusalem.

"The losses inflicted on the Turks on Tuesday were heavy, including 400 buried at Katrah alone. Our captures on Tuesday amounted to more than 1500 prisoners, 20 machine guns and four guns."

SERVES ULTIMATUM ON G.N.W. TELEGRAPH

Ottawa, Nov. 16. — The Morning Citizen says: Hon. T. W. Crothers has served a mandatory notice on the Great North Western Telegraph Company that it must carry out to the full the award of the conciliation board which it accepted some weeks ago, thus terminating the operators' strike.

"A part of the agreement was that all the strikers had to be taken back, but complaints have been made that this has not been done in the case of many of the female machine operators. The union has taken up the matter with the minister whose orders have gone forth to the company.

"If they are not carried out, the government, under the War Measures Act, can impose penalties."

leader of the French-Canadians to describe him as brigand show that his activities have been interfering in the internal affairs of the self-governing dominions?"

Mr. Bonar Law replied:

"No, I do not think that it proves that. I have not seen the statement referred to and I do not think that any observer is justified in such inference."

General Croft asked: "Is it not a fact that Bourassa is not a leader of the French-Canadians; does not represent Canadian sentiment any more than Outhwaite?"

Mr. Pringle said: "He supported the present government during the last election."

PEACE AGITATORS FACE REPRESSIVE MEASURES

British Government Will Supervise Pamphlets on War and Termination.

London, Nov. 15.—The home secretary announced in the house of commons today that the government would seek power under the Defence of the Realm Act to compel all pamphlets relating to the war or the conclusion of peace to bear the authors' and printers' names and to be submitted to the press bureau for approval.

Philip Snowden, Socialist, sought to move the adjournment of the house to debate what he called an attempt to suppress advocacy of the peace propaganda, but he was unable to get the members to support his motion.

POLITICAL MEETINGS OF SOLDIERS BARRED

Canadian Associated Press Cable.

London, Nov. 15.—Canadian headquarters, reminding camp commandants that the King's regulations forbid political meetings among the soldiers, instruct them to ensure a strict enforcement of the rule that all civilians entering the camps should hold a pass.

The Canadian Press understands that this reminder has been issued after consultation of the scrutineers on both sides. Electioneering activities on both sides will seemingly be confined to the distribution of literature. W. T. R. Preston, Liberal scrutineer, occupies a page advertisement in the Canadian paper published here with an appeal to the soldier voters
