CUBS WERE UNABLE TO STOP GIANTS

Tesreau's Offerings Were a Puzzle to Johnny Evers' Team.

PIRATES TIED PHILLIES

Game Was Called in Twelfth on Account of Darkness—Braves Beat Cardinals—Reds Win.

New York, Aug. 22.—The Giants saw much better than the Cubs today how to win a ball game. "Saw" is used literally, for it was a dark and dingy day, overtopped by heavy clouds, and the Giants saw—or felt—their way around the bases with much better effect than the Cubs. They beat the latter 8 to 1. The Giants were very keen-eyed, and made numerous runs by hitting Cheney and Jim Vaughn, while the Cubs couldn't see Tesreau's sallvary offerings when they needed hits. A TWELVE-INNING TIE.

Philadelphia, Aug. 22.—Pittsburg and Philadelphia battled to a twelve-inning tie game today, darkness stopping play with the score 3 all. Both Managers Dooin and Clarke made frequent shifts in their line-ups to win, the Phillies using sixteen men and the Pirates fifteen. Philadelphia would have been shut out but for an error by Viox, in the third inning. Score:

New York, Aug. 22.—Backed by perfect fielding and steadied by Johnny Kling and Joe Tinker, Chief Johnson, the Cincinnati Indian pitcher, trimmed the Brooklyns at Ebbets Field, 7 to 2. Although the Tinks were outbatted they made their bingles count, and took advantage of Allen's wildness. Score:

JESS WILLARD UNDER ARREST WHILE MAN HE KNOCKED OUT IS DYING

John W. Young, Former Sparring Partner of Late Luther McCarty, Seriously Injured in Bout.

[Canadian Press.]

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 23.—That there was no hope for the recovery of John W. ("Bull") Young, jun., the heavyweight pugilist, former sparring partner of the late Luther McCarty, who was knocked out by Jesse Willard last night in the eleventh round of their scheduled 20-round bout at Vernon arena, was the announcement made today at a hospital, to which he was rushed after the contest. His skull was fractured. Willard is technically under arrest.

Money Stringency Is Nearly Over

[Canadian Press.]

Winnipeg, Aug. 22.—The financial situation in Western Canada has never been any more acute than in the older countries of the world, according to an opinion expressed this morning by H. V. Meredith, vice-president and general manager of the Bank of Montreal.

Mr. Meredith is making a tour of inspection of Western Canada, accompanied by Mr. L. Meredith, of London, Ont.

"There has been no greater stringency here," Mr. Meredith said, "than there has been in Berlin, Vienna and London. It is a world-wide condition. At all times there have been spells when money has been tight, and there is no particular significance to this one."

URGES PUBLIC TO TURN DOWN JACK JOHNSON

Big Pugilist Is Likely to Get a Cold Reception in Old London.

Several Actresses Refuse To Go on the Stage If He Appears.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Aug. 23.—Maidie Scott, one of the performers scheduled to appear at the same music hall next week as "Jack" Johnson, cancelled her engagement today rather than appear on the same stage as the negro heavyweight.

Henry Tozer, manager of the syndicate owning the music hall where Johnson is engaged, said today that the decision regarding the cancellation of the Johnson contract had been postponed until tomorrow, adding: "There are two parties to a contract."

In a telegram from Paris, Johnson says he will come to London tomorrow and appear on the stage Monday night. He says: "All this talk is due to jealousy because I defeated all the English-speaking champions."

Papers Protest.

The newspapers continue their campaign by editorial protests and by their columns of letters to the editor.

The Rev. F. B. Meyer, secretary of the National Free Church Council, who took a leading part in preventing the fight between Johnson and Wells, says: "The engagement of Jack Johnson seems to me to be a thoroughly backward step and one which is likely to give a great setback to the tone of the music halls. Surely after the recent exposures in the American courts and the other associations of recent years with his name and doings it is hardly worthy of the traditions of the English variety stage to put this man on show. I only hope the masses of music hall frequenters will let the managers understand that they do not want an exhibition of this kind, and I congratulate the Variety Artists' Federation for the splendid stand it has made. All who have the opportunity should use it to prevent the scandal of this exhibition. The licensing sessions next November ought to have something to say about it."

Beth Tate, one of the artistes due to appear with Johnson at the Euston Hall, says she will not appear if Johnson does.

MARVELLOUS ESCAPES.

"I was on the top floor of a skyscraper,' said the first fiction expert, "visiting a poulterer, when a fire broke out and cut off all retreat."

"How did you escape?" asked the second expert.

"Oh, I simply plucked a goose and so got 'down.'"

"Well," said No. 2, whose professional pride was hurt, "I was once in a similar position. The escapes were too short and hundreds of people watched from the street, expecting every moment that the flames would reach me. But I did not lose my presence of mind. As they gazed up, I walked down the 'stares.'"

AFRAID SHE WOULDN'T SUIT.

A young housewife was showing a new and inexperienced servant about the house, explaining the various duties that would be hers. In an upper hall they came suddenly to the head of the back stairs, and the lady said:

"Nancy, you will go down this way, always!" and with that the mistress slipped and tumbled, going all the way down with many lurches and bumps.

The new maid was aghast.

"Lor, missus; I'm afraid I won't suit you at all. That way of goin' downstairs is a bit too dangerous for me."

FALSE ALARM.

"You ought to have seen Mr. Marshall when he called upon Dolly the other night," remarked Johnny to his sister's young man, who was taking tea with the family. "I tell you he looked fine sitting there alongside of her with his arm——"

"Johnny!" gasped his sister, her face the color of a boiled lobster.

"Well, so he did," persisted Johnny. "He had his arm——"

"John!" screamed his mother, frantically.

"Why," whined the boy, "I was——"

"John!" said his father, sternly, "leave the room."

And Johnny left, crying as he went: "I was only going to say that he had his army clothes on."

SIDELIGHTS ON SPORT

By Jinx

THE SENSIBLE FAN,
or "A Touchy Subject."

"What dos't thou think of t... team?"
I questioned a friend of mine.
But he looked at me with a vacant stare
And said: "The weather is fine."

Once again I tried: "What thinkest thou
Of our pennant chance?" I said.
But I guess he didn't quite understand,
For he only nodded his head.

So one more time I asked of my friend
(This time I spoke it plain):
"Dos't think, old man, this London team
Can recover first place again?"

"Yes, the weather is clouding up a bit,
I think it will rain today,"
Was the answer he gave to me
As he turned and walked away.

* * *

Yes; we all have our own opinion of the way London is playing ball at present, and most of us could be arrested for what we think of that kind of baseball.

* * *

Red Rowe is named to manage the Brantford team next season, demonstrating that Red is a careless young feller, and don't care a bean what happens to him.

* * *

No doubt Mr. Rowe consoles himself with the fact that if he manages the Red Sox next year, nobody can say that he can finish any worse than the team did this year.

* * *

One thing that impresses us about managing a tail-end team is that you have to start at the bottom and work yourself up.

* * *

A gink named Oscar Egg broke the world's bicycling record. With a name like that, Oscar cannot be blamed for breaking things.

HE'S A WISE GUY WHO KNOWS.

The wise guys tell us sunshine
Will always follow rain,
And joy, and peace, and gladness,
Pursue sorrow and pain.

The darkest hour precedes the dawn.
We tumble when we're proud.
And we'll find a silver lining
In every storm-tossed cloud.

That may be true, we will admit,
But won't they up and speak,
And tell us when this London team
Will shake that losing streak.

* * *

Jess Willard knocked out his opponent last night and the fellow has no chance for recovery, according to the hospital doctors. Another nail in the lid that will eventually box up prize-fighting.

Honest, though, managing a tail-end team is much the same as trying to climb out of a well through the bottom. It's one of those hopeless tasks.

The Brantford ball club won a game yesterday, and wouldn't it be just like Amby Kane to rub it in by wiring his congratulations.

CAUSE FOR FRIGHT.

The family at the supper table had been discussing a horse frightened by a motor into running away. After silently listening for a while, Mary finally looked up from her plate.

"I don't blame horses," she said, "for being afraid of motors. You would be, too, if you were a horse."

"Why, Mary?" asked her father.

"Well," said Mary, "wouldn't you be frightened if you saw a pair of pants coming along without a man in them?"

NOT ON YOUR LIFE.

The conversation led to surgical operations the other day, and Congressman John H. Small, of North Carolina, told of the experience of a southern blacksmith.

The blacksmith, who was long on the wisdom of his trade, but short on medical lore, according to the congressman, sprained his wrist one afternoon and lost no time in hustling to the office of a physician.

The doctor examined the wrist and then took a small bottle from a shelf, but found it empty.

"James," said he, turning to an assistant, "go upstairs and bring me down a couple of phials."

"What's that?" exclaimed the patient, suddenly showing large signs of emotion.

"I was merely asking my assistant to bring me down a couple of phials from upstairs," answered the doctor.

"Files!" cried the blacksmith, with a look of determination. "No, you don't, doc! If that hand has got to come off you will use an axe or a saw."

URGENTLY NEEDED.

Landlady (to applicant for rooms)—Beg pardon, sir, but what business do you follow?

Applicant — I am a doctor of music.

Landlady — Oh, then, we shall be glad to have you with us, and I'm sure you'll do well here, for there's lots of music in this locality that needs doctoring."

READILY ANSWERED.

The railway ticket collector in England put his head in at the carriage door and addressed the jolly individual inside.

"Tickets, please," he said.

The smiling one looked at him with alcoholic sadness.

"Got no ticket (hic); don't bother me," he said, settling down again.

The collector at once produced his receipt book and after consulting a table of fares, exclaimed:

"Five and six, please."

"What's that?" queried the merry one.

"Five and six, please," repeated the collector.

The other thought a moment and looking up, said: "Eleven.'
