FOR THE FARM, THE WORKSHOP AND THE HOUSEHOLD.

Chemistry for Girls.

Something that every woman should read. This is properly styled a utilitarian age, for the inquiry, 'What profit?' meets us everywhere. It has entered the temples of learning, and attempted to thrust out important studies, because their immediate connection with hard money profits cannot be demonstrated.—There is one spot, however, into which it has not so generally intruded itself—the female academy—the last refuge of the fine arts and fine follies. Thither young ladies are too frequently sent, merely to learn how to dress tastefully and walk gracefully, play, write French and make waxen plumes and silken spiders—all pretty, but why not inquire 'What profit?'

I take my pen, not to utter a dissertation on female education, but to insist that young ladies be taught chemistry. They will thereby be better qualified to superintend domestic affairs, guard against many accidents to which households are subject, and perhaps be instrumental in saving life. We illustrate the last remark by reference merely to the study of poisons.

The strong acids, such as nitric, muriatic and sulphuric, are virulent poisons, yet frequently used in medicine and the mechanical arts. Suppose a child in his rambles among the neighbors should enter a cabinet shop, and find a saucer of aqua fortis (nitric acid) upon the work-bench, and in his sport seize and drink a portion of it. He is conveyed home in great agony. The physician is sent for, but ere he arrives the child is a corpse. Now as the mother presses the cold clay to her breast and lips for the last time, how will her anguish be aggravated to know that in her medicine chest, or drawer, was some calcined magnesia, which, if timely administered, would have saved her lovely, perchance her first and only boy. Oh! what are all the bouquets and fine dresses in the world to her, compared with such knowledge?

Take another case. A husband returning home, on a Summer afternoon, desires some acidulous drink. Opening a cupboard, he sees a small box, labeled 'salt of lemon,' and making a solution of this, he drinks freely. Presently he feels distress, sends for his wife, and ascertains that he has drank a solution of oxalic acid, which she has procured to take stains from linen. The physician is sent for; but the unavoidable delay attending his arrival is fatal. When he arrives, perhaps he sees upon the very table on which the weeping widow bows her head, a piece of chalk, which, if given in time, would certainly have prevented any mischief from the poison.

Corrosive sublimate is the article generally used to destroy the vermin which sometimes infest our couches. A solution of it is laid upon the floor in a tea-cup, when the domestics go down to dine, leaving the children up stairs to play; the baby crawls to the tea-cup and drinks. Now what think you would be the mother's joy, if having studied chemistry, she instantly called to recollection the well ascertained fact, that there is in the hen's nest an antidote to this poison? She sends for some eggs, and breaking them, administers the whites. Her child recovers, and she weeps for joy. Talk to her of novels—one little book of natural science has been worth more to her than all the novels in the world.

Physicians in the country rarely carry scales with them to weigh their prescriptions. They administer their medicines by guess, from a tea-spoon or the point of a knife. Suppose a common case. A physician in a hurry leaves an over-dose of tartar-emetic, (generally the first prescription in cases of bilious fever,) and pursues his way to another patient, ten miles distant. The medicine is duly administered, and the man is poisoned. When the case becomes alarming, one messenger is despatched for the doctor, and another to call in the neighbors to see the sufferer die. Now there is, in a canister in the cupboard, and on a tree that grows by the door, a remedy for this distress and alarm—a sure means of saving the sick man from threatened death. A strong decoction of young hyson tea, oak bark, or any other astringent vegetable, will change tartar-emetic into a harmless compound.

Vessels of copper often give rise to poisoning. Though this metal undergoes but little change in a dry atmosphere, it is rusted [illegible] if acidulous matter is present, and [illegible] moisture covered with [illegible] surface becomes coated with a green substance—a carbonate or protoxide of copper, a poisonous compound. It has sometimes happened that a mother has, for want of knowledge, poisoned her family. Sour krout, when permitted to stand for some time in a copper vessel, has produced death in a few hours. Cooks sometimes permit pickles to remain in copper vessels, that they may acquire a rich green color, which they do by absorbing poison.—E. Thompson, D. D., in Church Union.

The Timber Trade.

Messrs. Singleton, Dunn & Co., Glasgow, in their Circular of the 9th ult., says:—

Our trade has been dull during the last two months, the demand which had previously sprung up having apparently spent itself with the close of last year. Stocks all round are low, and consumption is fair, still dealers show great indisposition to operate beyond their actual needs. The position of matters depresses business very much, but it cannot be overcome.—Importers have tried to provoke a little speculation, both by tempting private offers and by public auctions, but without avail. A waiting policy must now be followed, and the probabilities are that it will be a very short time a more active state of [illegible] will again revive. The Shipping [illegible] of G. [illegible] is a fair amount of work [illegible] but contracts are not coming [illegible] Stone building is fairly employed [illegible] promise that it will [illegible] Waggon building is unusually [illegible] Box making is numerous [illegible] has had a most pre-judicial effect on stocks of the lower qualities of deals. Contracting business has been very moderate in Clyde and will leave room for considerable consignment.

Birch.—The transactions recently have been of about as bad a character as any we have yet experienced; large quantities of Quebec wood 14 to 15 inch have been sold at 15d., and a big parcel of 17 to 18 inch (part poor quality) was sold at 1s. per cubic foot.—The consumers are fairly supplied for the next six months, and it would be well that shippers would refrain from sending more forward, at least till late in the season. The best parcels of fresh Quebec wood are just now neglected, even though offered at so low as 19d. to 20d. per cubic.

Deals.—The demand has been light, and prices have shown no improvement. Notwithstanding the low stock of all kinds there is no disposition to speculate, and dealers show no concern as to the future. Shippers have been pressing their goods too much, and in consequence an impression is abroad that Deals are very abundant, and though not imported on contract, will find their way to the market. This remark applies more to Lower Ports than Quebec goods.—The prices which have been accepted are lower than have been realized for a long time.—Choice specifications of Miramichi Spruce have been sold at 40s. per 1000 superficial feet to Glasgow buyers, and to some outports from 1s 3d to 2s 6d. per 1000 feet better has been done. For the stock on hand from 3s to 3s 3d has been done for Quebec 1st Pine Deals, 20d. to 2s. per cubic foot for 2nd Pine, and 14d. to 16d. for 3rd Pine Deals. Quebec Spruce Deals have been sold at from 10½d. to 12d., and St. John Spruce from 10d. to 12d. The stock of Lower Port Pine deals has been a drug for a long time, and as box making is unusually dull, there is no immediate chance of doing good with them, and very low prices have been taken, from 10d. to 10½d. for 7x3, and 11d. to 11½d for broader. The stock at the Glasgow yards is getting unusually low.

Freights.—Though the excitement caused by the charter of the three or four vessels between 33 and 34s. 6d. Quebec to Greenock, had not quite subsided at the date of our last, it gradually died away, importers being very firm in their refusal to pay more than 30s. at which rate a considerable quantity of tonnage was fixed in the course of last month. Slightly higher rates have been paid by anxious people in one or two instances, but there is not, we think, the slightest cause for anxiety, the unemployed tonnage that easily can, and probably will, be directed into the Timber trade being much more than sufficient to reduce the rate to less than 30s. The same is true of freights from the Lower Ports, to which there will, doubtless, be a considerable flow of tonnage, lower freights offering better business than anything else that is to be had. A good many vessels are being held back meantime for 80s. from Richbucto, which, we think, there is no reason they should get. From Miramichi to Clyde, Glasgow included, 75s. has been paid, but that is a full rate.

TRIPLETS.—A correspondent writes: On the 21st inst., Mrs. Joseph Cail, of Mill Branch, Kent County, presented her husband with an addition of three daughters to an already numerous family. At the present date (March 24) the mother and two children are doing well, the third being dead.—Telegraph.

LUMBERERS, ATTENTION!

I AM SOLE AGENT FOR THE

which with the late improvements, stands unrivalled.

This Machine requires no expensive puffing, as it has by its own merits become the leading Saw Mill of Canada.

It is so geared that the Saw makes two revolutions to one stroke of the piston, thus avoiding the shaking caused by direct action.
