

Can Wash Its Own Linen.

Baltimore, March 2.—President John K. Tener of the National League, in Baltimore over Sunday, evinced considerable interest in the suit which the Baltimore Federals are contemplating. He asked against whom the suit would be entered, and expressed surprise when informed that rumor had it the National and American Leagues would be included. It is generally understood that no small part of the action will be based on the fact that the various Federal League park leases were held by the league as a whole, and that Baltimore has had no say in any of the actions taken in regard to them. This was explained to Mr. Tener, and he said that was a case of washing its own linen in its own family, and that he could not see where the American and National Leagues should be brought in. Concerning the local situation regarding the International League, Mr. Tener would not be quoted. He did say, however, that organized baseball had nothing to do with the fact that the Federals went to pieces and left Baltimore in the lurch, and that antagonizing Dunn was a peculiar way of getting revenge.

LETTER FROM SOLDIER OF THE FIGHTING 10TH

Wife of P. C. Barr Has Brother in Connaught Rangers.

TELLS OF LIFE IN THE EAST Not a Fighting Lad Left in Sligo—All Are at War.

The following letter has been received by Mrs. Barr wife of P. C. Barr, from her brother, Joseph Taylor, of the Connaught Rangers. The writer of the letter has three brothers on this Continent, one in Philadelphia and two in Brantford. Of the two here, one, William George Taylor, is a sergeant in the 125th, while the other, Harry, is the prominent left back of the Twisted Foot ball team, which won the Courier, Expositor and John Hill trophies last season.

The Connaught Rangers is the famous 10th division which saved the Allies from disaster on the retreat to Saloniki. The letter follows: THE LETTER

British Med't Exp'd. Fore. My Dear Sister and Brother. In answer to your most welcome letter which you sent in October last, I just got it yesterday, 28th January, 1916. I would have got it two weeks ago but I was away in hospital. I was sent to Egypt, as I was a bit done up. But thank God, I am quite well again now and back with my unit again. I was delighted to hear from you. I am a lot farther from home than you are, and we had a lovely passage when going to the Dardanelles. But I have had a rough one since. I had to see one of the submarines. We have lovely weather here. It is as hot as summer at home. But the nights are frosty and very cold. We have got heavy coats, sheep skins, like Brian O'Linna. This country is full of goldfinches. It's just lovely to hear them sing. I have seen some terrible sights since I left the Old Country last July, and thank God that I am so well. There has been some hot strapping out here, and the 10th Division has covered itself with glory. The old Connaughts are the talk of the country. Sligo is fairly screened out now, not a fighting lad left. I am writing this by the light of a camp fire outside my dugout. There are three of us, all Irish, in this dugout, and we are as cosy as if we were in a drawing room again. Our dugout is on the side of a hill overlooking a lovely lake, and plenty of birds to keep us merry. The enemy is far away just now, so we are on our ease. The pride of old Ireland is out here, and we will show the world how we can fight and die for the Old Country. I came out here to make the other fellows die, not myself. It takes a touch of war to make a man sensible. No more mad pranks for me when I get home again. And I can tell you that I won't be very particular as regards my appearance. I am a lesson for me, anyway. If you had seen some of the boys, how they were mangled with shrapnel, and how brave and noble they are in the hour of death. Poor lads, how they stick the torment.

You knew Capt. Cooper from Marce Castle. Well, he is in command of the 10th. Does Douglas play any Rugby out there. We don't play any faster out here. And please write very often to me. And tell William that I have more medals than I can wear when the war is over. They send me plenty of tobacco from home and cocoa and all that stuff. Well, I guess I won't be making you weary. I will close now, with fondest love.

EGYPT IS TOLD NOTHING OF ITS OWN FRONTIER

Suez Canal is Being Carefully Guarded Against Danger.

CANAL ZONE A RESTRICTED AREA Much Activity in Vicinity of Canal Throughout the Winter.

Cairo, Egypt, March 2.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Egypt is still very much in the dark as to what is going on along its frontier. Rumors of the most sensational kind are circulated, but there can be no doubt that the military authorities are running no risks, as far as the defense of the Canal is concerned. The Canal Zone long ago was made a restricted area in the most restricted military sense. Any person desiring to travel by railway to any station within the Canal Zone is required to obtain a special permit, which is only obtained after searching inquiries on the part of military officials. The permit may be either temporary—for one trip only—or permanent—for such as require to pay frequent visits to Port Said or Suez for business reasons. Any permit is revocable on the instant at the will of the officials. In the case of foreigners, application must first be made to the proper consular authority, which is then forwarded to the Public Security Department for investigation. Before returning from any place in the Canal Zone, the traveller must obtain a return permit, properly stamped by the Governor of Port Said or Suez or the Mayor of Ismailia. Similar restrictions apply to persons residing within the Canal Zone and desirous of travelling to any station outside of it.

In many ways the Canal zone is ideal for defensive purposes. The railway runs along the west bank of the Canal from Port Said for sixty or seventy miles. There has been no heavy fighting throughout the entire canal belt throughout the winter.

Sometimes Called Eczema—Removed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Salt rheum is one of the worst of unfortunately one of the most common of all diseases. Salt rheum comes from humors in the blood. This is why local applications do so little good. It will continue to exist, annoy, pain and perhaps agonize, until these humors have been removed. Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. It goes to the source of the trouble. It cleanses the blood of the humors that cause salt rheum. It has given perfect satisfaction in thousands of cases. POLITICS TABOO IN TORONTO HOUSE

Opening of Debate on Speech From the Throne is Non-Partisan.

Toronto, March 2.—Politics had absolutely no place in the opening of the debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne. Two members in uniform, Lieut-Col. Wm. H. Price, of Markdale, and Captain J. H. Simcoe, held the floor in moving and seconding the address, and neither made any attempt to introduce partisan subjects. The absence of a controversial attitude on either side of the House was evident from the opening of the first business session yesterday. Before the orders of the day were taken up N. W. Rowell, K.C., rose and complimented Hon. Mr. Hearst upon his recovery in health, expressing the gratification he was confident the people of the province as a whole felt to see him able to resume his public duties. Speaking on behalf of the Opposition, I want to say that if there is anything we can do to make the burden of responsibility upon the Prime Minister any lighter during the session we will do it," he said. Mr. Rowell also expressed his pleasure that Hon. Mr. Duff had recovered health. The Prime Minister responded briefly, thanking the leader of the Opposition. "It is just such expressions of good-will," he said, "that help to smooth over the rough spots of the path of men in political life."

SAVE YOUR HAIR!

25 CENT BOTTLE STOPS DANDRUFF

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine to-night—now—any time—will surely save your hair. Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from an ydrug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will wake on this life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

TRADE MEASURES AFTER THE WAR

German Goods Will be Banned and Preference Given to Colonies.

London, March 2.—The Daily News learns that the inner circle of the cabinet will recommend the incorporation in the budget of an announcement that German imports will be prohibited after the war, and also that measures will be taken, probably in the purpose of encouraging exports from the British colonies to the countries of the Allies. No decision is likely to be reached in the matter, adds the newspaper, until it has been considered by the entire cabinet, as well as by the economic conference of the allies, the forthcoming meeting of which Reginald McKenna, chancellor of the exchequer, announced in his speech at the Guild Hall yesterday.
