GREATEST HOLIDAY TRAFFIC OF YEARS KEEPS LOCAL RAILWAY TICKET OFFICES BUSY EVERY DAY

Agents Have Not Known Such a Rush and Holiday Resorts Are Filled—Many Taking Long Journeys.

Local ticket offices are besieged every hour in the day with holiday-makers in search of information in regard to trips and summer resorts, or for the more practical business of purchasing tickets.

Seats in parlor cars and compartments and sleepers are being booked weeks ahead to insure accommodation.

"It's the biggest holiday traffic in years, probably the biggest we have ever had," is the story told by members of the ticket office staffs in pauses between making out tickets.

Racks are filled with summer trip and summer resort literature, only to be emptied like magic.

The end of the war and the long season are jointly credited with the impetus to holiday travel this year. Even in the days before the use of the motor car to such an extent for traveling up and down the length and breadth of the country, nothing like the same number of people seemed to be buying tickets.

Summer resorts in every direction are filled right up, it is reported, with bookings until on in September.

Notable features of the holiday travel are the long trips that are being made.

The trip to the coast has resumed its place as a vacation trip, and numbers of tickets are being bought through the Rockies to the Pacific.

People who have deferred trips to the old country through the years of the war are now getting ready to make up for lost time.

As a rule, the people going overseas are those who have friends and relatives in the old land whom they have not been able to visit for five years. Even the higher prices for travel are not interfering with tripping apparently in the least degree.

Sorrowing Harold Cannot Cut Swath Minus White Pants

He Wants Flannels, But Not One Place Can He Get Them.

Harold, dear, is going on his vacation and Harold is one of these nifty young men with a particular about the appearance he makes, foreordained by providence to cut a wide swath at the most exclusive summer resort.

Harold is enough of a good business-man to know that the wise merchant is the one who is fastidious about the appearance of his show windows, so little Harold's mobile brow is wrinkled these days over the woes of selecting and achieving a proper outfit. Achieving—there's the rub!

He Has the Taste, but—

He has the taste, all right, and a way about making cash.

That's the use of knowing what you want, when you can't get it? he wants to know mournfully.

Harold yesterday made up his mind that his holiday would be a failure if he couldn't get some nice, classy white flannel trousers. He hied him to a haberdasher's to invest in white flannel trousers, only to have his hopes dashed to the ground. The haberdasher was out.

Disappointed, but not discouraged, he paid a call to a second haberdasher. Nothing doing, white flannel trousers in Harold's size all gone.

Even Lizzie Failed.

He was getting weary by that time, so he got out his Tin Lizzie to aid him in the quest, and they visited every gents' furnishing store in town, and everything that looked like a gents' furnishing establishment, but nothing to be found in the white flannel trousers clothes line to fit Harold.

There were other white trousers he might have had, duck and things like that. But Harold haughtily refused.

"It's a holiday I'm going on," he related to all who would listen to him. "I don't want to be mistaken at the summer hotel for a plasterer or the cook."

"Aren't there any white flannel trousers left in town?" anxiously inquired some of his men friends, who have not yet taken their holidays.

"Yes," said Harold, "some big enough to fit Goliath. But that isn't my size."

The summer season this year has been so long and so hot that merchants have met with unprecedented success in disposing of holiday goods, especially those to fit medium-sized people.

FINED $15 AND COSTS FOR SELLING TO MINOR PACKET OF CIGARETTES

George Hutton, tobacconist, 259 Wellington street, was found guilty on a charge of selling cigarettes to a minor on Friday last, and paid $15 and costs for the privilege. Hutton pleaded not guilty, but the lad, aged 14, swore in the witness box that he purchased the smokes from the accused. He was captured by a policeman in front of The Advertiser office last Friday, and stated that Hutton sold him the fags.

Hutton pleaded not guilty. "I know of places where boys can get cigarettes on Sundays or any day," said the accused to the court. Hutton admitted that he had been convicted in December last on a similar charge.

"This puts a new light on the case," said Acting Magistrate Bartlett, in fining the defendant. "I have no doubt in my mind that you sold the boy those cigarettes."

John Crowdy, on remand, charged with assaulting his brother, Charles Crowdy, recently was again remanded for one week on his appearance in court today.

REPORTERS GOT SNIFF, BUT NOT SNIFTER, AT POLICE COURT BOTTLE

Once more Chief Williams has gained confidence in local newspaper reporters. A partially-filled bottle of whiskey was produced as evidence in a case in the Carling street sanctum this morning, and not being sure of the exact nature of the contents, the chief passed it to Inspector Birrell (heavy on the birr), who, after testing his olfactory powers, pronounced it as the real goods.

However, not satisfied, the chief passed the bottle to the two reporters present, and each enjoyed a momentary sniff, their verdict coinciding with that of the inspector. By special request the glassware was returned to Chief Williams, who offered it as a gift to Inspector Saunders of the Children's Aid Society, present at the time, who refused the offer.

The reporters had no opportunity of refusing. However, they are parading the streets today with chests protruding, and are boasting to other newshounds that they actually had a bottle of real nose-paint in their possession today, but they do not pause to explain the circumstances regarding their alleged good fortune.

UNNAMED BOARDER HAS VANISHED; SO HAS TWO GOOD SUITS OF CLOTHES

On Monday evening last an unknown man engaged a room at the boarding-house of Mrs. S. Collins, 506 Talbot street, and the following morning he decamped with two suits of clothes, the property of other occupants of the house. The police were notified today of the thefts. According to Mrs. Collins, the thief engaged his room, and slept in the house, and was aroused at 10 a.m. next day. He left Tuesday night, and following his departure the suits were missed. One is a blue serge suit with a belt, and the other is of dark brown worsted material.

The description of the offender given by the police is as follows: age, about 40 years; height, 5 feet 9 inches; weight, about 165 pounds; dark complexion, brown eyes and moustache, wearing a brown suit, with a light vest, a panama hat with black band and brown shoes. He gave no name to Mrs. Collins, and the local police are working on the case.

LOCAL NEWS

LONDON GIRL COMPOSER.—Miss Betty L. Knight of Duluth, Minn., formerly of this city, has recently written and had published a song entitled "Peace." The music is by Leo Friedman.

AN EXTENDED TRIP.—Col. C. E. H. and Mrs. Fisher left this morning for a three-months trip to the West. They will visit Winnipeg, Calgary, Banff, Vancouver, Victoria, and will take the boat trip thence to Alaska.

TO BUILD BIG ADDITION.—The McClary Manufacturing Company took out a permit Thursday to build a five-story addition to its uptown factory the cost to be $30,000. So far this month Building Inspector A. M. Piper has issued 102 permits, representing building to the amount of $138,100.

NO LIKELIHOOD OF STRIKE.—Thomas C. Duncan, assistant postmaster here, is not of the opinion that there will be a strike of postmen in this city. He thinks that even if the Government does not act at once, the men will receive their bonuses and increased pay eventually, and without having to resort to a show of force. The order-in-council giving the postles their demands will be retroactive.

EXPECT VETERANS TOMORROW.—A party of 9 officers and 124 other ranks for this district, which crossed the Atlantic on the S.S. Regina, was reported at Truro, Nova Scotia, yesterday at 7 p.m., en route to London. This party, 23 of whom are Londoners, will likely arrive at the Quebec street station of the C. P. R. here late tomorrow night, according to information given out by the military authorities.

ISSUES WRIT FOR $3,000.—Through her solicitors, Meredith & Fisher, Mary O. T. Barclay of Los Angeles, Cal., has issued a writ in the supreme court here against Ethelwyn McClary of the same city, and the London and Western Trusts Company, to recover $3,000 or the interest or share of the defendant in the McClary trusts, which plaintiff claims to be entitled to under an assignment executed by the defendant in favor of the plaintiff, directed and delivered to said defendant on May 19 last.

CAUGHT WITH BOTTLE SO MUST GO TO JAIL, FAILING TO PAY $200

Thomas Murray, charged with having liquor unlawfully in a place other than a private dwelling, pleaded not guilty in police court today, but on the evidence of Constables McCaughey and Tomlinson was convicted, and a fine of $200 and costs with the option of three months in jail was imposed. Murray surrendered himself to the police at the station this morning. A second charge of drunkenness was not pressed by the police authorities.

The Evidence.

P. C. McCaughey testified that on the evening of July 17 the police patrol was called to Dundas and Ridout streets, where a man was ill, and after placing the sick one on a stretcher, Murray was discovered in a very intoxicated condition, lying on the street car tracks. In his pocket was discovered a quart bottle of whiskey with the cork removed. P. C. Tomlinson corroborated the above witness, and in defence Murray informed the court that he was "pretty drunk, and did not remember having a bottle."

No Alternative.

"There is nothing for me to do but to find you guilty," stated the magistrate to Murray, "And there is nothing for me to do but impose a penalty of $200 or three months in jail. I am very sorry that this should have taken place. I have no discretion in the matter at all."

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

DEATH OF MRS. HOWSON.

Mrs. Howson, wife of Rev. W. G. Howson, died last evening at her home, 71 Askin street, following a paralytic stroke. She suffered the stroke on Saturday last, and since that time never regained consciousness. Mr. Howson at the time she was taken ill was out of the city.

Mrs. Howson is survived by four daughters and an adopted son, Frank. The funeral will be held on Monday from her late residence to Woodland Cemetery. Rev. J. T. C. Morris will conduct the services.

FIVE REINSTATED, FOUR REFUSED BY STREET RAILWAY CO.

Executive Fails To Get Conductors Taken Back.

IS UP TO UNION NOW

What Action It Will Take Over Discharges Is Not Known.

Five of nine men "let out" by the street railway company since the beginning of June have been reinstated as a result of the meeting of the grievance committee of the Street Railway Men's Association yesterday afternoon with the manager, C. B. King, and the superintendent, H. A. Humeston.

Another conference was held today on the cases of the other four employees discharged, two of whom got their blue tickets this week. This forenoon, the whole executive of the association, and not the grievance committee alone, was called in to confer with the manager and superintendent, who still stand by their original position in refusing to reinstate the four men. The matter will now be turned over to the union to take any action which is deemed fit.

No Connection.

Asked if the dismissal of the men had anything to do with the recent strike, John Ashton, chairman of the grievance committee, said: "Nothing whatever. This has been going on all through June as a result of reports made to the company. In all, nine men have been let out, five of whom were discharged this past week. Of the five, three have been taken back, making five in all of the nine discharged who have been reinstated.

"Just as in a law court, each case must be considered on its merits before the grievance committee.

"If the committee considers that the charges are not sustained, then the committee recommends reinstatement.

Up to Union.

"Now that the executive has taken up the cases of the four men who are still out without results, it is up to the union to take action. So far as any connection with the strike is concerned, there is absolutely nothing in that. Not one of the men discharged had anything to do with the strike."

Asked if it was probable the union would give financial support to the discharged employees to fight their cases out in court, Mr. Ashton stated that the union would not go into court.

"Individually, members of the union might support the men, if they felt they had not been dealt with fairly," said Mr. Ashton, "but not as a union."

Of the five men discharged this week, two only were accused of taking money which did not belong to them. The others were reported by "spotters" to have missed taking fares on certain occasions. It is pointed out by some employees that every conductor on the road misses getting fares sometimes.

THROWN TO GROUND ON HIS BACK WHEN SCAFFOLDING GIVES

Frank Wright, painter, of Manor Park, was painfully bruised this forenoon, when a scaffolding on which he was engaged at work with his employer, D. Pleiter, in front of the Mason & Risch store, Dundas street, collapsed about 10:30 o'clock.

Wright fell on his back on the sidewalk, a distance of seven feet, and was struck by falling boards from the scaffolding. It was feared at first that his back was severely injured, but Mr. Pleiter, who saw him at noon, states that though suffering a good deal, Wright expects to be out in a few days again. Dr. McLean, who came along in his car just at the time of the accident, took the sufferer home. A thorough examination has revealed no serious results from the fall.

Mr. Pleiter had a fortunate escape, with only a few scratches on his hands. When he felt the scaffolding give way he grabbed the frame of the awning in front of the store, an employee lowering it as soon as he took in the situation, and letting the contractor down.

FORMER SUPERINTENDENT OF AGED PEOPLE'S HOME RETURNS FROM OVERSEAS

After three years of overseas service, Nursing Sister Jean MacCallum, formerly superintendent for several years of the Aged People's Home, this city, has arrived at her home, 108 Avenue road, Toronto.

Her continued interest in the Aged People's Home and in her London friends was manifested by the fact that one of the first things she did after reaching Toronto Thursday was to call up on long distance phone, Miss S. MacDougall, the present superintendent, with whom she had been associated in work for many years in the home.

Nursing Sister MacCallum, who has a large circle of warm friends in London, and who was much admired and beloved by her "charges" in the Aged People's Home, went overseas with No. 10 Western University Hospital unit, going with the nurses who left for England on June 19, 1916.

After the reorganization of No. 10 Hospital at Eastbourne, Nursing Sister MacCallum stayed with the unit until No. 35 British General Hospital took it over. When other members of No. 10 unit returned home in May, Nursing Sister MacCallum was retained for duty at Orpington.

Her voice came cheerily over the telephone yesterday, and she was apparently in excellent health and spirits, after the trying experiences of the war. She was, moreover, delighted to be back home again, and is looking forward to a visit in London in the near future.

It is not known yet whether she will return to this city to take up again the duties of superintendent of the Aged People's Home, which Miss MacDougall has carried on in her absence.

CONDITION OF VETERAN WHO CUT HIS THROAT REPORTED AS UNCHANGED

Pte. R. Garratt Conscious But Does Not Talk Much.

The condition of Pte. R. Garratt, who slashed his throat severely with a razor at Carling Heights at noon on Thursday, was reported by the medical authorities at Wolseley Barracks Military Hospital this afternoon to be unchanged. Owing to the fact that a reaction from shock will likely set in soon, the medical officers in attendance refuse to venture an opinion on Garratt's chances for recovery.

The patient is conscious, but does not talk much, and has not yet informed his attendants of his motive in committing the rash deed. His wife, who resides at 176 Regular avenue, Detroit, has been notified of Garratt's condition by the military authorities, who will conduct a court of inquiry in the near future to investigate and report upon the circumstances surrounding the attempted suicide.
