The materials are Figured and Flowered Crepes, Marquisettes, Voiles, Muslins and Sheer Batistes.

There are also many smart tailored Shirtwaists, as well as the "New Middies" for misses. Many of these lines are unusually good values.

A SAD CASE

An unfortunate colored woman who was released from the Provincial Hospital a few days ago after having been there for more than a month was given in charge of the police yesterday by her husband and will be sent to the hospital again this afternoon as she is suffering from another attack.

SAYS HE IS STILL IN THE FIELD

There was a story around the streets this morning that ex-alderman James Sproul had retired from the race for the commissionership, but a telephone call to Mr. Sproul's home elicited a denial to the story. He is still in the field. The nominations filed so far are for James V. Russell, Frank L. Potts, John B. Jones and James L. Sugrue.

WILL AWAIT ACTION

The committee of the Fairville Board of Trade, appointed last evening to deal with the proposal to locate the tuberculosis hospital in Fairville, will take no further action in the matter until the proposal takes more definite form. So far all that has been done was the making of an informal offer to Mayor Frink for sale of a property which the owners are willing to sell for that purpose.

DIED IN CHELSEA

Mrs. McNevin, Mother of Mrs. James McCarthy of St. John

Sad news for the many friends of Mrs. James McCarthy, Germain and Queen streets, came in a letter from her yesterday afternoon announcing the death of her mother, Mrs. Neil McNevin, in Chelsea, Mass. She passed away on Tuesday night while Mrs. McCarthy still was on the Boston train hurrying to her mother's side in response to a telegram telling of her serious illness. Pneumonia was the cause of death and her illness was of but a few days duration, for she had reached her 87th year.

Mrs McNevin belonged to Sussex, but moved some years ago to Boston and was living with her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Walls, in Chelsea. Her husband died there some four years ago. Besides Mrs. McCarthy and Mrs. Walls, three sons survive—George, in New York; Neil, in Malden, and William in Everett, Mass. Numerous friends in Sussex and a host of sympathizers in St. John will read with deep regret of the bereavement of Mrs. McCarthy and the other members of the family. The funeral took place in Chelsea.

GAVE REPORTERS SOME WORK

An instance of how quickly news spreads when put in the mouths of gossips was given in the Union Depot this morning when a sensational report was current that two detectives from western Canada had arrested a man on arrival of the Maritime Express on a charge of murder. The story was entirely unfounded but it was not so discovered until after newspapermen had "chased it" to the limits.

On the arrival of the Maritime Express two constables from the North Shore stepped off, having in custody a big able-bodied man with whom they might have had trouble had he not been hand cuffed. A boy standing by inquired the trouble and was told by an alleged humorist that they were "detectives from the west who were arresting a man on the charge of murder." After much inquiry it was learned that the man was a poor unfortunate who was being taken to the Provincial Hospital.

COMRADES IN THE RANKS

Young Ladies Join With Every Day Club Boys in Fancy Marching Exercises — A Red-Letter Night

For the first time during the two winters the Every Day Boys' Club has been in existence its members last night were made to feel the spirit of comradeship between themselves and another organization. It is worthy of note that the other organization was a group of fourteen young ladies connected with the Leinster street church. They went down to the club, and after they had given an exhibition of fancy marching and wand and rifle drill, under the direction of Sergeant Sullivan, and a group of sixteen of the boys had given a similar marching drill, the young ladies went on the floor with the boys, and taking alternate positions in the ranks performed the marching drill again. The boys were somewhat abashed at the outset, but the spirit of comradeship quickly communicated itself to them, and it was a fine sight to see the fourteen girls and sixteen boys in the fancy marches, keeping time to the music played by Miss Price on the piano, with Sergeant Sullivan directing their movements. Later a large group of the smaller boys were put through physical drill, and were heartily applauded by the young ladies and a few friends who were present with them. The visitors had also brought abundant refreshments, and a huge coffee boiler was in charge of Mrs. James Sullivan, Mrs. Harry Scott and Mrs. A. M. Belding. The young ladies served refreshments, while Miss Bourinot and Miss Shillington played duets on the piano. There was also a solo by Miss Nobles and a reading by Miss Shillington. A. M. Belding, on behalf of the boys' club, of whose members about fifty were present, thanked the visitors for their great kindness, and the inspiration their presence had given to the club. The proceedings closed with the National Anthem. It was a red-letter night for the boys, and the most encouraging in the history of the organization to those whose labors have kept it in existence.

Quebec Man Made Trouble In Restaurant and Also For Police

John Dougherty, twenty-three years of age, a native of Quebec, was arrested last night, being handed over to the police by Mr. Wanamaker, who charged him with using profane and obscene language while in his restaurant. Policeman McLean also charged him with resistance, and told the court that he had to carry the prisoner to the police station. The magistrate told the prisoner he was liable to a fine of $88. He was allowed to go, however, on payment of $8, as it was his first offence. The magistrate told him he had better take the pledge and send it to the court, but Dougherty said this would not be necessary, as he intended to leave the city. The balance of $130 taken from the prisoner when he was arrested was returned to him.

INVESTIGATING THE FAIRVILLE COLLISION

C. P. R. and St. John Railway Co. Both Inquiring — Statement By Mr. Grout

Investigations into the collision between a street car and a locomotive at the Fairville crossing were commenced this morning by the St. John Railway Company and the local C. P. R. officials. H. M. Hopper said today that their investigation had not gone far enough to warrant him in making any statement.

H. C. Grout, general superintendent of the Atlantic division of the C. P. R., said that at the time of the accident the crossing gates were out of order, the trouble having been caused by the storm. A man was stationed at the crossing to signal the approach of trains, and it is believed that the motorman did not see the signal in time to stop the car before the collision occurred. At the time of the accident the train was traveling at the rate of only four miles an hour, and this accounts for the fact that the damage done was not more serious.

It was suggested by Mr. Hopper that a joint investigation might be held, and Mr. Grout expressed his willingness if this were thought desirable.

FORTY FOURTH ANNIVERSARY

Alexandra Temple of Honor Have Pleasant Celebration

The members of Alexandra Temple of Honor were at home to their friends last evening at a social in their rooms in Temple Building, Main street, held to commemorate the forty-fourth anniversary of their founding. It was an enjoyable time, and the successful manner in which arrangements were carried out gave pleasure to the large gathering present. An entertaining programme was given and refreshments were served.

The chair was occupied by Wm. J. Devennie, Chief Templar, who gave a pleasing address of welcome, after which there was a selection by the Temple Band. Commissioner R. W. Wigmore, Dr. W. F. Roberts, and Rev. Dr. Hutchinson, chaplain of the band, were heard in interesting addresses, and the following programme was carried out: Solo, Miss Eva Gallop; musical number, Messrs. Bond and Bagnell; solo, F. Kirby; selection, Temple Band; comic song, J. C. Bond; solo, Donald Vanwart; flute solo, R. Edwards; and closing number by the Temple Band. The committee in charge, consisting of W. J. Devennie, Lester Morey, Dr. W. E. Roberts, Hartley Case, Fred Stewart, H. Taylor, and James Patterson, were highly complimented upon the success of the evening.
