During the last two years I have sent out a great many accounts for small amounts at considerable trouble as well as expense in the way of postage, etc., the greater number of which have not yet been settled. I am, therefore, compelled to ask all those indebted to me for medicine to settle their accounts

On or Before the 1st July, next, as on that date all accounts remaining unsettled will be sued for without further notice. I will be glad in the future as in the past to accommodate customers who do not find it convenient to pay for their medicine as they require it, but I must first insist that all outstanding debts be paid.

CHATHAM, N. B., - - NOVEMBER 8, 1894.

EXPORTS OF ALL LANDS.

Corea's largest export is beans.

Finland yields lumber and iron.

Victoria's principal export is gold.

The staple crop of Manitoba is wheat.

West Australia's main export is wool.

Hungary raises wheat, corn and cattle.

Paraguay exports mate or Paraguay tea.

Roumania supplies wheat, wine and hides.

The staple crop of the Barbadoes is sugar.

Borneo produces tobacco, pepper and coffee.

Natal exports sugar, maize, wheat and tea.

A leading product of San Salvador is indigo.

The leading product of Nicaragua is hides.

Dutch Guiana produces mostly sugar and cocoa.

Hawaii sends out sugar, rice and bananas.

Cochin China raises sugar cane, rice and tobacco.

Labrador exports large quantities of pine lumber.

The chief export of Annam is cinnamon bark.

Bulgaria exports wheat and the attar of roses.

Chili sends out wheat, nitrates, wine and guano.

ODD AND CURIOUS.

The horn of the rhinoceros is not joined to the bone of the head, but grows on the skin like a wart or corn.

The Megalosaurus, fossil lizard, is estimated from the size of its bones to have been not less than fifty feet in length.

The young of several species of serpents retreat down the throat of the mother when pressed by sudden danger.

A microscopic examination of a hair will determine, with almost infallible certainty, to what kind of animal it belonged.

A fish, caught and thrown on the bank, will rarely fail, when endeavoring to escape, to jump in the direction of the water.

The highest mountain in the world is Mount Everest, in the Himalayas—twenty-nine thousand feet, or five and three-fourths miles.

The gannet, or solan goose, is provided with an air cushion under his skin. His body contains about one hundred and sixty cubic inches of air.

The highest mountain in the western continent is Mount Sorato, in Bolivia—twenty-one thousand two hundred and eighty-four feet, or about four miles.

GOODS OF THE ANCIENTS.

It was said of both Athens and Rome that so numerous were the temples and statues of gods it was easier to find a god than a man.

All youths and maidens worshipped Venus or Aphrodite, offering to her all sorts of flowers, but particularly the rose and myrtle.

The parks and gardens in Athens had protecting deities who, it is to be presumed, enforced attention to the sign: "Keep off the grass."

When a Roman tramp set out in the morning for a day's business, he prayed to Themis to teach all housewives the value of hospitality.

Every ancient man had his attending genius, every woman her Juno. Sacrifices to these guardian spirits were always made on birthdays.

The Hindoo god of marriage is represented with a human body and elephant's head, seated on a throne resting on a circle of human skulls.

MILITARY MATTERS.

A retired French naval officer has invented a rifle which is capable of firing two kinds of explosive bullets at once.

There are now seventy-four survivors of the famous Balaclava charge, so far as the British army authorities have trace.

A number of interpreters, intended for war service, are to be appointed to serve in the German army. They are especially required to be proficient in Russian and French.

Bayonets were invented by a Basque regiment during a battle near Bayonne. Their ammunition had given out, and in despair they fixed their knives on the ends of their guns to resist a charge.

Even Bulgaria, with her one hundred or less miles of coast line on a small inland sea, has caught the naval fever, and the government has just voted a sum equal to about five million dollars, for the establishment of a navy.

SUMMER FANCIES.

Flower embroidery, flower figure pieces of modest size.

Capes, pelerines, basques, long jackets and short ones, but never so short as last year.

Paste diamonds and false pearls and small jet pieces in ornaments of buckles, clasps.

Embroideries, polka dots, fleur de lis figures, arabesques, netted lace used in applique designs.

Moire and onduline and glace effects in ribbons; enormous bows of moire with long dangling ends.

Picture hats with huge ribbons; sailor hats with paint brush bristles tickling the sky; tiny, butterfly bonnets.

Low shoes in an increasing variety of shades, worn with wicked-looking white or creamy silk stockings.—Ellen Osborn.

INDUSTRIAL DATES.

B. C. 804. Carpets said to have been first woven and used.

B. C. 283. The first lighthouse built at Alexandria, in Egypt.

B. C. 2347. The first vineyard planted and wine made by Noah.

B. C. 1998. The cultivation of the rice plant introduced into China.

B. C. 610. The first ship canal begun. By Pharoah Necho, between the Red and the Mediterranean; never completed.

HARD TIME DELICACIES.

Rice Waffles.—Separate the whites and yolks of two eggs and beat light. Sift a pint or more of flour in a bowl, add salt to taste, two teaspoonsful of yeast powder, enough milk to make a good batter, and then put in the half cupful of cold rice, the yolks, and lastly the whites, well beaten. Bake in hot waffle irons.

Hot Water Cake.—Two cupsful of sugar, two cupsful of flour, two teaspoonsful of yeast powder, four eggs, three-fourths of a cupful of boiling water. Break eggs (whites and yolks) in sugar and beat well. Sift in the flour, then the yeast powder, and last of all the boiling water. Bake whole or in layers. A caramel filling converts it into a delicious cake.

Cornmeal Pudding.—Put one cupful of milk on to boil, with a few bits of cinnamon. Mix one teaspoonful of cornmeal with one cupful of cold milk and add, with a pinch of salt, to the boiling milk. Cook thoroughly, stirring all the time. When nearly done add a half cupful of sugar and one spoonful of butter. Cook a few minutes longer, and then pour into a shallow dish. Dust with cinnamon and serve hot or cold.

Mold of Cornmeal.—Take two cupsful of coarse cornmeal and cook for twenty minutes with one pint of water, three cloves and a few bits of cinnamon. Add, a little at a time, two cupsful of milk, stirring constantly; then add two tablespoonsful of lard and two of butter, and one teaspoonful of salt. Cook for one hour, then add a half-pound of brown sugar and pour into two one-quart bowls. On each press a tin plate, which must be filled with red hot coals, and leave until brown on top. Serve at once.—Good Housekeeping.

GROWN ON ISLANDS.

St. Helena exports whalebone, whale oil and dried fish.

Hayti's best products are logwood, mahogany and coffee.

Jamaica raises sugar, coffee, tropical fruits and pimento.

Fiji produces bananas, cotton, cocoanuts and sweet potatoes.

New Zealand exports frozen meats, butter, cheese and wool.

The Windward Islands send out an abundance of arrow root.

Java produces a large part of the world's indigo and pepper.

The Caymans, in the West Indies, export nothing but turtles.

Madagascar supplies valuable woods, gold and sweet potatoes.

The Bahamas send out sponges, coral, pineapples and sisal grass.

The leading products of Japan are rice, wheat, sugar, tea and silk.

The Bermudas export enormous quantities of onions and lily bulbs.

The Bahrein islands, in the Persian gulf, produce nothing but pearls.

MUCH IN LITTLE.

Habitual intoxication is the epitome of every crime.—Jerrold.

History makes us some amends for the shortness of life.—Skelton.

No man is so insignificant as to be sure his example can do no hurt.—Lord Clarendon.

There is no instance on record of any class possessing power without abusing it.—Buckle.

The wealth of a man is the number of things which he loves and blesses, which he is loved and blessed by.—Carlyle.

Less judgment than wit is more sail than ballast. Yet it must be confessed that wit gives edge to sense and recommends it extremely.—Penn.

Nothing, indeed, but the possession of some power can with any certainty discover what at the bottom is the true character of any man.—Burke.

What we truly and earnestly aspire to be, that in some sense we are. The mere aspiration, by changing the frame of the mind, for the moment realizes itself.—Mrs. Jameson.

MISSING LINKS.

A French chemist makes wine out of potatoes.
