A Touching Story.

The following beautiful and touching little story we clip from the Hartford Courant:—

"It was but yesterday that a friend—a young gentleman of fine intellect, of a noble heart, and one well known to many of our readers—was suddenly snatched by the hand of death from all the endearments of life. Surrounded by everything that could make existence pleasant and happy—and a wife that idolized him—the summons came, and he lay upon the bed of death. But a few years ago, she, to whom he was wedded, placed a bridal ring upon his finger, upon the inside of which he had a few words privately engraved. The husband would never permit the giver to read them, telling her that the day would come when her wish should be gratified, and she should know the secret. Seven years glided away, and a day or two since, when conscious that he must leave his wife forever, he called her to his bedside, and with his dying accents told her that the hour had at last come when she should see the words upon the ring she had given him. The young mother took it from his cold finger; and though heart-stricken with grief, eagerly read the words: 'I loved thee on earth—I will meet thee in heaven.'"

About two weeks since a Mr. McLane arrived in Boston from Canada, with a number of horses for sale. He engaged board at the Massachusetts House, and stabled his horses at the Massachusetts sale stable. On Tuesday afternoon Mr. McLane obtained some medicine for his horses, a number of them being sick. Between 5 and 6 o'clock on the same evening he left the stable, saying that he was going to procure some other kind of medicine, and as he has not yet returned and no person seems to know of his whereabouts, fears are entertained that he has been foully dealt with. During the latter part of last week he sold a few horses, and it is reported that on Monday he collected the money. He was about 50 years old, 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, with small gray whiskers. When he left the stable he wore a dark brown overcoat, dark pantaloons and a new black cloth cap.

GREAT FIRE IN BOSTON.

BOSTON, Nov. 10th, 10 o'clock, p.m.

The most destructive fire that ever occurred in this section of the country, broke out at seven o'clock last night, at the corner of Kingston and Summer streets. It raged with uncontrollable fury until two p. m. to-day, when it was got under control.

Pearl, Hide, Summer and Federal streets, Winthrop square, and other streets, embracing the most valuable warehouses in the city are destroyed.

The dry goods jobbers, shoe and leather merchants, were almost burned out.

Of the Banks, three were burned, the Freeman's National Bank, the Revere, and the North American.

Numerous buildings were blown up by gunpowder, to stay the progress of the flames.

The loss on buildings destroyed is estimated at one hundred millions of dollars, and an equal amount in goods.

The fire extended from Summer street to within one block of State street, burning a portion of the Post Office.

The mails are safe.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9, p. m.

Gold 113¼; exchange 110¼; money 7 per cent.

Leavit Alley, a teamster, has been arrested, charged with the murder of Abijah Ellis in Boston. It is supposed the murder was committed in Alley's stable.

LONDON, Nov. 9.

The rate of discount of the Bank of England has been raised one per cent.

Thirty-eight miners were killed in France yesterday by an explosion caused by fire damp.

Cholera is prevailing in Dresden.

LONDON, Nov. 9, 2 p. m.

A civic parade, incident to "the Lord Mayor's Day," is now in progress. The popular show attracts thousands of spectators to its line of march from the city to Westminster.

The anniversary of the birth of the Prince of Wales is also being celebrated with much enthusiasm. The day was ushered in with chimes of bells and firing of national salutes.

All business is suspended at the Stock Exchange, and other public places, and extensive preparations are going forward for displays of fireworks, illuminations and bonfires this evening.

FIRE IN SHEDIAC.

SHEDIAC, Nov, 11th.

To James Coleman:

Machine Shop and Round House burned; have saved all the engines and cars, and the car load of tools. Part of these tools were loaded and ready to move to Moncton. The engine shed and great part of the coal are saved. The fire caught in the carpenters' shop.

(Signed) H. A. WHITNEY.
