RE-ELECTED.

Hon. A. I. Trueman Again Masonic Grand Master.

LARGE NUMBER IN ATTENDANCE.

Proceedings of the Grand Lodge of New Brunswick in Annual Communication Here — Address of Grand Master, and Reports on Finance and Membership.

In Masonic hall Tuesday afternoon, the annual session of the Grand Lodge of the Ancient and Honorable Fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons of New Brunswick was opened with a large number of members in attendance.

In his address, Grand Master Trueman said nothing had occurred during the year to impair the accord which should ever exist among the members of the fraternity. There had been a steady growth. Referring to deaths of members during the year, the grand master mentioned, as belonging to the Grand Lodge of New Brunswick, Silas C. Charters and John F. Teed, of Sussex Lodge, Dorchester; Dr. Joseph H. Morrison, of St. John's Lodge, St. John; H. Lawrance Sturdee, of the Union Lodge of Portland; Elisha R. Robinson, of Albert Lodge, Albert; W. G. Robertson, of Albion Lodge, a past grand officer, and representative of the Grand Lodge of Scotland; Moses McGowan, of Sussex Lodge, St. Stephen, for 50 years a member of the craft, and Samuel Wheelock, of the same lodge, a P. D. G. M., of all of whom kindly and appropriate words were spoken.

Of those in other jurisdictions who had passed away, he referred to R. B. Hungerford, grand master of the Grand Lodge of Canada in Ontario; Archdeacon James D. O'Meara, P. G. M., of the G. L. of Manitoba, and Lieut.-Colonel J. Helder Isaacson, for 20 years G. Sec. of the G. L. of Quebec. Reference was also made to the death of the late president of the United States, a member of the fraternity.

Daniel Jordan, K. C., of Lebanon Lodge, Sackville, had been appointed to represent the Grand Lodge of Western Australia in this province; W. Alder Trueman, of Albert Lodge, Albert, that of Costa Rica; Hedley S. Bridges, of St. John's Lodge, St. John, that of Oklahoma; Hon. James Gordon Forbes, of St. John's Lodge, that of Scotland; Fred. St. John Bliss, of Hiram Lodge, Fredericton, that of Norway; and Edward G. Evans, of Corinthian Lodge, Hampton, that of Sweden.

Commissions had issued to Henry C. Yawn to represent the Gand Lodge of New Brunswick in the Mississippi; to James Gunn, of Glasgow, in Scotland; Robert F. Thoroughgood, of Chicago, in Illinois; Dr. Francisco I. Rucavado, in Costa Rica; and Matthias Gooderson, of Brooklyn, in New York.

The grand master said he had decided that the constitution required the initiation fee must be paid on admission and not by instalment as degrees are taken; that it was not wise for private lodges to seek incorporation; and that it was at least advisable to transact business on the third degree. The new lodge at Petitcodiac had been warranted with the name of Steven Lodge. Grand Master Trueman also detailed the large number of visitations which he made during the year. He had gone as far as the northern boundary of the province and taken in altogether about half the lodges.

Speaking of his visit to St. Martins Lodge, St. Martins, he told of pleasure derived from meeting Andrew Skillen, for more than 60 years a member of the fraternity and who has five sons active members. He complimented the celebration in April of the centennial anniversary of St. John's Lodge, and congratulated Dr. E. A. Preston and the officers of the lodge. He explained why he had not appointed a lecturer, but asked that the unexpended portion of the grant of last year be renewed as well as a similar grant for the current year for the pupose of carrying out the idea. He said that some of the district delegates had done excellent work, although all had not come up to his anticipations; and he sharply criticized practices which prevailed in a few places in regard to "ciphers" not warranted by ancient custom. Appreciation of the services rendered by J. Twining Hartt, grand secretary, and references to P. G. Masters Walker, Forbes and others who had assisted the grand master were made.

Reference was also made, in conclusion to the closing of the South African war, and the coronation of the king; also that King Edward had resigned as grand master of the Grand Lodge of England and became patron of the order, being succeeded as grand master by the Duke of Connaught. Grand Master Trueman then expressed his gratitude to the officers and brethren for their loyal support.

The report of E. J. Everett, grand treasurer, showed receipts of his office from all sources, including a balance on hand of $1,450.79, were $4,215.15; expenditures $2,694.21, leaving his balance $1,520.94. The grand lodge indebtedness had been reduced $1,000 in the year. The invested capital of the fund of benevolence is $3,000, and the amount at current account of that fund is $63.32. W. B. Wallace, W. Alex. Porter and Fred Sandall, auditors, reported these accounts correct.

J. Twining Hartt, grand secretary, in his report, showed receipts of his office were $2,118.65, all of which had been paid the grand treasurer.

There had been 162 initiated and 61 became members in other ways; 36 had died and 72 had ceased to be members from other causes. The total membership is 1,958, a gain in the year of 74. Twenty dispensations for various purposes had been issued.

Among the matters referred to in the report of the board of general purposes was announcement of the election of Geo. B. Hegan as vice-president of that board, a recommendation that section 27 of the constitution be not changed, and a recommendation that no changes be made in the laws regulating the collection of dues of members, except that in the year in which a member's dues be remitted Grand Lodge exact no tax from his private lodge. The matter of having trustees to hold property of the lodges had been considered, but no definite conclusions had been reached, and it will go over for another year. The board referred to the Grand Lodge itself certain claims of Saint John's Lodge, Bathurst, for remission of dues.

The grand master's address was referred to a special committee.

The election of officers was the principal business of last evening's session. Hon. A. I. Trueman was unanimously re-elected as grand master, and the other officers chosen were as follows:—

Deputy grand master, James Vroom, St. Stephen.

Senior grand warden, R. Murray, Chatham.

Junior grand warden, Wm. Smith, St. John.

Grand chaplain, Rev. A. W. Smithers, Albert.

Grand treasurer, E. J. Everett, St. John.

Grand tyler, Robert Clerke, St. John.

During the evening George K. Cochrane was officially recognized by the grand master as an accredited representative of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana.

Th grand lodge adjourned until 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

The Masonic Grand Lodge resumed business Wednesday afternoon. The committee on the grand master's address reported commending the discretion, zeal and attention given to the duties of his office by the grand master, his decisions and the recommendations he made were approved. Funds were put at his disposal to continue work which he had begun last year. There were words of praise for him and for brethren who had assisted him in his duties, and several other matters were disposed of in the report, which was adopted.

Ora P. King, of Sussex Lodge, No. 21, applied for the charter of Zion Lodge, which was organized in 1779, claiming that Sussex Lodge is the direct descendant of Zion Lodge. The application was referred to the board of general purposes.

Grand Master Trueman installed the officers and Grand Lodge closed until next year. The officers, additional to those published yesterday, are:

J. Twining Hartt, Grand Secretary, St. John.

Dr. A. G. Ferguson, Senior Grand Deacon, Dalhousie.

The Grand Royal Arch Chapter of New Brunswick met in annual session yesterday and was opened in ample form by M. Ex-Alexander Burchill, of Fredericton, G. H. P.

Mr. Burchill, in his annual address, spoke of the illness and recovery of the king, and the crowning of his majesty. He also spoke of the South African war. He said we may ever rejoice in connection with this war of the gallantry displayed by our Canadian countrymen in South Africa. The royal visit to Canada was also spoken of. Reference was made to members who had died during the year both in this and in other jurisdictions, and sympathy extended their families. He announced that Dr. Thomas Walker had been appointed representative here of the Grand Chapter of Virginia, Wm. A. Dougherty that of New Jersey, LeBaron Wilson that of Kentucky and W. A. D. Steven, of Dorchester, that of Montana. Representatives had also been appointed at the Grand Chapter of Ireland and that of New Jersey. He had visited the two chapters in St. John East, and that at St. John West, the chapter at Woodstock, Chatham, Moncton and Fredericton, and regretted he could not do more. He suggested the examination of candidates seeking advancement as to their proficiency in degrees already taken, and gave much advice as to the interior government and practices of subordinates. He urged that revision of the ritual, which had been in hand some time, be finished, and concluded with an expression of courteous recognition of all who had assisted him in his work.

During the morning a set of official jewels for the use of Grand Chapter was presented by Edwin J. Everett, the grand treasurer, for which a hearty vote of thanks was passed.

The credential committee were Geo. E. Day, Dr. E. A. Preston, and Jas. R. McLean, of Sussex, who reported a constitutional number present, there being about 40 in attendance.

The report of the grand treasurer, E. J. Everett, showed balance on hand last year $385.28; receipts of his office in the year, including interest, $202.90; expenditure, $292.96; balance on hand $295.22.

The grand secretary, W. B. Wallace, reported nine chapters in the jurisdiction had made returns. The total number of members is 473, a gain of 10. The receipts of his office, $184.90, had been paid the grand treasurer. There had been interchange of representatives with several grand chapters. Geo. B. Hegan had been appointed ase representative here of Ireland, and Maurice E. Solomans, of Dublin, had been appointed representative of the Grand Chapter of New Brunswick in Ireland.

Jas. R. McLean presented his credentials as representative of the Grand Charter of Georgia; William A. Dougherty, for New Jersey; W. A. D. Steven, for Montana, and Geo. B. Hegan, for Ireland, and they were formally saluted and welcomed.

Peter Campbell and LeB. Wilson, auditors, reported the accounts correct. This was embodied in the report of the executive committee, Frank A. Godsoe, chairman, with other matters.

The committee on the address of the G. H. P. reported commending the action taken in a variety of matters, and suggesting action in the future, warmly complimenting the G. H. P. on the discharge of his duty, and congratulating him on his recovery from illness.

Grand Chapter then elected:

G. H. P.—Alex. Burchill, Fredericton.

D. G. H. P.—George B. Hegan, St. John.

G. K.—James R. McLean, Sussex.

G. S.—W. J. Cornfield, St. John West.

G. Treas.—E. J. Everett, St. John.

G. Secretary—W. B. Wallace, St. John.

G. C. of H.—Jas. Vroom, St. Stephen.

G. R. A. C.—E. A. Preston, M. D., St. John.

G. Organist—Fred Sandall, St. John.

G. Pursuivant—L. L. Morrison, Fredericton.

Grand Tyler—G. Gordon Boyne, St. John.

J. T. Whitlock moved a vote of thanks and W. G. Vroom seconded it, to E. J. Everett for his handsome present, and the jewels given by him were adopted as the official jewels of grand chapter.

After some routine, grand chapter was formally closed.

Disease at the Back Door.

Yes, it is a nasty habit of pitching out of the back door a pailful and dipperful, now and then, of greasy water, and a handful of parings and the general waste of the kitchen that breeds fevers and bilious diseases The waste disappears for the most part in the soil, but that is the key to the mischief. The soil gets full after a time and ferments, and the hot sun breeds gases which surround and enter the house. This is true not only of the cheaper, poorer houses and careless families, but well-to-do, intelligent people have spots behind their houses saturated with slops. In populous towns no amount of supervision can prevent a great deal of filthy evil. But in the country towns slops should be carried out to trees and poured in small quantities here and there as a fertiliser. Trees will take up a large quantity of water and be grateful for it. There must be simply constant intelligence in the disposal of waste.—[Hearthstone.

Impure Air and Wrinkles.

The latest scientific writers on the subject of wrinkles hold that the air in our rooms should be changed three times every hour. The skin owes its beauty to the nerves which control the fine invisible blood vessels of the surface, whose work lends glow and transparence to the face. The nerves, in turn, owe their sensitiveness to the air, which is our chief nutriment inhaled by gallons hourly, and which should be pure and invigorating. When the nerves are deadened by close air the fine muscles lose their tone, the tissue of the face shrinks, and these shrinkages become wrinkles. A week's watching may write the face over with fine lines, and a week of rest will restore lost tissue, fat and fluids to fill the spaces and smooth the face again.

The Buffalo Moth, or Carpet Worm.

After each carpet is well swept at once go over with the following mixture: To three quarts of pure, cold water, add three tablespoons of turpentine. In this thoroughly saturate a sponge, squeeze about two-thirds dry, and go over each breadth separately and in all corners. As often as the water becomes soiled take a fresh supply. You will be surprised to see how beautifully it will cleanse your carpets, besides being one of the best disinfectants.

The Florida Oyster.

In Europe the supply of oysters has been practically exhausted for centuries, and millions of people have been deprived of a healthful and nutritious food by the improvidence of their ancestors; how is it with us? The census report for 1900 puts the situation within easy reach by saying:

"The public beds along the coasts of Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, and Delaware are so far depleted that the supply is very irregular and uncertain, and the oyster found is very small. In the Chesapeake Bay and Southern waters the public reefs are somewhat exhausted, the oysters are small, and many are transplanted to private grounds for maturing. Oysters are found in the Gulf of Mexico, and also to a small extent along the Pacific Coast. Seed oysters from the Atlantic Coast have been planted on the Pacific Coast, but with little success."

Within the last ten years the number of canning establishments in Florida has increased from one to six, according to the report, but there is good reason to believe that a full enumeration was not secured.

The matter is one of importance to all our people, and every encouragement should be given the planting and care of the bivalve that has grown to be a necessity as well as a luxury to all.—[Florida Times-Union.

A WORD TO THE WISE IS SUFFICIENT. I have the best method of trapping foxes and fur-bearing animals of any trapper in the world. My success is due from a life of experience, practice and study. On receipt of $1.00 and address in full, I will mail 6,000 words of printed instructions and 10 tested recipes, which will teach you how to set traps and where and what to use for baits; how to make scents and scent bates you can use for poison as well as traps. There are odors which are so strong and attractive that animals will risk all danger. This is the new way of trapping—not the old way. You will get from two to five fur bearers every time you go to your traps. Address Jonathan Keerstead, Sheba Office, Queens Co. (N. B.) 8-27-9-3-w
