Rothesay, May 18—The toot of the automobile is heard already in this suburb. Reports indicate that there will be more of them this season than usual and that some at least will be very large and speedy. The roads are in better shape for them than they were, the roughness and ruts having been made right as far as possible.

Judge G. G. Gilbert's funeral, which took place from Trinity church, St. John, today, was quite largely attended by his many friends in Rothesay. His familiar figure will be greatly missed in Rothesay, where he has made his home for so many years.

The steamer Marguerite, now owned by Alderman McGoldrick, was launched a few days ago from the blocks, where she has been for some two or three years. The Marguerite has had a chequered career and cost the people who were interested in her more money than many a new and larger steamer. In later days she was enlarged and designed for a steam pleasure yacht. Perhaps the chairman of St. John's public works will utilize the Marguerite to show summer tourists what important improvements are being made to the harbor.

Before Mrs. Close left to return to England it is understood she made arrangements for the erection of a new building upon the property she purchased for the children's home at Nauwigewauk. Joseph Henderson is the contractor and he expects to start work upon the structure in a few days.
