MR. WHITNEY AT ORILLIA.

The Opposition Leader Had a Good Reception in Billy Bennett's Constituency—Six Hundred Present.

Orillia, Sept. 4.—Considering that this was a busy day with both farmers and townspeople Mr. Whitney's meeting this afternoon was quite successful, there being an attendance of about six hundred, a large proportion of whom were country folk. Mr. John McCosh, President of the East Simcoe Liberal-Conservative Association, occupied the chair. The leader was preceded by Mr. W. H. Bennett, M.P., Mr. A. Miscampbell, M.L.A., and Mr. W. H. Hoyle, the Conservative candidate in North Ontario, all three of whom gave unusually brigat and telling addresses, which were well received by the audience. Mr. Whitney, who, though a little hoarse and tired after the week's speech-making, spoke strongly and effectively, devoted the first portion of his address to a reply to some of the remarks made by Premier Hardy at Markham yesterday. He was quite sarcastic over the fact, as reported in The Globe, that only four hundred people could be drummed together in the banner County of York to hear the Premier, a smaller number than that had greeted him on any occasion but one.

Perhaps Mr. Whitney's most interesting statement was the flat denial that he gave to the insinuation that he was in collusion with Sir Charles Tupper and the party leaders at Ottawa. "It is absolutely and unqualifiedly untrue," he said. "We have not and will not mix ourselves in Dominion politics. We will stand entirely on our own merits." He also dealt in much the same manner as at other places with the financial, educational, mining and partisan official questions. The meeting was very orderly, there not being a single interruption, and broke up with loud cheers for the speakers and the Queen.

AFFAIRS IN CUBA.

Many Deaths From Epidemic Diseases—Weyler Disgusted Because of the Misinterpretation of His Orders.

Havana, Sept. 5.—During the month of August 500 persons died in Guines from epidemic diseases. All of the victims with one exception were Cubans. The rate of mortality among the refugees is very great, and the same is true regarding the troops. The mortality due to yellow fever, malaria and dysentery is excessive. It is estimated that 37 out of every 1000 of the sick soldiers in the hospitals throughout the islands die. It is stated that from 20 to 25 deaths occur on each trip of the steamers which carry sick and disabled troops from Cuba to Spain. The bodies of those who die en route are thrown overboard. Three deaths occurred on one of these steamers recently before she left port.

Captain-General Weyler returned to Havana very greatly disgusted because of the erroneous interpretation of his edict referring to the gathering of cattle, large numbers of oxen and cows having been slaughtered in consequence of the misunderstanding of his order.

During his recent tour General Weyler deposed the Mayors of several towns and sent various military commanders to Cabanas Castle. At Guines and other towns he caused the release from custody of a number of merchants and reconcentrados who had been falsely accused.

The Captain-General has issued an order prohibiting the planting of tobacco within the boundaries of the military cultivated zone. He declares that if the reconcentrados died from hunger the mayors of the towns were to blame for their deaths because of their negligence in carrying out his instructions.

Reiner Failed to Come Up.

Berlin, Ont., Sept. 4.—In the case of J. S. Reiner, found guilty of forgery and perjury by Judge Chisholm, his lawyer, J. P. Mabee, gave notice of appeal, which was allowed and was made returnable to-day. No notice of same having been entered, sentence will likely be passed on Monday.

LUETGERT MURDER TRIAL.

Did This Man Kill His Wife and Dissolve the Body?

SENSATIONAL TALES TOLD.

Mrs. Christine Feldt Gives Startling Evidence for the People.

It Was Supposed That She Was a Witness for the Defence, but She Turns Up as a Witness for the Prosecution—Luetgert Says He Can Disprove the Arguments of the Chicago Police—But Can He Do It?

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 4.—Curiosity seekers who attempted to gain admission today to Judge Tuthill's court, where the Luetgert murder trial is being held, found themselves intercepted at the entrance to the Criminal Court building on Michigan-street. Hundreds were turned away, and the crowd in the court room was kept within bounds successfully. When the trial was resumed additional witnesses appeared to identify the rings found in the vat. Luetgert consulted frequently with his counsel, and at one time rose in his place and carefully examined the rings with the initials on the inside, and which, according to the witnesses for the State, were Mrs. Luetgert's wedding rings.

Fried Mueller, a niece of Mrs. Luetgert, was the first witness. She said the rings were the ones which Mrs. Luetgert wore habitually.

Mrs. Christina Pearce of 653 Clybourn-avenue, followed. She said that she had known Mrs. Luetgert since she was a small girl. She said that at a picnic a year ago, which Mrs. Luetgert attended, the wedding ring was a subject of a conversation, in which it was remarked that Mrs. Luetgert wore no other jewelry except her wedding ring. On cross-examination the witness said she had never seen the wedding ring off Mrs. Luetgert's hand and knew nothing of the initials in it, but identified it from its size and general appearance.

Mrs. Anna Gesser of Chicago Heights was a servant in the Luetgert household up to the fall of 1889. She identified the wedding ring and the small guard ring worn with it positively.

A Startling Sensation.

There was a sensation when Mrs. Christine Feldt of 151 Clybourn-avenue was called as a witness for the State. Mrs. Feldt is the widow whose name has been so often mentioned in connection with the case. It was believed she would be one of the main witnesses for the defence, but she had not been before the jury two minutes when it became apparent that she had gone over to the prosecution. She produced a bundle of letters written to her by Luetgert in his cell in the jail, and carried to her home by Luetgert's son Arnold. The letters were filled with endearing terms, such as "Beloved Christine," and in them Luetgert told of the suffering he was enduring as an innocent prisoner in the jail.

Inspector Schaack and his officers were referred to as the "gang" that was after him, and the police were frequently referred to as "dogs."

Can He Do It?

Luetgert, over and over again, assured his correspondent that he would overcome the police and be with her again a free man.

Mrs. Feldt testified that Luetgert told her months ago that he cared more for Mary Simmering than he did for his wife. She said she visited his house May 5th, and asked Mary Simmering where Mrs. Luetgert was.

Mary replied that she had gone down town, and would be back soon. The witness then asked Luetgert about it, and he told her Mary had lied to her, that his wife had disappeared. Luetgert said his wife had on former occasions left him for several days without any explanation, and he did not know where she had gone. Then he made the statement that he cared more for Mary than he did for his wife. The witness told of a visit to Luetgert at the jail. The prisoner sent her a request, through Judge Vincent, his attorney, to come to the jail. Luetgert then endeavored to persuade her to loan him money to pay for his defence. He asked her, she said, to put a mortgage on her house in order to raise the money.

The letters of Luetgert contained many requests for money, interspersed with protestations of affection. Through them all he protested that he was an innocent and persecuted man.

What a Little Girl Saw.

Little Gotlieb Schrimpke, 14 years old, testified that on the night or May 1 shortly after 11 o'clock, she saw Luetgert and his wife walk around the corner of the factory into the alley in the rear of it. This evidence sustains the theory of the State that Luetgert took his wife into the factory by way of the furnace room in the absence of the watchman, whom he had sent to the drug store.

On cross-examination she said it was her sister who saw Mr. Luetgert that night and told her mother about it.

The letters of Luetgert to Mrs. Feldt were not read to the jury, but this will be done Tuesday morning.

Monday being a legal holiday there will be no session of the court. States Attorney Deneen has a sensation to spring on the defence in the Luetgert trial next week which will, he believes, clinch the fate of the accused sausage-maker. It is nothing less than the possession of a skull, a number of teeth and the first joint of what is believed to be the left index finger of a human hand, which it is claimed were found in the basement of the sausage factory. It is believed by the attorneys for the State that they will be convincing when introduced as evidence with the expert testimony of Professors Delafontaine and Haines that they are human. These two experts, as a result of experiments recently conducted, will, it is said, state positively that it is possible under the circumstances under which it is alleged by the State that Luetgert worked to destroy and disintegrate a human body.

A Triumph Won.

"Before taking Doan's Kidney Pills, I felt that diabetes had its grip upon me. Now I know that it has been met and defeated. I have used the pills for some time and now enjoy good health. I shall always be glad to testify to the merits of this triumphant medicine."

Probably no woman who uses Pearline would take anything else, knowingly. But since Pearline has become a household word, the ignorant and the careless suffer. The ignorant think that "Pearline" means any washing-powder; the careless fail to notice that they're getting an inferior article, instead of Pearline. 363
