...LE AND TEA THE BEST YET

Church Of England Folks Never Did As Well As Last Thursday

FUNCTION YIELDS $107

The members of St. Andrews Guild held their annual Sale and Supper in the Town Hall last Thursday afternoon and evening. The day being beautifully fine there was a constant stream of visitors. There was a table with a plentiful supply of temperance fancy and useful articles, also one well supplied with aprons of all kinds. Tables were supplied with live geese and also a live boy. The sale and supper was greatly patronized by the people of Newcastle about the best ever held by the Guild. The Guild appreciates the interest taken by the churches in this and the kindness of the people who supported the Guild supper.

A MONSTER HEAD

This Moose Had Antlers With A Spread Of 66 Inches But Lost The Tips.

Hiram Manderville was in town last week with three handsome moose heads. One of the heads was a monster in size. This head when shot by Norris Manderville had an antler spread of exactly 63 inches but as is seldom the case with a moose antlers there was a shrinkage of ½ of an inch. Mr. Manderville told a reporter for the Advocate that the antlers were originally even bigger than 63 inches. Both points had been broken off before the moose was shot and he is confident that at one time the spread was sixty six inches.

Mr. Manderville believes that this was the largest head shot in New Brunswick this season. He disposed of it to Mr. Ernest Hutchinson for a good round sum.

THE RIVER ICE FULL OF SALT

Old River Men Look For An Early Run Next Spring

TEAMS GO THROUGH

Last week or less three teams went through the ice on Grattan's. Fortunately none of the unlucky wagons sank and with no serious results. The Long Reach was completely blocked by floating ice and it took a team two days to make a clear road. The ice was reported to be from two to three inches thick. Thursday when the road was cleared the ice was found to be from two to three inches thick. The ice was also reported to be very salty.

A FRIEND IN NEED

Unknown Man Aids A Clothing Woman In Distress.

[illegible] between the Union Depot and the Halifax Hotel, says the Sun, [illegible] had a train to catch and was [illegible] the I. C. R. station. In his hurry he left his purse on the train. When he reached Rodney and St. John he found his purse was missing. He told the [illegible] and he took the train for Moncton. Reaching Moncton he made his way to the lost property office and