ROUMANIA URGED TO END ALLIANCE

Take Jonescu Says Menace of Austria-Hungary is Apparent.

MUST STRIKE SOON

"Unfortunate Inactivity" of Roumania During Crisis is Terrible Mistake.

a big number of difficulties today, so many Roumanian officers, thanks to it, have studied in Germany and Austria without any benefit to our army. Moreover, thanks to it, we have no artillery, infantry, mountain artillery nor fortifications in the Carpathians, and no gun and munition factories.

"Unfortunate Inactivity."

"I do not want to disguise the unfortunate inactivity of my country. I propose only to reveal a small part of our history, which explains the great work already accomplished since August, 1914. If Austria, thirty years ago, was able to force on us an alliance signifying not only a renunciation of all the future, but servitude in the present, what would be our situation tomorrow as to an Austria victorious, and in which the Magyars would be all-powerful?"

NEARING A DECISION.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—A Bucharest despatch says:

"On account of dissensions which are beginning to arise in the Liberal party of Roumania, and the unyielding opposition of Take Jonescu, former minister of the interior, and M. Filipesco, former minister of war, Premier Bratiano has deemed it necessary to summon before King Ferdinand certain senators, deputies and others among the most important personalities of the party. To these persons confidential statements concerning the Roumanian policy are being given.

"The question of Roumanian neutrality seems about to enter a decisive phase. The rapidity with which events are moving in Serbia is hastening a decision in this regard, particularly as both Russia and Austria are concentrating troops near the northern boundary of Roumania."

To Get Rid of Wrinkles and Bad Complexions

It is more important now than during the period of profuse perspiration to keep the pores clean. All cosmetics clog the pores. In cool weather this interferes greatly with elimination of waste material, injuring instead of aiding the complexion. Ordinary mercolized wax serves all the purposes of creams, powders and rouges, giving far better results. It actually peels off an offensive skin, at the same time unclogging the pores. Minute particles of scarf skin come off day by day, causing not the least pain or discomfort. Gradually the healthy, younger skin beneath peeps out, and in less than a fortnight you have a lovelier complexion than you ever dreamed of acquiring. Mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is spread on nightly like cold cream and washed off mornings. One ounce usually suffices.

For removing wrinkles, without stopping the pores with pasty stuff, here's a never-failing formula: 1 oz. powdered saxolite, dissolved in ½-pint witch hazel. Bathe the face in this daily for a while; every line will vanish completely. Even the first application gives surprising results.

CONTRABAND LISTS TO BE PROTESTED

United States Will Send Notes to Belligerents Regarding Extensions.

BARS ALL U. S. GOODS

German Extended Prohibition in Retaliation for British Orders in Council.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—America's protest against the placing of nearly all articles of commerce on the contraband list of European belligerents will go to Germany and Austria, as well as to Great Britain and her allies. When this note to Great Britain is forwarded to London, virtually identical notes will be despatched to the Teutonic allies and to France and Italy.

So far as Germany and Austria are concerned officials regard the forthcoming protest as more or less academic in view of the fact that their commerce raiders and cruisers no longer are on the high seas and their sizures of contraband are limited to the work of submarines. In retaliation for the issuance of the British blockade order-in-council, Germany promulgated a list of contraband that includes practically all American products, consequently the state department has decided that formal protest is necessary to record the assertion of its rights by the United States.

The note is approaching completion, but its despatch will be delayed until it has been gone over by Secretary Lansing and President Wilson.
