FARMERSVILLE, NOV. 6, 1888.

LOCAL SUMMARY.

FARMERSVILLE AND NEIGHBORHOOD BRIEFLY WRITTEN UP.

Events as Seen by Our Knight of the Pencil.—Local Announcements Boiled Right Down.

H. H. Arnold is still selling 3 lb boxes of soda biscuits at 25c.

The small boy indulged in a few harmless pranks on Hallowe'en.

The best value to be found in men and boys' Scotch and fur caps is at H. H. Arnold's.

Mrs. S. M. Moore, of Milwaukee, daughter of Mr. Wm. Hickey, is visiting her parents here.

By buying your goat robes at H. H. Arnold's you will save ten per cent. Don't fail to see them.

Messrs Bass & Tackaberry, tailors, Brockville, address the public through our advertising columns.

Division Court was held here yesterday. There was a very small docket, and the proceedings were generally uninteresting.

Quarterly Services were held in the Methodist Church on Sunday morning. There was a large attendance of communicants.

The annual concert and entertainment in connection with the Presbyterian Church, Newboro, will take place on the 14th inst.

Advertisers should bear in mind that "copy" for changes must reach this office by noon on Monday, to appear in the paper of that week.

Rev. Jas Pullar will deliver a special discourse in St. Paul's church, on Sabbath evening next, at 7 o'clock, on "A New Heaven and a New Earth.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was dispensed at St. Paul's Church on Sunday evening. The sermon and preparatory address by the pastor were interesting and appropriate.

The Baptist congregation will offer for sale by auction their parsonage property on Elgin street and also the old church on Church street. For particulars see advertisement in this issue.

The Algonquin Mills have just completed and delivered 1,200 nicely finished merchants' packing cases, an item omitted in our former reference to the output of that establishment.

Mr. H. Lang, cattle buyer, of Newboro, has done a large business this fall. His shipments over the B. & W. so far figure up to over 800 head of stock. Who says our railway is not developing a paying local traffic?

We have just received a line of statements and note heads which we supply printed and padded at $1.75 per thousand or $1 for five hundred. These goods are of fair quality and will be found just the thing for ordinary business purposes. Send in orders promptly, before the stock is all used.

There was an immense audience at the Methodist Church Sunday evening, to hear the lecture by Mrs. Blair, the well known temperance orator, of Nebraska. The subject was handled skilfully and eloquently. The chalk sketches were most interesting and vividly illustrated the points made by the lecturer.

The interior of the Methodist Church presents a fine appearance since the recent improvements were effected. The walls of the main auditorium are finished in alabastine of a light drab shade, with a lighter shade in the ceiling. The cornice and other relieving points are a light pink, the general effect being very harmonious. This part of the work was done by Mr. Geo. DeVoe. A new plush carpet for the altar space and pulpit, and new matting for the aisles add to the appearance and comfort of the edifice. The wood work was not neglected in the general work of renovation. The committee having charge of the improvements are to be congratulated.

MAGISTRATES HOLD COURT.

A Wages Case.—Sequel to the Glandered Horses Case.—An Assault Case Dismissed.

The usual quiet of our little town was disturbed on Saturday last by the appearance in the village of a large number of litigants, who, with the gentlemen who wear after their names the honorable appendage of J. P., and the legal functionaries eager to display their fund of legal lore, made up a fair sized crowd as they wended their way to the town hall to dispose of the numerous and knotty questions that required unravelling.

SUED FOR WAGES.

The first case on the docket was that of James Levingstone v. Andrew Morrison, both of the township of Bastard. The plaintiff sued for amount of wages claimed to be due, amounting to $27.65. The deft. claimed a non suit on the grounds that the pltf., by not putting in his full time, had failed to fulfil his agreement, and that he had never asked for a settlement.

The pltf., on being examined, said that he had worked for deft. the full time, less half a day, and that he had demanded a settlement.

Deft. was sworn, and said that he had kept a careful account of the time worked, which lacked two days or more of the specified period. He also put in a counter account of $1 for use of horse and buggy drawing home flour for pltf., and 40c. for drawing some provender. He further testified that he had never refused the pltf. money when he asked for it, and was prepared to settle at any time.

After consideration, the justices ordered that pltf. receive full amount of claim, each party to pay their own costs. The decision regarding costs was given on the ground that the pltf. should have made a demand for settlement, before entering an action.

GLANDERED HORSES.

The next case was that of Abel Berney v. Jas. Fendlong. It was the outcome of the glandered horse case referred to in the REPORTER two weeks ago, in which the magistrates ordered that the animals should be killed and buried on or before the 16th of October. A report had got into circulation that the order had not been obeyed, and that one of the horses had been traded by Jabez Bullis to John E. Brown, of Delta. Berney had Fendlong summoned to show cause why the horses had not been destroyed.

Squire Scovil deposed as to the order of the court.

Fendlong declined to admit whether the horses were destroyed or not.

Jabez Bullis was called, who said he had not received any horses from Fendlong; did not know of his own knowledge that deft. had glandered horses; traded horses often, sometimes in the night, and did not know the name of the man from whom he got the horse that he got Brown have.

Amos Wilse sworn. Had not seen the horses since the day of the trial, and did not know anything about them except from hearsay; did not know what had become of them.

Squire Wight here volunteered the statement that he had heard that the horses were alive and had given orders to have them destroyed forthwith. He went and got Fendlong to identify the horses after they were killed. He ordered them to be burned.

The pltf. not wishing to press the case, the matter was settled by Fendlong agreeing to pay whatever costs had been incurred.

ASSAULT CASE.

The next on the docket was the assault case of Henry Hawkins v. Grant Wiltse. This was a case arising out of a disturbance at a Salvation Army meeting on Sunday evening, October 28th.

Henry Hawkins, the complainant, testified that he was the father of Wm. Hawkins, who, he said, was assaulted by the deft. as he was coming down the stairs in the town hall. He saw the deft. poke his son in the side with his elbow, as he passed him on the stairs, the blow staggering him some. When a few steps further down the stairs deft. turned and said to his son "Oh! excuse me! Boys should not get in men's way!"

William Hawkins gave similar testimony to his father, as to the poking with his elbow by the deft. In cross-examination he said he did not notice Birdsell or Tom Corpo; they might have been present.

Amassa Watson, sworn: Did not see Wiltse strike Hawkins. He saw Hawkins stagger when about half way down the stair, just as Wiltse passed him.

For the defence, Ed. Birdsell testified that he came down the stairs with Wiltse; did not see him strike Hawkins.

U. Parish was also present, and saw the parties coming down the stairs. Did not see the deft. poke the pltf. in the side.

Mr. Fowler, for the defence, here asked an adjournment until 7 p.m., to allow them to produce John Hollister, an important witness.

On resuming, Thos. Compo was examined, and said he saw nothing of the disturbance complained of.

Grant Wiltse, the deft., was sworn. Said he was coming down the stairs on the night in question, and saw the pltf's son standing on the step. Asked him to stand aside and let him pass. He replied, "I don't have to." I shoved him aside and went down stairs. H. Hawkins started a conversation in which he seemed to be angry. Did not poke the pltf's son with his elbow.

John Hollister was present; saw Henry and William Hawkins, and Grant Wiltse on the stairs. Heard Wiltse say to Wm. Hawkins, "Stand around a little and let me pass." Thought he would have seen Wiltse if he had struck Hawkins. Did not think Wiltse used any violence.

The justices, after deliberation, decided on a dismissal of the case. Mr. Geo. W. Green appeared for the pltf. and Mr. Fowler for the defence.

FARMERSVILLE HIGH SCHOOL.

Report of the Head Master.—The School in a Flourishing Condition.

TO THE CHAIRMAN AND MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION, FARMERSVILLE:

Gentlemen,—I beg leave to submit the following report of the Farmersville High School for the months of September and October, 1888:

ATTENDANCE DURING SEPTEMBER.

	Boys.	Girls.	Total.
First Form, Juniors	7	13	20
" Seniors	15	23	38
Second Form	8	7	15
Total number enrolled	30	43	73

(Average attendance, 67.)

ATTENDANCE DURING OCTOBER.

	Boys.	Girls.	Total.
First Form, Juniors	7	13	20
" Seniors	17	23	40
Second Form	8	7	15
Total number enrolled	32	43	75

(Average attendance, 68.)

In comparing the attendance of October of last year with that of the same month of this year, I find that there is an increase of 17 this year. The large and regular attendance, together with the interest taken by the pupils in their work, is very encouraging to the teachers. The classes taking the Teachers' Course and University Matriculation are very promising; and the junior division of the First Form is one of the brightest that I have had during seven years' experience in High School work.

Nearly all the geranium plants that were set out in front of the school building have been potted, and have been given out to persons in the village who will take care of them during the winter and return them in the spring. In my register I have kept a list of the persons to whom plants were given, the number and the kind of plants.

More hooks are required for the cloak rooms. A clock is a necessity for punctuality and regularity in school work. There are no cans of water standing on the stoves in the two lower rooms. I respectfully call the attention of the Board to these requirements.

For the successful carrying out of Graduation Exercises this year, it will be necessary for you to consider ways and means. I would suggest that a committee be appointed from the Board to act with teachers in preparing a programme that will do our High School credit.

Respectfully submitted,
L. A. KENNEDY,
Head Master.
