CONCLUDED THEIR MISSION

Australian Evangelists Take Farewell of London.

Have Met With Good Success and May Return Next Year.

Miss Miller and Miss Layton, the Australian evangelists, have concluded their mission in this city, and go to Sandusky, Ohio, on Thursday. Here in London they have been successful in their work at the Dundas Center Church, where they have held meetings every night for several weeks.

Miss Layton was not well enough to attend the farewell meeting last night, but Miss Margaret McCoy took her place and sang a song very sweetly. The pastor of the church, Rev. C. T. Scott, presided, and Miss Miller gave a most interesting account of how she had gone into the work, and had progressed. Her glimpses of life and its seamy side in Australian cities, were very interesting, and the manner in which she related incidents in her experience as an evangelist was such as to hold the undivided attention of all.

The results of the evengelists' mission here are said to have been so marked that the board of management will likely invite Misses Miller and Layton to return next year.

GOES TO PERE MARQUETTE

Wm. Woollatt Made Superintendent of Buffalo Division.

Walkerville, Ont., March 1. — Wm. Woollatt, who had been connected with the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway since its construction by Hiram Walker in 1889, today assumed the position of superintendent of the Buffalo division of the Pere Marquette. This change is in line with the recent circular announcing that the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway would be operated as a part of the Pere Marquette system.

KINGSTON GOT IT TOO

A Big Blizzard Ties Up the Limestone City.

Kingston, Ont., March 1. — The storm on Ladysmith Day four years ago was eclipsed last night, and this morning. It was a mighty blizzard, and was accompanied by thunder. The streets are deep with drifts, and it is almost impossible to get around. Trains and stages are all delayed. The western G. T. R. line from Montreal is the only one so far that has arrived. The Toronto train is hours late. Some ten or twelve inches of snow has fallen, but in many places it is drifted many feet higher.

DOWIE MOBBED AGAIN

Roughs Break Up His Meeting and Chase Him Around City.

Melbourne, March 1. — Larrikins or roughs chased Dowie, the self-styled Elijah, round the city after breaking up a meeting [illegible] to speak. Dowie was compelled to abandon his evening meeting, although he had a hundred police to protect him.

The most fashionable hotel in Melbourne refused to receive him as a guest.

D. J. SULLY INITIATED

Board of Trade Brokers in Chicago Put Him Through the Paces.

Chicago, March 1. — Daniel J. Sully, the "Cotton King," wearing ornaments which would make the "loudest" effects of Ald. John Coughlin appear like mourning togs, flashed upon the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday. When he emerged half an hour later his silk hat was smashed in, his collar gone, and his coat buttonless. The brokers had given him an initiation more hearty than considerate.

Mr. Sully soon after his arrival on the floor was discovered. It is reported that his waistcoat, the most gorgeous ever seen in Chicago, gave the alarm.

A CENT FAMINE

Cleveland Was Short of Them and They Were Rushed There in Barrels.

Cleveland, March 1. — Cleveland narrowly escaped a cent famine last week. For more than two days the banks were penniless, and all the "coppers" which Cleveland could boast of were those the board of public safety kept a watchful eye on. In the large manufacturing plants where thousands of men and women are employed the employes have to be paid off weekly and in many of them last week no cents were to be had to settle with the worker for his extra hire.

The customary relief of the banks failed, although in their surplus accounts they might have had $1,000,000. The telegraph wires were made busy, the posts were filled with letters to New York begging that the tension in Cleveland be relieved and that cents, nothing but cents, be rushed immediately. In a day or two heavy barrels were unloaded from the express cars at the Union station and placed upon the carefully guarded trucks. They contained the required amount of cents.

TOOK TOO MUCH POISON

A Young Woman Changed Her Mind About It and Ran for an Antidote.

New York, March 1. — A young woman, barefooted and wearing an overcoat over her undergarments, rushed into a drug store at Twenty-eighth street and Second avenue early yesterday and yelled to the proprietor:

"I've just swallowed five bichloride of mercury tablets, but I've changed my mind about dying. Please give me something."

The druggist fixed up an antidote and then telephoned to Bellevue for an ambulance. At Bellevue she gave her name as Cecile Burke, 24 years old, of 308 East Twenty-eighth street. The doctors said that because she had taken forty grains of the poison, enough to kill eighty people, she would probably live. She was in good condition last night.

The womans' husband, Edward, said that his wife had been complaining because he worked nights, and he supposed she took poison because she was lonesome.

DOCTOR CURES INSANITY

Patient Recovers His Reason After a Skillful Operation.

Napa, Cal., March 1.—An interesting operation was performed at the state hospital for the insane recently by Dr. Stone, assisted by Drs. Pulsifer, Stice and Cohen, on a patient, George Argyris.

Argyris is a Greek, 19 years of age. Ten years ago in his native country his skull was fractured, but he seemed to recover from the injury. Soon afterward he came to this country and worked for his brother in a restaurant in San Francisco. He got into a fight with the cook and was struck with a poker over the right ear, just where his skull was fractured years before.

The blow seemed to drive him insane, and he wandered about from place to place in an aimless manner, and was recently arrested in Sonoma County for robbery. He was thought more fit for an asylum than a prison, and was committed to Napa Hospital.

The skull was opened and a large tumor that was pressing against the brain was removed. The skull section, which had been cut out, was replaced by a "bone button."

Argyris' mental balance has been completely restored and there is probability he will soon be discharged as cured.

LONDON BRIDGE WIDER

Half a Million Has Been Spent in Increasing Traffic Facilities.

London, March 1.—The widening of London Bridge will be completed in three weeks. The old bridge was 57 feet 5 inches wide and the new bridge will be 65 feet. The cost will be $500,000, or about $3,500 for each of the additional 139 inches.

The work is considered to have been done rapidly, as the first six months were devoted to the erection of temporary covered footways for pedestrians. Throughout the entire operations neither the vehicular nor pedestrian traffic was suspended for a single hour. The gas and water mains are laid so that they can be reached quickly without tearing up the road.

FAMOUS PICTURES LOST

Two of Sir Joshua Reynolds' Works Disappear.

London, March 1.—Two of Sir Joshua Reynolds' most famous pictures are missing, and a reward was advertised for their return. They are portraits of Anne Montgomery and Charlotte Compton, both Marchionesses of Townshend. The pictures belonged to the famous collection of Townshend heirlooms. That of Anne was painted about 1773 and is acknowledged to be one of the finest examples of Sir Joshua's work.

The pictures had been hanging many years at Balls Park, Herefordshire, one of the Townshend seats. The pictures disappeared and there is not the slightest clue.

The Townshend heirlooms, especially the pictures, have been justly celebrated. At Raynham, the seat of the Marquises of Norfolk for 200 years, was a gallery containing 4,000 pictures, mostly old family portraits. The Marquis in December last successfully applied to the court for permission to sell some of the pictures there. Among those sold were portraits of Charles Townshend, who introduced measures in Parliament immediately following the rebellion in the American colonies.
