THE GOLD MINE OF THE VASSE

They passed cottages bowered in flowers, and ringed by tall hedgerows composed wholly of gorgeous geraniums. The strangers who looked on these changing revelations of loveliness sat silent, and almost tearful. Even those long accustomed to Australian scenery were amazed at the beauty of the valley.

Mr. Wyville and Mr. Sheridan had ridden rapidly on before the others, and stood uncovered and host-like on the verandah of the house where the drive ended.

Alice Walmsley sat in the foremost carriage, and was the first to alight, with Sheridan's hand holding hers. Their eyes met as she stepped to his side. His lips formed one short word, of which only her eye and ear were conscious,—

"Home!"

Exclamations of wonder came from all the party at the peerless beauty of their surroundings. The house was wholly built of bright red mahogany beams, perfectly fitted, with rich-carving of sandalwood and jamwood on angle, cornice, and capital. It was very low, only one story high for the most part, though there were a number of sleeping rooms raised to a second story. From the verandah looking seaward, every part of the wooded valley was visible, and the winding silver of the rivers glanced deliciously through the trees. Beyond, lay the level blue water of the Indian Ocean, stretching away to the cream-colored horizon.

The house within doors was a wonder of richness, taste, and comfort. Everything was of wood, highly finished with polish and carving, and the colors were combined of various woods. Soft rugs from India and Persia lay on halls and rooms. Books, pictures, statuary, rare bric-a-brac, everything that vast wealth and cultivated taste could command or desire, was to be found in this splendid residence.

Almost in silence, the strangers passed through the countless rooms, each differing from the others, and each complete. Mr. Wyville led the larger party of guests through the place. He had not before seen it himself; but he was wholly familiar with the plans, which, indeed, were largely his own.

"But it will have an owner now," he said, "who will better enjoy its restfulness, and take closer interest in its people."

"But you should rest, too, Mr. Wyville," said Mrs. Little, "the Colony is now settled with your excellent law."

"There is much to be done yet;" he said, shaking his head, with the old grave smile. "I have not even time to wait one day."

There was a general look of astonishment.

"Why, Mr. Wyville, surely you will not leave this lovely place."

"I must leave to-night," he said; "I am very sorry, but it is imperative."

Then, not waiting for further comment, he took them out to the stables and village-like out-houses. There was no regular garden; the valley itself was garden and farm and forest in one.

Alice Walmsley had lingered behind the others, in a quiet and dim little room, looking away out to sea. Contentment filled her soul like low music. She wished to be alone. She had sat only a few minutes when she heard a step beside her. She did not ...e ...ing ...ord; but ...me. Then ...r face to his. ...took her to ...lness of hap-

...t the dim little room, ...ver after to be the dearest ...n their rich home, they saw the sombre robes of Sister Cecilia as she sat alone on the verandah.

"Where shall the school be, Sister?" asked Sheridan; "have you selected your site?"

"She shall build it on the choicest spot that can be found," said Alice, seating herself beside Sister Cecilia.

"Dictation already!" laughed Sheridan, at which Alice blushed, and sent him away,

Toward evening, there stood on the verandah, having quietly withdrawn from the guests, Mr. Wyville, Sheridan, and Hamerton. Mr. Wyville meant quietly to leave, without disturbing the party.

"I am sorry beyond expression," said Sheridan, holding his hand; "your presence was our chief pleasure. Can you not even stay with us to-night?"

"It is impossible!" answered Mr. Wyville, with a look of affectionate response; "the work yet before me will not bear delay. Good bye. God bless you—and yours!"

He walked rapidly away, his horse having been led by Ben Lodge before him to the entrance.

"Good-bye, Sheridan!" said Hamerton, suddenly seizing his friend's hand, "I'm going, too."

"What? You—"

"Stop! Don't try to prevent me. I can't let him go alone. Go in to your people, and say nothing till to-morrow. Good-bye, my dear fellow!"

That night the steamer returned to Fremantle, having on board Mr. Wyville and Hamerton.

Boston Produce and Lumber Markets

BUTTER.

There is not much change to note in the butter market. Trade continues light, but holders are firm, and the tendency is slightly to higher rates. The supply of strictly fine Western creamery is small, and all offering readily commands extreme figures, say 30c. and upwards. A large portion of the Western creamery arriving has a wintry flavor, and grades as firsts and extra firsts, ranging mostly from 25 @ 28c. Northern fall creamery is held at full prices, with sales principally in small lots. Fresh imitation creamery and ladle packed are meeting with a fair sale at quotations.

Receipts of Northern dairy continue light and prices are unchanged. Winter made lots rule at 18 @ 23c., with a few fine selections at a higher range. Fresh Western dairy is in demand at full rates. We quote:

CHEESE.

The market is quiet and firm, with only small sales for current wants. No fine factory is offering under 13c. and it would not be easy to buy under 13½ @ 13¾ ₱ lb. In the present condition of the market holders would rather sell small than large lots. Liverpool quotation steady at 63s. We quote—

EGGS.

Fresh eggs have become quite scare, and eastern extras command 30 @ 32c. ₱ dozen. Very few Canada or P. E. Island offering. A few fresh southern are arriving and command 28 @ 30c. Market closes with a strong tone, a small supply of all kinds, and a good demand.

Aroostock Co. firsts	26	28
Canadian, firsts	25	28

BEANS.

The demand continues light and prices are barely maintained. Sales of New York small pea at $1.60 @ $1.65, and marrow pea at $1.55. It is not easy to get over $1.50 for choice mediums. Yellow eyes are steady.

POTATOES.

The market is liberally supplied with potatoes by rail and water and prices are easier. Sales of Houlton hebrons at 63 @ 65c., and Houlton rose at 55 @ 58c., Aroostook rose 53 @ 55c. Northern stock rule principally from 50 @ 55c. Provincial chenangoes at the wharf are mostly in poor order and go off slowly at 35 @ 40c. ₱ bu. We quote:—

APPLES, &c.

For choice apples there is a good demand at full prices. Extra baldwins and greenings command $2.50 @ $2.75 ₱ bbl. Cranberries are in moderate receipt and firm.

HAY AND STRAW.

The hay market continues quiet with no change in prices. Sales of choice coarse eastern and northern at $17 @ $17.50 ₱ ton, and occasional extra cars at $18. Good fine hay is selling more freely at $15 @ $16. Rye straw is easy at $15 @ $15.50.

POULTRY AND GAME.

The poultry trade has been quiet since Christmas. Choice western turkeys rule at 11 @ 12 c., and some extras northern 13 c. Very little doing in northern stock. Chickens and fowls are plentiful and sell slowly. Geese cleaned up well before Christmas, but in light demand since. Quail scarce and higher. Other game quiet. Sales of partridges are forbidden by law after January 1.

LUMBER.

Trade is light, as usual at the close of the year, and prices are without change. Spruce and hemlock in light receipt and steady. Clapboards and shingles dull. Furniture hardwoods in fair demand.

I Had a Dreadful Cough, and raised a considerable amount of blood and matter; besides, I was very thin, and so weak I could scarcely go about the house. This was the case of a man with consumption arising from liver complaint. He recovered his health completely by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." Thousands of others bear similar testimony.

AYER'S PILLS.

Sugar-Coated Cathartic

If the Liver becomes torpid, if the bowels are constipated, or if the stomach fails to perform its functions properly, use Ayer's Pills. They are invaluable.

For some years I was a victim to Liver Complaint, in consequence of which I suffered from General Debility and Indigestion. A few boxes of Ayer's Pills restored me to perfect health.—W. T. Brightney, Henderson, W. Va.

For years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than anything else, to my bowels. These Pills are mild in action, and do their work thoroughly. I have used them with good effect, in cases of Rheumatism, Kidney Trouble, and Dyspepsia.—G. F. Miller, Attleborough, Mass.

Ayer's Pills cured me of Stomach and Liver troubles, from which I had suffered for years. I consider them the best pills made, and would not be without them.—Morris Gates, Downsville, N. Y.

I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice, and was so dangerously ill that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor.—John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebraska.

Last spring I suffered greatly from a troublesome humor on my side. In spite of every effort to cure this eruption, it increased until the flesh became entirely raw. I was troubled, at the same time, with Indigestion, and distressing pains in

The Bowels.

By the advice of a friend I began taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time I was free from pain, my food digested properly, the sores on my body commenced healing, and, in less than one month, I was cured.—Samuel D. White, Atlanta, Ga.

I have long used Ayer's Pills, in my family, and believe them to be the best pills made.—S. C. Darden, Darden, Miss.

My wife and little girl were taken with Dysentery a few days ago, and I at once began giving them small doses of Ayer's Pills, thinking I would call a doctor if the disease became any worse. In a short time the bloody discharges stopped, all pain went away, and health was restored.—Theodore Ealing, Richmond, Va.
