After a Sharp Advance in Wheat Prices Close Weak—The Canadian Security Market Is Unsettled—Very Little Doing in Cattle.

FRIDAY EVENING, Oct. 20.

Canadian Pacific is weaker in London to-day at 75⅛. A sale was made in New York at 75¾.

The flow of currency to the South has been large this week, but it is stated that the New York banks will show a further increase in reserve to-morrow.

The New York clearing house to-day cancelled $815,000 certificates, leaving only $2,780,000 outstanding.

The compromise measure provides that no bonds shall be issued under the redemption act of 1875 at a greater interest than 3½ per cent.

Cable and Montreal Street Railway stocks were weak to-day.

The bank clearings at Montreal this week were $10,957,115, as against $13,896,248 the corresponding week of last year.

Senators in a position to know say that the President will sign any compromise that may be sent to him on the lines of what has been practically agreed upon by the Standing Committee.

Wall-street Gossip.

The market closed firm, with Lackawanna in the lead.

Sugar continues to be a strong feature.

Lavin advises purchases on all weak spots.

The largest short interest is said to be in the Grangers.

London sold a little L. & N., U.P. and Atchison.

Western operators sold Distillers on rumor of another hitch.

Stop orders caused weakness in Chicago Gas.

S. V. White is very bullish on Western Union.

Myers & Co. wired J. J. Dixon & Co.: Local traders found less resistance to prices to-day, and they have made two or three successful scalps during the day on the long side. Compromise settlement of the silver question is the talk all over the street, and there seems to be a feeling that this will do if unconditional repeal cannot be obtained. There is no other influence at work in the market except operations based on silver legislation. The market became dull during the afternoon and closed very quiet without any material concessions in prices. To-morrow's bank statement should show a further gain in deposits and cash; bank troubles seem to have passed. The Government is feeling the financial pressure now more than banks or individuals. There is a large deficit to be provided for in some manner. Sales 193,300 shares.

R. Cochran received the following despatch from Kennett, Hopkins & Co.:

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—The display of bull muscle has been the conspicuous feature to-day. It has been a sort of Sandow market. The news from Washington in the morning papers is anything but encouraging. If possible it leaves the silver situation in a worse position than when Congress was assembled. If the proposed compromise is carried out this is especially true. Coinage is still to go on until the total amount reaches $350,000,000. The immediate effect of this news was to drop the price of wheat ½ cent on the curb, but at the regular opening taking their cue from Wall-street, the market was given such a strong support that it rose to 65 5-8c for December. There was enough realizing to cause a reaction of ⅝c when the muscle was again called into service, but the rally was feeble. Receipts in the Northwest, instead of falling off, were heavier by 82 cars, and even Kansas City got 140 cars from a section which ought weeks ago to have been drained of its surplus wheat if any confidence is to be placed in crop estimates.

Clearances liberal, for the first time in several days, nearly half of it being in flour. It will probably be found quite as difficult to market wheat on the advices with a prospective large increase in the silver coinage as it was when the price was three cents lower.

Corn and oats—Those who have been bulling corn for some days in the expectation that receipts were going to fall off have lost faith in their position, and have been getting out of long stuff to-day. Oats are expected to sympathize in the downward movement. Provisions quite strong.
