PLAYING IN THE BAND

To my esteemed and much respected friend, Mr. H. W. Kincaid, is this little memoir most faithfully dedicated by the author.

I'd like to be a boy again just for a year or so, and back there in the village that I left so long ago. I sigh and brush a tear drop as I think of days of yore, and prize their golden moments as I never did before.

When thoughts of youthful pleasure come to drive away my care, I sometimes fancy I'm a lad back in the old town there, and marching gaily down the street in regimental grand, as proud as any brigadier, a playing in the band.

They were the gladdest moments which the fates have given me, the time we organized the band, I think 'twas eighty three—when we laid met with spirits gay, and horns all new and bright, and started in to practice at the town hall every night.

Of course, the neighbors grumbled, for we blew both night and day, and my joy it reached its zenith when a tune we learned to play when I've heard the famous Sousa and his forty classic notes, but their music didn't stir me like that tune which we played then.

I can see the old professor, standing there to give the beat, and the boys all sitting round him playing on their horns so sweet, I can hear the cornets leading and the double bass tone, hear the alt's and the tenors and the mellow old trombone, I can hear the snare drum tapping, I can hear the bass drum roll, and the old-time inspiration takes possession of my soul, then I look across the distance and in dreamy fancy grand I can see them marching down the street a playing in the band.

When the busy city called me with its artificial show, I felt that I was honored and prided much to go; then I thought the passing pleasures were but empty worn and vain, now they serve to make life brighter just to think of them again—And I'd like to be a lad again and go back there and stay.

Just have the things around the same as when I came away, brush up my dusty uniform to make a showing grand, and get my dented old brass horn, go playing in the band.

Ah, could I be a boy again, with spirits just as light, as when we gathered on the green and played most every night, again take up my cornet and swell its notes out loud, and see the smiling face of my old sweetheart in the crowd! I wonder if they're playing yet that sweet, old-time refrain, and if they'd let me play with them should I go back again.

To be a boy just for a night in uniform so grand, with cornet bright and spirits light go playing in the band.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 18.—The British steamship Rocky, Captain Sheldin, which arrived here yesterday morning from Fort Ingalls, has on board Domingo Belle Royarberay, the sole survivor of the crew of 22 men on the British steamship Mexicana, which foundered with all on board off the Florida coast Tuesday night. Two Ships Wrecked—15 Lost. Demarest, N.J., Sept. 18.—Two vessels, the schooner Sadie D. and Lillie, of Prospect, Me., and the mackerel schooner George L. Edwards, of Gloucester, were wrecked on Pamaquid Point during the night and 15 lives were lost. BALL PASSED THROUGH HEAD. W. A. Lays, Barister of Fort Arthur, Sent to Hospital Dead. Fort Arthur, Sept. 18.—W. A. Lays, lawyer, of this town, was found dead in his office Wednesday evening. The body was found on the floor, with bullet wounds in the forehead. The ball had evidently passed clear through; there were two holes, as though two balls had entered. In the room was a rifle, with the magazine filled with cartridges. The story is given out as accidental death, while again it is asserted that he was insane, and his actions during the afternoon from those who saw him would seem to bear out the latter supposition. The late Mr. Lays was a nephew of Col. F. Lays, M.P., of London. His father was John Lays, a well known Toronto barrister. Meeting of Directors. Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 21.—A meeting of directors of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company, to be held to-day in New York, is expected to bring another crisis in the affairs of the entangled corporation the only way out for the company now seems to be a sale of the property to satisfy the claim of the syndicate headed by Speyer & Co., which advanced $5,050,000 several months ago to put the company on its feet. There have been rumors that Speyer & Co. are interested in the formation of a syndicate to organize a new company, and after a sale of the assets to let the Consolidated Lake Superior stockholders in again. Stockholders of the company will, however, doubtless carry the matter into the courts and press for a receivership, in which event any scheme for a new company would be of no avail. St. Miles Under Water. Racine, Wis., Sept. 21.—The Wisconsin River reached a stage of 12.9 feet above Government stage at noon yesterday, when the city above on the west side of the river broke, and the entire district between the Wisconsin River bridge and the Baraboo River, covering a space of six miles, is one of water. Farm residences in the district are surrounded and hundreds of acres of potatoes, corn and millet are ruined. Death From Chloroform. Dundas, Sept. 18.—Yesterday afternoon at Greenville, Mrs. Brock Green died under very distressing circumstances. Doctors Ross and Bertman, of this town, placed her under chloroform to perform an operation. Before they could get started they were horrified to find that the action of the heart had stopped. They did their best to bring her around, but all their efforts were in vain.

ONE FOUR LOSES TWO MORE

Four Vacant Cabinet Posts and One Secretaryship to Fill.

Lord Balfour of Burleigh, Secretary for Scotland, and Hon. Mr. Elliot, Financial Secretary to the Treasury, have resigned, and their resignations have been accepted by the King. Mr. Elliot was not in the Cabinet. These four vacant Cabinet posts and one secretaryship at Mr. Balfour's disposal.

London, Sept. 21.—Lord Balfour of Burleigh, Secretary for Scotland, and Arthur Ralph Douglas Elliot, Financial Secretary of the Treasury, have resigned, and their resignations have been accepted by the King. Mr. Elliot was not in the Cabinet. These four vacant Cabinet posts and one secretaryship at Mr. Balfour's disposal.

Non. Mr. Elliot is a Liberal Unionist, and sits for the City of Durham, which is a close constituency. He is editor of The Edinburgh Review, and is also a Conservative. Lord Balfour of Burleigh is a strong Conservative. He was born in 1849, and is one of the largest landowners in the United Kingdom. He holds 3,000 acres. He is a Scotchman.

Mr. Balfour's efforts to keep the Ministry going with remnants only excite laughter. With Mr. Chamberlain and his 150 members of Parliament let loose in the constituencies armed with definite policy, dissolution is inevitable and probable before the end of next summer. Unless past experience is to be believed, there will be the bitterest fight of this generation. With Mr. Chamberlain every man who is not an avowed friend is an enemy to be hit above or below the belt. No one has forgotten his recent election cry, "Every vote given for the Liberals is a vote given for the Boers," and for the first time in his career Mr. Chamberlain has no compeer and much less leader to restrain his zeal.

Mr. Balfour and Mr. Chamberlain write to each other as though his resignation had made no breach in the party. In truth, the party has been split asunder for two months past. To-day, it consists of four distinct camps. First, the retainers, under Mr. Balfour; second, the preferentialists, under Mr. Chamberlain; third, the free traders, under Lord Goschen, Sir Michael Hicks Beach, and Mr. Ritchie; fourth, the wobblers, under nobody in particular. The retainers and the preferentialists together made up about three-fourths of the party. Mr. Chamberlain is confident that all but an insignificant section of these will come under his banner.

Devenshire Will Remain. With the resignation of Lord Balfour and Financial Secretary Elliot, both strong free traders, it is understood that the Ministerial resignations are completed and apparently the Duke of Devonshire has decided to remain in the Cabinet. It is generally certain that Austen Chamberlain, Lord Milner and Mr. Brodick will take the Exchequer, Colonies and India portfolios respectively, and the only surprise in the new appointments is likely to be the nomination of a strong man to the War Office to determine how far the recommendations of the South African War Commission can be carried out.

Home Secretary Akers-Douglas started for Balmoral to-night, and he will probably be involved in the reconstruction changes. Tariff Reform League. As a part of the organization of the Tariff Reform League, a committee of colonial gentlemen, prominent in this country, has been formed to secure a full and effective expression of opinion on behalf of colonial here and in the colonies in support of the fiscal proposals of Chamberlain. At the first meeting a resolution was passed, in which the committee expressed its sincere and heartfelt regret that Chamberlain has resigned his position as Colonial Secretary. Sir Charles Tupper's name was added to the committee.

West Free Trade. Birmingham, Eng., Sept. 21.—A conference of 800 delegates, representing 240,000 workmen, members of unions and co-operative societies, was held here Saturday. The conference adopted a resolution expressing belief in the advantage of free trade and condemning preferential tariffs. Flowermen Bowed and Kicked. Brighton, Sept. 19.—While Morris Newman, an employe of A. M. Macklam, a farmer, one and a half miles west of here, was plowing in a field near the railroad, he was bound and gagged by two men wearing masks. The robbers then went through his pockets, securing $23.50 in money. They left him tied to the cart and unable to move. Some time after Mrs. Macklam heard his cries and went down to the field and released him.

To Avoid Feet and Mouth Disease. Berlin, Sept. 18.—Prof. Loeffler of Giesewald has sent in a report to the government on the results of his investigation of the foot and mouth disease among cattle. He says that a means has been found to protect the animals, while in the stables from contamination by the use of small doses of a serum. He advises the inoculation of all cattle bought on the market and he says if they are treated with the serum they are safe from infection.

To Settle Strikes. St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 21.—A labor union, the fundamental principle of which are opposition to all strikes, and in favor of settling disputes with employes by arbitration, was organized here yesterday.

TURKS BLOODY TRAIL

London, Sept. 19.—As a result of the intervention of the British Ambassador, the decree of expulsion has not been enforced against The Daily Mail's correspondent at Monastir, who, under the date of Sept. 16, telegraphs:

"A veritable reign of terror exists here. Suspected Christians vanish utterly, presumably to prison. Spies about on every hand. The following are some tales of atrocities which I have thoroughly authenticated: 'The Turks burned 18 children to death in a baking oven at Plochor; near Atanasovo, on Sept. 12. They massacred 200 women and children at Jervan in revenge for a defeat at the hands of the insurgents.'"

Here Turkish Massacres. Sofia, Sept. 19.—A serious fight has occurred at Ulavitz, in the mountains of Kratovo, between 2,000 Turks and 30 insurgents, 12 continue for eight hours. The insurgents used bombs with deadly effect. About 100 Turks are reported to have been killed and many were wounded. The insurgents had two men wounded.

A fight is also reported to have taken place at Rupal Pass, near Sere, 43 miles from Salonica. Further reports from Kastoria say the city is burning and that the massacre of its population (estimated to have numbered 10,000 persons), was indescribably terrible. The Turks slaughtered indiscriminately, not only Bulgarians, and Greeks, men, women and children.

SLAUGHTER TEN THOUSAND. Town of Kastoria Destroyed and Inhabitants Murdered by Turks. Sofia, Bulgaria, Sept. 18.—The Foreign Office here has received reliable information that the Turks have destroyed the town of Kastoria and have massacred the population. The population of Kastoria numbers about 10,000 persons, and the massacre of such a number in one place, if the report is true, exceeds anything which has yet occurred in Macedonia. The effect of the report of such stupendous slaughter may be most serious.

Missing For the Day. London, Sept. 21.—The Daily Mail's correspondent at Sofia telegraphs: "One of the revolutionary chiefs has informed me that they are massacring thousands of men at various points on the frontier, and their laboratories are working incessantly to replenish their stock of bombs and explosives. They do not count much."

Disentery causes the death of more people than small pox and yellow fever combined. In an army it is dreaded more than a battle. It requires prompt and efficient treatment. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has been used in nine epidemics of dysentery in the United States with perfect success, and has cured the most malignant cases, both of children and adults, and under the most trying conditions. Every household should have a bottle at hand. Get it to-day. It may save a life. Sold by J. P. Lamb & Son.

Farming For Profit... Every Farmer should keep these three words constantly in mind and conduct his farm on strict business principles. Guess work and haphazard methods are no longer used by successful and up-to-date farmers.

By reading THE WEEKLY SUN, the Farmer's Business Paper, you will get the very latest and most accurate information regarding your business.

THE SUN's market reports are worth many times the subscription price to you. Every Farmer in Canada should realize the full value of the service THE SUN has rendered him in a public way. It was due to the action of THE SUN in giving voice to the opinions of the farmers that the law relating to cattle guards, drainage across railways, and farm fires caused by railway locomotives has been amended.

We will send THE WEEKLY SUN from now to 1st January, 1906, in combination with THE ATHENS REPORTER for only $2.00. Subscriptions to be sent to this office.

PLAYING IN THE BAND

To my esteemed and much respected friend, Mr. H. W. Kincaid, is this little memoir most faithfully dedicated by the author.

I'd like to be a boy again just for a year or so, and back there in the village that I left so long ago. I sigh and brush a tear drop as I think of days of yore, and prize their golden moments as I never did before.

When thoughts of youthful pleasure come to drive away my care, I sometimes fancy I'm a lad back in the old town there, and marching gaily down the street in regimental grand, as proud as any brigadier, a playing in the band.

They were the gladdest moments which the fates have given me, the time we organized the band, I think 'twas eighty three—when we laid met with spirits gay, and horns all new and bright, and started in to practice at the town hall every night.

Of course, the neighbors grumbled, for we blew both night and day, and my joy it reached its zenith when a tune we learned to play when I've heard the famous Sousa and his forty classic notes, but their music didn't stir me like that tune which we played then.

Just have the things around the same as when I came away, brush up my dusty uniform to make a showing grand, and get my dented old brass horn, go playing in the band.

Ah, could I be a boy again, with spirits just as light, as when we gathered on the green and played most every night, again take up my cornet and swell its notes out loud, and see the smiling face of my old sweetheart in the crowd! I wonder if they're playing yet that sweet, old-time refrain, and if they'd let me play with them should I go back again.

To be a boy just for a night in uniform so grand, with cornet bright and spirits light go playing in the band.
