The Old People's Day at Glen Buell. On Sunday, August 28, the third anniversary was given by Glen Buell Sabbath-school for the benefit of aged people, not only for the aged of the Glen, but for all who in any form were associated with old pioneer families, some of which run back in history a hundred years or more.

flower garden, and our appreciation of your kindness, we present you this beautiful "Barbara Heck" memorial plant. Although the sainted mother of Methodism has been dead a hundred years or more, yet the fragrance coming from that humble life and beautiful character is rich and sweet and full of inspiration to-day.

The old servant of the church delivered a practical reply, in which he reviewed a portion of the joyful side of life. With much kindness he referred to the beautiful token of love as expressed in the address presented by the ten Sabbath-school virgins, and promised to remember them at the Throne of Grace.

The Rev. Wm. Knox then addressed the people, his subject being "Prayer; its privileges and blessings in developing a holy, happy, useful life." After his address came the memorial reference to those who died during the year. The superintendent of the Sabbath school introduced with much tenderness and love the names of Otis F. Bullis and William H. Howe, each of whom was born within a mile of the church.

THE HALL FAMILY. In the palmy days of this family name at Glen Buell (formerly called Hayes' Corners), they were quite numerous and enjoyed much respect and confidence on every side, because of sterling worth of character.

Our old friend, "Uncle" Wm. Smith, of Athens, was found to be entitled to the medal and he responded at once when his name was called. He will be 95 years of age on the 20th of next October and he himself inscribed his name and age in the visitors' book.

Respect, consideration, veneration for the aged is one of the most admirable distinctive traits of our Christian civilization, and it was a happy thought that prompted the Sabbath School of Glen Buell, inspired by their superintendent, Mr. C. J. Gilroy, to arrange for a public service in honor of their elders.

It is the past that has moulded the present, and all honor is due those who conquered the wilderness in this country. From a friend, the Reporter gleaned the following biographical sketches of some of the earlier settlers at Glen Buell:

Richard Rowsome was one of the old men at Glen Buell S. S. Anniversary for the benefit of aged people, as held in the beautiful brick church in that rural village on August 28th. Mr. Rowsome is a member of one of the pioneer families who arrived in this beautiful portion of Eastern Ontario when the Indian and wild animals were plentiful.

Respected Sir and Brother,—We, as representative students of Glen Buell Sabbath-school, wish to present to you a token of our appreciation of the fact that God in His wisdom has permitted you to join with us in this our third anniversary in honor of the "Aged People," who were the boys and girls of yesterday and now the fathers and mothers in Israel.

We think, sir, that the Lord God of Israel has been very kind to you in permitting you to enjoy many active, energetic years of labor in His harvest field, proclaiming the everlasting truths of the Gospel. In looking over the number of old boys and girls here to-day, we think that you are not quite old enough to obtain our special silver medal for the oldest person present.

ways stood for the original Conservative party.

THE HAYES FAMILY. This name is well known, having a record of over one hundred years in Canadian history. We find that in the year 1796, Eri Hayes, the father of Joseph Hayes, emigrated to Canada and in the year 1805 settled on lot 32 in the sixth concession of Elizabeth town, at the place called Hayes' Corners and for about thirty years known as rural district of Glen Buell.

Joseph Hayes, who is now a happy, hearty vigorous old British subject, was born May 10th, 1818, on the old historic homestead, where he now resides, and is thus in his eighty-seventh year. He secured for his first wife, Thankful, a daughter of Gardiner Lee, of U. E. Loyalist origin, by whom he had five children.

Eri Hayes, a grandson of the original settler, was born in the year 1844, on the same farm, and is now the owner. His partner in life's journey was Miss Louisa, a daughter of John Cumming, and a sister of Abe Cumming, Brockville, well known as an active fire insurance agent. From this union came a family of four sons and two daughters, four of whom were called from the parents in early life.

THE HALL FAMILY. In the palmy days of this family name at Glen Buell (formerly called Hayes' Corners), they were quite numerous and enjoyed much respect and confidence on every side, because of sterling worth of character. Now we have but one family by that name, George Hall. His grandfather George was a native of Emerald Isle, Ireland, James and Boyd came as welcome members of the then large family, and when they became strong young men they began to look around for more liberty and privileges than what they enjoyed in their native land.

At the age of 83 years, George found a companion whose name was Margaret Bolton. From this union came three sons and two daughters, and from these boys and girls developed "the Paul of Glen Buell," Wm. J. Hall, who bade farewell to parents, friends and land of nativity, and went as a medical missionary and preacher of the Gospel in that faraway land, Corea, in the vicinity of the present terrible struggle between the Japanese and Russians. Wm. James contracted malarial fever and died in active service in the work he loved so well.

NOTES. In the contest made for the silver medal, Mrs. Horton of Soperton made a good second for the honor, she having attained to the ripe old age of 92 years. Mrs. Horton appeared strong and hearty. She walks quite erect, and her intellect like that of Uncle Wm. Smith appears bright and clear. Mrs. Horton is a member of the old pioneer Horton families of New Dublin.

Exhibition Notes. Toronto Exhibition, August 29th to September 10th, claims to have more entries in every class of exhibits than in any year. Every building is full to overflowing and extra accommodation has had to be provided for the manufacturing exhibits.

The progress building at Toronto Exhibition, August 29th to September 10th, promises to be of exceptional interest this year. Some thirty processes of manufacture will be seen in full operation, such as carpet-weaving, silk spinning, cheese cloth making, nail making, boot and shoe making, from the raw material to the finished article in fifteen minutes; spinning wire mattresses, diamond cutting, lithographing and printing in colors, etc.

There is a movement in the surrounding district to have county schools open on the same date as city schools and not two weeks earlier as at present. Those in favor of the change claim that the result of the early opening in the country is about the same. Most of the pupils are kept at home for several weeks after the opening of the school and the work of the term is disarranged to a considerable extent at the very commencement.

Get the Most Out of Your Food. You don't and can't if your stomach is weak. A weak stomach does not digest all that is ordinarily taken into it. It gets tired easily, and what it fails to digest is wasted.
