N. B. FARMERS END SESSION

An Interesting Discussion un Beef and Dairy Industries.

FRUIT-GROWERS MEET

Government to Set Out More Illustration Orchards This Year--Mayor Palmer May Run for Office Again.

Fredericton, Jan. 27—(Special)—The Farmers and Dairymen's Convention was brought to a close this afternoon. The attendance was not up to previous year, but in all other respects the meeting was a great success. The speeches were of a high order and much valuable information was brought out in the discussions which followed.

Some hostility to the dairying industry as carried on in New Brunswick was manifested by several speakers who are interested in beef raising, but the friends of the dairy were no ways backward in presenting their side of the case and were able to demonstrate that there is plenty of room in the province for both branches of farming.

At this afternoon's session Prof. Shutt, of Ottawa, discussed the best means of increasing fertility of soil and offered many valuable suggestions. John C. Gilman, a leading farmer of Kingsclear, delivered an address on fruit growing. Mr. Gilman has one of the finest orchards in the province, and his remarks were based upon his own experiences. He said he derived a good profit from apple culture and thought New Brunswick was well adapted to that branch of farming.

J. W. Clark gave the result of an experiment made by him of shipping apples to the English market last season. New Brunswickers and Wealthys each netted him $2.25 per barrel. For the same apples in the St. John market he received $1.40, and had to pay for barrels and freight.

The closing address was by Saxby Blair, of the Experimental Farm, who told how to combat insect pests and fungus diseases.

Senator Perley was elected an honorary member of the association. A vote of thanks to corresponding Secretary Hubbard for his services and to the Miramichi Agricultural Society for badges were adopted after which the meeting adjourned. The executive this evening decided to hold meetings in the latter part of June at Woodstock, Hampstead, Kingston or Sussex and Chatham.

The Farmers' and Dairymen's Association this morning elected the following officers: President, C. F. Alward, of Havelock; vice-president, J. F. Tweeddale, of Victoria county; recording secretary, N. W. Dow, of Woodstock; treasurer, G. E. Fisher; corresponding secretary, W. W. Hubbard. Vice-presidents—St. John county, Dr. T. F. Johnston; Queens county, J. W. Foshay; Kings county, A. R. Wetmore; Sunbury county, H. Wilmot; York county, John C. Gilman; Carleton county, W. J. Owens; Victoria county, C. R. Inman; Madawaska county, M. DeRosier; Restigouche county, J. E. Stewart; Gloucester county, P. J. Power; Northumberland county, A. G. Dickson; Kent, Robert Lennox; Albert county, S. S. Ryan; Charlotte county, James Russell.

The whole morning was taken up with a discussion of dairying. Harvey Mitchell gave an interesting address followed by Mr. Dow, Prof. Robertson, W. W. Hubbard and others. This afternoon Prof. Shult addressed the meeting.

Fruit Growers Meeting.

The first annual meeting of the New Brunswick Fruit Growers' Association was held here this evening and passed off most successfully. President John C. Gilman, of Kingsclear, was in the chair and in the opening address explained the object of the organization, which was to encourage and develop fruit growing in the province. He expressed cordial approval of the government's policy to establish experienced orchards for the purpose of ascertaining the varieties best suited for the province.

Deputy Commissioner of Agriculture Peters told of progress made in the illustration orchard move and described the method employed in setting them out. He said seven were planted last year and the number would be increased to seventeen next spring.

Alex. McNeill, chief of the fruit division department of agriculture, Ottawa, spoke very ably for half an hour. He congratulated the fruit growers of New Brunswick on forming an association and predicted great results from the same. He advocated the growing of fruit for three reasons:

First—It had a tendency to improve the manhood and womanhood of the country.

Second—It did not detract from the country's natural resource.

Thirdly—It was a profitable business.

W. Saxby Blair, of Nappan, also spoke briefly.

Secretary Read read a draft of the constitution prepared by a committee appointed for the purpose and it was adopted.

John Gilman, of Kingsclear, was re-elected president; A. E. McAlpine, of Queens, vice-president; Henry Wilmot, of Sunbury, treasurer, and W. D. Albright, of Sussex, secretary. A vice-president was appointed for each county.

The secretary announced that thirty-one members had been enrolled.

The snow blockade which has existed since Thursday morning has been broken, so far as this city is concerned. The first train with Wednesday's mail from the west arrived at 5 o'clock this afternoon, and this evening at 9.30 another train arrived bringing passengers and mails from both St. John and the west. The train for St. John left shortly before 10 o'clock. Other trains on the Fredericton branch of the I. C. R. will likely be running on schedule time tomorrow.

Mayor Palmer was today presented with a largely signed petition asking him to be a candidate for mayor for a third term. He will give out his answer on Monday or Tuesday. As the signatures on the petition include many of the most prominent citizens, it is altogether likely that he will accept. Ald. Farrell will also be a candidate for mayor. All of the present aldermen with the exception of Messrs. Jewett and Farrell, will be candidates for aldermanic honors once more. There will also be some new candidates.

A CRISIS IN WOMAN'S LIFE.

There are Backaches and Headaches and Days When Life Seems Scarcely Worth Living.

There comes a time in the life of all women when they are face to face with a grave crisis; when there are distress backaches, headaches, dizziness; when even some women are threatened with the loss of their reason; when they suffer because they are women. The happiness of women for the rest of their lives depends upon being safely tided over this crisis. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have proved a blessing to women at all ages, and are particularly valuable at two critical periods—when girlhood is merging into womanhood and when women are approaching the turn of life. These pills make the rich, red blood that stimulates all the organs of the body, expel disease and makes the weary sufferer bright, active and strong. Mrs. A. Jones, Cypress River, Man., says: "Out of gratefulness I feel that I must let you know the good Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done me. For years I suffered from inflammation of the womb and kindred troubles. Only those who have been similarly afflicted can tell hom much I suffered, or how dreary life seemed. I tried many medicines, but none of them helped me. Then I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I am grateful now for that advice, for after using about a dozen boxes every symptom of the trouble disappeared and life again seemed worth living. It is now several years since I took the pills, and as there has been no sign of the trouble since, I feel safe in saying the cure is permanent."

What these pills have done for Mrs. Jones they will do for all suffering women if given a fair trial. But you must get the genuine with the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," on the wrapper around every box. Sold by all medicine dealers, or sent by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ENGLISH ATTACK ON EARL GREY

Political Club Trying to Prejudice Him in Canadian Eyes.

SAYS HE IS MEDDLING

That His Name is Coupled With Sir Charles Tupper's to Float a Tariff Reform Association -- His Friends Say His Aim is to Bind Empire Closer.

Montreal, Jan. 27—(Special)—The Star's London correspondent cables:

"Those who know the facts denounce as preposterous the attempt of the secretary of the Eighty Club to prejudice Earl Grey in the eyes of Canadians because his name appeared with Sir Charles Tupper's and others as a vice-president of the new club to further Anglo-colonial relations. Earl Grey's action evidenced no vestige of partizanship and would, if the full facts were known, have the approval of every Canadian. No one realizes better than Earl Grey the constitutional limits of the governorship general.

The Eighty Club in this matter is merely the ignorant partizan of futile mischief makers. Certain of their members, acting under Canadian political inspiration, brought ridicule upon themselves the other day by attempting to create prejudice against the British ministers over the fact that the cruiser Canada was not allowed to accompany the British fleet. They even went so far as to endeavor to persuade an eminent Liberal leader here to publicly denounce the British ministers for snubbing Canada. The leader, however, took the precaution to ascertain the facts authoritatively from the Canadian side, and refused to take further action.

"The despatch refers to a campaign of criticism of Earl Grey, successive steps of which are indicated in the Canadian Associated Press despatches given below.

"The United Empire Club has just been opened with the object of aiding the leaders of the Unijed Imperial party to consolidate the empire and make it self-sufficing as to food supply and strengthen the bonds between the mother country and the colonies. The club has among its vice-presidents Earl Grey, Lord Aylmer and Sir Charles Tupper.

Says Grey is a Tariff Reformer.

"R. C. Hawkins, secretary of the Eighty Club, writes to the Daily News in reference to Earl Grey's and Sir Charles Tupper's names being amongst the vice-presidents of the new club just formed, whose object, it is stated, is to "Aid the leaders of the united imperial party in their endeavors to consolidate the empire, and make it self-sufficing as a food supply and to strengthen the bonds between the mother country and her colonies and dependencies."

"Mr. Hawkins asks three questions: 'Does the governor general of Canada know his name is being used side by side with that of the ex-leader of the Canadian opposition to float a tariff reform club? If so, what does Sir Wilfrid Laurier think of it? and what has our prime minister to say on the subject?"

MAINE MAN GETS DIVORCE AT 87

Saco, Me., Jan. 26—In the supreme court today, Judge Whitehouse granted a divorce to Dwight F. Harley, aged eighty-seven years, of Old Orchard, who asked for a separation from his wife, Mrs. Hannah Harley, on the grounds of cruel and abusive treatment, and that she kept too many cats in the house.

After many conferences between the judge and counsel for Mr. and Mrs. Harley, a division of the property was agreed upon.

RELIEF FOR TOOTHACHE.

Wonderful when you consider what awful pain that tiny nerve causes. Bathe the gums with Nerviline, and plug the cavity with cotton wool saturated with Nerviline. This brings instant cure. Nothing so prompt, nothing so extraordinary good for any kind of nerve-pain as Polson's Nerviline. Get a 25c. bottle; it will save a doctor bill some day.

SAYS N. B. GUIDES ARE SLANDERED

Secretary of Association Corrects Misrepresentation

NO MONOPOLY

York County Does Not Seek to Bar Guides from Other Counties, or to Make Fredericton the Chief Distributing Point for Big-game Hunters.

To the Editor of The Telegraph:

Sir: Knowing that your valuable paper circulates largely in the North Shore counties, I would feel very grateful if you would allow me sufficient space to deal with some untruthful and malicious statements in regard to the New Brunswick Guides' Association which appeared in a recent issue of the Newcastle Advocate. The article to which I refer was no doubt prompted by feelings of jealousy, but what object the editor of the Advocate hopes to attain by publishing such rot about an organization of which it is plain that he knows absolutely nothing is more than I can comprehend. In order to put the matter more clearly before your many readers, who take an interest in matters pertaining to big game hunting, I will, with your permission, quote the objectionable portion of the Advocate's article:

The New Brunswick Guides' Association is seeking legislation to prevent anyone from guiding in the province who is not a member of the association. This is merely another exhibition of the rank gall which has characterized the actions of the so-called New Brunswick Guides' Association ever since its formation. Such a measure would deprive all the guides of Northumberland, Gloucester, Restigouche and Victoria counties of the right to earn a living. The New Brunswick Guides' Association consists solely of and exists solely for York county men.

"The New Brunswick Guides' Association was formed in the interests of one section and by the residents of one section, viz.—Fredericton," said a man prominent in the sporting life of New Brunswick to a reporter of the Advocate. He went on: "The object of the organizers was to make Fredericton the distributing centre, representations being made that it was the 'hub' of the big game country of New runswick. When the association was formed it was done in a very quiet way, not a single invitation to join being sent to the guides of Restigouche, Gloucester or Northumberland, which, with Victoria, are the big game counties of the province.

"While the self styled New Brunswick Guides' Association are inducing the legislature to prevent non resident guides who pay the $50 from guiding in New Brunswick they might go a little further and ask the legislature to enact a law to compel guides to remain within the county in which they reside. All the members of the Guides' Association without, I believe, a single exception, are residents of York county. In the hunting season they spread themselves over Northumberland, Gloucester, Victoria and Restigouche, taking with them all their provisions and help from York county."

Now in the first place I wish to state that the New Brunswick Guides' Association has no notion of asking for legislation "to prevent anyone from guiding in the province who is not a member of the association." No guide belonging to the association ever put forward such an absurd proposition at the last meeting or at any time, and I defy the Advocate to prove that the contrary is the case. If the Advocate cannot make good its assertion, then in justice to the association it should publish a retraction.

The statement of the Advocate that the New Brunswick Guides' Association consists "solely of and solely for York county men" is also the product of somebody's imagination. At the present time the membership includes competent and reliable guides from the counties of York, Victoria, Northumberland and Queens. I have the membership roll in my possession and can therefore prove the truth of my statement. The Advocate's editor on the other hand, has no means of knowing who the members of the association are or where they reside. To remove the very erroneous impression that he seems to have formed on the subjuct, I might say that leading resident guides from both Northumberland and Victoria have been identified with the association ever since its inception.

I do not know the identity of the "men prominent in the sporting life of New Brunswick, "who furnished the inspiration for the Advocate's article, but if he has been correctly reported, it is quite evident that he knows even less concerning the object of the Guides's Association than does the editor. It never was the intention of the founders of the association to make Fredericton the distributing centre or hub for sportsmen as alleged. The association was formed by the guides for their own protection and benefit, and no favoritism is shown to any particular city or town in the province. As a matter of fact the members of the association who hunt on the Tobique—and these are in a majority at the present time—do not bring their parties to Fredericton at all. Neither is this done by members who do their guiding on the Nortwest Miramichi and Restigouche waters. It is true that a great many sportsmen visit Fredericton in the run of a season, and not a few of them purchase their supplies here. They are invariably well treated and never complain of not receiving value for their money. The same is true of Newcastle so far as I know, and if there is any person inclined to give vent to a feeling of jealousy because a few more sportsmen may possibly visit one place than the other, such a person does not live in Feredicton.

It may be true, as the Advocate says, that the New Brunswick Guides' Association was formed in a quiet way, but I cannot see as it is any the worse for that. The late Fred B. Coleman, of the Barker House, Fredericton, who always took an active interest in sporting matters, was the leader in the movement that culminated in the formation of the association. It was he who first pointed out to the leading guides of the Tobique and Miramichi the advantage to be derived from an organization such as exists among the guides of the Adirondacks. He gave a great deal of thought to the matter and in the winter of 1901 a number of guides, acting upon his advice, formed the New Brunswick Guides' Association, the first and only organization of its kind in the province. The charter members included such celebrated woodsman as Henry Braithwaite, the Pringle Brothers, Adam Moore, George Armstrong, Harry Allen, and others, all of whom are still active members of the association. These gentlemen, since the formation of the Assocation, have at their own expense, attended sportsmen's shows at Chicago, Boston and New York, and have done much to advertise the game resources of the province, and other guides, including several in the county of Northumberland, have reaped a share of the benefit from their labors.

I might state here that the membership fee of the association is $2, and the annual dues amount to the same figure. Out of this amount the members are furnished with printed stationary free of charge and the balance is expended in advertising in the sportsmen's magazines of the United states. Honary members are admitted on the same terms as ordinary members, and quite a number joined last year. One of the rules of the association is that the members must have camps and exclusive hunting territory of their own or be associated with other guides who have, in order that they will be in a position to provide sportsmen with the very best of accommodation. This rule is strictly observed with the result that the members handle an excellent class of sportsmen and are able to command the highest pay for their services.

Then the informant of the Advocate gravely states that the Guides' Association is seeking legislation to prevent non-resident guides from guiding in this province, he not only states what is untrue, but displays a lamentable ignorance of the game laws of the province. As a matter of fact non-resident guides are now prohibited by law from pursuing their vocation in New Brunswick, so it would be folly to ask the legislature to do what in its wisdow it has already done. The members of the association do believe, however, that it would be in the interests of game protection if the legislature would go a step further and make it unlawful for non-resident sportsmen to go prowling about our forests during the hunting season without being accomplished by a resident guide. I do not mean to say that a non-resident sportsman who prefers to do his own guiding would shoot game illegally, but in the excitement of the chase he might be tempted to do something that he would not do if there were a resident of the province along to keep an eye on him. I have it on the authority of Mr. John Robinson, chief game warden for Northumberland, that the proposed change would meet the views of the guides of his section of the province.

It is true that some members of the Guides' Association reside in York county and do their hunting in the county of Northumberland. This is easily accounted for by the fact that the oldest and most experienced guides of the province—the pioneers in the business, I might say, are members of the association. These include Henry Braithwaite, of Fredericton, and Arthur Pringle of Stanley, who established their camps in Northumberland county many years ago and were, I believe, the first white men to take non-resident sportsmen into that county. Many other guides who have since come to the front took their first lessons in the art of moose calling from them. After all the men I have mentioned have done to advertise Northumberland as a game preserve, it is rather late in the day to raise the non-resident cry against them, and I do not believe the resident guides of the county would countenance such a movement. Messrs. Braithwaite and Pringle are known by reputation to nearly every big game hunter on the continent and the fact that they do their guiding in Northumberland is in itself a great drawing card for the other guides of the county.

If the Advocate's informant is as wise as he thinks he is he should know that there are guides living in Northumberland county at the present time who do their hunting in the county of York. And more than that they hire all their help and buy their provisions in their own county, but nobody in York has been thin skinned enough to raise a howl against them. I can give the names of the guides if necessary and I can prove that the great majority of sportsmen that these men as well as other Northumberland guides handle, have been directed to them by citizens of Fredericton.

I wish to say in conclusion that the members of the New Brunswick Guides' Association have no quarrel with the guides of the North Shore counties, and would be pleased to have more of them affiliate with the association. Any guide who has the proper equipment and knows the ways of the moose and caribou, is eligible for membership, and will find it to his advantage to join the association. The guides in the association handled over one hundred sportsmen last season and there was not a single complaint lodged against them. Surely this is a record to be proud of and a refutation of the charges made by the Advocate.

Thanking you for space, Mr. Editor, I am,

Yours very truly,
R. P. ALLEN,
Sec.-Treas. N. B. Guides' Assn.
