Of all overworked women probably the housewife is the hardest worked. She has so much to attend to, with very little help. Her work can be lightened if she knows the value of system, and she should try and take a short rest in the daytime. A physician who became famous almost around the world, Doctor Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., the specialist in woman's diseases, for many years practiced medicine in a farming district. He there observed the lack of system in the planning of the work.

If it is a headache, a backache, a seuuncontrollable nervousness, something uncontrollabel nervousness, something must be wrong with the head or back, a woman naturally says, but all the time the real trouble very often centres in the organs. In nine cases out of ten the seat of the difficulty is here, and a woman should take rational treatment for its cure. The disorder should be treated steadily and systematically with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

For diseases from which women suffer "Favorite Prescription" is a powerful restorative. During the last fifty years it has banished from the lives of tens of thousands of women the pain, worry, misery and distress caused by these diseases.

If you are a sufferer, get Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in liquid or tablet form today. Then address Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and get confidential medical advice entirely free.

HOW MRS. BEAN MET THE CRISIS

Was Carried Safely Through Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Nashville, Tenn.—"When I was going through the Change of Life I had a tumor as large as a child's head. The doctor said it was three years coming, and gave me medicine for it until I was called away from the city for some time. Of course I could not go to him then, so my sister-in-law told me that she thought Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure it. It helped both the Change of Life and the tumor, and when I got home I did not need the doctor. I took the Pinkham remedies until the tumor was gone, the doctor said, and I have not felt it since. I tell everyone how I was cured. If this letter will help others you are welcome to use it."—Mrs. E. H. Bean, 525 Joseph avenue, Nashville, Tenn.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a pure remedy containing the extractive properties of good old-fashioned roots and herbs, meets the needs of woman's system at this critical period of her life. Try it.

WILD SCENES WITNESSED

Fifty Thousand Take Part In Demonstration For Venizelos.

[Canadian Press Cable.]

ATHENS, Aug. 27.—Via London, August 29.—3:20 p.m.—After the pro-Entente demonstration before the residence of Former Premier Venizelos today, in which 50,000 persons took part, a committee was appointed to present King Constantine with resolutions outlined by M. Venizelos in his address. The resolutions as framed by M. Venizelos concluded with these words:

"If we, the people, are not heard in these, our resolutions, we must take counsel as to what is to be done to minimize the ruin which awaits us."

The scene before the residence of the former premier was one of wildest enthusiasm. All the surrounding streets were crowded when M. Venizelos appeared on the balcony. News of the Bulgarian occupation of the Greek port of Kavala intensified the feeling, and those in the throng apparently were ready to follow the former premier in whatever he might advise. Unusual precautions were taken by the authorities in view of the fact that the celebration occurred on the anniversary of the revolution of 1909. A large body of troops was brought in from Chalkis to reinforce the Athens garrison. Soldiers with fixed bayonets lined the streets in the vicinity of the residence of M. Venizelos.

Resolutions Presented.

Immediately following the meeting a committee of representative Liberals was named to present King Constantine with the resolutions, the text of which, as given by M. Venizelos in his speech, follows:

"By these resolutions we, the people, advise the monarch that he has fallen a victim of evil advisers, who seek to nullify the results of the revolution of 1909, and achieve a return to the former state of misgovernment. While satisfying personal hatred of M. Venizelos, our sovereign has fallen a victim to advisers of purely military and oligarchical ideas, who have persuaded him that Germany must be victorious, and, trading upon the king's admiration for the Germans, whose victory be believed in and desired, hoped by Germany's victory to be enabled to set aside the free constitution of Greece and concentrate absolute power in royal hands.

These Warped Ideas.

"As a result of these warped ideas we see today, instead of extension of the territory of Greece to Asia Minor, Thrace and Cyprus, that Macedonia is invaded by the Bulgarians, that tens of thousands of dollars worth of military supplies have been surrendered to the invaders, and that northern Cyprus is in danger of being permanently lost.

"We, the people, by this demonstration declare that we do not approve the course recently followed, and insist on dismissal from around the king's person of the present sinister advisers. The introduction of the king's name into the electoral contest constitutes an international revolution against the Liberal party. National unity has been destroyed by thrusting the royal prestige into politics. The Zaimis ministry is necessary today, and the Liberals are prepared to give it all support to enable it to be a political instead of a mere interim cabinet, and to assure to the Entente the most benevolent neutrality conceivable."

The resolutions conclude with the statement that unless the people are heard they must take counsel as to other action.

BOLD STATEMENT IN BERLIN PAPER CASTS SLUR ON KITCHENER

Urges Readers To Endure the Name for Four Months.

Kitchener, Ont., Aug. 29.—The Ontario Government has alienated the German vote of the province, according to this morning's issue of the Berliner Journal, as the result of the order-in-council to change the name of this city from Berlin to Kitchener, following closely upon the enactment of the Ontario temperance act, which comes in force on September 16.

The paper predicts that there will be a reckoning day coming for the Government when the German vote of the province will show its disapproval of its recent legislation.

The Journal urges its readers to endure the name Kitchener for a period of four months, after which steps will be taken to have it changed back to Berlin.

GENERAL RECEPTION FOR ALL WOODSTOCK MEN

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 29.—A public reception to the Woodstock returned soldiers who have returned from the front since last winter will be arranged by the council at its final meeting.

There has been no public reception to any of Woodstock's returned soldiers since the first lot came home last winter. The general feeling in the council is that such an arrangement is better than a separate reception for each man who returns.

King George Sends Congratulations to Rumanian Monarch

LONDON, Aug. 29.—8:18 p.m.—King George has sent the following congratulatory message to King Ferdinand of Rumania:

"I desire to express to your majesty the great satisfaction with which the news of the entry of Rumania into the war has been received by myself and my Government, and the whole British nation. I rejoice that the valiant Rumanian army will now fight side by side with the armies of the Allies, bringing still nearer the approaching triumph of our great cause, and hastening thereby the fulfillment of Rumanian national aspirations."

BRITISH HAVE TAKEN 15,469 ENEMY CAPTIVE

Prisoners Secured in Somme Fighting Since Opening of Offensive.

MANY GUNS ARE TAKEN

Weather Still Interferes With Operations on the West Front.

ALLIES MAKE ADVANCES

British Gain Near High Wood and French Southeast of Thiaumont Work.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—The British official statement issued tonight shows that since the opening of the offensive on the Somme on July 1 the British have captured 15,469 prisoners, besides 246 guns of various kinds. The statement says:

"The only infantry engagement today, besides the usual trench bombing encounters, was the approach of a small hostile force toward our trenches near the Pozieres windmill, which was quickly dispersed by our fire, leaving seven men killed.

"Although heavy thunderstorms made observation difficult there was considerable artillery activity, the enemy shelling Delville wood heavily this evening, and also the vicinity of Pozieres windmill, Authuille and the Thiepval wood during the afternoon.

"On other parts of the line there was artillery fighting by both sides, near Hohenzollern, in front of Cuinchy, Givenchy and the Ypres salient.

Prisoners Captured.

"Twenty prisoners were taken in the last 24 hours, making the total captured by us since the 1st of July, 266 officers and 15,203 other ranks, in addition to 86 guns, 160 machine guns, besides other war material.

"Yesterday in aeroplane encounters four enemy machines were accounted for, two being destroyed and two badly damaged. Two of ours are missing."

The communication issued this afternoon states that bad weather still prevails along the firing line. It says:

Minor Operations.

"The weather continues to be somewhat unfavorable and the operations of the past 24 hours have been confined to minor enterprises and local bombing attacks. By these means we gradually reestablished our hold on ground between the western outskirts of Guillemont and Ginchy. Further north, between Delville wood and High wood, our troops captured a hostile barricade. Southeast of Thiepval some further progress was made, and a hostile machine gun was captured. During these minor operations more prisoners have been taken, but the number has not yet been ascertained."

Hun Raid Failed.

"An attempted raid by the enemy south of Arras failed. Our artillery carried out bombardments on selected parts of the enemy's lines between Neuve Chappelle and Bois Grinier, south of Armentieres. On the rest of the front there was ordinary trench warfare."

TROUBLE IN EGYPT OVER INCREASED COTTON PRICES

Bourse at Alexandria Makes $23 the Limit Until September 20.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Aug. 30.—"The rise in the price of cotton," says Reuter's Alexandria (Egypt) correspondent, "threatens serious disturbances here. The bourse has decided not to allow dealings in cotton at any price higher than $23 until September 20, thus constituting a special moratorium. It is understood that this decision is due to the uncomfortable position of jobbers, who have been selling short in anticipation of a fall in the price of the staple, and are now unable to meet their losses, especially as prices are still rising.

"The decision of the bourse has caused such widespread indignation that the Government has instituted an inquiry, owing to the fact that the so-called moratorium is likely to halt the fellaheen sales and result in serious losses if a fall in prices comes."

LONDON GETTING READY FOR MORE ZEPP RAIDS

All External Lights Must Be Extinguished Hereafter.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Aug. 30.—According to a London dispatch to the World, a new lighting order, more drastic than the one now in operation, will come into force in London on Friday. All external lights, whether public or private, must be extinguished, with the exception of such public lamps as the police commissioner directs kept in use for public safety.

All lights not extinguished must be reduced to a minimum intensity, and so obscured that no more than a diffused light is cast on the ground. The internal lighting must be so reduced or shaded that no more than a dull, subdued light is visible from any direction outside, and no part of the pavement or roadway or any building or object is illuminated. This new order suggests the official expectation of more zeppelin raids during the coming dark nights.

UNITED STATES ROADS PREPARE FOR STRIKE TO START ON LABOR DAY

Refuse Freight That Cannot Be Delivered Before 4th.

WARNING TO TRAVELERS

Western Railways Declare An Embargo on All Perishable Freight After Sept. 2.

New York, Aug. 29.—The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railway Company announced tonight that because of the impending railroad strike it will refuse hereafter all shipments of freight which cannot be delivered before 7 a.m. on September 4.

WARNING TO TRAVELERS.

San Francisco, Aug. 29.—The following instructions were telegraphed by the headquarters of the Southern Pacific tonight to all division superintendents:

"Please instruct all passenger and ticket agents by wire at once to notify passengers unless they can reach their destinations by Sunday night, September 3, they may be subject to perplexing delays."

The instructions are signed by Chas. S. Fee, passenger traffic manager.

CHICAGO'S PRODIGIOUS TASK.

Chicago, Aug. 29—Chicago, the greatest railway centre in the world, fought in the face of local difficulties today, to transfer thousands of cars of freight in time for the cars to reach their destination ahead of September 2, the date declared by many western railroads tonight for an embargo on perishable freight.

A strike of freight handlers in the local yards of several railroads, which threatened to become general within 24 hours, hit Chicago just at the time railway officials were swamped with transfer traffic, shipped because of the threatened trainmen's strike.

The 27 railroad lines entering Chicago, this number exclusive of the different divisions of the same roads, have been preparing, however, to handle an enormous amount of freight east and west within the next week.

The embargo on perishable freight, railway officials said, will principally affect live stock. Exceptionally heavy receipts of hogs, cattle and sheep at the Chicago, Kansas City, East St. Louis and other markets are anticipated before the embargo becomes effective.

Preparations were made to handle every single carload of freight possible between now and the date set for the threatened strike, September 4.

At the same time railway officials laid plans to operate trains with non-union or non-strikers within the railway brotherhood membership in the event of a strike.

Chicago officials prepared for possible trouble in the event of a strike. Police Chief Healey today issued orders cancelling all furloughs of members of his force, and recalling all members who are on furloughs.

WILSON IS STILL HOPING.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—President Wilson laying the railway strike situation before Congress today with recommendations for legislation, advanced the crisis to a stage where the next development most depends on two points. They are:

Whether the legislation he proposes can be passed;

If enacted, will it be effective to prevent a strike already called for 7 a.m. September 4?

Neither of the questions can be answered tonight.

The brotherhood heads themselves announcing their intention to fight certain portions of the president's program are at loggerheads as to whether its enactment would prevent the strike.

The railway presidents, favorable to President Wilson's plan in the main, think it would make for peace.

Negotiations Broken Off.

Although negotiations between the employees were broken off today by the rejection of the railway president's latest proposal for arbitration President Wilson is continuing his efforts to bring the two sides together on some form of agreement. Efforts which might well be described as almost superhuman are being exerted to that end tonight.

When the brotherhood leaders this morning rejected the latest proposal to the railroads and definitely set the strike for Labor Day, without further notice President Wilson decided to lay the whole situation before Congress. Before a joint session of House and Senate, and with a solemn recital of the distress and disaster a strike would bring to the country, the president proposed a plan of legislation. This is the proposal in his own language:

President Wilson's Proposals.

First—Immediate provision for the enlargement and reorganization of the interstate commerce commission along the lines embodied in the bill recently passed by the House of Representatives and now awaiting action by the Senate; in order that the committee may be enabled to deal with the many great and various duties now devolving upon it, with a promptness and thoroughness, which are, with its present constitution and means of action, practically impossible.

Second—The establishment of an eight-hour day as the legal basis alike of work and of wages in the employment of all railway employees who are actually engaged in the work of operating trains in interstate transportation.

Third—The authorization of the appointment by the president of a small body of men to observe the actual results in experience on the adoption of the eight-hour day in railroad transportation, alike for the men and for the railroads; its effects in the matter of operating costs, in the application of the existing practices and agreements to the new conditions, and in all other practical aspects, with the provision that the investigators shall report their conclusion to Congress at the earliest possible date, but without recommendation as to legislation, in order that the public may learn from an unprejudiced source just what actual developments have ensued.

To Increase Freight Rates.

Fourth—Explicit approval by the Congress of the consideration by the interstate commerce commission of an increase in freight rates to meet such additional expenditures by the railroads as may have been rendered by the adoption of the eight-hour day, and which have not been offset by the readjustment of economics should the facts disclosed justify the increase.

Fifth—An amendment of the existing federal statute, which provides for the mediation, conciliation and arbitration of such controversies as the present, by adding to it a provision that in case the methods of accommodation now provided for should not secure a full, public investigation, the merits of such dispute shall be investigated and completed before a strike or lockout may lawfully be attempted.

Sixth—The lodgment in the hands of the executive of the power, in case of military necessity, to take control of such portions and such rolling stock of the railways of the country as may be required for military use and to operate them for military purposes, with authority to draft into the military service of the United States such train crews and administrative officials as the circumstances require for their safe and efficient use.

Congress Gets Busy.

Immediately after the president had delivered his recommendations Congress set about to see how they might be enacted into law. The Senate Interstate Commerce Commission which has before it bills prepared to carry out the plan, did not get a quorum and will meet tomorrow morning. The house leaders announced their intentions of waiting on the Senate's action.

Tonight President Wilson had a conference in Speaker Clark's room at the capitol. No definite conclusions were reached.

The president intends to use all his influence to hasten action in Congress, but should there be delay he intends to appeal to the patriotism of the leaders and their duty to the public not to persist in calling the strike at this time.

HARRISTON FACTORY IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

[Special to The Advertiser.]

HARRISTON, Aug. 29. — At noon today fire was discovered on the third floor of the casket factory, where it had gained a big headway. The buildings were destroyed. The firemen fought hard to save adjoining buildings.

The destroyed buildings adjoined E. Eddy's large furniture store, and the new government postoffice. The loss is heavy, as the factory had been rushed with orders, but the management has procured another factory, and work will be resumed in a few days. SOUND REASONING SENDS RUMANIA TO CAMP OF ENTENTE

Nothing To Expect From Germany, Whose Power Is Vanishing.

[Canadian Press.]

Petrograd, Aug. 29, via London, Aug. 30.—The most significant point of Rumania's espousal of the Allies' cause, says the Rech, is that it was not Filipesco or Jonescu that brought Rumania into the camp of the Allies, but Bratiano, who had heretofore persistently refused to be swayed by the inducements of either the Allies or of their enemies.

"In other words," continues the Rech, "Rumania cannot be said—as the enemy will undoubtedly maintain—to have been dazzled by fantastic promises of Allied diplomacy into embarking upon the adventure. Rumania's union with the Allies is an act of real policy dictated by sound reasoning.

Germany Is Through.

"The decision of Rumania to realize her national ideals by siding with the Entente is a well-considered vote for Allied victory. The charm of German power has fled, and she can find no further allies. Perhaps the action of Rumania will return to Greece part of its self-possession and common sense."

The Novoe Vremya says: "The decision is the more important because we have not to do with the passing mood of a people, but with the studied calculations of politicians. It is the best evidence that the enemy has lost her strength."

Drive at Bulgaria.

According to Col. Shumsky, the military critic of the Bourse Gazette, a great Allied stroke from the north along the Danube will force Bulgaria to abandon her plan of passively defending this front, and conducting the principal operations against the French and British in Macedonia.

"Bulgaria," says Col. Shumsky, "will be compelled to abandon active operations in Macedonia, and will have to face the serious danger of an Allied advance into her territory from the north. Rumania, on the other hand, will have only one important front to defend, since her strong natural boundary prevents serious danger from the side of Austria."

London, Aug. 29.—The eclipse which Canada has suffered for some months past compared with Australia, is now passing away, both from a military as well as a financial point of view, as evidenced from the fact that the Dominion recently has received more attention than usual from the London provincial press. Financial papers within the past week have printed lengthy articles on Canadian topics. The trade commissioner's tour has also been well featured in the provincial papers.

AUSTRIANS WORSTED IN FIRST ENCOUNTER WITH THE RUMANIANS

Russia Sending Large Bodies of Troops to Bukowina.

TRAIN EVERY 20 MINUTES

Bridges Being Constructed Across the Danube To Reach Rumania.

[Canadian Press.]

Vienna, via London, Aug. 29, 10:58 p.m.—The official statement from general headquarters reads:

"At all the passes of the 600-kilometre Rumanian mountain frontier our frontier guards engaged the enemy successfully.

"Only a far-reaching encircling movement of strong Rumanian forces obliged our advanced detachments to withdraw, according to plan, to a position prepared in the rear."

RUSHING TROOPS TO BUKOWINA.

Paris, Aug. 29.—Russia is sending large bodies of troops to the Bukowina, according to a Bucharest dispatch filed yesterday by way of Rome to the Petit Parisien. Preparations also are being made for establishing contact between Russian and Rumanian forces across the Danube, the dispatch says. According to these advices important convoys of troops have been operating for several days on the railway line running from Lipkany, on the Russian-Rumanian border, along the northern bank of the River Pruth to Mamalyga, Novoseliza and Czernowitz, the capital of Bukowina. Every twenty minutes military trains leave for Bukowina.

In Southern Bessarabia the Russians have made great preparations, and have brought up pontoons to contruct four bridges across the Danube at Tulcea, a Rumanian town near the mouth of the river, to establish a junction between the Russian and Rumanian forces.

RUSSIANS AND RUMANIANS UNITE

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—The junction of Russian and Rumanian forces in the Carpathians is indicated in the official announcement from the war office today, which says fighting has occurred with Russo-Rumanian troops. The only references to the Rumanians in the war office report is contained in the following sentence:

"In the Carpathians there was fighting with Russo-Rumanian vanguards."

Elsewhere on the eastern front no important actions occurred yesterday.

"In the eastern war theatre the situation generally is unchanged," the statement says.

"At some places the fighting was more active.

"West of the Stokhod, near Rudka-Chervische, there were infantry engagements. North of the Dniester feeble Russian attacks were repulsed. We took more than 100 prisoners.

"Near Bursznow, on the Gnila-Lipa, a Russian aeroplane was brought down in an aerial engagement."
