Poetry.

LA BELLE BLANCHE AND HER ABIGAIL.

My heart has not one joyous string,
Oh! Love has broken it, poor thing!
These men they have such flatt'ring arts,
To win upon our simple hearts;
Mine has been pierced with many darts.
Heigh ho!

Lord John declared he could not tarry,
He was in such sweet haste to marry;
But see, at court he lingers yet!
Some maid of honour's his new pet;—
The Eau de Cologne!! I am faint, Babette!
Heigh-ho!

I'll rouse my pride, and break his chain;
Remember when he calls again,
To say, Babette, I'm very ill;—
No, no—I'm out with Lord Quadrille;
I'll rouse his jealous fears, I will.
Heigh ho!

Pray, don't forget the kalidor,
Pearl, powder too; oh! what a bore!
'Twould vex the spirit of a saint,
These vile cosmetics, dress, and paint;—
My vinaigrette! I'm growing faint!
Heigh-ho!

I've often heard my mother say
That men were better in her day;
That lovers then would kneel and sue,
And girls were not obliged to woo,
And coax the men, as now they do.
Heigh ho!

I'll go to Lady Dangle's ball,
I'm sure I shall eclipse them all:
That dress with roses; pray, Bab, mind
The breast is well with stuffing lin'd,
The bustle, too, more full behind.
Heigh-ho!

I'm only twenty one to-morrow
And yet the fates have wrought such sorrow!
So pretty, stylish, and well-bred,
And yet such trouble to get wed;—
This comb's too heavy for my head!
Heigh ho!

Go, Bab, and fetch my Paris bonnet,
I'll call on dear old Lady Sonnet;
Her boudoir's always full of beaux;
I'll praise her last new work, "La Rose,"—
'Tis stupid as herself, heav'n knows.
Heigh ho!

Bless me! this cap's a perfect fright!
Bab, put the poodle's pillow right:
There! pretty Dido mus'nt bark,
And John will take it in the Park;—
A carriage drawing up, Bab, hark!
Heigh ho!

Oh, heavens! 'tis Lord John, I vow;
Well, that is very lucky now!
Quick, Bab, my slippers—the last new—
The green Victoria, not the blue!
My gloves! there, tell me, shall I do?
Heigh ho!

That curl's too long! quick, Bab, the glass
Is placed so awkwardly, alas!
This dressing, it fatigues one so,
My face is in a perfect glow;
I really am not fit to go.
Heigh ho!

Yes, yes, he loves me, I've no doubt;
Mind, Bab, whoever calls, I'm out;—
To all,—to Lady Juliet,—
I've not forgot their walzing yet;—
Come, Dido, darling, there's a pet!
Heigh-ho!

BABETTE, alone.

Well, thank my stars, she's gone, a fidget!
We servants lead a blessed life:
Miss Blanche is worse than Lady Bridget;
She'll make a pretty sort of wife.
Look, here's a room, a perfect litter!
She thinks there's nothing else to do;—
'This dress wants stuffing, that don't fit her;
I wish Lord John may wed her, too.
Young ladies now, if they can't marry,
They get so nervous and so cross,
'Twould try the temper of Old Harry;
I'm sure I've found it to my loss.
Heigh ho!

SHARP'S COMPOUND
Concentrated Alkaline
Infusion of Sarsaparilla.

SARSAPARILLA Has of late years been much used, and with great success in cases of Chronic Rheumatism, as an alterative in Scrofulous affections, Scurvy, Obstinate Cutaneous Eruptions, Indolent Ulcers, diseases of the Periostrum and bone, attended with obscure pains, wasting of the flesh, tenderness of the parts, tumours and nodes unconnected with Syphlis, and in that state of the habit known among medical men under the term Cachexia, but which it is not easy to define; in such cases Sarsaparilla proves a most valuable remedy, and often effects a cure when all other remedies have long been administered in vain, and when the diseased state of the system has been of many years duration.

It is also considered by the most eminent surgeons of the present day, to be the best medicine for re establishing the constitution after it has undergone the effects of mercury.

The infusion contains all the properties of the Sarsaparilla, in a highly concentrated state, together with the addition of an alkali, which is strongly recommended by the late Abernethy, also by professor Brande, who in a late edition of his valuable work on Pharmacy, says, "the addition of an alkali in the preparation of Sarsaparilla, seems greatly to facilitate the extraction of the salubie matter, and may be used with great advantage."

Amongst the advocates for this medicine may be mentioned the names of sir B. C. Brodie, Bart., sir James Clarke, the late sir A. Cooper, Bart., Drs. J. A. Paris, M. Ryan, Grahame, Marshall Hall, M.D. F. R. S. &c. &c. Prepared and sold in bottles, in 3s. 9d. each, by J. G. SHARP,

General Agency and Commission Office,

No. 18, CORNHILL, LONDON, opposite the New Exchange.

To Merchants, Commercial News Rooms, Public Libraries, Agricultural Societies, Officers of the United Services, Printers, Publishers of Newspapers, & Colonists generally.

P. L. SIMONDS, General Agent and Commission Merchant, in offering his services to his friends and the Colonial Public in general, begs to acquaint them that he is ready to receive orders for supplies of any kind and quantity, and goods of every description of first rate quality, at the very lowest market prices of the day, and to transact business upon the most liberal terms, provided he is previously furnished with funds or drafts, at either long or short dates, or a reference to some London or Liverpool house for payment.

P. L. Simonds will receive consignments of any description of Merchandize to be sold on commission, and accept bills for two-thirds of the amount, on receipt of the bills of lading. Consignments entrusted to his care will meet with every possible dispatch in their disposal, and sales be conducted with the greatest attention to the interests of the disposer. An extensive knowledge of general business, acquired during a long residence in the West Indies, and subsequent extensive courses of business with all the British Colonies, the experience of several years in London as a Colonial Agent, coupled with promptitude, attention, and judgment, will, he trusts, entitle him to give satisfaction to those who may favor him with their commands.

N. B.—Parents sending home their children for education, may with confidence entrust them to the care of Mr. Simonds, who will undertake to see them placed in first rate and respectable establishments, where every attention shall be paid to their health, morals, improvement, and general comfort.

Cash Only.

M. O'DONELLY, BOOT AND SHOE MAKER,

WOULD beg to acquaint his friends and the Public generally, that he has commenced manufacturing BOOTS and SHOES, on the corner of Prince Wm. and Princess streets, adjoining the Grocery Establishment of Mr. J. O'Donelly, and having for many years previous to 1836 conducted the operative part of his Brother's business in the same line, (then established where the Commercial Bank now stands,) which with strictly adhering to the cash system, and a punctual attention to all orders intrusted to him, he hopes will receive for himself a share of public patronage.

J. B. White & Sons,

MILLBANK STREET, WESTMINSTER,
Patentees of Keene's Marble Cement.

THIS CEMENT, which exceeds in hardness any yet offered to the Public, is intended for the Interiors of Buildings, and is of two kinds: fine, and coarse.

The fine quality is delicately white, and is susceptible when properly worked, of as high a polish, as Statuary Marble. Incoporated with colours to form Scagliola, the imitation of variegatied marble is effected with greater certainty, and less cost than in any other material; and from the facility with which one colour is inlaid with another, very beautiful mosaic work for Tables, and architectural decoration, can be produced at small expense.

The coarse, or second quality, is available for Stucco, in situation where peculiar strength and durability are desired. Its adoption in place of wood, for skirtings, architrave and panel mouldings, with other internal fittings, is attended with a very considerable saving in expence; renderbuildings so stuccoed, to a great extent fire proof, and unassailable by vermin or dry rot; added to which Rooms finished with this Cement, may be painted or papered at once, and thus fitted for immediate use.

KEENE's Cement forms a beautiful in-door paving. For the floors of entrance halls, offices, churches, &c., it will be found to combine the durability and the appearance of Portland Stone at half the price.
