How Any Cessation of The Program of Sidewalk Extension Would Work.

The Planet is paying the whole cost of $75.81 for a permanent granolithic sidewalk in front of its premises. It is paying the usual general taxes besides. Why should any portion of those general taxes be carried across the street and used to repair the rotten and dangerous wooden walk that passes along in front of the Banner? Yet that is practically the proposition the Banner makes when it opposes permanent sidewalk extension. The position of The Planet is the position of every property holder in Chatham who is paying sidewalk frontage tax. If strict justice were done all the old walks would come up and be replaced on the frontage tax system. Until that end is reached those paying frontage tax will have to bear an unfair share of the taxes. The Planet is arguing this matter on principle. It is not fretting over having to contribute a piece of plank or half a dozen four-inch spikes towards making a safe passage in front of the Banner office. In fact it would willingly give four times the amount if the property owners of the block in question would only put down a new sidewalk. It is absolute cruelty to compel this great family journal to exist opposite what once might have been by courtesy termed a sidewalk, but which has bravely survived its original uses. The only reason we know why the board of works should not lay more than ten miles of permanent walks this summer, is that that amount in one season is probably sufficient to keep the board busy.

AN EXAMPLE FOR OUR UNCLE SAMUEL.

If telegraphic dispatches are correct the resolute conduct of a minor French consul at Santiago de Cuba is in strong contrast to the cowardly course that has marked the career throughout of Grover Cleveland's cabinet in its dealings with Spain. The report goes that at Santiago a young French girl, Mlle. Louise Flament by name, was arrested a week ago by the Spanish authorities as a suspect. After she had been kept seventy-two hours in the incommunicado state, the French consul demanded her trial, or immediate release. The demand was refused. Two days later a little French warship steamed into port from Martinique, and, accompanied by its commander, the consul renewed his demand, this time insisting on the prisoner's unconditional release, apology for the outrage committed, acknowledgment of a reasonable claim for damages and a royal salute to the French flag. The Spanish authorities were given six hours for unconditional compliance, and in the meantime the French commander cleared for action. The Spaniards didn't wait the half of six hours. They hurt themselves hustling to comply with all the demands inside half the time. If this woman only had the stars and stripes to rely on she might have stayed in jail until she was murdered, or died of old age.

Mr. O'Keefe has a bill to enable municipalities to exempt Y. M. C. A. buildings. If the exemption of church property is to be continued, possibly they should be exempted. But we fancy the downfall of the Hardy-Ross government will end all this. Churches, Y. M. C. A's and all other real property should bear a just share of the corporation's burdens.

Cures Talk

"Cures talk" in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla, as for no other medicine. Its great cures recorded in truthful, convincing language of grateful men and women, constitute its most effective advertising. Many of these cures are marvelous. They have won the confidence of the people; have given Hood's Sarsaparilla the largest sales in the world, and have made necessary for its manufacture the greatest laboratory on earth. Hood's Sarsaparilla is known by the cures it has made—cures of scrofula, salt rheum and eczema, cures of rheumatism, neuralgia and weak nerves, cures of dyspepsia, liver troubles, catarrh—cures which prove

Hood's Sarsaparilla

One of Brantford's main arguments for the meet is that it is only five miles from Paris. Sam Jones said Boston was only half a mile from hell, but he never used that as a reason why people should go there.

An exchange gives the following advice: "Drink less, breathe more; eat less, chew more; ride less, walk more; clothe less, bathe more; worry less, work more; waste less, give more; write less, read more; preach less, practise more.

The legislature will do well to allow municipalities to hold their civic elections on New Year's day if they see fit. We have at that season two holidays coming close together and one of them certainly could be utilized with advantage for election purposes.

When Chatham became a city the qualification of voters for municipal purposes was raised from $200 to $400. This disfranchised a large number. Now there is a bill before the legislature which reduces the qualification again in cities to $200, and the Banner declares, "The clause providing that the qualification of electors be reduced from $400 to $200 in cities should not be adopted." Why not? Why should a number of people good enough to vote in towns be deprived of the franchise in cities?

LIKE SUFFERERS ONLY KNOW.

R. Scriver, Carpenter, of Hastings, was a Great Sufferer from Kidney Disease—South American Kidney Cure Effected a Quick Cure—It is a Specific Remedy for a Specific Diseases—It Dissolves and Eradicates all Solid Matter from the System—Is Safe and Permanent.

For many years I have been troubled with kidney disease, necessitating the taking of much in the way of remedies. Two years ago they became so bad that I had to seek the aid of a physician. My urine was more like blood than anything else, and was very painful. Just at that time I began using South American Kidney Cure. It gave me immediate relief, and from that time till now I have had no difficulty. I can safely and honestly recommend this great remedy to all persons suffering from kidney trouble.

IN THE LONG AGO.

Sweet gladness was mine, a happiness true,
In the long ago,
A happiness dear, that I shared with you
In the long ago,
A happiness pure as a crystal stream,
A happiness bright as a sunbeam gleam,
A happiness sweet as a maiden's dream
In the long ago,

Yes, dear, in that long-gone, that olden time,
In that long ago,
We knew all the rapture of love sublime,
In that long ago,
A love that was born in gladness and light,
That filled both our souls with joyous delight,
That put all the sorrows of earth to flight
In that long ago,

Ah, dear! how I loved you in girlhood pure
In that long ago,
I loved with a love that must still endure
In that long ago,
Ah, yes, dear, I learned the lessons you taught,
I gave you a heart with pure love fraught;
I gave you the true girlish love you sought
In that long ago,

And, darling, that heart is thine even yet,
Since that long ago.
Thy love nor thee I can ne'er forget,
Nor that long ago;
I love thee still, with a love most pure—
A love which will ever through life endure,
A love unchangingly, trustful, and sure
Since that long ago.

Sad, sad were we when we thus had to part
In that long ago,
Deep, deep the pain which rent sorely each heart
In that long ago,
But you love me now as you loved me then,
And sometimes we'll meet, tho' we know not when,
And so, dear, we'll joyous re-living till then
In the long ago.

—Madge Sydney Dalton.

"MY LADY NICOTINE."

Full well I loved, full long I wooed,
Alas, that we must part!
But then the blooming doctor swears
I have "tobacco heart."

LILLIAN NORDICA TO WOMEN.

Health-giving Paine's Celery Compound the Best Spring Remedy.

Mme. Nordica has the distinction of being the first prima donna born in the United States.

She testifies to the wonderful health-giving effects of the greatest product of medical science—Paine's Celery Compound.

Not since Christine Nilsson has there been a Marguerite to be compared to Nordica's splendid impersonation.

All her achieved successes had for a foundation the most unrelaxing study and effort. No one knows better than the applauded prima donna what such severe work means to the nerves and strength. The following letter from Lillian Nordica to Wells & Richardson Co. must be gratefully read by hosts of women:

"It certainly gives me great pleasure to testify to the health-giving effects of Paine's Celery Compound. I truly believe it to be the best of all spring medicines."

If the winter has left you weak and languid, Paine's Celery Compound will restore strength to your nerves, will purify the blood and make you well. Don't allow nervous debility to go on. Take warning from dyspepsia, nervous headache and sleeplessness. Guard against that tired, played-out feeling that so often appears as spring approaches. Neuraglia and rheumatism—awful enemies—must be conquered.

Paine's Celery Compound is the world's true disease banisher, renovater of the system, and a life-giver at this time of the year. It quickly furnishes nutriment for the innumerable nerve fibres; it arouses the organs of digestion and assimilation to brisker action; it enables the wasted body to build up flesh and muscle, and dissipates every fearful and apprehensive feeling.

Paine's Celery Compound is truly the medicine for women when weakened and burdened by work and home cares. It gives them fresh new blood, vim, energy and activity, and a new lease of life. Try it, and when you go to your dealer for Paine's Celery Compound, see that you get it; no other medicine can take its place successfully.

LISTLESS AND TIRED.

Vertigo and Dizziness troubled a Chatham Lady—She tells how she escaped from these complaints as well as from her other Afflictions.

Mrs. J. Dell, of Head street, Chatham, Ont, talked cheerfully to our reporter about her recent experience in the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve pills. Said she:

"For two years before I commenced taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills which I got at the Central Drug store in November last, I never could go to sleep before two or three o'clock in the morning, and even then could not rest. I was tired and enervated all the time, and went around the house in a tired and listless manner, feeling worn out nearly all the time.

I had many attacks of vertigo or dizziness so that I could not see to walk across the room sometimes. I was weak and languid, and subject to fainting spells. My heart was very much affected by palpitation, which induced great shortness of breath.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have removed the dizziness, restored my heart to healthy action, and brought my nervous and physical system to complete health and vigor.

I can say that these wonderful pills are a blessing to anyone suffering from the heart and nerve trouble with which I was afflicted. They relieve suffering more quickly than any other remedy I ever heard of."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills may be obtained from any druggist, or will be mailed on receipt of price by T. Milburn & Co., Toronto Ont. The price of these pills is 60c. per box or three boxes for $1.50.
