an acquaintance with politics and commerce,—the creation and establishment of the public libraries. Such are the objects for which the Society was instituted—yet, expedient and important as they unquestionably are, they find no favour with the Priest of St. Remi, who inveighs against the promoters of the Society in terms of senseless denunciation. It can hardly be credited that in the 19th century, in a village not many leagues distant from this the chief City of British North America, a gentleman occupying the dignified office of a Priest, should so far forget his mission as to resist, much less denounce from the altar, the incipient struggles of the French Canadian to emancipate himself from the fetters of ignorance,—yet, the fact is boldly asserted in the columns of L'Avenir, and the sermon preached by Mr. Bedard published.—We submit a few extracts as a specimen of the tone and temper of the preacher:—"I have told you and I tell you again, that a social and political library is needless. My brothers, you will say with me, that it is in a social and political library people learn to read bad books and bad newspapers.—Those who persist, in spite of the wish of their pastor, in belonging to this library, will cease to frequent the Sacraments. It is your pastor who says so, and you know he is not a Swiss. Now, my brothers, I shall be compelled to curse the County Library,—but I hope I shall not be put to this pain,—that you will be obedient to your pastor, and that no one will be willing to continue to assist this library."

We might have furnished, from the curious sermon in question, passages that even more decidedly evinced the hostility of this pastor to any effort on the part of the habitans to ameliorate their mental condition,—but we have quoted enough to show the attitude with which he vindicates his privilege to sway men's minds, and dictate to them the quality and measure of intellectual food to which they are to restrict themselves.

RIVER TRAFFIC.—The Fredericton reporter of Friday last says:—"The present traffic on the River St. John is unprecedented. No less than six boats are constantly employed in carrying freights and passengers from the City of St. John to the various stations on the River, between the seaboard and the Grand Falls, including the Grand Lake, Fredericton, Woodstock, Tobique, and the Falls; while the downward freights from the County of Carleton and the upper districts of York are even greater than those of the last season." [This is encouraging to railroad projectors.]

PORTLAND EPISCOPAL SUNDAY SCHOOL.—The children attending this School were examined last week by the Rev. Mr. Harrison, Rector of Portland, at the Madras School room. The attendance, both of visitors and scholars was numerous, and the latter underwent a very creditable examination on the catechism and the leading points of christianity. After the labors of the school, the scholars were regaled with fruit, cake, and other delicacies, at the expence of the teachers.

UNITED STATES.—By the steamer Maid of Erin, Captain Bulyea, arrived last evening, we have received American papers of latest dates.

A great freshet has occurred in the interior of New York State, which did damage to the extent of $100,000.—The Erie railroad has been greatly injured; the Chenango Canal is nearly destroyed, and embankments of several other canals much damaged; plank roads are carried away, and various other disasters have been caused by the rise of waters.

FUGITIVE SLAVE EXCITEMENT IN BOSTON.—A dispatch from Boston states that arrests have already been made. There is reason to suppose that one or more colored fugitives are now in the Leverett street jail. The committee of vigilance are in session. Ships will be printed and distributed at once all over the State.—Judge Sprague will not say whether there has been any arrests or not. He says, however, that all examinations of fugitives must be public, and in the Court house.

The excitement increases every moment, and the colored men are mustering strongly. They are seen in small squads all about the Court House. Forcible demonstrations will be made should they ascertain positively that there have been any arrests.

U. S. Marshall has warrants for the arrest of a large number of fugitive slaves here. Much excitement prevails among the black population. The Court House has been surrounded by them all the morning; they are determined to resist any attempt to carry fugitives back to slavery. One named Laghmer, who has been here three or four years, was recognized and pointed out by his master this morning. Blood will undoubtedly be shed if an arrest is attempted."

ELOPEMENT.—William Wood, of Springfield, Mass., has eloped with a Mrs. Dow, his wife's nurse, the wicked pair leaving Mrs. Wood to nurse herself as she best may. A short time before, Mrs. Dow's husband played the same trick with the wife of William Wood's brother. What how remains but that the deserted Mrs. Wood and William Wood's brother should run away with each other? 'All in the family!'

In a country paper the Marriage of Mr. Cooper to Miss Staves is announced. The result will probably be barrels.

COMMERCE OF NEW ORLEANS.—The arrivals yesterday were the most numerous of any day this season. They comprised 10 ships and barks and 15 steamboats. The former included the ship Forest King, from Liverpool with 461 emigrant passengers, the greatest number that ever arrived at this port in one vessel.

The White Mountains have put on their winter dress, and yesterday they towered above the western horizon, like vast snow heaps, contrasting finely with the many colored autumnal foliage of the woods in that direction.—Portland Advertiser.

☞A disgraceful riot occurred among the firemen of Philadelphia on Sunday last. Pistols, bricks, and other weapons, were freely used, and a number of police officers were wounded; one it is thought seriously. The rioters all escaped

"Almanzor" and "A Fireman" have been received. Their authors will excuse our omission of their effusions at the present time. It would, in our view, be better to drop all newspaper controversy on the subject, as likely to disturb the good feeling which ought to exist among the members of the whole Fire Department. At the same time we will publish any specific challenge, coming through the proper quarter.

COOKING STOVES—DOMESTIC MANUFACTURE.—We have had our attention called to a new and elegant article of COOKING STOVE, manufactured by Mr. GEORGE CRAIG, at the Vulcan Foundry, Lower Cove. It is taken from an American pattern, slightly altered for adaptation to this country, and combines all recent improvements for utility and economy—the quantity of fuel consumed in them being nearly one half less than in those ordinarily in use. The oven in this Stove is capacious—the plates heavy, and the castings for neatness quite equal, if not superior, to those imported. Taking it altogether, it exceeds in every respect any we have previously seen, either here or in the United States, and it article—a desideratum of considerable consequence, particularly to country people, where the means are not at hand of repairing or replacing the frequent damages to which slight Stoves are subject.

It is gratifying to find that our citizens can produce work quite equal to any imported; and every true patriot should Encourage Domestic Manufactures.

The Stoves of Craig's manufacture are for sale at Mr. Hubbard's Auction Room, Prince William Street; at Mr. Thurgar's, North Market Wharf, and at the Vulcan Foundry, Main Street, Lower Cove.

MECHANICS INSTITUTE.

THE LECTURE SEASON of the above Institution will commence early in November next, and His Honor Mr. Justice Carter has kindly consented to deliver the Introductory Address.

The Directors have much pleasure in intimating that the following talented and well-known gentlemen have consented to Lecture during the Season, viz.:

His Honor Mr. Justice Carter; the Rev. Dr. E. W. D. Gray; Rev. Messrs. Cooney, Thomson, Wishart, Stewart, and Cantwell; Drs Robert Boyard, Waddell, and James Paterson, L. L. D.; Messrs. George Blatch, Charles Duff, W. Watts, R. Parker, jun., M. H. Perley, C. R. Thomson, C. A. Hatt, G. N. Smith, John McLardy, E. H. Duval, Robert Foulis, and James R. Ruel.

The Directors have again been enabled, from the ordinary revenue of the Institute to procure another assortment of Standard Works, which will increase the Library, and render this Branch of the Institution well worthy the attention of its Members.

The Geology Museum, which has now, for the most part, become the property of the Institute, will be opened for Exhibition to Members and their families, from 7 till 8 o'clock on each Lecture Evening.

The Reading Room, which is now furnished with a number of Popular Newspapers and Periodicals, published in England and the United States, the City Papers and other Publications from different parts of the Province, is open from 7 till 5 past 9 every Evening—Saturdays and Sundays excepted.

The Directors feel assured that the coming Season will be as instructive and attractive as any previous Lecture Season; and as the Institute has now been increased in every department, and every pains taken by the Board of Directors to meet the wishes of its Members, they trust that the Institute will continue to receive the cordial support of its Members, and the patronage of the Public.

Members' Tickets, 15s.; to admit to the Lectures and Museum the Member and two Ladies, with the privilege of the Reading Room and Library.

Non-Members' Tickets, to admit to the Lectures for the Season, 15s.; Ladies', Youth's and Apprentices' Tickets, 5s. each. Admission to one Lecture, 1s 3d.

No Tickets transferable. It having come to the knowledge of the Board that Lecturers have heretofore felt great inconvenience and annoyance from the numerous applications made for free Tickets: To relieve them from such importunities, and to compel all persons desirous of attending the Lectures to pay their fair scot and lot, only a limited number of Tickets will be placed at the disposal of the Lecturers for distribution among their immediate friends.

Members and others may obtain Tickets by application at the Institute any evening during next week. W. HUTCHINSON, Jr.
