He was educated at the local public schools, Strathroy Collegiate Institute and the University of Michigan. Dr. Courtney was married at St. Clair, Mich., in 1885 to Hellegarde von Jaemann. He is an ex-president of the Minnesota State Medical Association, a member of the American Medical Association, the International Association of Railway Surgeons and of other medical organizations. He is an honorary member of the North Dakota State Medical Society and president of the Upper Mississippi Medical Society. He is a resident of Brainerd, Minn.

SHE WAS WILD WITH PAIN.

From Willow Creek, Ont., Miss E. Diegel writes: "A few years ago I was drenched with rain and got lumbago. It was like a steel rod piercing my back. I also earache and was just wild with pain. I applied balm soaked with Nerveine to my ear and rubbed on Nerveine for the lumbago. That rubbing relieved and in a few hours was well. No other lumbago could do this." It is the penetrating power of Nerveine that makes it superior to all other liniments. Nothing beats it, 25c. at all dealers.

When Thackeray Struck.

A letter written by Thackeray to the proprietor of Fraser's Magazine is quoted under the head of "When Thackeray Went on Strike." As a matter of fact, Thackeray, so far from acting on the principle of unionism, acted on precisely the opposite principle and asserted his right to individual preference. "Well," he says, "I dare say you will be very indignant and swear I am the most mercenary of individuals. Not so. But I am a better workman than most of your crew and desire a better price." He ends amiably, "You must not, I repeat, be angry or, because we differ as tradesmen, break off our connection as friends."—London News.

BARELY LIVED THROUGH IT.

A terrible experience had Edw. J. O'Connor, of South St. Marie, "From boyhood," he writes, "I have been a constant sufferer from asthma and catarrh. My nose and throat was always stopped up and I had droppings in the throat. When attacks came I thought I could live through the night. I would sit up, gasp for breath and endure great distress. Catarrh of the nose and throat was entirely well. No stronger proof is required. Use 'Catarrhine' and your recovery is guaranteed. Two sizes, 25c. and $1.00, at all dealers.

Inherited Memories.

A writer in the Nineteenth Century tells a strange story of "inherited memories." The ruins of an ancient Roman fortress rise from the grounds of a Mr. Phillips. A clergyman called upon the owner one day and asked to see the ruins. "He told me he had a distinct recollection of living there and that he held some office of a priestly nature in the days of the Roman occupation," said Mr. Phillips. "One fact struck me as significant. He insisted on examining a ruined tower which had bodily overturned. There used to be a socket in the top of it. He went on, 'In which we used to plant a tent, and archers used to be hauled to the top in a basket protected with leather, from which they picked off the leaders among the ancient Goriolians.' We found the socket he had indicated."

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.
Gentlemen,—In June, '98, I had my hand and wrist bitten and badly mangled by a vicious horse. I suffered greatly for several days and the tooth cuts refused to heal until your agent gave me a bottle of MINARD'S LINIMENT, which I began using. The effect was magical; in five hours the pain had ceased and in two weeks the wounds had completely healed, my hand and arm were as well as ever.

OFFER OF POWER AT $10

Made to Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario.

Tenders to Be Opened To-day.—A Boomerang For the Critics.—Healey Falls Power Development.—Lease Granted at Request of Twelve Municipalities.—How the Government is Safeguarded—Rentals to Be Paid.

Toronto, Aug. 16.—Tenders were received yesterday at the offices of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission for the supply of power as required by the municipalities and will be opened to-day. Hon. Adam Beck was in town, but neither he nor Cecil B. Smith would discuss the probable range of the figures.

From other sources, it was learned, however, that among the tenders was an offer for power up to 160,000 horsepower at $10 per horsepower per annum, and at $8 beyond that quantity, to be developed at DeCew Falls.

This figure will be a powerful argument for diligence among the municipalities which have shown signs of slackness in the union of the towns and cities of Western Ontario for the purpose of bringing cheap power and light to the doors of their people.

It will be remembered that $12 per horsepower was the rate, chargeable at Niagara Falls, upon which the calculations of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission were made.

Healey Falls Power.
J. T. Culverwell and Frank M. Field of Cobourg were in the city yesterday in connection with the lease of the Healey Falls water power acquired from the Government two months ago. They expect to proceed under the charter of the Northumberland-Durham Power Co., with the development of 4,400 horsepower there at an early date.

The lease was granted at the request of twelve municipalities in the counties of Western Ontario, and safeguarded according to recommendations made by the Hydro-Electric Commission.

It is not the policy of the Commission to build power plants, but such a semi-public corporation as the Northumberland-Durham Co. will enable the people of the district to be supplied with power at the most advantageous rates.

The lease is for a period of thirty years, and every ounce of power available must be developed. The rentals to be paid the Government are 75 cents per horsepower for ten years, and $1 for the balance of the term.

The officers and directors of the Healey Falls Co. include prominent business men of both sides of politics in the two counties. Sam Nesbitt, Brighton, is president, and D. Ewing, Mayor of Cobourg, is secretary.

Preceded by Revolution.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 16.—In addition to the details of the sweeping changes of regime, presented by the reform party in Persia, and to which the Shah has given his tentative consent, another telegram yesterday says the Shah's action was preceded by fighting a revolutionary character, during which many persons were killed by the troops.

Killed by Rock Fall.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 16.—James Tunstall, the oldest employe of the Nanaimo Mines, was killed by a rock fall yesterday afternoon. He was a shot light and was carrying a gun. A shot had been fired and Tunstall went to examine the formation when the rock roof gave way instantly crushing out his life.

Trench Men Scorched.

Hamilton, Aug. 16.—A careless smoker passed the corner of James and York streets yesterday afternoon. He threw a lighted match into an open natural gas trench in which there was a number of men working. There was a leak in the feed main and the gas ignited. The flame shot up as high as the top of the City Hall. All the workers were more or less scorched, but the only one at all seriously burned was P. A. Fandras of the Court House Hotel. The firemen had a serious task to smother the flames.

Legs and Arms Severed.

Quebec, Aug. 16.—A man engaged in a terrible manner the arms and legs having been cut from the trunk of a train during the night, the lifeless body of Honoré Roberge, aged 27 years, of St. Romuald, was found on the railway track near Lévis early yesterday morning.

Montreal, Aug. 16.—A sadden named Roux, from Timewick, Arthabasca, was knocked down and killed by a car proceeding at a high rate of speed last night and dragged a distance of 200 yards before the car could be brought to a standstill. The motorman disappeared.

Fatal Fire at Buffalo.

Buffalo, Aug. 16.—One person was burned to death, another fatally burned, and a score had narrow escapes in a fire at the foot of Main street, near the water front, yesterday afternoon. The loss on the building and stock of the ship supply concern is estimated at $75,000.

The Polite Burman.

In the cities of Burma, where the natives have been long in contact with Europeans, says the author of "Burma, Painted and Described," they have lost some of their traditional politeness, but in the country districts old school courtesy is still the custom. An English gentleman who had bought a new pony was trying him out on a Burman road when the animal bolted and ran at top speed down a narrow road. In the way ahead was a native cart, in which was a family party out holiday making. The pony dashed into the back of the cart, threw his rider into the midst of the merry-makers and severely injured the Burman who was driving. Before the Englishman had an opportunity to explain his unexpected onslaught the Burman picked himself up and bowed low. "My lord, my lord," he said apologetically, "the cart should not have been there."

A puny child is always an anxiety to the parents. There seems generally no reason why the little one should be weak when it is so well fed. But the fact is that it does not matter how much food the child takes if the stomach cannot extract the nutriment from it. No benefit can be derived from just eating. That is the condition of many a sickly child. The stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition are not doing their work, and the body is really starving. It is little use to give fish foods, like cod liver oil or emulsions, in such a case, because these also have to be digested; they may lighten the stomach's labor but they don't strengthen it. Strength is what the stomach needs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach, nourishes the nerves and increases action of the blood making glands. It is superior to every other preparation for children's use, on account of its body building qualities, and also because it is pleasant to the taste and contains no alcohol, whiskey or other intoxicant. Dr. Pierce's Pleasants and Pellets are a valuable aid when the bowels are irregular. They are small. Children take them readily.

When Paris Was Dirty.

It takes the laborers of 4,000 to keep the city of Paris clean today, but in times past that capital did not care so much about the matter and was not always pleasing to look upon. In 1849 King John of France made the request that Parisians should not allow their pigs to roam the streets. Charles VI. (1366-1422) complained that the practice of throwing rubbish into the Seine made it a "great horror and an abomination to look upon." Until the seventeenth century everybody who could went about Paris on horseback in order to avoid contact with the filth of the streets. Various ordinances were made to compel the people to sweep the road before their own doors, but it was not until 1791 that the dust cart became an institution.

Mozart's Quick Work.

On one occasion Mozart was making merry with his friends at midnight when not a single note was written of the overture to "Don Giovanni," which was to be produced on the following evening. When he had said goodby to his friends he calmly went to bed and slept until 5 o'clock in the morning. Awakening refreshed he set to work on the overture, dashing off sheet after sheet with incredible rapidity and dispatching them to the copyists. The opera was to begin at 7 in the evening, and a few minutes after that hour Mozart was in his place as conductor, baton in hand, while the parts with the ink still wet on some of them were being handed to the orchestra.

ROYAL ADVISERS MEET

King and Kaiser Kiss Each Other on Both Cheeks.

Their Majesties Heartily Cheered on the Way to Friedrichshof—Streets of Cronberg Gladly Decorated—Visit of His Majesty of England May Be More Than Personal, and the Political Guesses Are Busy—Press Cordial.

Cronberg, Hesse-Nassau, Prussia, Aug. 16.—King Edward arrived here yesterday. Emperor William and Prince and Princess Frederick Charles, of Hesse-Nassau, met him at the railroad station. The Emperor assisted the King in alighting and they kissed each other on both cheeks. The meeting was very cordial.

King Edward was accompanied by Sir Charles Hardinge, permanent Under Secretary of the Foreign Office; Major-General Stanley Clarke, chief of the staff; and Major Frederick E. C. Ponsonby, equerry to His Majesty, Sir Francis Lascelles, the British ambassador to Germany and the British consul-general, Frankfurt. Oppenheimer, joined the party at Frankfurt.

After introductions had been exchanged the royal party and their following proceeded to Friedrichshof in automobiles. The streets were profusely decorated with evergreens, flags and streamers. The Kaiser's party, after being cheered by the crowds and school children who were lined up all along the route. Many Englishmen from surrounding watering places were also present.

After reaching Friedrichshof the royal party breakfasted and then the Emperor and King spent some time together. At about 11 o'clock they, with Prince and Princess Frederick Charles took a drive to see the monument erected in honor of Emperor Frederick in the Schloss Park. After lunch, at the King's wish, a visit was made to Homburg and the Roman camp at Saalburg.

A program of assiduous sightseeing and drives has created the impression among those surrounding their Majesties that the visit will have a prolonged political duration.

Strictest Silence Reigns.

London, Aug. 16.—The strictest silence is maintained in official circles as to the subjects to be discussed by King Edward and Emperor William at their meeting at Friedrichshof. Up to the last moment it was not admitted at the Foreign Office here that Sir Charles Hardinge, permanent Under Secretary of the Foreign Office, would accompany the King. He had been away on a holiday and broke it up to join the royal party on the continent. His presence adds significance to the meeting, for as the permanent Under Secretary of the Foreign Office, he is really the man who carries on the foreign affairs of the British Empire. It is considered likely that the monarchs will talk over Russian affairs, and undoubtedly they will try to remove the ill-feeling between the two peoples, so manifest for the last few years.

German Press Welcome.

Berlin, Aug. 16.—The press of all sections treats King Edward's visit to Emperor William from the standpoint of being a sign of improved relations between him and the Emperor and the belief and hope are generally expressed that the visit will have a beneficial effect on the peoples of both countries, besides putting their political relations on a better footing. The papers, however, avoid all extravagant hopes in this direction, evidently trying to keep up the safe minimum of practical results.

A tone of sincere admiration for the King prevails all the leading articles. The Cologne Gazette greets His Majesty with feelings of reverence. The National Zeitung calls him a practical statesman as well as the German press. The Neue Nachrichten, while complaining that the King's policy has been to isolate Germany, pronounces him a "political artist."

The semi-official North German Gazette says:

"His Majesty, the Emperor, met His Majesty the King of England at the Schloss of Friedrichshof this morning. We rejoice that this meeting between the two monarchs has been hailed sympathetically nearly everywhere by the English as well as the German press. We cannot share in the supposition heard here and there regarding special political reasons for this meeting. Even without such suppositions the actual value of the meeting, it appears to us, is not slight. We hope that the exchange of views between the rulers of Germany and Great Britain will serve to further the peace of the world and promote harmony between all persons of conciliatory sentiments on both sides of the channel. We welcome the King with homage."

A Barbarous Policy.

After the Dutch had taken the Moluccas from the Portuguese they introduced the cultivation of the clove into their own possessions, cut down all the clove trees of the Moluccas and pronounced death on any one who would plant a single clove bush or gather or sell a pound of the product. Expeditions were sent from their eastern possessions every year to cut down any bushes that might have accidentally started in the Molucca islands. This barbarous policy made the islands a desert, for, deprived of their forests, the volcanic soil was washed away, and the population starved or was deported.

His Fair Share.

The Chinese always have understood the great art of making the punishment fit the crime. Man or Joss, if he offends, gets exactly his deserts. Yesterday Shun, who was anxious to see the end of the heavy rainfalls, was very angry with the guardian Joss of Canton, who remained deaf to all prayers to bring about a little sunshine. A Weyuen was dispatched to the temple with orders to uncover the roof over the Joss' head and let him have his fair share of the rain.

When a woman suffers from —When a woman suffers from oedema, weakness, she then keeps realizing how helpless—how thoroughly worthless she is. Dr. Shoop has brought relief to thousands of such women. He restores the system, restores a woman to two direct, specific ways—a local treatment known as Shoop's Night Cure, and a constitutional or internal prescription called Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is applied locally, and at night. It works while you sleep. It reduces inflammation, it stops discharges, it heals, it soothes, it comforts, it cures.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative (tablets or liquid form) is a constitutional, nerve, tissue tonic. It brings renewed strength, lasting ambition and vigor to weak, listless women.

These two remedies, singly, or used together, have an irresistible, positive, helpful power. Try them a month and see.
