Kent Reports and the Leafs Win a Double Bill From the Pests

MONTREAL WINS ONE THEN DROPS SECOND

Baltimore Beaten in First on an Error—Pounded Mattern Hard.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 14.—Baltimore and Montreal split even in a doubleheader that wound up their series this afternoon. In the first game a two bagger and a triple, followed by a base on balls, netted Montreal a run in the third inning. In the eighth bases on balls and a steal by Gilhooley and an error by Midkiff gave the Royals the other run that won the game.

In the second game Baltimore turned the joke on the Canucks and in the first four innings made Mattern take to the tall timbers, in the seventh served Carlo a like trick. Fast base running by Daniels and Midkiff aided in two runs. The scores:

CINCINNATI'S INDIAN ON THE MISSING LIST

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14.—Philadelphia opened its home stay today by winning both games of a doubleheader from Cincinnati by 1 to 0 and 7 to 2. The opening contest was a twirling duel between Alexander and Ames, the latter being taken out in the eighth inning to permit Bates to bat for him.

Philadelphia took a big lead in the second and third innings of the second contest by pounding Brown's delivery and easily held it. In each of these sessions Cravath drove a home run into the bleachers. Seaton, altho wild, was very effective with men on bases. Brown remained in the game, as Manager Tinker is short of pitchers. Johnson, the Indian twirler of Cincinnati, is on the missing list and nothing has been heard of him since the team reached here yesterday morning. Score:

MAPLE LEAFS MAKE IT A CLEAN-UP WITH TWO WINS

Toronto Lands Both Ends of Double Bill From Skeeters—Pick Was the Batting Hero With Seven Hits in Two Games—Kent Makes Good.

JERSEY CITY, N.J., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—True to his promise, Manager Joe Kelley made a clean-up in his farewell series with Jersey City at West Side Park this afternoon by pulling off a two-ply victory in today's double header the Maple Leafs winning opening portion by a score of 9 to 4, and then coming back in the curtain act with a 3 to 8 victory.

In each instance success was earned by the visitors by consistent batting. They wielded the big stick with telling effect on Jack Doescher's offerings in the first set-to, and sewed the game up before Larry Schlafly applied the hook.

The visitors hit Doescher hard from the first innings, and kept it up, and it was a surprise that the local pilot permitted Doescher to remain the target so long without getting busy. After the Torontos had tallied their nine runs and had registered 15 safe hits, Schlafly then ordered Doescher to the clubhouse and sent Andy Coakley to the firing line. The latter proved an able substitute, and had he been introduced earlier in the fray the result would have been less one-sided.

Kent Made Good.

Kent held the fort for Manager Kelley and showed the goods. He pitched steadily and held Jersey City to eight hits, restricting their run-making to the second and sixth rounds, when two tallies were chalked in each period.

Toronto got right down to business with three runs in the first frame. McConnell slashed a hot liner which caromed off Bues' hands and earned a base. O'Hara's patience was rewarded with a free trip. Shultz then inserted a two-bagger to right, which sent McConnell home. Shultz tried to stretch his double into a three-bagger, but lost out at third on Eschen's throw to Purtell, who shot the ball across to Bues. Kroy singled to right, putting O'Hara across the pan. Pick was tossed out by Doescher, but Hugh Bradley slipped in a cog with a line drive to centre, enabling Kroy to complete the route. Bradley failed on an attempted steal.

Jersey City became active in the second on the bases. Hank Perry uncovered a three-timer to right and scored on Purtell's drive to Pick and out at first. Bues singled to centre and advanced on Calhoun's retirement at first. Bues stole third and reached home when Wells hit out of Shultz's reach in centre. Doescher walked, but Shaw was retired at first.

The Leafs doubled the Jerseys' score in the third and then drew farther away in the fourth, with a run that resulted from Bill Bradley's safety to centre. Graham helped along with a sacrifice. Kent's hit was thrown wild by Purtell, and Bradley scored. Kent was caught napping at first by Doescher's throw. McConnell filed to Perry.

The fifth was again fruitful for the Leafs. With one down Shultz laced a safety to centre, moved up on Kroy's out at first, reached third when Pick beat out a bunt. On an attempted double steal Wells dropped the ball after having Shultz out at the plate on Koehler's return. Hugh Bradley hit in the air to Perry.

The Captain Started This.

Bill Bradley started the sixth with a clean-cut single. Graham sacrificed. Kent hit to right, putting Bradley over the plate. McConnell doubled and Kent got home. O'Hara connected safely, permitting McConnell to complete the route. Then it was that Schlafly woke up and retired Doescher, and Coakley tightened the clamps on Toronto in the succeeding rounds, but they had more runs than were needed.

In the good night period, Kelley relied upon Johnny Lush to win, while Schlafly based his reliance on George Davis. Both pitchers had a troublesome experience, and were repeatedly stung. Lush showed distress in the eighth, and was speedily relieved after Jersey City had tacked up eight during the time that Lush was in charge, and Gaw was called upon to save the day, which he did, but appeared in danger in the ninth, when with the Jerseys only one run shy he sent three men to the cushions with two out, and then pulled thru safely to the great disappointment of the home rooters, who tried hard to help their favorites to land at least one victory. Davis stuck it out for Jersey City till the end. He put himself in the hole by bad action in the sixth, and his fielding twirling aided the Leafs in filling out their score sheet with just the required number of tallies.

The Big Count.

Toronto got a run in the second and one in the fourth chapters, and then clinched the game with seven more in the sixth. These developed from seven hits, two bases on balls, a wild pitch and Davis' own error, a bad throw to first. After this harvest Toronto took it easy on the bases, but were forced to exert themselves to restrain their rivals, who got within one of their count, with two runs on three hits and a pass in the eighth, and then in the ninth they again tried hard to pull out. Bues worked Gaw for a pass. Calhoun singled and reached second on the throw-in to third. Blair was an easy out, and Schlafly became pinch hitter for Davis, but wasted three swings. Shaw was passed purposely, and Wells popped an easy fly to Pick.

The feature of the double bill was the great work with the stick performed by Pick. He tore off two hits in the first game and five in the second.

It was a great finish for Toronto of a series that has resulted in baseball history.

Have One-Run Margin on the Hustlers in Both Games of a Double-Header.

NEWARK, Aug. 14.—By taking both games of today's double-header from Rochester, the Indians went to a 12½ game lead in the International League race. Jack Quinn pitched the entire two games and deserved a better fate. Wonderful fielding by the Indians in the pinches and good pitching in tight places by Aitchison and Holmes were the chief factors. London Pitcher Has Great Record—Downs the Brantford Red Sox.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—London defeated Brantford here in the first game of the series by 5 to 2 when Bobby Heck won his twentieth game this season out of 24. The visitors secured but six hits, two of which came in one inning and, coupled with a base on balls and an error, made it possible for the two runs they secured off Heck. By bunching hits in three innings off Gero the locals worked across their five runs. The score:

LEAGUE LEADERS HAVE EDGE ON THE PETES

OTTAWA, Aug. 14.—The Senators defeated Peterboro here today by 4 to 2, with Ed Renfer, the twirler whom Detroit Club has recalled, on the mound. Peterboro led 2 to 1 up to the seventh innings, when a combination of two errors and a hit brought in two runs and gave the champions the lead. Manager Rowan, protesting against a decision, was put out of the park by Umpire Jacobson and fined, while Catcher McNeil of Peterboro was also ejected by the police and fined $10. Score:

CARDINALS EASY FOR THE GIANTS

McGraw's Men Win Two Games in Handy Fashion—May Be a Protest.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—New York easily won a doubleheader from St. Louis today by the score of 11 to 4 and 7 to 3. The first game was close until the eighth inning, when Sallee and Manager Huggins of St. Louis were put out of the game for kicking. Geyer went in with two on bases and after he had forced in a run, Burns doubled and Herzog hit a homer, the result being 6 runs.

St. Louis probably will protest this game owing to a decision by Umpire Quigley, calling a drive by Konetchy a two base hit in the third inning. St. Louis claims this ball was hit into the left field bleachers and should have been a home run. Spectators in the bleachers said the ball went in and bounced out again. The decision cost St. Louis two runs.

In the second game Doak went well until the sixth when Whitted started his downfall with a pair of errors. With the score tied, the bases full and none out, Harmon retired the next three batters on popu flies. Harmon lost the game, however, as the Giants fell hard on him in the following inning. Scores:
