A Successful Robber Caught.—A young man named Samuel Lemon, for some time, lately, a waiter on board the John Munn, who has also been at various times employed in the same capacity in some of our principal hotels, was taken last night at the Albion Hotel on suspicion of attempt to rob, and the result of his capture has elucidated many mysterious robberies occurring during several years past. For some months past various articles have been from time to time purloined from that hotel; but last night the individual named was seen to enter the establishment, and watched. He was soon in by one of the boarder's bed room doors, but finding himself observed retired. The inmates were on the qui vive, and upon his reaching the lower landing he was collared by Mr J. Musson, Jr., one of the boarders, who had witnessed his entry up stairs, and finally handed over to the charge of the police.

Sergeant Hayes, of the Police, whose indefatigability and intelligence we have often had the pleasure to note, immediately searched the residence of Lemon, and has since been occupied in the same matter until one o'clock to day. The result of his enquiries was the finding of a vast number of articles on the premises, and that his step father, Edward Burns, his wife (Sarah Bowen,) Mary Ann Lemon, the prisoner's sister, and Private Wm. Brett, of the Rifles, have been committed for further examination, in connection with the robbery.—Among the articles identified are the pulpit hangings stolen from the Cathedral, the Rev. George Mackie's gowns, &c., silver from the John Munn steamer, curtains, blankets, linen, &c. &c. belonging to C. E. Levey, Esq., coats, a desk, and other articles from Payne's and the Albion Hotel, a dozen of silver, crested spoons, (not yet claimed, and nearly new) and a host of other matters of value.—The impudent villain is even suspected of having stolen the Police Magistrate's coat! from the Albion.—Quebec Mercury.

The Chances of Life.—Peace and War.—A comparison of the registers of mortality will convince us that a hero, placed in the trenches of a beleaguered fortress, where he is exposed for weeks to a continual shower of shot, or placed on a field of battle, before the bravest and most resolute of his enemies, has a much better chance of life, runs less risk of premature death than if he worked in an ordained street, and slept in a crowded room at Bristol or Liverpool. The chance of life is as the

From Mexico.—The New York Sun contains some news from the capital of Mexico, to the 30th July, brought by a special courier in the barque Rapid from Havana. This courier gives a long account of his journey, and the risks he ran in passing through. The part of his statement which is the most important, is that in reference to the preparations making for giving General Scott a battle. There are fifty thousand able bodied men enrolled in the city including all the males between 17 and 50. But the difficulty is to find fire-arms. Cutlasses and swords are abundant, and they have thirty two pieces of heavy cannon for the forts at Pinon. They are casting cannon daily. The workmen in the foundry are principally Americans and Englishmen. Two companies U. S. deserters are employed at Pinon, making that fort a perfect Gibraltar. It will mount sixty guns, and as many more can be planted efficiently on the adjoining hills, if Scott only delays long enough to enable Santa Anna to have them cast. He says he found Gen Scott at Puebla at the head of 15,350 men, lounging away his time in religious exercises. The Mexicans call him "Father Scott." His officers and men on the contrary call him "Foolish Scott." In the camp the murmurs were loud against his delay.

It is a pleasure to find, though certainly late in the day, that Her Majesty's Government intend rewarding the gallantry of Her Colonial Forces in the late wars with the United States, with a medal which has been struck for that purpose, and by the following General Order, will be distributed to the proper claimants:—

Adjutant General's Office,
Montreal, 25th August, 1847.

General Order.

Her Majesty having been graciously pleased to direct that a Medal should be struck in order to commemorate the success of the British Arms commencing in 1793 and ending in 1814, it is Her Majesty's intention that such Medal should be conferred upon the Loyal Canadian Militia and upon the Indian Warriors who co-operated with the British Troops at Detroit, Chateauguay, and Chrystler's farm: Officers and non-commissioned Officers and Privates of the Militia and Indian Warriors, who consider that they have claims to receive this mark of their Sovereign's gracious recollection of their services, and of her desire to record the same, are each to apply through the Office of the Adjutant General of Militia to the Board of Canadian Officers at Montreal, and to send in writing a statement of his claim for what action, at what period of time, and the names of the persons or the titles of the documents by which the claim can be proved.

This board of Officers is hereby, by command of His Excellency the Governor General, directed to take into consideration and to investigate the facts stated in each of these several applications, and to report to His Excellency for the information of Her Majesty, and to enable those commanded by Her Majesty to deliver to the claimants the Medals accordingly.

The Board of Officers will have Alphabetical Lists made out of the names of the claimants to one of these Medals, with his rank and the name of the Battle for which he claims to receive the same inserted in the margin, and at which the Board of Officers may consider he was present.

By Command,
E. P. Tache, Lieut.-Colonel,
Deputy Adjt. Genl. Militia.
Dd. Macdonell, Lieut. Colonel,
Deputy Adjt. Genl. Militia.

A Great Coat.—The editor of the Vicksburg Whig has seen a coat lately that measured five feet around the waist. It was made for a gentleman from Kentucky, whose weight is about four hundred pounds, is 26 years old, and has got his full growth. He is about six feet six inches in height, measures fifty-four inches over the breast, sixty around the waist, and twenty-two inches across the back.
