Such is the proposition which Mr. Osburn, on the part of the London Company, desires to submit to the Legislature. The two consolidation Bills, have already been introduced by Mr. Watters. The Extension Bill involving a question of Provincial finance, can, under the rule yielding up the initiation of money grants to the Executive, be introduced only by the Govt. And the question is whether the Govt. will take it in hand, and whether, if they do, the Legislature will give it the sanction of law.

We conceive that there will not be a doubt in either administration in the Legislature as to what they should do in the matter. What in effect is the proposition? It is to construct that international Railway about which we have all talked and written and negotiated so much—for which we have all so frequently prayed—which we have all regarded as one of those enterprises which were to lift us to that position in the sisterhood of nations which we desired and felt, so far as natural resources, went, fitted to occupy. It is to unite us with the Grand Trunk of Canada, and with the enterprise and industry and trade of that great country. It is to build one hundred miles of Railroad through the most fertile and promising portion of our Province, at no great distance from those vast central tracts of Crown lands which it is our desire and intention to people with settlers. It is to build one hundred miles of Railway without one penny of expense to the Province; without taking from its Treasury one cent until the Road is completed. Surely, if the Province has built through one of its corners a Railroad of one hundred and nine miles, for which it has paid, or is to pay, one million two hundred and fifty thousand pounds, it would be the most absurd inconsistency to refuse the opportunity to have one hundred miles more built upon these terms. Surely the people of the whole western portion of the Province are to be taxed to pay for a Railroad for the benefit of the citizens of St. John they have a right to demand from the Legislature the comparatively insignificant outlay which this proposition requires. Justice to a heavily burdened and little benefitted population, no less than the general interests of the Province, require the adoption of this scheme by the representatives of the people.

A few will object to the grant of land? But why? Are they afraid that it will actually be taken out of the country, or that in some mysterious way it will be wiped out from the surface of the Province, and totally lost to us? It will be New Brunswick land and soil the same as ever, and as open for settlement. Mr. Osburn states that the Company are prepared to organize a scheme of immigration and settlement upon these lands. It is for their interest that they should be settled, for every settler, and every new farm on the Road, will add to its profits and put money in the pockets of its owners.

We have already occupied so much space that we are obliged to postpone any further remarks to another occasion.

TOWN ELECTION.—On Monday the 11th inst. the election for Mayor and Councillors for the Town of Woodstock was held.

There was no opposition to the election of our former much esteemed Mayor, L. P. Fisher Esq.

In wards No 2 and 3 there was also no opposition,—Messrs. W. F. Dibblee and R. A. Hay being elected for the former, and Messrs. Lindsay and McCaffery for the latter.

In No 1 Ward there were four candidates: Messrs. Skillen, Edgar, McLauchlan and Morse.

The votes polled were, for W. Skillen, 35; J. Edgar, 33; J. McLauchlan, 20; J. Morse, 18; Messrs. Skillen and Edgar were therefore declared duly elected.

Messrs. H. McLean, J. Grover and B. H. Smith were elected Assessors.

ITEM EXTRAORDINARY.—When are the Attorney General's "two students" to be gazetted, and what are their salaries? Can it be that their valuable services in overlooking and detecting mistakes in public documents, are rendered gratuitously, like those of the "Commissioner for the Authentication of Debentures"?

A RARE DISCOVERY.—During the latter part of last week, Messrs. Shaw and Segee, while engaged in lumbering operations on the land of the former in the New Maryland Settlement, were attracted to a large hollow pine by a humming noise. Struck by the strangeness of the circumstance, they at once felled the tree, and discovered a nest of tame bees about 50 feet from the butt, from which they extracted 84lbs. of pure honey. That portion of the tree containing the bees is safely secured, in which a large quantity of honey still remains undisturbed.—Head Quarters.

A curious case is to be tried in a few days in Paris. Mdme. Bonaparte, first wife of the late Prince Jerome Bonaparte, ex-King of Westphalia and uncle of the Emperor Napoleon, and her son by her marriage with the Prince, claim to inherit their part of the personal property left by the Prince. Mdme. Bonaparte, who is now in Paris, was an American lady named Paterson, and the real object of the present suit is to re-establish the perfect legality of her marriage.
